Executive of the Battle River Tourist Association is shown at the August 19th meeting held at Sedgewick Golf Club. Carol Land of Wetaskiwin will become past president when the Association holds its annual dinner and meeting at Camrose on October 27. Her successor as president will be Lindsay Smith, right, of Stettler. Next to Mrs. Land is Rolf Jacobson of Sedgewick who will become 2nd vice-president for 1982-83, and Joyce Harrison of Hardisty, who will take the 1st vice-president's chair.

Battle River Tourist meeting held at Sedgewick

The monthly meeting of the Battle River Tourist Association (BRTA) was held in Sedgewick, August 19, with an excellent turn out of over fifty members, representing twenty-one Zone 5 communities. Sedgewick Mayor Ernie Kothil and County of Flagstaff Councillor Rolf Jacobson were on hand to welcome the visitors to the area.

The group, which met at the Sedgewick Golf Club, first enjoyed a dinner hosted by the Town of Sedgewick and the County of Flagstaff. BRTA Nomination Chairman, George Fawcett of Consort reported that at the close of nominations, the following people were elected by acclamation to hold office in BRTA for the 1982-83 term. They will take office at the BRTA annual meeting in October.

President, Mr. Lindsay Smith, Stettler; 1st. Vice President, Mrs. Joyce Harrison, Hardisty; 2nd. Vice President, Mr. Rolf Jacobson, Sedgewick.

Dealing with business arising from the previous meeting it was reported that Tim, Rodad, and Bud of Camrose had been appointed to assume the responsibility and the Association auditors for the 1981-82 year.

In regard to BRTA souvenirs, President Carol Land advised that a second shipment of lapel pins and spoons had now been received and are available at the BRTA office.

Six printers had submitted tenders to print the 1983 edition of the membership brochure. The tender of The Community Press, Sedgewick, was approved.

President Land reported that she and Manager Clement had met with Mr. Stanley Reynolds of Wetaskiwin in regard to the future establishment and development of the museum

Killam seniors to try game 'Show and Tell'

The August meeting of Killam Senior Citizens club was called to order by President Ed Borth giving thanks and reflections on the fulfillment of our obligations.

Minutes of the June meeting were read, also minutes of two executive meetings. All being approved.

With the disappointment of Killam Trade Fair being cancelled, therefore not having a booth, the executive recommended Seniors having a tea, bake sale and bazaar, with unanimous approval. It was decided to hold this late in October.

Several committees reports were given and 65 visitors to the sick were reported. The president asked for suggestions to improve interest at the meetings. A "Show and Tell" program will be tried out. Two short readings were given, "A Little Here and A Little There, We Can Share Kindness As We Go" and "What Mama's Menu Did."

Blanche McCowan gave a demonstration of use of the "vitalizer". Some members were interested and tried it out.

Card parties will be "500," on August 26th; September 16, Whist and September 24, will be "500". Next meeting will be on September 8.

After adjournment lunch was served by Annie and Jim Rauder, Bertha Rott and Clara Schmetler.

Flagstaff ratepayers Tax rollback requested

Disgruntled taxpayers in the County of Flagstaff have demanded a rollback of this year's 62 percent tax increase and a limit placed on future raises.

An overflow crowd of close to 600 at Sedgewick Community Hall last Wednesday night approved a resolution demanding that the 1982 tax rise be reduced from a 62 percent increase to a 10 percent rise.

Also it was proposed that any future tax increases be limited to 5 percent annually and should council consider more money is required, then a plebiscite be held.

All members of Flagstaff council were present, with Reeve Carl (Bud) Ness facing the brunt of the questioning. Mr. Ness expressed disappointment that ratepayers would resort to such action, suggesting that if their requests were to be complied with, services such as drain digging and snowplowing would have to be stopped for the remainder of the year.

Council's course of action was not immediately known, but Mr. Ness revealed that twenty county employees had already been laid off.

Summarizing the intent of the meeting, Chairman John Oberg of Forestburg told ratepayers that council "isn't very happy with you."

He explained that resolutions passed aren't binding on council, adding that "the only way we can retaliate is by voting them out of office," pointing out that council has a mandate.

Outside the meeting, it was mentioned that it was the intention to introduce a motion, requesting taxpayers support a move to hold back tax payments, however such a motion never reached the floor.

"They are in a tough spot, probably they don't know what to do," chairman Oberg said of council.

He suggested that Flagstaff council should pressure the provincial government in an attempt to regain some of the revenue lost in unconditional grants this year (estimated at $875,000).

Councillor Glen Miller had pointed out that council meetings and school board meetings have been open to taxpayers, but throughout the year, "no one has come out yet, other than angry delegations."

In his concluding remarks, Chairman Oberg stated that "equally is everywhere - let's not give it a permanent home in Flagstaff."

Lin Lawson of Dayland district referred to council's explanation of the 62 percent increase as "a lot of crap." He said that there was much apprehension in California when the citizen-sponsored Proposition 13 was introduced. There had been a cut-back in services and no one had suffered while "crap was cut out from the budget."

Explaining the background behind the meeting, Ken Eshpeter of Dayland said that he was "quite taken aback by the increase" the year, "no one has

Three flags stolen from Hardisty

Three flags raised in front of Parkland Manor at Hardisty were missing in the morning and removed at night, there have been no thefts.

The theft took place shortly after 7 p.m. prior to a political rally at the Hardisty Arena that evening. Political banners were left leaning against the poles.

Louis Johnson, president of the Flag Society, was much saddened by the event, pointing out that since a system was instituted last summer, whereby flags are raised in the morning and removed at night, there have been no thefts.

Removed were the American flag as well as the state flags of Vermont and Massachusetts.

Mr. Johnson said the Flag Society "just happened to have two of each flag" and was able to replace the stolen flags.

About 400 Flagstaff County ratepayers converged on Sedgewick Community Hall last Wednesday night for council's explanations for a 62 percent increase in this year's tax rate. They approved one resolution asking that the increase be rolled back to 10 percent over last year, and also asked that the tax rise be limited to a 5 percent increase in any one year, otherwise a plebiscite should be held.

Tax dollars don't stretch

When times are good, there is a tendency to let the sky be the limit. Certainly this leads to an opening of the purse strings, and a degree of inefficiency.

At a period in our history when there is a downturn in our economy, methods of cost-cutting are being carried out—many painfully, resulting in the loss of jobs — our levels of government are easy targets.

Several years ago, statistics showed that across Canada more than 20 percent of the work force was associated with some form of government. Rather a startling figure, even in the good times. And some forms of bureaucracy (most recently the Loughheed government) have been accused of taking on more civil servants, instead of paring back.

Taxpayers of the County of Flagstaff gave vent to their feeling at a largely attended meeting last Wednesday, giving county council "the dickens" for increasing 1982 taxes by 62 percent.

This appeared too much for them on top of a 34 percent increase in 1981 and 14 percent in 1980.

On the surface, the rise does seem exceptional but with rising inflation, it must be remembered that a dollar only buys a portion of what it did several years ago.

A letter to the editor by a person who has facts on farm income and expenses, explains these facts of life very thoroughly.

No matter what policy a council adopts these days, it is open to

Letters to the Editor

I thought that I was almost immune to shock over price increases but I'll have to admit that I took a bit of a shock at the County Tax Notice.

An increase of 62%, in one year is a pretty bitter pill to swallow.

However, after attending the meeting Wednesday evening and listening to speaker after speaker lambasting council, I went home with the feeling that possibly we in the crowd had been totally fair.

The sad fact is that a dollar will just not do the work it did 10 or 15 years ago. Going back over my records I found that taxes on a quarter of land had increased a whopping 27%, from 1972. That's a whole of an increase in land taxes.

In perspective a check of other common farm costs revealed that purple gas is up about 58%, diesel fuel 61%, cleaning grain 35%, MCPA 60%, and 11-4-8 about 38%.

And anyone who has invested in new machinery or vehicles lately has a pretty good idea that those costs are up substantially.

On the other side of the ledger we receive about 35% more on the initial prices of wheat and barley and 250-300% more for rapeseed.

After looking at some of the above increases do you suppose that we as taxpayers have kept our costs below the county's rate of 27% in the last 10 years?

Can we as taxpayers ask the county to perform the service that we have asked for without an increase in taxes?

Do we have to cut services or could the county be run in a more efficient manner?

It should be an interesting and well-attended annual meeting and we, the ratepayers, should have an ample selection of candidates to choose from in future elections.

Miss Francis Stewart, twin sister of Franklin Stewart, was first place in the Capital Theatre concert opportunity contest on Monday, August 22. Francis may be considered in the role of the "Furber Women" in Burman's next big talkie "Island of Lost Souls".

The intensive heat of the past week, when the thermometers registered 94, was followed by cloudy and overcast weather, with morning mists but no rainfall.

Friday evening a plank fell on one of the workmen engaged in the erection of the new elevator of the Alberta Pacific striking him on the hip. Dr. Carmichael was summoned at once and found the injured man suffering so he was taken to Camrose Hospital. An x-ray showed the man's hip to be fractured. This is the third accident reported, but the other two were not serious.

Mr. R. Dinsie of Lloydminster is now in charge of W.J. Cumberland's shoe department. Ladies' shoes, mostly with nappa cost 80 cents, with sewn was $10.00. Men's shoes, re-made with nappa was $1.00, sewn was $1.25.

The Alberta crop report is the heaviest but late crop continues to make satisfactory progress. Harvesting of wheat has commenced in the Peace River area and of barley and rye in a few other localities, but will not be general for two weeks.

Strong winds and heavy rains have caused serious lodging of crops, and lead just to report at some points.

The Sedgewick Junior West Club is sponsored by the Alberta Wheat Pool, held their Field Day on Saturday, August 19th. The present agriculturist was directed about fifteen plots were suspected. In the preliminary judging, top honors went to Bert Loughheed, who was selling 2 1/2 bushels for 95 cents. Prime rib steak was $1.29 a pound. Ground ribs became 2 1/2 pounds for 29 cents.

Mrs. Helen McMillan of Santa Barbara, California, is visiting her mother, Mrs. Anne Heister and other relatives. Also visiting their mother was all her family. They took in the Kretsch and Gabruck wedding on Saturday.

A number from town attended the open house and dance in Dayland on Saturday night. The new bride and groom, the new bride and groom, the new bride and groom.

Another reason in the compilation of subjects over the next five years. "It's not our fault but we are responsible for the books and services; the government is paying less and less for the books and more of the burden on you," Councilor Miller said.

Donna Wainwright Inter-provincial Peoples' taxes had increased by 85 percent. She said that they had "in greater proportion."

He explained the School Foundation levy for others had been picked up by the province but firms such as IPI, here to pay that.

Robert Johnson of Hardisty asked why the county had changed the tax date from its traditional November time to September.

He suggested there are several ways to balance any budget, either by getting income tax or property taxes (taxpayers) which you don't have to pay off, either first people or say when you are liquidated or taxes wouldn't have to be increased in other areas.

While Reeve Ness said the number of employees had been reduced by 20 percent, he couldn't see the liquidation of assets as the way to go.

He said that taxpayers are getting two miles of road "without the farm on it" in Sedgewick and suggested it might be cheaper to hire consultants but a lot of work had been done, and he was of the opinion that taxpayers got value for their money.

Councilor Glen Miller said school taxes were up, stating that teacher salaries had increased two years, stating that rising inflation made council think it was the time to buy.

Reeve Ness said that the county was in the best position with its own equipment, adding that "every situation is weighed in the balance."

Councilor Jim Crawford said the county was prepared to pay for it.

sured into providing a waste disposal system by health and environment, "but the fact we went right in and dropped the cost to us of the cost of the garbage collection system is about three million or about $13 per taxpayer."

Heider, area resident maintained that the county shouldn't be putting $200,000 away each year and shouldn't have a savings account, but a balanced budget.

"I wouldn't want the seven people up there to look after my $200,000," he remarked. He also questioned why the county should have a gravel supply sufficient for three years, and said that even at 17 percent interest, cost of the gravel would be doubled.

Reeve Nuss said council would have to borrow $60 million to $100 million this year, adding that "if you want a balanced budget, then we're in error."

Dennis Oberg of Forestburg said that between Sedgewick and Forestburg there were two airports costing three and four million dollars "for us to play with." Although it was pointed out that the province pays for the cost of the airports, a member of the audience remarked "we will have to maintain them."

Councillor Rolf Jacobson said that the county built the road to the Killam-Sedgewick Airport when a construction operators school was held here. He said that taxpayers should not have council meetings.

"We have many pressure groups to contend with, said councillor Jacobson, remarking that many in the province had been members of pressure groups who had "lipped us with lawsuits."

Former councillor Art Bunney asked if council could justly building two new roads of road sedgewick at a higher standard than a No. 1 highway ($60,000 per mile).

In reply, councillor Jacobson said that in order to get grants, grades, stakes projects are not by the province - "there are so many things we can't do because of government guidelines," he said.

Ken Eshpeter of Dayland pointed out that the county had received a $2.5 million heritage grant in 1979 and successive tax increases of 14 percent, 34 percent and 10 percent. "To the point debt" was a lot of money spent in a short time.

Reeve Nuss said there had been a deficit of $917,000 in 1980 and $1,828,000 in 1981 - "a deficit of over $2 million," but he said stringent controls had been put on the budget this year.

"The first to admit mistake," remarked the reeve, "Mr. Lawson of Dayland said the county of 'passing the buck to the province' pointing out that other counties aren't raising their taxes by 82 percent."

He suggested that the county might yield to pressure groups and consider a "user concept" system in areas such as further education.

Councillor Glen Miller referred to the user-pay system as "a great concept" but gave the example of recreation dollars who are always in which case the user-pay system "might cost a lot of money."

Mr. Lawson also suggested that the council was operating with a "black cheque."

Mr. Lawson said he did not agree with council's rationalization for its spending practices and asked council if it was getting the message from taxpayers.

Reeve Nuss pointed out that the new assessment manual would be in effect for 1983, pointing out that the best agricultural land is now assessed at $40 per acre. Bernie Behnauer, an assistant in the provincial municipal affairs department said the assessment for the best agricultural land would jump to $280 per acre next year.

When Chairman Oberg asked if there is one million dollars in a trust fund, Reeve Nuss replied that there is also one million dollars in debentures against it.

To a Galsheed questioner, councillor Glen Miller said the decision had been reached to tear down the old section at Forestburg School in a replacement of rooms. He said it had been decided with Galsheed that repair costs to that school would be prohibitive.

While there was an open school at Heister, Councillor Miller said that if pupils were taken out of Forestburg School, it wouldn't be viable.

"If we agree with certain criteria, the government will pick up 100 percent of the cost at Forestburg," Mr. Miller said.

Jerry Oberg of Forestburg offered the opinion that all the blame for the county's financial position couldn't be laid on the province in these tough times. He called a budget which continues to spend "irresponsible."

"If it means cutting services, that is what is required," commented Mr. Oberg.

Willie Halum questioned Mr. Blatz about his statement about a "net of books behind the scene containing $10 million dollars."

Mr. Blatz replied that it was "terminology" - we were trying to save money.

Mr. Halum said that the gravel stockpile at Sedgewick contained $300,000 worth of black dirt, stating that a sample had revealed this.

Lin Lawson of Dayland said there appeared to be a lot of mismanagement of money and suggested that the council was operating with a "black cheque."

Mr. Lawson said he did not agree with council's rationalization for its spending practices and asked council if it was getting the message from taxpayers.

Reeve Nuss expressed disappointment that taxpayers would pass resolutions such as this, and said services would have to cut for the rest of the year.

In reply to Councillor Miller, Chairman Oberg said the resolutions are not binding, and the only way taxpayers could retaliate is by voting council out of office.

Councillor Jacobson said he went along with the spirit of intent, remarking that council isn't blameless.

"We have tried but apparently we have failed," he said, "it is a lot of money in the budget has been spent."

Hyperactivity - Theories on cause

Paddy Mills
Consumer & Corporate Affairs, Canada

Over the past decade there has been a lot of controversy on the topic of hyperactivity. There are those who believe that food additives cause hyperactivity - others disagree. Who can we believe?

Hyperactivity, or hyperkinesis, which is the correct term, is a very difficult condition to define. The cause is unknown, although many theories have been proposed.

Many children who are labelled hyperactive are actually just very active children. Boredom can even lead to mischievous deeds which result in a child being classified as hyperactive.

Hyperactivity may be the result of a number of factors including the child's personality, a temporary state of anxiety, a family disruption, adverse disorder or a true hyperactive state. Symptoms of true hyperactivity may include regular irritability, restlessness, short attention span and aggressiveness, just to name a few. If in the past you have labelled a child as hyperactive, think carefully before using this label again.

Symptoms of hyperactivity have been linked to food additives. Why? In the mid 1970's, Dr. B.F. Feingold suggested that artificial food colorings and flavours were the major cause of hyperactivity in children. He claimed that children who were hyperactive could be placed on a diet free from additives and their behaviour would improve.

Other researchers have attempted to repeat Dr. Feingold's studies but none have been able to find the same improvement in hyperactive behaviour. And so, it is safe to say that additives and flavour in food may

Services held for George Rawluk

On Friday, August 8, 1982, George Rawluk passed away after a lengthy illness at the Royal Alexandra Hospital in Edmonton.

George was born in Coleman, Alberta, on June 5, 1919. In 1932, he moved with his family to the farm south of Kinsella, where he resided until the time of his passing. Although George's first love was his family and his farm, he was never too preoccupied with them not to become active in the community. He enjoyed curling and was an avid hockey and ball fan, following both the boys and girls ball teams throughout the summer. George was an active member of the Kinsella Elks and was also active in community projects in Loughheed. His easy going nature and constant good humor won him many dear and close friends both young and old. George is survived by his loving wife, Yvonne, his mother, Mrs. Anna Rawluk of Burnaby, B.C.; two sons, Dennis of Vancouver, and Kenneth at home; two daughters and their husbands, Linda and Tom Cookson and Colleen and Alan Frost; and one grandson, Warren Cookson, also three brothers and their wives, William and Marie, Mike and Shirley, and Nick and Joan; and one sister, Mrs. Mary Pirkus of Chilliwack and was "Uncle George" to most of nieces and nephews.

What does a life guard do when he isn't busy? Well, Jody Overman of Hardisty chose to read The Community Press, and just at the right time the photographer arrived to preserve the scene for posterity.

Hardisty Lakettes win trophy at Jasper

The Hardisty Lakettes ladies softball team wound up their ball season in great style by bringing home a trophy from the 3-day tournament at Jasper, August 21 and 22.

With the excellent assistance of Caroline and Carrie Lein, of the Rockettes, and Joan Tuttle of the Edgerton team, they competed in the Intermediate "C" section in which eight teams were entered.

The Lakettes lost the first game to Smith Intermediate from Edmonton by a 6 to 4 score. This moved them into the "B" side where they then won the second game against the Merrit Diamond Mavericks from Merrit, B.C. by a score of 8-2.

Next, they played the Spruce Grove shifters from Spruce Grove, beating them by a 10 to 5 margin.

The final game was played against Coda Sales of Prince George, where they won by a 12-4 score. This was an 8-inning game with the extra lining needed to break a tie at the end of 7 innings.

The beach at Hardisty Lake was almost deserted last Thursday except for these children who were unharmed as they built sandcastles. The network of castles even had a moat and drawbridge to ward off unwelcome visitors. Chantel, Jennifer and Michael Bernard of Edmonton were with their parents at a cottage.

Former postmaster in Hardisty, Peter Neufeld was in town recently renewing old acquaintances. He and Wayne Gaborson came down from Edmonton. The Neufelds live there where Peter is now retired.

Get well wishes go to quite a few of our residents who are in the hospital here. Hope Martha Kandi, Randy Allen, Jackie Almborg (nee Allen) and Brad McKenare all feeling better by the time this is printed. Grace Kells and daughters Dianne, Lynn and Lorraine travelled to Blackfalds over the past weekend to visit Ruby and Les Kells. Ruby's sister, Esther was also there with their daughter-in-law, Sherrie and granddaughter, Christine also visited. That area has also been hit with hail and many of the crops were damaged and badly twisted with the heavy wind and rain. Les and Ruby had a window broken in their house in Blackfalds and the side of their cedar log house was pitted.

I think most of our residents have been busy elsewhere as the town has been very quiet for news. Next week, in September 1 will be working at the Public Library on the afternoons. It is open, so anyone with news items can drop them off there.

Key Lyle and Alvin Parker from Oklahton and Enderby, B.C. visited Mrs. Duxson.

Dan and Laura Reed visited Steve Potlatch.

Letters to the Editor

Sedgewick, Alberta
August 23, 1982
Editor,
Community Press:

I wish to direct three points to the organizers of the county ratemakers' meeting in Sedgewick on August 18.

1. Why were those who entered the hall by the inside north door charged $2.00 each when those entering by the inside north door charged $1.00 each?

2. Since the whole issue was budgeting and accountability of the use of public money, are there any other duty-bound to present in the local newspaper(s) an itemized financial statement resulting from the meeting.

3. I hope that some of you who were at the meeting will next year to let your name stand as councillor, so

Talk to someone close to you

Over the years we've been growing throughout Alberta and we're growing with Alberta. And that means you'll only find a Treasury Branch agency close to you, but you'll find the kind of friendly, personal attention and the wide range of financial services that keeps you growing.

And when you think about it, that's a pretty good reason to come in and talk to us. We're Treasury Branches. We're close to you.

RUDOLPH WITH YOUR NOSE SO RED, EATON'S SANTA PARADE IS DEAD!

Editorially

Sharpen your pencils

For months now, residents in The Community Press and Enterprise coverage area have been hearing about the depressed state of the economy but have been affected only slightly, except for the oil service industries who have experienced a slowdown.

But now the lesson is getting much closer to home when the majority of us will sit up and listen. Some of us are even spurred into action as with the Flagstaff ratepayers group which has asked county council to roll-back its tax increase for this year from a 62 percent increase to a 10 percent increase.

It remains to be seen whether this can be accomplished, however county consented to sit down with a ratepayers committee in an attempt to reach a solution.

Recently rumours were making the rounds that the Killam-Strome Co-op was about to close its doors. If such an event had occurred, the Town of Killam especially would have been hard-hit.

While the Co-op is having financial problems, it has been confirmed that the Co-op, and indeed the Killam Mill, will remain operational.

Realizing there is a problem, the board of directors has chosen to take remedial steps, one of which will be to roll-back employee salaries by 10 percent.

While this no doubt has been a blow to employees, it is much better than being told that there is no job to come to.

While many of us may seem "insulated" from such a situation, it should bring the lesson home that we should sit down ourselves and try to put our own financial affairs in a better order.

There is only so much money coming in, and the bills are getting larger and larger. After an evening of headscratching and figuring, it may be that balancing the budget might call for a lower standard of living.

There does seem to be a light at the end of the tunnel in regards to the economy but the way back is going to be a lengthy one.

Before we emerge from the current recession, we will have to sharpen our pencils—and out wits.

The weather has become much cooler but despite threatening skies, the dry spell has not been broken thus far. A number of the outfit have begun operations this week. The what is of a much better quality than expected, most of it going number one.

Bare and community expressed congratulations to Cliff Sobey, who won the event in the Carrouse golf tournament last week. Cliff played brilliantly throughout the series and was awarded a lovely trophy. W.H. Riley won the championship consolation prize.

At George C. Crooks Drug store in Sedgewick, 3 cakes for 79 cents; Culet liquid pot, any shade was 49 cents. When purchased you received 2 other shades free, large bottles will be 100 pages or more and 1 package envelopes was on special for 25 cents.

In Alberta, the cool wet weather is retarding crop maturity and higher temperatures are urgently required to maintain the excellent prospects. Harvesting in the Peace River district is progressing and clearing has begun elsewhere.

Reports of logging are general and while from the same site at several points, it has been light and not disturbing. The local A.P. Crop Report, on the other hand, has continued to slow the progress of the crops and a long delay in the fall harvest is required to mature the crops.

Congratulations to Mrs. T.C. Graham who was lucky enough to tie on a bingo for the cash. K. K. Graham, an agreement was reached between the two and E. is now the owner. Congratulations are also due to Gordon Loesch on holding the lot for the cash.

Construction is progressing well at the new Senior Citizens Home in Sedgewick. The outside shell is virtually completed, plumbers and electricians are busy working inside of the structure. Senior citizens in the area are eagerly awaiting the finish of the home, which will probably be in 1973.

Murray Whitehouse of Rosedale won the championship slip fight of the annual Sedgewick open golf tournament on Sunday, September 13, 1952. He won over John Stables in the final round. There was a 60 to 1 bet on Murray in the northeast of Alliance.

In the sixth column: it had reported that six men could be seen in the morning with 30 to 70 percent damage. Hall at Battle Bend was in the morning. There was a 60 to 1 bet on Murray in the northeast of Alliance.

The Board received the report on the Comprehensive Examinations which were given under the Educational Services of the Board. The examinations were given in January 1973. Successful completion of the examinations will lead to a comprehensive certificate issued by Alberta Education.

The Board is now producing the record. Your sincerely, Frank Stowell.

Also, could you let me know the cost of mailing the record? That may be so high that the books will have to wait until my next trip to Alberta.

Congratulations to you all on the magnificent job done in producing the record. Your sincerely, Frank Stowell.

Approvals were received from Alberta Education for the operation of two part-time schools in the area. The first school is the John Stables school, which is a day school for 10 to 12 years old. The second school is the Murray Whitehouse school, which is a day school for 10 to 12 years old.

Strome people at Rocky when tornado strikes

While at Steven and Fay Stipes cottage this summer, neighbours of our outside Rocky Mountain House suffered considerable damage to their property, as a result of the tornado which struck the Rocky area in July.

A mobile home was tossed about like a tin can, and beyond any repair, with the occupant, Mr. Merritt, being hospitalized. Others had roof torn off, houses moved off foundations, and fences ripped out.

Along the path of the tornado were mangled in half, debris scattered every which way.

This all occurred less than a mile from our cottage along the Clearwater River. A few days later, we observed the beginning of a second tornado, which eventually struck in Sylvan Lake.

Between tornadoes, rain and hail storms, the Stipes, family kept busy with swimming, fishing, and other outdoor activities. A few days later, we observed the beginning of a second tornado, which eventually struck in Sylvan Lake.

Alan Probst, brother of the groom, did an excellent job as Master of Ceremonies. Many guests were given, and happy thoughts were shared. The bridesmaids, Mrs. Steve Srebnik of Kelowna, B.C., celebrated their wedding. The ceremony which added to the already special occasion.

Lisa Cox did a commendable job looking after the guest book. Photographs were taken by Mr. Tom Barton, assisted by his lovely wife, Sonny. A good time was had by all at the Open House and dance with the music being supplied by the Mayne's Orchestra.

Before leaving for a short honeymoon to Radium, the bride changed to a white flocked polyester dress, with sprays of colorful blossoms on the bodice and full skirt.

The happy couple are now residing in Loughheed. Guests included many from Loughheed, Sedgewick, and Hardisty as well as Runby, High River, Dargaville, and Lloydminster. Wedding gifts were given by Mrs. Doug Allison and family of Lac La Hache; Mrs. Doug Allison and family of 150 Mile House; and Mrs. Lillian Thomas, Nova Scotia.

We would like to thank our parents for their help in organizing our wedding celebration. Thanks also to friends and relatives who helped in any way with decorating, food, preparations and cleaning up after the dance. Special thanks to all who attended our open house and dance. You helped make our Special Day an occasion filled with memories we will long cherish.

Dale and Charlene Probst. A reception was held at the Loughheed Community Hall where numerous guests enjoyed a lovely buffet supper. The brides table featured a family heirloom tablecloth of linen and lace, made by the bride's great-grandmother, centered by a three-tiered cake decorated

WHAT IS YOUR COMMENT?

Melissa Guilmette
No, I don't think so. It costs a lot of money and the town isn't big enough. The younger boys will likely go to the senior team because junior is too much competition and a lot of travelling.

Colleen Fournier
No, I don't think so. No body has any money, and everything is closing down. I think we are going into a depression. I really don't think they could support both hockey teams.

Donna Hunkula
No, I don't think they can. They have enough trouble keeping the senior team and recreational facilities going without having another team. There isn't enough fan support to keep both teams going.

Li Place
No, I don't think they can. There isn't enough fans to support both teams and it costs a lot of money to start a junior team.

Do you think Killam can support a Junior Hockey team as well as a Senior Hockey team?

Flagstaff taxpayers seek cut

Members of Flagstaff council and a taxpayers committee were to sit down on Tuesday night this week and check council's 1982 budget "figure by figure."

Agreement to this was made last Thursday afternoon when the taxpayers committee attended a regular council meeting.

Members of the taxpayers committee budget little however, from their contention that there be a rollback of 1982 taxes from a 62 percent increase to a 10 percent increase.

This resolution along with a resolution requesting that the tax increase be limited in any one year to five percent unless a plebiscite is held, were approved by about 600 taxpayers attending an August 18th, meeting in Sedgewick Community Hall.

One of the prime areas to be considered on Tuesday was transportation.

Reeve Carl (Bud) Nom

assured the committee on Thursday that "definitely there will not be any more overexpenditures" and that responsibility for this will be given to the heads of each department.

Councillor Alex Blatz said that the 62 percent increase gave council "nightmares" before it was passed.

"There are many demands on us - maybe we should have started saying 'no' two or three years ago," admitted Reeve Neas.

The move motivated his previous stand that he didn't feel it would be realistic to cut back the 1982 increase to 10 percent and later he said that under the circumstances requested by the taxpayers committee, "you couldn't get anybody to run for council."

Ken Expheter of the committee said that there could be cutbacks in transportation.

Councillor Rolf Jacobson suggested that even with a 62 percent increase, the dollar cost per quarter would be less than several other municipalities.

Dick White, a realtor, said that near Camrose and Sherwood Park, taxes were equal or less to his.

Mr. Expheter accused

Councillor Blatz stated that council had spent all the reserves without going to taxpayers, but should have kept going to taxpayers, they would be broke.

HOW THE FAMILIES OF KEEPHILLS HAD A MOVING EXPERIENCE.

One of a series on Alberta's largest electric utility.

At TransAlta Utilities, we've been doing a lot of things for a long time to make sure that Albertans have a sufficient and secure supply of electrical energy.

Understandably, this commitment doesn't always please everybody. Transmission lines sometimes have to cross an owner's land. Agricultural use sometimes has to give way to surface mining so that we can unlock Alberta's precious store of low-sulphur coal.

But wherever we can, we balance power supply with human considerations. In 1976, we started this with the four families of Keephills, near Wabamun Lake. Future projections of power needs had made it essential for the land owned at our Highvale Mine to be extended.

This, in turn, made it necessary for us to acquire land occupied by the ninety year old hamlet of Keephills.

But we were able to do it satisfactorily. Before the four families had even moved out from the old Keephills, a new model hamlet outside the mine area was ready to welcome its new owners. Each family was enabled to hire its own contractor, build their new home, and enjoy a fully-serviced community complete with modern school and community centre.

By February in 1982 the families were looking back on a truly moving experience. TransAlta Utilities. Power for Albertans is our prime concern.

Some members of the first four families moving into the new Keephills include Gordon and Marie Raymond (foreground), Roy and Ellen Raymond with their daughter Tammy, Keith and Doreen Smith with their daughter Lindsay and son Scott; and Bill Vanderwall as the driver's door.

Bessie Black was Lougheed pioneer

Bessie Mabel Black passed away August 6th, 1982 in her 97th year.

She was born to Mr. and Mrs. John Carter of Essex, England. Born to this union were two sons, David and John.

She came to Canada with her husband and son, David in the spring of 1912 to a C.P.R. farm south of Lougheed, Alberta.

Her husband passed away suddenly that same year, and her second son, John was born shortly after.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Carter joined her in 1913 and they farmed together until her parents passing in 1937 and 1938.

She continued to farm with her two sons till she retired from active farming in 1957, and lived with her son, John till 1974, when due to ill health, she moved to Killam Auxiliary Hospital where she lived until her passing.

She took an active part in community work, was a member of the United Church where she took her turn at playing piano or organ, an active member in United Farm Women of Alberta, also a life member of the Alberta Wheat Pool, and original contact signer.

She leaves to mourn her loss, two sons, David and John, one daughter-in-law, Ida Mae Black, several nieces and nephews, many cousins, plus a host of good friends.

From NORTH WEST TRUST CO. J. Brandingen, Agent 364-3780 Sedgewick.

Killam skating club re-organizes

On Monday, August 30, the Killam Skating Club had a meeting at the Killam Agriplex to make plans for the future of the club.

A new executive was elected with the following people taking office: Linda Hok, president; Zena Stull, Vice President; Pat Gair, secretary; Angie George, treasurer; June Gair, advisor; Zena Stull and Connie Grant, phoning committee.

There was some discussion on changing from the present association we are now operating on A.R.S.A. (Alberta Recreational Skating Association) to the C.P.S.A. (Canadian Figure Skating Association).

The next meeting is to be held at the Agriplex in the meeting room on Tuesday, September 14.

At the meeting the topics to be discussed are dues, money raising functions and an explanation of the change in associations.

June Gair.

Councillor Glen Miller said that next year, without construction, a "bare bones road maintenance budget" could be $200,000.

In reply to a question by Maurice Candlish, the county clerk said $1,844,221 had been spent to the end of July for road construction and maintenance.

John Patten suggested that there be a cutback on road equipment and work can longer hours, and Mr. Candlish added that maybe the county should get out of road construction.

Cliff Westby noted that taxpayers have to be protected against over-spending.

ing the service. Organist was Mrs. Kay Routledge. Internet took place at Sedgewick Cemetery, with arrangements by Fee and Sons Funeral Home, Killam. Pallbearers were Wm. Haldim, Wm. Routledge, Ernest Cookson, Brian Rawhak, Robert Drager and Harold Haugen. Lunch was served by the U.C.W. ladies in the church hall.

Card of Thanks

A sincere thanks to Dr. Amin and associates, nurses and staff of the Killam Auxiliary Hospital for their excellent care of our mother during her stay with them.

Also to Rev. A. MacLellan, Mrs. Routledge, the choir, the pallbearers, Fee and Sons, and the ladies for the lovely lunch served. To our relatives and friends for their kind support during our bereavement, for flowers, cards, food and donations. Sincere thanks to one and all and may God bless you.

The Black family.

Lougheed News Notes

Molly Ferryhouseh Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Pete Grove on a grand grandson, born August 15th, in Edmonton. The parents are Mr. and Mrs. Bill Stock, daughter of Anne (Grove). This makes a first great-granddaughter and a great-grandson for them now.

The rains have delayed the harvesting just now. A couple nights ago we had front around and last night (Friday) we had a thunder storm before midnight. I thought it was too cool now for such a storm as that. This year it seems anything can happen.

Mrs. Isabel Johnson and her daughter, Lillian Nordstrom and son, Roger, attended the Johnson reunion in Fort Stevens Park in Oregon, U.S.A. In this gathering there were something like 50 relatives, in attendance.

They returned home on Thursday evening, after being away a little over a week. They said it was all very nice meeting them again. The name of the Johnson brothers were Morgan, Jim and Wilson and their families.

Mr. and Mrs. Doug Niehaus, Kestika, Vanessa and Jason attended the wedding of Doug's brother, Darcy in Camrose, on Saturday August 28.

Mr. and Mrs. Gary Jeffery and daughter Erica of Whitecourt, and Gary's brother, David of Ganges, Salt Spring Island, B.C. also Derek Probst, Sherwood Park, were visiting Sharon's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Probst for the weekend.

Mrs. Margaret Denham had a surprise visit from daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John Burdett of Whitefield, B.C. They also visited with Olive and Andy Grieve and Agnes and Jim Wright before going to Pina Point. Guess they were looking for sunshine.

Congratulations to Jackie Coates who is a member of the Canadian Championship Junior "A" football team. Jackie plays on the Edmonton Jokers Transport Club which won the title the weekend of August 14.

Several water lines have had to undergo repairs, delaying the completion time. Concrete repairs to damaged curbs and sidewalks also remain to be made, and a permanent surface applied to roads.

family at the airport and brought them to Hardisty to visit his parents before they all returned to their home in Fort McMurray. Congratulations to Margaret Coleman and Bob Leatham who were married in the Catholic Church in Hardisty, Saturday, August 28. Sure nice that the weather cleared in the afternoon for you.

Some progress toward the harvest is being made in the country but the weather is certainly holding things back and causing the crops to stay green. It is unusual to have to cut the grain every five or six days at this time of year.

With schools reopened by the time this is printed, possibly things will return to the normal range of activities, and there will be more news to report.

Molly Magers returned home Tuesday evening after spending most of the summer in England. She was accompanied by her daughter, and husband, of Port McHenry. England is a beautiful country, she enjoyed her trip immensely, but Sedgewick is "home" and the best place to live, says Molly.

Mr. and Mrs. Laurie Andersen, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Dave Bonnett of Killam spent the weekend fishing near Hordley. Kevin Truss of Calgary was home for the weekend. Mrs. Mary McLean (nee Muirhead) and daughter Jane of Calgary, also Miss Shughess Tiede of Strathmore, visited at the Muirhead homes last week. Donna Muirhead returned home with them for a short vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. C. James were in Elora during the weekend. Janet entered flowers in the Flower Show there.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Muirhead were in Edmonton and attended the football game on Sunday.

Coporal and Mrs. Dale Djes and family of Port St. John, B.C. spent the weekend here, having brought their mother, Mrs. Minnie Djes home after having a holiday there.

Out of respect to Mr. Steve Potage, no card party was held on Wednesday at the senior citizens drop in centre.

Mr. and Mrs. Eldridge Freeman were at Hana over the weekend visiting cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Gwynne Rees. They had a very enjoyable visit but when they got home they received the news that Mr. Rees had suffered a heart attack and was in intensive care in the hospital. Our sincere wishes go to him for a quick and complete recovery.

The funeral of Mr. Steve Potage was conducted by the Reverend Alex MacLellan at 2 p.m. on Friday, August 27th at the Sedgewick United Church. Interment took place at Merna. Relatives and friends gathered for a lunch at the United Church Hall afterwards.

We express our sympathy to the relatives of Mr. Potage. Five tables of players were at the Senior Citizens Drop In Centre for the Norwegian Whist on Friday evening. Prizes for the high-est scores were won by Mrs. Ruth Eriksson and Mr. Gunar Hope. Mrs. Susie Dreger and Mr. Jim Walsh were awarded consolation prizes.

Hardisty By-Election September 29

On September 2nd, the Town of Hardisty held its monthly council meeting.

All members of the council were present, plus a few interested electors.

The minutes of the previous month's meetings and the finance reports were passed.

An election date of September 29th was set to fill the two empty councillor positions. There are three people nominated for these positions. Wayne Bittar, Jim Huddleston and Tommy Seto.

Work on digging the water and sewer lines to the new hospital site has begun. The tenders have yet to be released for the hospital.

The Terry Fox Run is to be held in Hardisty on September 19th. We hope we can get an even better turn out than last year.

The purchase of the new municipal building and library is now going ahead as council's last offer has been accepted.

Three building permits and one business license were granted. Many other complaints and concerns were also dealt with.

Ratepayers committee says County affairs mismanaged

Disatisfied with the response accorded their proposals by Flagstaff County council, a ratepayers group is in the process of setting up a meeting with the provincial minister of municipal affairs, perhaps leading to a public enquiry.

Spokesman Ken Ehpheter said the action is contemplated because of a mismanagement of county affairs.

Mr. Ehpheter said that a tax payment holdback is being invited.

"We hope for a reasonable amount of participation, hopefully about 50 percent," stated Mr. Ehpheter.

The taxpayers committee is also setting up a committee with a view to replacing the present membership on Flagstaff County Council.

At an earlier protest meeting, the taxpayers committee asked that the 1982 tax increase be rolled back from 61 percent to 10 percent, and also that any tax increase in following years be placed at a five percent increase without a plebiscite being held.

At a special in camera meeting of Flagstaff council on Thursday morning, council reaffirmed its stand that it could not alter the present year's taxes.

Councillor Glen Miller moved that the county maintain the 1982 budget, and the remainder of council was in full accord.

The 1982 budget was termed a "realistic document" and that no changes be made in it.

Council also approved a second motion by Councillor Alex Blatz that the municipal portion of the 1983 budget will not exceed a maximum of five percent.

Council was also in full agreement with a motion by Councillor Crawford that the 1983 penalty date on taxes will be considered at the annual meeting.

It was emphasized that there will be change in the 1982 tax date.

The Community Press reporter asked what would happen if tax payments are made in full.

There's not much we can do - they can do that every year," responded Councillor Miller.

Reeve Capi (Dad) Ness said he hoped that course of action wouldn't be taken because it would be "only increasing the burden on the county."

A press release was handed out by the reeve, addressed to the county ratepayers, which stated:

"After careful consideration, County Council will remain firm with the 1982 budget. Previously budgeted programs are nearing completion and we must be responsible to our community."

"$200,000.00 of the 1983 budget is designated to wards picking up our deficit. Another $200,000.00 has been budgeted for reserve for future expenditures. Out of a 6.9 m. budget, Council consider this not to be excessive."

"Council are prepared to limit the municipal budget for 1983 to a five percent increase if an increase is required."

"Over the past years, the ratepayers have received more services than they have paid for. The 1982 Budget is the actual cost of the services they are receiving and for a portion of the services received in prior years."

The statement was signed by Reeve Ness.

A meeting was also held on Friday night between some of the councillors, the county secretary-treasurer and the ratepayers.

Commenting on that meeting, Mr. Ehpheter said the ratepayers group made suggestions for cutbacks in five areas, but there was no area of accord reached.

"In no way, shape or form are they the council going to bend," commented Mr. Ehpheter.

Find somebody else to blame

Canada wants more money put into a fund for Third World Countries set up by the International Monetary Fund and the United States doesn't.

Many of these Third World countries have forms of government which vary far from democracy and appear to care little for the policies advocated by First World Nations.

But government bureaucracy being what it is, many of these funds are mismanaged to say the least, being diverted in many instances for weapons to put down insurgents.

Even the Communist government of Poland has weasled funds out of Western Banks, and we all know what that government has done to the supporters of Solidarity.

When the Canadian economy was buoyant, it seemed insignificant that millions of dollars (sometimes in goods or grain) were being sent abroad to the four corners of the globe, but the day of reckoning has come.

Canada, as are many other members of the Western World, is in the midst of a recession, and a good look should be taken at its priorities.

With a deficit of $19.5 billion, Canada is hardly in the position to provide hand-outs without first taking a good look at how the funds are used.

It's getting so that it is difficult to tell the "haves" from the "have-nots."

Even the United States is feeling the pinch and perhaps it is taking a good hard look at how it spends its money. (The Reagan administration has a deficit budget too, you know, after making an election promise to have a balanced budget.)

And in Alberta, the PC government of Peter Lougheed has been undergoing the "heat" treatment.

While we have been told in the past that the Lougheed government would remain in office for its full term, there are many tell-tale signs that this isn't so. The present enumeration also is a good indicator.

Cancellation of the Cold Lake heavy oil project and the subsequent resignation of several cabinet ministers indicates that there are high holes in the PC administration.

Certainly a vast number of them would want Pierre ousted from power, and "King Peter" may have had his image slightly tarnished.

Flagstaff residents are up in arms over high tax increases.

The way we see it, let's have a federal election, a provincial election and a county election.

Then if we still can't come up with solutions, find somebody else to blame.

Energy Minister Marc "Lakeland" is for others" Lakeland's office has now confirmed that his aide implying that energy self-sufficiency is just around the corner have cost taxpayers more than $570,000 in the period of July to August 18 alone.

In one part they assert that "new oil discoveries" have been made in the past year and a half in the Beaufort Sea, in the Arctic islands area.

Curious, because it is common knowledge in western and northern Canada that there is reportedly not yet a single barrel of economically recoverable oil anywhere in the North.

I was referred by the Deputy Energy Minister's office to their "Communications" section. A spokesman there, asked whether this part of the ads might be false, replied, "We attempt here to mislead what is being said in ads."

Other officials in both the Energy Department and the National Energy Board confirmed, presumably without wishing to be identified, that because of still prohibitive transportation costs, no northern oil is yet economically recoverable.

The N.E.B. official reportedly made no estimate as to the oil might reach southern Canada: 1985, 1987, 1991, and 1993.

Back at the Energy Minister's office, a special assistant protested that by his minister's order, no departmental official "can be held responsible for the minister's express permission."

Asked, "What about our recently-passed freedom of information legislation?" he don't know about that," replied the special assistant.

I was referred by the Deputy Energy Minister's office to their "Communications" section. A spokesman there, asked whether this part of the ads might be false, replied, "We attempt here to mislead what is being said in ads."

Other officials in both the Energy Department and the National Energy Board confirmed, presumably without wishing to be identified, that because of still prohibitive transportation costs, no northern oil is yet economically recoverable.

The N.E.B. official reportedly made no estimate as to the oil might reach southern Canada: 1985, 1987, 1991, and 1993.

Back at the Energy Minister's office, a special assistant protested that by his minister's order, no departmental official "can be held responsible for the minister's express permission."

Asked, "What about our recently-passed freedom of information legislation?" he don't know about that," replied the special assistant.

News from the Anglican Church

By Deanna C. Martin

Intended for last week's September 12, the church calendar is here, and that twinkle in the rector's eye can only mean one thing: He expects all of us to get down to business. And next week he promises to announce enough fall programs to keep us all in church, and out of trouble for years to come.

As for this week, Canon Conrad brings to our attention that confirmed members for young people will begin Tuesday, September 13, in the afternoon and pre-end post confirmation classes for adults will begin that night at St. Mark's Parish, which could be your down payment.

At Elder Pedersen's in Galahad, new or used combines were priced from $1150 to $3300. Mr. Pedersen said this is the cost of combining your crop, which could be your down payment.

Dallas and Jack Bateman spent the weekend at Pine Lake with the Courtier family of Coronation. They stayed in the home of Hardy's have been entertaining company from Winnipeg, and the day-stay-at-home family where they all enjoyed the water skiing, with even more fun learning around the lake on one of the very many boats managed to stay up on one of the four alternatives.

The Greg Martin family has returned from a visit to Penhold. Greg is now back at school after a summer of digging in the garden and putting up satellite dishes. Hardy has decided to upgrade Dale One and see how she likes it. Happy housewarming to Richard Gordon and his family who have moved into their lovely new Edmonton home.

Killam Agriplex offers many programs

Don't let the economy of the country get you down! You can still get out and enjoy yourself. Killam Agriplex offers many programs for you. You can still get out and enjoy yourself. Killam Agriplex offers many programs for you.

beginners and advanced, paper, piano lessons, for adults, photography, chess, cooking, constructing, furniture refinishing, Christmas goodies, and enlightening and fitness for group, blue jean course, macrame and defensive driving.

We hope in that list that there is something that will appeal to almost everyone. Remember, even if you can't afford that winter holiday, you can still enjoy yourself to take part in one of these courses.

For more information on the Agriplex or drop in and we will give you more information on the dates and registration fee.

Likely the only family that could match their noise and confusion would be the Bard's of the World's. This will be the third time that I've mentioned the fact that the Grim Sires and Wilmie Williams visited the area. That's how organized your group is. Remember this time, I found some relatives for them to visit. On is the nephew of Herb Schofield. On the weekend Herb and Annie were also here. Rosemary graciously hosted them. Few teaching changes in Flagstaff system

There have been few changes in the roster of Flagstaff County school according to Deputy Sup't. Terry Tiller.

Mr. Tiller attributes the small turnover to the fact that teachers aren't being presented with the opportunities in other fields, mainly a result of present tough economic times.

He said that only three leaves of absence have been granted this year.

The number of teachers in the elementary, junior high and high schools total 110 full time equivalents.

At Loughheed, Margo Lindsay from Ireland is teaching on an exchange basis, with Valerie Pike going to Ireland. Mr. Darrell Fraser has transferred from Sedgewick and Mrs. Sandra Rosiechuk is on staff after having taught kindergarten.

Now to Hardisty school are Miss Elaine Endicott, Bill Kroplinski, Mrs. Ethlyn Leslie and Mrs. Schm...

Mrs. Pat Holberg is a new teacher at Heister. The new support staff at Sedgewick public school consists of Mrs. Thornborough and Mrs. Frances Anderson. School attendance is about 1,843 down about 3.5 percent.

The staff at Central High School in Sedgewick is unchanged.

At Strome, Miss Laurie Richard is new while Mrs. Jerry Haaser has returned after a year's absence.

In Killam, Mrs. Denny Day has returned after a year's leave of absence.

At Forestburg, Miss Marilyn Kuysters has returned after a year's leave of absence and Mrs. Pearl Gynn is a new addition.

At Dayland, Mr. Lex Neworthy has transferred from Sedgewick and Miss Jeanette Strudwick has transferred from Forestburg.

While enrollment figures haven't been finalized in this case, tentative figures show that Alliance has 86 students, Dayland 387, Forestburg 367, Hardisty 145, Heister 367, Killam 178, Loughheed 92, Sedgewick Public 180, Central High 343, South Bend 22, and Strome 117.

Dedicated to all Farmers The Weather

Spring started our quite nice now. There was no run-off from the snow. The snow did it's job, and really soaked in. There was a promise of an early spring.

From the very first, things started out wrong.

It was too cold, for much to long. The farmers didn't want to now. It was too cold, for the need to grow.

When they decided to put the need in That nasty old wind came charging in. It blew the top soil all around. And blew the new dust out of the ground.

The air was so dusty you couldn't see The sun for days, and believe me After the wind had died at last, It got very hot and dry, very fast.

The crops started burning, we thought we'd go broke

Then came the forest fires with all their smoke.

But soon the rain came to save our crops By now, everyone had high hopes.

Of having a good crop tucked in the bin. Then the tornadoes came howling in. Now more rain came, thought it would never stop.

Flooding the fields and ruining the crop.

As if that's not enough, with which to contend,

Next, came the hail, is there no end To the disasters a farmer has to face? Thank God, all this didn't happen, in one place.

Some were hailed out, one hundred percent. For all summers work and not a red cent. It's a wonder farmers don't go out of their minds.

Or say, "To Hell With It," and leave it behind.

Now, when we should be harvesting it's raining again.

Next will be frost, to ruin the grain. If the weather doesn't smarten up soon, you know The crop will be out all winter, under the snow.

What's left of our crop is surprisingly good. It will help us this winter, to buy some more.

That is if we get off this fall. And if we do, we'll really have a bail.

Now you may think I do nothing but complain.

But the last thing we need right now is more rain.

Now, if a farmer you still like to be. Forget it, I'm a farmer and I wrote this you see.

A farmer's life is nothing but worry But when spring comes again, he'll be in a hurry.

To get out on the land, and start over For the disasters, a farmer has to face.

And with God's help, I hope he'll get his crop in the bin.

L.J. McBride

FLAGSTAFF FURTHER EDUCATION COUNCIL

Put a little "class" in your life
Hello, anyone interested, please contact my office.

Previously, in my column, I stated that there would be an instructor's Aerobic Dance workshop in Forestburg on September 24th. However, the date should have been September 25th.

There will be a place for adults course in the Killam School, starting the last week of September, which will run for ten weeks. There will be a limited enrollment of eight students.

Killam and area will be pleased to know that June Gair has volunteered to act as contact person for this area.

Strome is in need of a volunteer to set up courses in their community. If anyone is interested, please contact my office.

Storm sewer started in Sedgewick
Construction started Tuesday on a storm sewer in Sedgewick which is designed to take away the run-off from Main Street which frequently occurs during heavy rain storms.

Successful bidder from six tenders was Boychuk Construction of Vegreville.

The projected cost of $213,850 is supposed to be completed within 39 days, and will run from Railway Avenue (4th Avenue) along 48th Street to MacKenzie Street.

WHAT IS YOUR COMMENT?

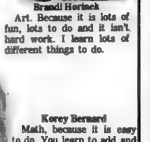

We interviewed four Grade Three students and asked them the following question: Which school subject is your favorite? And why?

Jason Harris
Language Arts. Because I like to write stories and draw pictures. It's fun to do.

Linda Smith
Gym, because I like to play games and have fun. I like Art too because it's fun drawing pictures and making things.

Corey Bernard
Math, because it is easy to do. You learn to add and subtract. I like art too because there is a lot of fun things to do.

Hardisty Happenings

Grace Kells
Harry and Hazel Saville from St. Albert were visiting V.H. Hobson and also stopped at the Cyril Draper's for coffee. They then went on to Loughheed to visit with their mother, Mary Johnson.

Elizabeth and Howard
Elm from Lincoln, Nebraska were visiting with their sister-in-law Marion Elm. They also went to see Homer and Bill Elm and Gene and Lynne Elm. Marion's daughter, Gay and her two daughters from Saskatoon came to visit them while they were at Marion's. Later Marion accompanied the Howard Elm's to Edmonton to her daughter Claudia.

A gathering of about 35 relatives was held at the home of Karen Freebairn, Marion's granddaughter. Sorry to hear of the passing of Dick Downie a few weeks ago. Dick and his brothers operated a garage in Hardisty for years before leaving here to go to Edmonton.

Cliff Robbins, Aubrey Slavik, John Brockhoff, and Derrin Ritchie were all home from Hanna, for the long weekend with their families.

Susan Pooler and friend, Charles Graham of Edmonton, left by car on September 1, for Toronto, where they will attend the Ontario Theological Seminary. En route they stopped over for a few days in Thunder Bay to visit Pat and Marian. Alice is pleased to have Janet and Michael and girls on an extended visit. It fills in the gap left by Susan.

Clarence and Bernice Barwick of Calgary spent the weekend with their sister, Eve, and Oswald to celebrate Eve's birthday on Saturday they took them out for supper.

Garry and Carol Knobl and boys of Ardrossan and Patty Robbins of Edmonton were at the Cliff Robbins home over the long weekend.

Born to Jim and Adelle Clark of Kildon a son, August 31st, weighing 7 pounds, 10 ounces. A first grandchild for Jim and Adelle (Zimmet) Keldorfer and a first great grandchild for Norman and Lorraine Zimmet.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Stock and children of Edmonton were visiting Grandpa and Grandma Mr. and Mrs. Pete Grove for a week.

Pete Grove in Hardisty Hospital and Mr. George Marlow in Kildon Hospital, also get well wishes to all who are not as well as home.

Friday was a beautiful day for everything. So Mrs. Esie Drager and myself went for a drive in the country. We were on the road at 10:30 a.m. and drove way north of Loughheed and had dinner in Hardisty, a little after 12. Then we visited George Hitz and Pete Grove in hospital and came back around about 4 o'clock and then home. There were some very good grass crops and those that were tilled were not good. Harvesting was going in full swing, though.

Now that the summer holidays are over the organization will be getting into swing with their meetings and so forth. The Women's Institute meeting for September will be held at the home of Jerry Lynn Bess as co-hostess. But you will have to check with the date, if it is good harvesting weather it may change.

Also let us not forget the 1983 Loughheed Homecoming. There's a couple we met who are very busy getting names and addresses as they can write and get more names. If you know anyone that has lived here some time or another, let Mrs. Margaret McClelland know. Mr. Gayle McClelland know.

Central High News

With all the activity of sorting timetables and getting classes started last week the Central High N.E.P. did not get written for us newspaper. This week, students seem to be well settled, registrations are handed in and the real work of another term has begun.

We welcome to our school the new grade nine students from the following students from other areas: Alena Christie, Carolyn Herle, Ken Geroth, Robert Hagen and Michelle Jackson from Leduc; Maria and Gregory Rundle from British Columbia; Donald Perryman from Strome; Steven Pumble from Edmonton; Joe Reid from Burnhead and Denise Schmidt from St. Paul.

This week we received our computer, Mr. Ackersville and Mr. Doody have begun working with it to develop programs and determine how best to incorporate the computer into their classes. The computer opens up some very exciting possibilities for instruction.

With graduation just over a week away final preparations are in full swing. As usual, Mr. Rosteluck has everything well in hand. Graduation will be held on September 18.

"I doubt by limiting your workload increase to 6% will contribute greatly to national restraint!"

Editorially

You have graduated ... now for the future

There is a time in everybody's life that one must come to grips with the world of reality, some perhaps earlier than others, and for different reasons.

But there is no more critical period than "Graduation." While most of this year's graduates from Central High School have already had to make a choice whether to continue their educational pursuits or "just find a job," events of this coming Saturday's graduation, in essence will find an end to a stage of each one's life.

True, the friendships with fellow students attained during the learning process, will in all probability continue through the years, however responsibilities of career and family take precedence.

Parents and teachers have done their utmost to direct the students along the "right track" and now it is up to the graduates to be masters of their own lives.

Education is not entirely restricted to the classroom and there are many outside influences which can affect a youngster's present and future, in spite of the guidance provided by home and school.

Many may have tried drugs and alcohol, but hopefully they have learned their lessons.

Participation in sports is advertised as a character-builder, both from a physical and mental standpoint, and with the high salaries paid these days, the athletically-talented might choose to go in this direction, but as with any other vocation, the road to the top isn't always an easy one.

We are sure that with guidance counselling, most graduates had made their choice of a career before leaving the halls of learning, and hopefully now are acclimatized to their new surroundings.

To those who are entering college, it is another stepping stone on the way to achieving their goals.

To those who have chosen to "remain on the farm," you are making an important contribution to province and country.

To those who have decided to make a family their career, your educational background and upbringing will provide this nation with the stability that is needed in these trying times.

Parents and the community have provided you with a beginning — it is up to you through ability, desire and perseverance to see that they are not disappointed.

Letters to the Editor

An open letter to the occupants of the County of Flanagan:

I may as well get up on the soapbox and say my piece, and since I take up a fair amount of room, and there are quite a few on it, I may have to pass a few on to demurring and yammering. I may have to pass a few on to demurring and yammering.

I have a great respect and admiration for the members of the County Council. They have a difficult job to do and they do it to the best of their ability, and don't underestimate their ability! They have to spend our money as thinly as possible over a large area of different operations. Our County is one of the best in Alberta. We have excellent roads and snow removal services, bus repair and school services and many others.

There are all cost money and if there isn't enough, some decision has to be made. No doubt after much soul-searching, and many late hour discussions, they knew they had to raise the taxes so they did what they had to do, no doubt quite aware of the repercussions.

There was really no alternative and many of our council members are farmers and ratepayers, so do you think they really had any other choice? They laboured long hours over this decision and there is no way they are going to rescind it. It would be a disgrace to their integrity.

There are still the same hardworking, honest people who elected to council and when the screws hit, you start screaming mismanagement, get off administration. Get off it! Do some constructive thinking and stop listening to a handful of self-interests.

How much did your gas rates go up? How much did your hydro go up? Because you didn't personally know the management of those utilities, you had a little growing and paid up!

So why don't you stand behind the people that you know are honest and hardworking and work with them, not against them? Some of the persons yelling the loudest have only (Continued on Page 3)

Letters to the Editor

September 10, 1982
To the Editor:

As a manager of a business, this is a letter I should not be writing but, as a citizen of Sedgewick, in the County of Flanagan, I cannot contain my feelings any longer.

The so-called taxpayers or taxpayers Protection Group is getting to be, for want of a better description, a pain-in-the-butt.

Taxes have been a sore spot with people since time immemorial. No one likes to pay taxes, so this so-called reform group has not stumbled onto a new problem, as they would have us believe.

Taxes are a way of life. It is very unfortunate that taxes had to be raised 80 percent in one year but, like the rest of Canada, we, as Canadians, including the taxpayers protection group have been taking out more than we have been putting in.

As a businessman, I can fully understand the problems faced by the farming businesses. The increasing costs and low returns are something all businesses are facing today. But the business of farming is not the same as other businesses.

Taxes and mismanagement are the platform this protection group has embarked on. To do this, I would like to see the following questions:

1. Does land in the County pay for approximately $600-$1000 per acre?

2. Does this not make a quarter section of productive land worth approximately $96,000-$160,000?

3. Do land taxes in this County (with the 80% increase) run from $300 - $600 per quarter section?

4. Could we then summarize these figures and say that you would pay approximately (give or take $100.00) $300 taxes on $96,000 worth of assets or $600 taxes on $160,000 worth of assets?

5. Are we to believe that this is an unfair assessment?

6. Do you or have you, to this point in time, paid taxes on your home?

7. Do you pay rates on your shop, barn or other buildings?

8. Were you able to "write-off" your taxes as an expense last year?

9. How much income tax did you pay to the Federal or Provincial Government last year to help pay for services they offer you?

10. Did you, as an individual, approach the councillor in your constituency with your concerns, or did you write or approach the council as a whole with your concerns, or mismanagement before this group was formed?

These questions have indicated to me that, often, vigilante - type groups are made up of well-meaning but not enough backbone to stand up by themselves. I feel that I stand up to my taxes. Do you? Do you confronting the County?

been in this County a short time and don't really know where it's at or what it's all about.

Most of it is about economy and our low dollar and no matter how low you yell, it's not going to improve overnight.

Granted, the County was in better financial shape in '79. So were a lot of big businesses and they've all failed.

Well, the County hasn't and it's up to you to see that it doesn't. The Council has to work for and with the public and make the whole, the public a fickle, domineering, thankless and quite often an erratic beast.

I stand completely and wholeheartedly behind our present Councilors. I really know how hard they work and the long hours they put in. I've been there.

So, as anyone starts screaming that I am not a taxpayer, let me assure you that I am. Only a small one, but I pay taxes on my car at the lake, don't get the services you do, only use a mile of road in the same time as you, and I've increased taxes because it's a damn good road!

Sincerely,
Belva Whitehead.

Report from Strome School

How quickly the routine of another school year has settled in. One might even use the old adage, "caring some books home at night."

Some can even be found in the detention room, having failed to meet the first work requirements or deadlines. Meanwhile in the first official football challenge game the Grade 9's defeated the Grade 9's 7-0. This year the Grade 9's are taking a Language Arts course. Mrs. Schmettler was chosen by Alberta Education to pilot a new series published by Glen.

The materials arrived this week with each student receiving a binder of materials. Mrs. Schmettler says the course integrates language arts with other subjects, very closely connecting language and literature, and the end of the course the school gets to keep these materials. As well, this past week saw campaigning for the Strome U.C.W. president. At the Friday students assembly, four candidates gave speeches.

Collette Daley challenged the students that with co-operation, they could have a successful year.

Roger Maert proposed raising money for school equipment. His slogan "Vote for me, I have an honest face."

The election was held Monday. Doug Munro, Principal.

Gilson Report

The Gilson report as a good starting point in addressing the issue of the Crownsfoot freight rate structure and emphasized that involvement of the participants and others, in further consultation is still required.

Yet, the Ministers stressed, Dr. Gilson's report offers the beginning of a solution which will enable the livestock and agricultural processing industries to realize more of their potential, and at the same time recognizes cost implications to the transportation industry.

Ministers Schmidt and Plonchou also identified a number of outstanding issues on which the federal government must act if Alberta farmers, ranchers and food processors are not to be penalized through a change in the Crow rate.

Strome News Bits

Mrs. Glenda Downey and Clyde Sprague of Edville spent a few days at the Clint Sprague home.

I hear Julian Scheeler has left our town and is living at the Pleasant Lodge in Sedgewick.

Kilham Indians

Accepted in Beaver Hill League

outing training camp about mid-October. Mr. Gibb says the plan is to have an "open camp" open to every hockey player in East Central Alberta.

"There are no residence restrictions," Gibb explained.

The Indians decide to use the Beaver Hill League as a "test" camp.

Although the season has not been to several BHL meetings, entry into the Alberta Major Intermediate League including teams from Stettler and Leduc "also had been researched."

"We found this league unstable, so the decision was made to make application to the Beaver Hill League," described by the club spokesman as "very stable."

He added that the league executive is "very progressive in their thinking."

As to the caliber of play, the Indians director said it is the feeling that the majority of the teams will be very highly competitive as there are many ex-pros and ex-juniors trending the line up.

As an example, Mr. Gibb said Mundare had entered the "A-B" side of Provincial Playoffs last spring. He said that Greg Carroll, coach of Mundare had played with Hartford Whalers in the NHL and is only young, 25.

Carroll had also played with Don Murdoch, another NHLer at Medicine Hat.

Mr. Gibb said plans are for the Indians to defend their Provincial Intermediate "C" title next spring.

It is thought that Indian games will be played mostly on Tuesday and Saturday nights.

The Indian official said that is the executive's intention to co-operate as much as possible with Kilham's new Junior "B" hockey entry, the Wheat Kings.

Should the Wheat Kings have been games on Friday and Sunday, then the Indians will attempt to schedule.

Invite seniors to take part in their week

A new attraction has been added to the fourth annual "Senior Citizens Week" at Kilham Agriplex on September 20, 21 and 22.

Coordinator June Gair suggests that the "Talent Show" on the last day "should prove to be an interesting addition to our schedule of events this year."

She invites seniors from throughout the area to actively participate in the entertainment, whether it be a song, a musical piece, a skill or even a recitation.

Throughout the three days of activities, there will be events such as square dancing in the water, bowling and darts, billiards and card games, topped off by the "Talent Show" in the evening and potluck luncheon on Friday, September 24.

I would like to mention again the importance of replacing old make-up as bacteria can grow in it as it ages, although the cosmetic industry does use chemicals to prevent bacteria as long as possible.

If you share your eye cosmetic, or use old cosmetics, you increase the likelihood of an infection as the tissue around the eye is thin and vulnerable to bacteria and allergic reactions.

So remember to keep your make-up fresh.

Nail polish, however, contains no ingredients that will affect your nails and it actually acts as a protector to guard against cracks, splits and breaks.

What can damage your nails is the use of nail polish removers. Polish remover can weaken nails by drying them out and shouldn't be used any more than once a week.

News from the Anglican Church

It seems that most of our Anglicans are out in the fields these days, and those who aren't are either at home with children or in the hospital with various complaints.

Get well wishes to Ned Butcher, Mrs. Harkness and Pat Zwick who are in Killam Hospital. We expected Pat home last week in time for the A.C.W. meeting. You'd better be mended by October, Pat.

Canon Conrad attended a very successful Anglican in Mission rally at Buffalo Coulee School, north of Wainwright on Saturday. A similar rally for the rural churches of our region will take place on Saturday, October 16th at St. John's Church, Sedgewick. Everyone who'd like to learn more about Anglicans in Mission, please plan to attend.

Diane MacIntyre reports that St. John's Sunday School is now getting organized for its fall program. There are plenty of children, but not enough teachers.

If you would like to teach or to assist or relieve other teachers, do get in touch with Diane or with Sheila Tanton.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Erickson of Edmonton visited at the Ray Rawcliffe home on the weekend.

Kevin Bissell who was a patient in Edmonton's University Hospital, has returned home. Mother Ardis spent much of her time with him when he was hospitalized.

The TOPS garage sale at the home of Thekla Tanton last Saturday was reported to be a great success. If only it were as easy to get rid of extra pounds as it was to get other people to buy their extra books, clothes and appliances, the TOPS members would be happy indeed.

A prayer service in memory of Mrs. Valda Stuckelton was conducted by Canon Conrad at Flagstaff Lodge on Friday evening. Valda will be greatly missed by family and friends, and sympathy is extended to the Stuckelton and Markward families.

Pre- and Post-confirmation classes for adults meet each Tuesday, alternating between Sedgewick and Hantley. The September 21 class is scheduled for St. Mark's Parish Hall, Hantley.

Lougheed Rebekah Lodge 'alive and well'

Ten members of Lougheed Rebekah Lodge met on Wednesday evening, September 8 for the first meeting of the season. Lodge opened in form with N.G. St. Thoma Derragh in the chair.

Although there were few in attendance, many items of business were dealt with. The summer accumulation of correspondence was considered.

It was noted that St.

Marion's husband had been in hospital. Get well soon.

This note is brief - just enough to let all concerned know that the lodge is 'alive and well' in Lougheed. You see the reporter is about to visit other parts of Canada, so kindly, St. Thoma took the notes with her. Suffice it to say that the birthday girls were serenaded and following that there was a delightful party lunch.

More Alberta Gas for More Canadians.

Joint Alberta/Canada funding creates new markets.

The Government of Canada has a program to create new markets for Alberta's natural gas. And it's funded jointly by the Government of Alberta, under the Canada/Alberta Energy Agreement.

The Distribution System Expansion Program, DSEP, provides grants to gas utilities east of Alberta, enabling them to extend gas service to areas that previously they could not serve profitably. Many of the new customers created by the extended service will be eligible for grants under the successful Canada Oil Substitution Program.

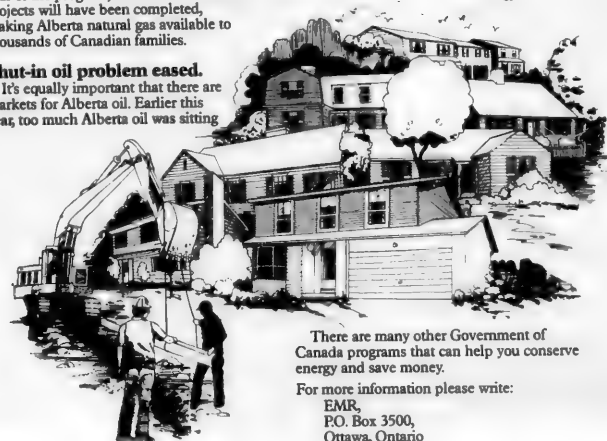

DSEP has been enthusiastically received by the utilities. By the end of 1982, the first year of the program, hundreds of extension projects will have been completed, making Alberta natural gas available to thousands of Canadian families.

Shut-in oil problem eased.

It's equally important that there are markets for Alberta oil. Earlier this year, too much Alberta oil was sitting in the ground because there were insufficient markets for it. This oil wasn't earning money for the people who discovered it, and they need that money to find new oil and help move Canada to self-sufficiency.

In April, the Government of Canada announced measures to ease this problem, and followed it up recently in the National Energy Program Update by facilitating the purchase of Alberta oil by refiners in Atlantic Canada. The problem has eased considerably, but the Government will continue to watch the situation closely and take additional steps if necessary.

There are many other Government of Canada programs that can help you conserve energy and save money.

Alliance Viewpoint

Styvia Wold
The forecasted front of last night (Sunday) was kind enough to ignore our area. Therefore I am now living in the midst of wall to wall tomatoes for no apparent reason.

We're holding some fast moving grain haulers around town these days. May I remind you the stopping time in these big trucks is not great and one can't predict when a child will suddenly be in front of you. All while we're speaking of time saving for the farmers, keep in mind it's a time consuming task to haul broken bones or torn limbs from carnal accidents.

My family spent the weekend in Drayton Valley at my nephew's wedding. Over Sunday morning breakfast the family was discussing the recent federal cabinet "shuffle" when my mother remarked that the main problem seemed to be that they'd left the job in. I rather thought that summed up the situation adequately.

It was suggested down at the Alliance Sundries one day that perhaps since Ann Cough has stopped raising the chickens perhaps she could once again start raising children instead. I'm told she didn't even give the question careful consideration before refusing.

Annie and Audin Brynland of Carmore, Urtich and Margaret Dinning of Burnaby, B.C., Gibson Herdman, and Don and Flo Gibson spent an enjoyable Sunday afternoon lunch with Marion Berbeck. Larver Winner of Strone visited Sunday with her mom, Grace McDermott and sister, Betty Rombough. Denny was interested in the football game when she left, so likely is still unaware that she was gone at all. I overheard that Vernon Johnston caught a hit in his own patch but even lowly about didn't stop her about. She still got away with two of them. I'd like to thank Bill Richardson for his two-birds stone. You can stop at my relief station any time Breda.

Next time you see Marg or Tom Spady, be sure to ask for a look at their latest family pictures. If you look closely enough, I'm sure you'll see them smiling through clenched teeth. It's an understandable grudge considering the events leading up to the exposures. The head of the household was not ready when the photographer arrived and was overheard to be protesting loudly. The horses were to be at the picture and took extensive preparation to ready them, however, one wasn't given sufficient time as nature's call didn't arrive, until he was situated, nicely on the front lawn. After smiling freely for ages it was discovered that the camera hadn't been working throughout the session at all, and horses and people required a long intermission until the camera was fixed. I'm told the didn't even give the question careful consideration before refusing.

Everyone around Alliance has become accustomed to the fact that the normal people of our community are few and far between, but yesterday the irrational acts extended to Castor's Castor fellow of the deed (Clarence Allen may never play bingo here again) and she likely would have seen Eddie and Jose Borth of Killam who were also there at the time, until she noticed Ken and Marie Geddes and Bill and Mary Bugers enjoying a peaceful supper on the balcony. I'm told the resulting confusion of the whole matter was a little much even had it happened in Alliance.

Bill and Marg Bugers insist they still want to feed all their customers, so the hotel has a free buffet this weekend. Marg tells me that the new owner, Ed Kuback, is from either Two Hills or Three Hills area, where ever it is, that they have the best furnished. Small wonder I never have any of my lunch.

Get well wishes go to Breda McCarthy in the Dayland Hospital. Hope you arm heals soon, Breda. Saturday night, Dorothy Friday had the Bagers and Smith McManan for supper guests, and entertained following with some game of "no peek poker". I think I'd rather not know how it's played. Apparently the men at the coffee shop are willing to go under new management only if one name takes away their special coffee label so Marg and Bill are leaving it behind with a special plaque fixed upon it. Lou Bateman spent a Saturday in Castor at an aerobics dance workshop, the aerobics will be one of the Adult Ed. courses offered in Alliance in October.

Teachers from Lady of Fatima at workshop

On Tuesday, August 31st, the teachers from Our Lady of Fatima School in Killam, travelled to Wainwright to join teachers from Catholic Schools in Vermilion, Wainwright, Provost and Vegreville in a one-day Workshop entitled "The Catholic School".

The Workshop was conducted by Fr. W. Kelly, Director of Religious Education, Lethbridge Catholic School District and Mr. Ralph Hinn, Superintendent of Schools, Lethbridge Catholic School District.

Both have been involved in the promotion of province-wide workshops on Catholic education over the past two years.

One of the purposes of the Workshop was to identify some of the distinctive features of Catholic Schools. The Workshop also provided insight in how to interpret the school in the light of the Gospels.

This was done by the presentation of theoretical concepts, followed by some practical applications for school and classroom. This was achieved by studying the Gospel message, especially as it relates to schools. A process of developing and maintaining a Catholic environment within the school was investigated and certain models presented.

Another purpose of the Workshop was to help participants to catch a vision and make it work in our schools and classrooms. The speakers transmitted their enthusiasm, optimism and sense of vision to the 100-plus participants.

The day ended with the Celebration of the Eucharist during which each teacher participated in an installation service where they reaffirmed their commitment as teachers in Catholic Schools.

Our new bank is to begin construction at the end of September, although I don't understand that bids have not yet been finalized. It has also been rumored that the town office which may be moved to the present B. of M. site when the new one is completed. I'm not sure the new bank will be in a safe place, so near the old site of John Zuchowich. I'm told he blew the window out of his house last week. Is your Aunt Tom's house in your Aunt Tom's house?

Many happy returns, Tracy. Congratulations to Craig Spaw, Craig recently won first in the calf roping at the Bentley high school rodeo, for which he received a lovely belt buckle and took third at the Rocky Mountain House calf roping for a trophy. You may tell people you go to Castor school, Craig, but be sure to tell them you're really from Alliance so you can put us on the map. We're very proud of you. Keep up the great work.

Gretna Goodwill Club make anniversary plans

Five members of Gretna Goodwill Club and two visitors met at the home of Helen Sutherland on September 8. Minutes of the last meeting were read, and the treasury report given and all duly approved.

A discussion followed regarding a date for celebrating the club's 68th anniversary. A tentative date was finally agreed on, which is July 17th, 1983. Hopefully, there will be more members at the next meeting and this date can be confirmed or changed, if deemed necessary.

The subject of souvenir spoons, etc. was brought up next. Mary Albrecth volunteered to get in touch with Joyce Harrison, Hardisty, and get information as to where the Battle River Tourist Association purchased its spoons and lapel buttons, and the cost of same.

Mary Rombough read an interesting and humorous poem, entitled "The Out House." This brought back memories of days gone by.

Roll call brought forth some oddities in vegetables such as a quintuplet carrot, crabapple tree blossom, yam, the shape of a bird and Siamese twin tomatoes. Esther Cameron had the latter three items from her garden.

The next meeting will be at Mary Albrecth's on October 13, with Melba Cameron as co-hostess. Roll call is "Visit a Senior Citizen or a Shed" and report on same at next meeting.

Helen Sutherland conducted the meeting.

Formerly of Hardisty Dean Rombough is wed

A wedding of local interest took place on September 4, 1982 in Grosvenor Park United Church, Saskatoon, Saskatchewan.

Reverend Bill united in marriage Dean Rombough and Heather Nichole.

Dean is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Len Rombough of Edmonton; was born in Hardisty and started school here.

Heather is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Nichole of Delta, Sask.

Dean is in the Canadian Armed Forces and presently posted in Germany. Heather and Dean are leaving Canada on September 13, to resume his posting.

Heather is taking the opportunity to further her education and is already enrolled through the Canadian Embassy.

A beautiful reception was served at "The Goshawk" Delta, Sask. Much good food, fun and fellowship was enjoyed by all.

Among the friends and relatives who attended were Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Rombough, Mr. and Mrs. David Rombough, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Sparrow, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Barton (Carmore), Dean's grandparents, and Mrs. Florence Haltham, Dean's great aunt.

Talk to someone close to you

Over the years we've been growing throughout Alberta and we've been growing with Alberta. And that means you'll not only find a Treasury Branch agency close to you, but you'll find the kind of friendly, personal attention and the wide range of financial services that keeps you growing.

And when you think about it, that's a pretty good reason to come in and talk to us. We're Treasury Branches. We're close to you.

Marvon and Fred Drager wed 50 years

Marvon and Fred Drager of Hardisty celebrated 50 years of marriage on August 28, 1982, and were honoured by their children at a family dinner party held at the home of Freda and Darrell Hremski.

Marvon Frank Stagg and Frederick Matthew Drager said their marriage vows at the Blue Moon Cottage in Sylvestre Lake on August 28, 1932 and have farmed in the Hardisty area since that time.

To celebrate their golden anniversary, Fred and Marvon were driven through the streets of Hardisty in an old-fashioned dromedary, generously loaned for the occasion by Ken Alderick, pulled by Fred's team of matching black horses.

The grandchildren had decorated the dromedary with streamers and a sign which read "Just Married - 50 Years Ago" and accompanied their grandparents on the ride.

The head table was centred by a 3-tiered wedding cake decorated in mauve and white. Several beautiful floral arrangements received from well wishing family members and friends, also adorned the table.

Marvon wore an orchid corsage and Fred wore a white boutonniere.

Seated at the head table with Marvon and Fred were Paul and Jeanette Drager. Paul was the best man at the wedding 50 years ago and he gave a toast to the anniversary couple.

A delicious turkey supper was enjoyed by all.

Present for the occasion were children, Barb and Susan of Edmonton, Betty and Don of Wainwright, Georgina and Mack of Edmonton, Freda and Darrell of Hardisty, Joan of Hardisty, and grandchildren Trust and Marlene, Fred and Carol, Rick, Tina, Stacy and Scott, Billie and Jim all of Edmonton, Beverly of Calgary, Patricia of Wainwright, Leslie, Nicki, Curtis and Kent all of Hardisty, also great grandchildren, Ryan and Natalie of Edmonton.

Other family members attending were Fred's brother, Paul and wife Jeanette and at Potlatchville and husband, Vic of Oida, sister Bertha and husband Rudy of Edmonton, and sisters, Elsie and Mabel also from Edmonton.

Most furnaces send wasted heat up the chimney.

The Lennox Pulse furnace heats your home with it.

With fuel costs rising as they are, you simply can't afford to let usable heat go up the flue. If your present furnace is over 5 years old, it's probably in the range of 55-80% efficient.

The new Lennox Pulse furnace operates on a principle of pulse combustion - the most significant breakthrough in heating technology in 40 years. It's built to squeeze out every available atom of heat, providing unprecedented heating efficiency of 96-98%.

This kind of efficiency means that the Pulse will pay for itself in 30 months and you'll go right on saving, month after month, year after year.

Incidentally, the Pulse doesn't even need a chimney, only a 2" plastic pipe. We're so sure of the Pulse that you get a 30 year warranty on the heat exchanger.

Stephen Pottage homesteaded in Merna District

Mr. Stephen Pottage passed away in the Killam Auxiliary Hospital on August 24, 1982, at the age of 94 years and 3 months.

Stephen Pottage was born in Kettleby, Ontario, on September 19, 1887, to Gordon and Letitia Pottage. His early years were spent there and at Potlatchville and Sedgewick; two daughters, Edith Lillian of Sedgewick and Edna Reid of High Level, 14 grandchildren, 16 great-grandchildren, numerous nieces and nephews, and a host of friends.

In 1942, at the age of 57, he came west with his father and fled on a homestead in the Merna district. They returned to Ontario, and the following spring came back with the rest of the family.

Steve was united in marriage to Beattie Fern Cox on January 15, 1938, at Burnaby, B.C. They resided there for a year, before returning to their farm in the Merna district. To this union, two sons and two daughters were born.

They remained on the farm until 1954, when they moved to Slave Lake for one year and to Killam for nine years, where Beattie taught school. They then took up residence in Sedgewick, and Steve remained there until February 1982, when due to his failing health, he moved to the Killam Auxiliary Hospital. He was predeceased by his wife, Beattie; his parents, Gordon and Letitia, one sister, Edith; two brothers, Frank and Harry; and three grandchildren, Timothy, Carmen and Clinton Pottage.

Steve was a conscientious farmer, whose door was always open to ever and one, and was a firm believer in living in tune with nature.

All his life, he kept an active interest in politics and world affairs. His gentle, kindly manner, and sympathetic understanding gave him many opportunities to help his family and friends.

He was gifted with the ability to always see the good in people and overlook their faults. He was a very wise and understanding father and grandfather.

Reading, playing cards, and visiting, gave him many hours of pleasure and enjoyment. He was the first one to

We had an enjoyable visit and tea with Mrs. Mary Johnson of Loughheed South on Sunday afternoon.

She has lately returned from a visit to Norway and Sweden, where she had the unique experience of observing the midnight sun.

She brought back souvenirs from eighteen different places which she had visited, some of the most beautiful pieces of crystalware.

The entertainer was with a lively description of her trip.

Editor's Note: A.B.F. in real life is Sedgewick's inimitable Arthur Paul.

Thirty friends met at the Loughheed Welcome Centre on September 13th for a public house to welcome Mr. and Mrs. Thy Evans of Montezuma, Washington, Mr. and Mrs. George Shorb, of Belton, Texas and Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Meyer of Portland, Oregon. Mrs. Evans was the former Beth Arland and her sister, Helen is Mrs. Meyers. The evening was spent in reminiscing, also some "hot" pool games were enjoyed. Mrs. Evans and Mrs. Meyers went to school at Melburn. Guests were present from Loughheed, Irma Sedgewick and Camrose.

HERITAGE FUND INTEREST PROGRAM

ALBERTA MORTGAGE INTEREST REDUCTION PROGRAM

To help relieve the financial strain on Albertans facing high mortgage interest rates, the Alberta Government is offering a mortgage interest reduction program.

You are eligible for this program if

- you are a resident of Alberta
- you are already a homeowner or are purchasing a home
- the home is or will be your principal residence in Alberta
- you have an existing mortgage on your home

MORTGAGE AMOUNTS OF UP TO $90,000 PER HOME ARE ELIGIBLE

Something You Can Count On

The program will benefit homeowners with existing mortgages at interest rates above 12 1/2 per cent, as well as homeowners who are renewing their mortgages and homeowners who are putting a mortgage on the home they are purchasing.

Mortgage interest rates for existing mortgages below 19 1/2 per cent will be reduced from the actual rate to 12 1/2 per cent based on the remaining amortization period. Interest rates above 19 1/2 per cent will be treated as if they were 19 1/2 per cent. For new mortgages and mortgages renewed on or after September 1, 1982, most interest rates will also be reduced from the actual rate to 12 1/2 per cent.

You will actually receive a rebate from the Alberta Government for the difference in payments between the two mortgage interest rates. Monthly payments for eligible applicants will start in October, 1982 and conclude in September 1984.

Retroactive Benefits

Your rebate can be retroactive provided you apply before August 31, 1984. There may be a rush in the first few days and you may wish to apply at a later date. You will still receive all the benefits to which you are entitled.

Starting September 27

September 27 is the date you can pick up application forms and brochures from financial institutions and lenders. Visit your financial institution on or after that date for full details of the program.

You may also write to the Mortgage Assistance Branch of Alberta Housing and Public Works, P.O. Box 4020, Edmonton, Alberta T0E 4S8 or call 425-0400 if you live in Edmonton or 1-800-442-3882 (toll free) if you live in Calgary or 1-800-442-3822 (toll free) if you live elsewhere in the province.

Hardisty marriage unites Allen-Almberg families

Relatives and friends shared in the joy of the marriage uniting Jackie Lynn, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Allen of Hardisty, to Craig Irving, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Almberg of Carr, at St. Joseph's Catholic Church in Hardisty.

Rev. Ann Gowan Blynn officiated at the beautiful double ring ceremony.

The bride was escorted to the altar by both her parents as the organist, Gail Kubitich, played traditional wedding music. After exchanging vows, the bride couple lit a unity candle.

During the signing of the register, Jim Fossum, uncle of the bride, accompanied her to the altar, sang "Love Me Tender," after which Jackie and Craig presented their mothers with a long-stemmed red rose.

The bride was beautiful in a floor-length gown of chiffon, featuring lace standup collar, lace long sleeves, neckline decorated with lace flowers and seed pearls, long curled sleeves, empire waist, long train, and flowing train. Her floor-length veil was held in place by a bridal handmaid headpiece with lace flowers and seed pearls and two shoulder length layers of tulle.

The bride's bouquet was made up of red silk roses and lily-of-the-valley with the same flowers on cascade with white ribbons.

The bride's jewelry consisted of a pearl drop, worn by her mother on her wedding day, and a diamond on a white gold chain, a gift of the groom.

Friends attending the bride were as maid of honor, Jackie Collins, bridesmaids, Deanna Wilson, Sandra Shawley and Sandra Allen, sister of the bride. They were attractive in their floor-length gowns of yellow polyester interlock, featuring a deep plunge of elegant lace at the neckline with whispering petals falling from a ribboned waist. They carried white lace fans decorated with yellow carnations and were the popular bride girls in yellow.

Acting as flower girl was Stacy Hoff, cousin of the groom, who wore a short white dress, fashioned similarly to the bride's gown and carried a miniature of the bride's bouquet.

The groom was handsome in a light beige tuxedo with darker trim and a red rose boutonniere.

His attendants as best man, Terry Todd, and grooms men, Keith Alkober, Gordon's brother, Bob Dickson, and Owen Almberg, groom's brother. They were attired in light beige tuxedos with contrasting pants and boutonnieres of two yellow carnations.

The ring bearer, Cameron Worthing, bride's cousin, wore a light brown suit with a red rose boutonniere. He carried the rings on a white pillow which was made by the groom's grandmother, Hilda Haff.

Central High 1982
graduates are honoured

In order to continue in life, you must change," was the advice given to Central High School graduates during exercises held at the school on Saturday evening, by Calvin McClements, guest speaker.

Mr. McClements, a central grad and now pilot of a 737 for Canadian Pacific Airlines, told grads that education is their cornerstone and it won't run away, but he said that to continue in life, they must change their direction.

Speaking on the theme of the evening, "Who Are You Now?" he said the grads are society's future leaders.

Mr. McClements admitted that in these hard economic times, a Catch 22 situation exists in many sections of the workplace, stating that many prospective employers want applicants to have experience, but in order to do so, one must have a job to get the experience.

Showing grads the other side of the coin, Mr. McClements said there is an unfairness in society, pointing out that the two-year application form of 11 years ago contained many questions which were discriminatory.

He suggested that applicants be determined, until somebody gives them a break and exhibit confidence in the interview, a quality he referred to as "most important."

Four qualities an applicant should possess if he or she is to be successful are determination, confidence, patience and personality, commented the valedictorian.

He said the grads should have a desire to achieve an education in order to reach new goals.

"Maybe it's a little too early to tell," he said, looking ahead at the future, and the possibility of success.

"I wanted to fly airplanes and I was determined to do it," Mr. McClements said of his own career.

He suggested that when the "going gets tough," the tough gets going. Be proud and take it with a smile."

Principal Manfred Jensen, in opening remarks, told the grads they are embarking on new and challenging paths and praising the grads for their academic achievements, noting that many had met the required 100 credits.

"It's a whole different ballgame. I wish them the best in their future endeavors," concluded Principal Jensen.

Valedictorian Michael Badry told the grads "it is not how long we have been together, but how much formal education but become an extensive reader, and had won many awards for his editorial.

Start made on Hardisty Hospital

Construction has started on the new 23-bed Hardisty Hospital which has been the subject of several submissions. Approval from the ministry has been given, and the hospital was also required.

An official sod-turning ceremony is planned for early October.

A completion date of January, 1984 has been set and it is anticipated that the new hospital will be completed several months earlier if a sufficient head start is made this fall with concrete work.

It is expected that many area tradesmen and labourers will be hired, providing a boost to the area's economy.

These are the latest 'hot' news reports on the pace of the building system, would be installed and we will not have the heat off in September for this year."

Based on this statement and the experience of no heat for a couple of chilly weeks in September of 1981, predictions were made as to the possibility of the replacement of the boiler.

Based on the point of departure and Edmonton. Both truck and boiler have disappeared, nobody knows whereabouts.

Be sure to be with us next week for more exciting action on "When the Boiler Burns?"

A carburetor and air cleaner, also stolen, were part of the lost from the farm near Lougheed on the weekend, however, another vehicle was left in its stead.

A spokesman at Killam RCMP Detachment said the "replacement" vehicle was not from this area, and it is presumed to have been stolen.

A slip took taken from the back of a truck near Strome, was found, with the abandoned vehicle.

RCMP officers also investigated several minor accidents.

During a break-out at Strome School, a window was broken, however, a preliminary check indicated that nothing had been stolen.

Calvin McClements, guest speaker at Central High School's Graduation Exercises on Saturday evening imparts words of advice to the 67 grads in attendance, including Cindy (Hardisty) Quillen, Kathy Coenen, Jackie (Allan) Alabing, Deanna Wilson and Lori Moore.

The Sedgewick School Fair sports which had to be postponed on account of poor weather were completed on Friday, September 18th. Donald Butt was the leader with 21 points, followed by J. Smith with 19 and Hazel Hoffman with 16. C.P. Blaney of Sedgewick, leading local 14, was the first to report that capture of a wild goose, which he brought down at Goose Lake last Saturday. Several other hunters have succeeded in almost tripling several of them to death.

Threshing is about 60 per cent finished in this district. The yield is below normal and will not be over 16 or 17 bushels per acre. The quality is above average. Winds in this district seem to become chronic. Wednesday and Saturday, we had very strong wind and dust storms and Saturday evening ended with a cold rain which will delay threshing for a few days.

The blating close range battle between the Asiniboite and a German U-Boat, which took place recently, had an added touch of local color. When it became known that OS Tommy Graham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Graham, school at Sedgewick, was aboard ship and took part in the battle from start to finish.

A party was held in the H. Walmsley cottage at Thursday Lake on Thursday night, was attended by twelve local people. Guests of honor were Miss Nelda Walmsley, Sgt. Clint Pedler and Vic McEldine, who are leaving shortly for their respective training at Edmonton and Halifax.

At Bay's Cash Store in Sedgewick, the first fall sale was $129 per dozen, largest size. The first sale was $129 per pair; ladies' hosiery offered here was only $1.15.

W.J. Townsend of Sedgewick was selling his 1961 two-toned Mercury Sports Sedan. Overdrive and air conditioner. Price was $17,990, cash only. No trade.

Lauree married Charles Price, a U.S.A. air force p.f.c. When the war ended with Ed Edmonds and settled in California, they have a son, Robert, still single, who lives in one of his mother's houses.

Jack, my son, married Joan Key; they have three children, Loralee, John, Jr. and Pamela. Loralee is married and has a son, Erick. John married Cindy Weatherly. They have a son, Jeremy. He joined the U.S. Air Force after graduating from high school. He, with his wife, is stationed in Berlin, Germany.

They are returning to the United States in August of 1983. He had signed up for an extra year.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Sir: I want to compliment you, who work at The Community Press for the lovely papers you run. The Community Press and The Enterprise, and for sending me two in the Flagstaff Lodge.

You cover a large territory in your papers. On behalf of all of us then, a hearty vote of thanks to you all.

Letters to the Editor

Lawrence, California To the Editor: I am an Oklaider in the Sedgewick area, now living in Sedgewick. I married a Sedgewick girl, Mary Bell. We raised a son and daughter, Laurie and Jack. Laurie was born at Sedgewick while we lived on the Bill Haynes farm, north of Sedgewick. We moved to Edmonton where son Jack was born.

While we aren't blessed with the autumn scenes that other parts of Canada have at their front doorstep, there is a beauty to behold locally also.

We remember the autumn scenes captured on canvas by artists. There are beautiful sunsets to appreciate as well as the leaves of many colours.

It is officially the end of Summer but hopefully "Indian Summer" will take its place.

held in the Empire theatre. It was also planned to put a new roof on the arena with battlement roofing as far as the west has progressed. It is expected that, the final cost which will be of aluminum, will be applied soon.

Clayton, a Loughheed school boy, showed into an equine last Friday night. The radiator was badly dented and the horse was too, but both were able to proceed under own power.

Favorable weather has prevailed during the last few days and swathing has gone ahead rapidly, being well advanced throughout the area, and completed at some stations. Very little combining has been done so far, but the grain is getting into and combining is expected to become general this week.

The first meeting of the fall and winter season of the Sedgewick District Board of Trade was held on September 18th in the Anglican Hall. It was reported that the approach road from the highway is to be paved this fall at the same time as the street paving is done.

At Oldland Steel Metal in Killam "Ruth Drop" Water Softeners were only $110.00.

At Killam Electric, 180 Ang. Lincoln Walkers were on sale for a low $129.25.

10 Years Ago Mrs. Lois Braunen won the seat on the Town Council by acclamation. The seat was left open after the retirement of John Tunney. This is the first time a woman has been on the council in Glendon and we wish her very well.

Seems like old man winter is being awful hard to make us think that winter is on its way. We have had snow, rain, sleet and a little sunshine this past week. Let us not give up as we will likely get that rain Sun-Tor or at least better with all this harvesting to do.

The winners of the trophies for the Sedgewick Opikshana Club for 1972 were as follows: 10 and under, Matt Hosen, 11 to 14 years, Elaine Stevens; Ladies was Penny McBride; Adults was Christine and Wenden and the highest trophy was won by Elaine Stevens.

At a meeting of the Killam Board of Trade, the Legion and the Warden and the highest trophy was won by Elaine Stevens.

Killam Agriplex

As mid-September approaches, the thoughts of getting your fall and winter activities lined up and being a high priority.

Registration for the fall sessions of classes is being held at a different time this year. The three days for registration are Wednesday, September 15, Thursday, September 16, and Friday, September 17. No phone registrations are being accepted this year.

This is to insure that the classes fill up and thus less problems when the lessons begin.

A piano course, designed especially for adults is also on the agenda late fall. The instructor for this special class is Ruth Potter from Loughheed and it will hopefully, on Tuesday, September 21. For more information, please call June at the swimming pool.

Notes from Lougheed

Molly Ferryhough, Darlene Peters and Molly Ferryhough were visiting Mrs. Mary Laro in the Senior Citizens' home at Ryley on Thursday. Mary lived here before moving to Ryley.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Clouston's relatives, Mr. and Mrs. A. and Morad from Chetah, Wash., U.S.A. visited them recently.

The winners of September 15 Lougheed Agricultural Society draw were: Ross Gibson, Hardisty, $200 and Gary Simpson, Sedgewick, $200.

Debbie Richardson, of Whitehorse spent a week with her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Cookson before starting another year at the University in Edmonton.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Don Sotherton on the arrival of a baby girl born on September 14, 1982. Nicole Elizabeth arrived at the Camrose Hospital weighing 8 lbs. 14 ounces.

Mr. C. Gaudreux has had his daughter Mrs. Anika Martin of Red Deer visiting.

him this past week. Anika also visited with Ellen Anderson and her family.

Mrs. Pauline Wilson and daughters of Camrose were visiting Pauline's parents, the Ernie Wylie's last weekend.

Gordon and Dolores Coates were at the Jubilee Auditorium on Wednesday evening to see a New Zealand presentation. The off-shore island native singing and dancing was very good. This was done by a family from Rotorua.

A number of friends gathered at Mrs. Margaret Denham's home last Friday, September 17th in the afternoon to help Margaret celebrate her birthday. A delicious lunch was served by the ladies. A birthday cake with candles, too. Margaret thanked everyone for coming. It made the day for her.

What does community development mean?

Last year, it meant building a new wharf for Point au Gaul, Newfoundland. Renovating an education centre in High Level, Alberta. And improving a salmon fishery in the Skeena region of British Columbia.

This year it means jobs for over 48,000 Canadians.

The federal government's Canada Community Development Projects (CCDP) will provide $270 million to hire local workers for projects that improve the communities in which they live. Young people, men and women and disabled Canadians will be building their work skills and experience, while building their communities. If you have an idea that will enhance the economic or social life of your community and employ three or more local people full-time, visit your local Canada Employment Centre. Applications and program information are available for sponsor organizations, local corporations and cooperatives who've got the experience to organize and coordinate community-based employment programs like CCDP. Job creation is a vital component of the federal government's six and five economic recovery plan.

Tell us what you think community development can mean to your community, and all the people who live and work there. Applications must be received by September 30, 1982.

Sedgewick Guides, Brownies organize

An organizational meeting and registration of the Sedgewick Guides and Girl Guides was held at the Anglican Church Hall on September 13. Registered were 15 Brownies and four Guides.

Seven of the Brownies are new, while four are nearly ready to receive their wings and "Fly up" to Guides.

The executive of this year's parent's group consists of President, Janet Hale; Secretary, June MacGregor; Treasurer, Barb McArthur; and Badge Secretary, Shirley Kobas.

This year's Brownie leaders are: Gay Bachman, Linda Barclay and Pat McArthur, while the Guides leaders are: Jan Fosse and Marilyn Maert.

The girls are all looking forward to a District rally to be held on Saturday, September 25, with the Brownies going to Killam and the Guides going to Strone.

A Sedgewick dog owner was to appear in Provincial Court at Killam on Tuesday (yesterday) after a neighbour's child was twice bitten by a dog.

A charge was laid against Clifford Thompson after Jill Andersen, age 3, was attacked by the dog, suffering eye damage on the first occasion and being bitten on an ear at another time.

The charge was laid under the Dangerous Dogs Act, a provincial statute. One of the options open to the presiding judge, is that the dog could be ordered destroyed.

Anglican Church News

A warm welcome back to our interning theology student, Mr. Paul Neville, who arrived last week to take up residence for the next three months in Sedgewick. In the week to take up his residence he has given him lots of challenging learning experiences while he is with us.

Mr. Ted Lister of Sedgewick made a trip to Vancouver to visit his son.

Kevin Ribault has come home from hospital, and is now recuperating from his accident.

Eugene Blyk also spent a day or two in hospital, and Ned Butcher is a patient in Killam.

Congratulations to Rosemary Bargeon and Ron

Weeks, who were married at St. John's Church, Sedgewick on September 18th. Congratulations as well to all those eager young people who were honoured Saturday evening at the Graduation Exercises for Sedgewick Central High School.

Recently baptised at St. John's was Adam Frederick Watkins, young son of Fred and Penny Watkins of Sedgewick.

Betty Walsh
Mr. and Mrs. Bert Whittem took Herbie to Killam Hospital on Tuesday evening, and on Wednesday on to the University Hospital in Edmonton. Herbie is suffering from a collapsed right lung, but is showing improvement from the treatment he is receiving. I'm sure we all wish Herbie a speedy recovery. On Friday a carload of young people, Billy Keith, Kelly Whitten, Ken, Susan and Micky Harris with Cheryl Seaman from Loughheed, were all to Edmonton to visit Herbie. On Saturday, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Barker and Mrs. Whitten visited him.

At the Bert Whittem home for the weekend to attend the Coop Golf Tournament were Mr. and Mrs. Ed Acher and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Palmer (nee Donna Whitten) and Jackie, all of Rimbey.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Don Sneath (nee Karen Djos) on the birth of a 9 pound 13 ounce daughter. Nicole Elizabeth was born at Camrose on Tuesday September 14th. We hear that big brother Curtis is delighted with his baby sister. Proud grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Andy Sneath and Mrs. Dora Sneath, both of Loughheed and Mr. and Mrs. Nina Djos now have a great-granddaughter.

Miss Carol Farquharson is home after spending ten days in Gladstone, Manitoba visiting with her niece, Beth and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ramsey and their children. She left her car at the Dickson Valley and drove down to the way home she picked up Mrs. Emma Bortelme and brought her to attend the Graduation Ceremony.

monies where their niece, Laura Farquharson was one of the graduates. Monday they went to Gellishon to visit Erma's daughter and Carol's niece, Sandy Bottineau.

Happy to see Mrs. Martha McBride was home for the weekend from the Loughheed hospital where she has already spent a month. Martha has to see a specialist in Edmonton on Wednesday and expects to be hospitalized and undergo surgery there a little later on. Sure hope you're on the mend, Martha.

Billy Keith left for Calgary on Monday where he will attend S.A.I.T. taking in your Graphic Arts Administration.

Just heard that congratulations are due to Mr. George Lepard who was the big winner at the Coop Golf Tournament held here on Sunday.

Seven tables of players enjoyed the Card Party at the Senior Citizens Drop In Centre on Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Peter Lindholm and Mr. Henry Jansson were tied for the highest score with Mr. Peter Lindholm winning on a cut of the cards. Mrs. Ruth Eriksson won the other highest score prize. Mrs. Herta Howarth and Mr. Charlie Lane received consolation awards. At the Norwegian Whist on Friday evening there were five tables of players. Mrs. Esther Puske and Mrs. Gunda Storkhagen were tied for highest score with Gunda winning the cut of the cards. Mr. Bill Puske was the other high score winner. Awarded consolation prizes were Mrs. Mary McCracken and Mr. Ed Sarnau. It was decided to visit and have some "Snickers" games at the Drop In Centre. Anyone interested is asked to get in touch with Mrs. Leone Roggenbach.

Flagstaff Taxpayers pay 78% of current levy

Attempts by a Flagstaff taxpayer group to have taxpayers withhold due to a 62 percent increase in the 1982 levy, have apparently ended in failure. Statistics released by the County treasury office on September 22nd, 78 percent of current year's taxes have been paid.

The 1982 levy amounted to $5,924,363.73 and collections amounted to $3,945,581.13.

Arrears as of December 31, 1981 were $215,466.13 and as of August 28th, arrears in the sum of $139,097.92 had been paid.

At an August 18th meeting in Sedgewick Community Hall with 400 taxpayers in attendance, two resolutions were passed.

The full membership of County Council was in attendance.

The taxpayers committee asked that the 62 percent tax increase be reduced to 10 percent and that the tax increase in any year be limited to 5 percent. Should more

Sedgewick's new water system in operation

After more than one year in the preparation stage, Sedgewick's new water system, has been completed, and is available to anyone who wishes to have the service.

Waterlines and fire hydrants were installed by St. Lawrence Construction Ltd. and a new pump house and wells were built and drilled by Green Construction Co.

Total cost of the projects including road restoration was $1,223,000 with $1,415,950 provided by the Provincial Government under a program to provide communities with quality water and sewer systems.

Mayor Ernie Koehli was the first to hook up to the new system, and that council decided to proceed with the program for purposes of fire protection.

The previous water storage facility for fire fighting purposes was a wooden tank used at one time by the CP Railway for supplying water to trains.

In recent times it had sprung a leak and the storage capacity was reduced from 60,000 gallons to 30,000 gallons.

In contrast, the reserve capacity at the new pump house is presently 450,000 gallons, which could be increased to 500,000 gallons if required.

The new water system, could support a population of 2,500. Sedgewick's present population is about 850.

The pumping station is Killam Wheat Kings come from wide area

Providing ice is available at the Killam Agriplex, the new Killam Junior B Wheat Kings hockey club expect to hold two workouts the evenings of Friday, October 8th.

Registration of players is scheduled to take place from 4 p.m. to 6 p.m., prior to practice times.

Indications are that players trying out for the roster will be coming from Camrose, Weyburn, Viking and throughout Flagstaff County, including Hardisty.

Aspirants are also expected to attend from such other centres as Canora, Coronation, Armark and Huphens, making the Wheat Kings "truly an area team" as organizers have envisioned.

Russell Grant, president of the Wheat Kings, has announced the appointment of Lorne Holte, from the Armark area, as the team's playing coach.

Holte has had two years' experience with the Junior "A" Drumbeater Miners.

Ken Grant has been named as the team's manager.

Providing the westernham co-operatives, Hardisty's skyline will change with construction of the new hospital. Last Friday, an excavation firm was starting work on the project. The present hospital can be noted in the centre background.

Dome got into this mess . . .

A "burning" question in the business community these days is the fate that my befuddled Dome Petroleum or its survival.

Several experts including Alberta's Energy Minister Merv Leitch have indicated that a "bail out" of Dome would mean increased activity in the Alberta oil patch, but can the country afford it?

Certainly four of Canada's major banking institutions have already gotten egg on their faces that they should be "beet red."

With all their expertise and "insight into the future," one would wonder how such financial giants could reach the point of teetering on the brink of disaster.

Financiers in England haven't got many nice things to say about the Canadian financial structure. Certainly they have a good point.

How much august banking people could be caught up in such a large transaction boggles the mind—it's a situation similar to putting all your eggs in one basket, as the saying goes.

But thinking back four years or so, there was such a feeling of optimism sweeping the country as reports were frequently being issued about the vast petroleum reserves that Canada apparently has admittedly, many in far-off regions of the Mackenzie Delta, or in the Arctic.

But four years ago and many years before, the foreign OPEC oil cartel was putting the squeeze on the Western World and we were forced to pay inflated prices for imported oil.

Then the bottom fell out of our economy, and the United States began to experience a similar recession. The demand for oil decreased as a result and before long there was an oil glut.

Financially-strapped Mexico recently exchanged one billion dollars worth of oil for a like amount of cash from the United States into its foreign reserves.

The debt owed by Dome Petroleum is near the eight billion mark, and Canada itself is experiencing a twenty billion deficit this year.

It appears to us that the federal government is in no position to sink taxpayers' money into the Dome operation.

It has been suggested that the federal government "up" the price of gasoline to assist Dome.

Granted if Dome collapsed, its demise would be a blow to the National Energy Program, and the participating banks would be sent reeling.

But long-established banks have the capability to pull themselves up by the bootstraps, and while a Dome collapse would considerably lessen already-low investor confidence in Canada, the federal government cannot continue to rescue "lame-duck" operations while it is itself trying to restrain spending through the six-and-five program.

Letters to the Editor

Sedgewick, Sept. 28

Dear Editor:
The Voyager Petroleum Company intends to install a "sour" gas plant at SW 1/4, S45-13-W4.

In order for them to do this they must have signatures of all people living within a mile radius. The problem is that if the plant had trouble, people could be affected for miles away. (Remember the incident in the Caribou area.) Because we will not sign, they are forced to have a public hearing.

To far there has been no publicity. We are aware of some of the possible dangers involved and many people should be interested in a public hearing.

With the plant and the pipeline that feeds the plant, there should be other people involved. Mr. and Mrs. Larry Bricker.

Elevator operator receives award

On Friday, September 17, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Schuster of Killam attended a dinner in Winnipeg at which Mr. Schuster was presented with a gold watch in recognition of 25 years loyal service with the Pioneer Grain Company, Limited.

The presentation was made by Mr. George T. Richardson, president of James Richardson and Sons, Limited and Chairman of the board of directors of the Pioneer Grain Company, Limited.

While in Winnipeg, Mr. and Mrs. Schuster were also entertained on a river boat cruise and will, within other 25 year recipients and head office personnel, and at the company barbecue.

A native of Heiler, Mr. Schuster has served as elevator manager at Bulwer, Thorsby and Killam, in his 25 year career with The Pioneer.

Strome had its excitement on Monday morning when it was found that burglars had entered the store of W.T. Plagus and Hamilton and Watson some time during the previous night. W.T. Plagus's safe was blown open and about $200 in cash and cheques were taken. The safe was entirely destroyed. All the money in the till of Hamilton's store was taken. The safe was not locked. The burglars have not been caught as yet.

Crops in this area have been slow in drying and curing due to second growth being heavy rains late in July. About 90 percent of the crops have been cut. The second growth has combined with some grain being wet and damp. The past two weeks have been ideal for harvesting weather and crops are now being quickly gathered in.

The Director of the Hospitals Division of the Alberta Department of Public Health, announced that construction of a 30 bed acute treatment hospital will soon be started in Killam. Also, a 50 bed auxiliary hospital will be built joining the hospital. These two units will become known as the Killam Hospital Complex.

The Village of Killam round investigated the possibility of service to the community with a common water supply. They found a well situated south and west of the old grandstand site. The safe yield from this well, based on 30 years of continuous pumping, may be 80 imperial gallons per minute. The well will be 300 feet deep. There is ample water available for Killam.

Betty: Do you know you're wearing your watch ring on the wrong finger?
Ethel: Yes, I married the wrong man.

"Last time I called on you, your husband was working for the Government. What's he doing now?"
"He's still there."
"George," he smiled that hole in your pocket."
"Thanks! How did you know it was there?"

The farmers have truly been blessed with the past week, and have made use of their time by working days and nights.

Last week, at Loughheed, on arriving at school, the teachers found a box with five cut little pictures pasted on the steps. Needless to say, boxes were soon found "footprints" through the snow in the snow amongst the small fry.

Report from Killam Agriplex

Swimming Pool
As October quickly arrives with the snow falling, people are digging out their states and equipment for the season ahead.

Special Courses
Speaking of snow, how about constructing a ski vest for the cold winter months ahead. A preliminary meeting for a course of this nature will be held at the Killam Agriplex on Friday, October 15th. Those interested in this course must not be a beginner at sewing. Future plans will be to continue on to construct a complete ski outfit with several hundred dollars, but costing much less. Call and ask for June for more information.

The three degrees of burns

Burns are classified according to the severity of damage to the skin. There are three categories of burn: first degree; second degree; and third degree.

First degree burns are caused by light contact with hot objects, scalding by hot liquids or vapors, and mild sunburn. Medical treatment is not required but cold water or compresses will ease pain and lessen residual heat, which can further damage body tissue. A dry dressing may be applied to keep objects from brushing against sensitive skin.

Second degree burns result from direct contact with hot liquids, brief exposure to small flames, and extensive sunburn. They are identified by red or mottled coloration, accompanied by blisters, swelling and surface weeping. Pain can be acute and a physician should be consulted. The burns can be treated by immersing the injured area in cold water or by wrapping it in cloth soaked in ice water. The area should then be blotted dry, with a sterile cloth (not absorbent cotton) and covered with sterile gauze or clean cloth. Blisters should not be targeted with ointments and creams should not be used.

Second degree burns covering 15 percent or more of the body (18 percent in the case of children) should be treated as third degree burns and require hospitalization.

Third degree burns are caused by direct contact with fire, strong electrical charges and contact with very hot objects, or hot liquid immersion. They cause extreme damage to body tissues, which often turns white or becomes charred. Initially, they may resemble second degree burns. But pain may be minimal because of shock and the destruction of nerve endings.

Victims of third degree burns should be hospitalized as soon as possible. Temporary relief can be provided by elevating the burned area and covering it with a sterile cloth. In the event of extreme fluid loss, a burn extremity may be wrapped in a clean plastic bag. Do not attempt to remove clothing or foreign objects that are stuck to the skin.

Note that many acid, alkaline and corrosive chemicals burn on contact. If the skin or eyes come in contact with such substances, the injured area should be washed thoroughly with water. Water sprayed from hoses or showers is best for skin burns. Eyes should be washed by pouring water over them or by utilizing a water flow at a tap or drinking fountain. Medical attention is required as soon as possible.

Protect your farm from fire

Does your farm or acreage have fire protection? In cities and towns, strategically-placed fire hydrants and fire stations are close at hand. But not so in rural areas where help is often far away.

According to George Musca, a Regional Supervisor with Alberta Labour's Fire Prevention Branch, people living in rural areas should always know the location of the nearest fire department and whether its fire protection services extend to their particular area.

"We know of cases where a fire department could not respond to a fire because it occurred outside the department's jurisdiction."

A water supply greatly increases fire protection on a farm. It is recommended that a dugout filled with water be located within 300 metres of the nearest farm building. A reservoir holding 75,000 litres of water and capable of supplying a fire hose 500 litres of water a minute will substantially reduce the risk of fire damage.

Water supply wells cannot be used for fighting fires because they do not have enough water pressure.

Water sources should always be readily accessible. Experienced rural firefighters recommend that water sources have ramps or roadways leading to them to allow pumping trucks quick access.

Section 335(1) of the 1981 Alberta Building Code requires that buildings in rural areas provide water for firefighting.

Residential fire deaths up

Residential fire deaths increased in Alberta last year despite a decrease in household property losses due to fire.

In 1981, residential fires took the lives of 68 persons and property losses were $11 million. In 1980, 53 persons died and property losses amounted to $35 million.

Last year in Alberta, a total of 14 fire-related deaths occurred, and total property losses resulting from fire reached $11 million, down $50 million from 1980.

Vinegar helps

Remaining in an enclosed space with the engine of an automobile running is not the only way one can become a victim of carbon monoxide poisoning. Household fires also produce carbon monoxide, and according to its effects can cause death. Treating carbon monoxide poisoning, however, may be as simple as opening a bottle of vinegar.

According to a Korean study, clinicians obtained surprising results by treating carbon monoxide victims with vinegar fumes. Apparently, the study was 100 percent effective in 40 tests on human beings, dogs and rabbits who had fainted after lengthy exposure to carbon monoxide. Just what the vinegar does is not understood, but the study team believes that acetic acid increases the blood's ability to carry oxygen to vital organs of the body.

Carbon monoxide is just one of the many toxic substances a household fire can produce. A list of toxic substances and their antidotes should be kept handy for all members of the family.

wake up to danger

Farm Fires

Alberta's farm fire rate is the third highest in Canada. In 1981, the province recorded 320 farm fires, which resulted in three deaths and three injuries. Damages to farm property totalled $12.5 million. The province also ranks third in total fires and fire property damage.

Careless use of matches and cigarettes, inadequate control of brush and grass fires, and inexperienced use of welding equipment caused 50 percent of farm fires.

The majority of property damage resulted from fires that were mechanical or electrical in origin.

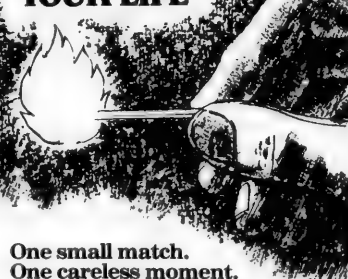

Smoke is a silent killer. Install a smoke alarm now and check it regularly.

Happenings Around Lougheed

Molly Ferreyhough
All and Pauline Kusch of Pitt Meadows, B.C. and Tom and Marjorie Smithson, North Burnaby, B.C. have been visiting Mrs. Rosemary Kempen and family. Tom thoroughly enjoyed his farming holiday.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Ron Lein (Mandie) Water on the birth of a baby girl, Samantha Jean, born Tuesday, September 31, in Carroon Hospital. Congratulations to the new grandparents and great grandparents.

Mrs. Ella Clouston of the Flagstaff Lodge was a last weekend visitor at the home here of her son, Tom and Mrs. Clouston.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Barton of Carroon were in town on Wednesday visiting with friends.

Robbin Richardson of Vancouver, B.C. is here visiting her grandmother, Mrs. Marie Martin and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerie Sax has another great-grandson. Everyone is doing fine. Congratulations to you all.

Mrs. Essie Drager and Molly Ferreyhough visited Mrs. Inga Haugen on Friday afternoon. We three also went for a drive out north and east of Sedgewick. It was a beautiful drive to see the fall color of leaves and the golden grain fields.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Kirkman, from Abbotsford, B.C. and their son, Brent Kirkman, also Mr. daughter, Susan McFarland and son, Kirk, also from B.C. were here visiting Mr. and Mrs. Gordie Kirkman and family this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Whitebeck and daughter, Cathy Cameron of Sedgewick attended the 40th wedding anniversary of friends, Mr. and Mrs. Wilford Stenberg of Stettler on Saturday, September 25.

On September 23, about 20 ladies gathered at the Lougheed Senior Citizens Centre, to honor Rosetta Johnson on her birthday, and wish her a fond farewell.

She is leaving soon, for her home in Vancouver, after spending the summer with her sister, Marie Martin.

Everyone signed a lovely card for Rosetta, then all enjoyed an afternoon of dishing, shuffling, and cards, etc.

A delicious lunch was then served, which was provided by the members. After lunch, everyone sang "Happy Birthday" to Rosetta, and included Helen Sutherland who is having a birthday very soon.

Kathryn Larson then conducted a vegetable contest, which was in keeping with this time of year. Helen White gave a reading entitled, "Old Friends."

Hardisty Happenings

Grace Kella
Our sympathies are extended to Rev. Jack Stephens and his wife, Ann in the passing of Jack's father in Winnipeg. Ernie Moore assisted in the worship service in Hardisty on September 24, in the absence of Rev. Stephens.

Gladys Siebrasse has been a patient in the hospital here recently and it is hoped she will soon be home again. Mr. Heckerle remains a patient here as well, and Mrs. Elmqvist is at last reported a patient in Edmonton. Hope all of you are progressing and will soon be back on your feet again.

Certainly looks good to see work going on at the site of the new hospital. Think everyone was wondering if they would ever see the day that would happen.

The past week has been a good week for the continuation of the harvest and some of the farmers have completed the combining. Hope it lasts a little longer so everyone can finish. With the damaging hail in the summer, the results are disappointing.

The serious news items are scarce this week so bear with me. If you remember in last week's episode, the school board had been lost. It was feared that an evil scheme was being carried out which both truck and bus had disappeared. Could this be a hi-jacking of the vilest nature? No-surely no one would stoop so low. Read now the latest in this continuing saga of endurance in "When the Buller Bullies".

Estimated time of Arrival: October 1.
Do you know what would make our life complete? If we want to work and... Oh, we had had... We're shivering and shaking, teeth chattering too. And oh, we are glad when the work-day is through. Oh county, dear county, we're begging you please, We are all humbly down on our knees. This is so embarrassing, fear we'll get caught.

But we can't get up, 'cause we're stuck to the spot.

Sedgewick News

Betty Wahl

Dawn Erickson and Allen Klebanowski returned on Sunday from Ontario where they have spent the summer while Allen was working there.

Mrs. Linda Pelern and her five daughters had a bad shock on Friday evening as well as a narrow escape from serious injury when they were side swiped by a loaded truck complete with pup. Linda was turning south when she was hit from behind, tearing both back and front fenders from the car and damaging it so badly that it will most likely be a complete write-off.

Tracey, the eldest daughter, was hospitalized when a knee she had already had trouble with was reinjured. One of the others suffered a bump on the head and Linda tells me she has a pair of black eyes and/or facial bruises. They were all badly shaken up but are so thankful as it could have been so much worse. Their guardian angel was certainly working overtime that evening!

Mr. and Mrs. George Jenvey and Mr. and Mrs. Bob McBride were in Edmonton for the weekend visiting children and grandchildren.

On Sunday they attended the christening of their newest granddaughter, Keely Shannon McBride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack McBride (nee Gwen Arruaga) at Kirk United Church.

Mrs. E. Muirhead was pleasantly surprised after the card party on Wednesday afternoon when Janet, Jean and Judy brought lunch in complete with a birthday cake. Many happy returns of the day, Mrs. Muirhead.

Get well wishes to Mr. Howard Smith who has been a patient in Kilham Hospital since last Thursday. And to all other folk who are ill.

At the Jean Wallace home on Graduation night were Mr. and Mrs. Stan Smith of Alliance, Herb Smith, Nest Boyd Smith and his fiancée

Betty Korol, Sharon Ormiston, of Edmonton, Mr. and Mrs. Hunter White of Longview, B.C., and Mrs. Heather Wallace enjoyed her diploma. They received the dance then returned to the Wallace home for a turkey dinner (he should be so happy). Any note a long time was had by all. Heather is attending the University of Alberta in Edmonton where she is in the Faculty of Education.

Call Bourque of Hardisty and Gertie Leirich accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Pederson to Edmonton on Friday. There Gertie visited with daughter Linda and her husband, Ken while the rest went to Mr. and Mrs. Don Horinek (nee Rene Pederson's) home. They celebrated the birthday of (I won't tell which one) Mrs. Butch Dorville (nee Dorothy Pederson) and spent the weekend, returning on Sunday.

Hardisty Garden Club holds meeting

The September meeting of the Hardisty Garden Club was held in the Drop In Centre on Tuesday afternoon, September 14, with 10 members present.

The flower show was reported a success. Erna Mathers and Ethel King reported attending the Red Deer Horticultural Show and found it very worthwhile. Some discussion followed on the date of the prize list for next year's Flower Show.

For the October meeting, a discussion will be held on exotic plants, members to bring as much information as possible. While enjoying lunch, members compared notes on gardening experience, during the summer, including hail and frost. Next meeting will be October 12.

Hardisty Auxiliary meet

The September meeting of the Hardisty Hospital Auxiliary was held September 14 at 8 p.m. at the hospital. The Auxiliary Prayer was said in unison followed by the reading of the minutes of the June meeting.

The Auxiliary plans that were ordered some time ago arrived and are for sale for those who wish to have them.

The lounge chairs arrived over the summer; and the generic chair was tabled till a later date, but such discussion took place concerning both topics.

An item arose during the summer, concerning the need for patients from the hospital to be taken out for rides in the country. Our president, Jeannette Crone, capably looked after this matter.

Jane Crone gave the treasurer's report of expenses and income for the summer months.

Mr. McPherson from Alliance generously donated $50 to the Auxiliary funds. Volunteer service chairman Phyllis Manning gave her report saying there had been busy fingers over the summer. Myrtle Richardson donated a peach baby set and Margaret Deady had crocheted a variegated baby afghan and three Marion Elm read the roll call, telling us we certainly need more members, especially with the new hospital, getting under construction shortly.

The fall bazaar date was tentatively set for October 15th. The director of nursing had asked Jeannette Crone to discuss the purchasing of an infusion pump by the Auxiliary. Jeannette proceeded to tell the ladies the importance of the pump in patients receiving intravenous and blood transfusions.

The Auxiliary agreed to have Mr. West order a pump. Our meals on wheels coordinator, Marie Watkins, will not be able to look after this job due to health reasons. She had done an excellent job the previous years. Two different people were to be approached about taking this job.

New president of Sedgewick Chamber of Commerce, Rev. George Qualley takes over the reins from Val Albrecht for the 1981-82 season.

No satellite television installed until spring

Hopes that Sedgewick would have satellite television service this fall were dashed when it was revealed at the September 21 meeting of the Chamber of Commerce that a CRIC hearing into a RSTV application will not be heard until November.

The Chamber's incoming president, Rev. George Qualley, said that it will be "late spring" before the system could be installed, adding that perhaps by then the situation pertaining to the availability of American stations should be settled.

Rev. Qualley said the delay in hearing similar applications from across Canada was the result of confusion caused by other companies attempting to sell systems to towns.

Considerable discussion took place as to the number of applications required by RSTV before it would go ahead with the system.

Val Albrecht, immediate past president, said the Saskatoon-based firm is prepared to look at the situation if less than 50 percent of potential subscribers signed up for the system.

About 56 people have indicated their intention to put in the new system, Mr. Albrecht said. 56 percent would amount to 130 households.

Len Berry, Rev. Qualley and Val Albrecht are members of a committee to seek out more subscribers.

Reporting on town activities, Mayor Ernie Koehl said that the new water system had been turned on the previous Saturday and he invited all to sample the water at his home. There is "excellent pressure," he said.

The mayor complimented Boychuk's Ditching Ltd. for their work in installing the storm sewer on 48th Street. He said that Border Paving will follow with paving. Some curb and gutter work remains to be done in other areas.

Plans on Railway Street and Main Street will be carried out by the town crew, reported Mayor Koehl.

President Qualley outlined projects the Chamber had undertaken or completed in 1981 and 1982 including assistance in obtaining the Killam-Sedgewick Airport, street numbering, upgrading of lights, installation of tree boxes, and litter containers, assistance in improving town policing, erecting a highway sign, and aiding in the Sedgewick Lake cleanup.

Heiden Alexander also reminded members that the Chamber had initiated the park on Main Street.

Betty Walsh, Mr. Don Andersen is pinned and strapped up as the result of a shoulder injury, suffered near to Whittow's while on a hunting trip with Mr. Jackie Barker. No, he wasn't shot. A motor scooter (doubtless there's a special name for them but I don't know what it is) rolled on him causing a shoulder separation. He underwent surgery in the Royal Alexandra Hospital in Edmonton and returned home on Saturday. Wife Holly went to Edmonton on Friday and returned with him on Saturday. So Jim and I had the pleasure of Kerry Andersen's company over Friday night and on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Pope went to Edmonton on Saturday where they took in the Edmonton Huskies, Calgary Cougars Football game. Son Brent plays for the Huskies and Martha and Cliff really enjoyed the game as the Huskies won 48 to 18. They came home on Sunday morning.

Six tables of what players enjoyed the Wednesday afternoon card party at the Senior Citizens Drop In Centre. Winners of prizes for the highest scores were Mrs. May McCracken and Mrs. Peter Lindblad. Consolation awards went to Mrs. Ed Nordstrom and Mrs. Hed Nordstrom.

At the Norwegian Whist on Friday evening there were five tables of players. Mrs. Gladys Hope and Mr. Ab Nordstrom won prizes for the highest scores while Mrs. Susie Dräger and Mr. Bill Puhlie were seconded consolation prizes. Remember if you're interested in some "Scrabble" games get in touch with Mrs. Leone Hugganach.

Mr. Jim Walsh went to Edmonton by bus on Tuesday morning where he entered the General Hospital. On Wednesday he had an operation on his elbow and on Thursday afternoon came home on the bus. It was a relief to get that over with after waiting since January. The Dave Blacks and Mrs. Susie Dräger were out to the Bill Puhlie (formerly the Dave Black) farm one day last week where they are busy in the garden produce. That's what a lot of folks are busy with right now.

Mr. Robert Puhlie of Dillbury Lake spent Saturday night at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Puhlie.

Jay Birkjar, son of Axel Birkjar, 1st 1, Strome holds samples of Nepawa wheat which have larger-than-normal heads measuring about five inches in length, twice the usual size. The heads contain about 36 kernels. Mr. Birkjar said that there was only a small acre with the larger heads, but if there was an acre, the yield would probably be 90 bushels, compared to "over 50" for a normal yield. Like many others, Mr. Birkjar has yet to complete his harvest because of the wet weather.

Returns as Flagstaff Secretary-Treasurer

A family face has returned to the County of Flagstaff offices in the person of C. B. "Robby" Robertson, who has been appointed to the position of secretary-treasurer, effective October 1.

Mr. Robertson served in that capacity from late 1960 to February 1976 with the exception of an eight-month period in 1974-75. He replaces Orville Little.

To hold municipal budget seminar

A seminar on municipal budgeting has been sanctioned by the Battle River Regional Planning Commission and will be conducted in two sessions, October 14th and November 25th at the SHOT GUN Commission offices in Weyburn.

The motion authorizing finalization of arrangements was made by Flagstaff County Council Alder Alastair Disgranted.

Disgranted. Flagstaff taxpayers recently charged that county affairs were being mismanaged.

TOPS meet in Sedgewick

Losing weight is more complex than it looks, delegates to the Area 4 Rally of TOPS (Take Off Pounds Sensibly) in Sedgewick heard on Saturday.

Guest speaker Don Martin of Sedgewick told the community hall gathering that a person has to deal with three weights rather than one. They were outlined as the "ideal" weight, the "scale" weight, and the "weight you weigh in your mind."

Attempting to lose weight can be a very conscious thing and a very painful and searching experience, Mrs. Martin told the audience. There were 151 registrations from the 39 clubs in Area 4 which encompasses an area from Drumheller to Metahow to Sedgewick to Rocky Mountain House in the west.

Sedgewick TOPS No. AB 2294 which has about 40 members, was host for the occasion. It was formed in February 1976.

Included in the program were several songs with familiar tunes, however the words have been changed to fit the theme, "Take Off Pounds Sensibly." Members sang the selections with vigour.

A highlight of the day was the "Sing a Song of Sissy" Helen O'Reilly was guest pianist.

Joan Stewardson of Camrose was escorted Area 4 representative of Lacombe, a member of the Red Deer Club is the reigning king, Margaret Riep. Mrs. Troch is the area queen runner-up.

Election time... the gloves are off

It was predictable but until the announcement became official, citizens of Alberta were conducting a guessing contest as to when the next provincial election was to be called.

Many of the "guesstimates" had suggested that the election call would be made Wednesday or Thursday of this week, while others weakened and were predicting a Spring election.

Well, Premier Lougheed fooled them all, by announcing Tuesday morning that Tuesday, November 2nd will indeed be election day in the province.

Apparently an election cannot be held sooner than 28 days after the announcement is made. Premier Lougheed just made it under the wire.

While many politicians with opposing views may criticize the premier for being the architect of a "snap" election, there are economic factors to be considered as well.

To be sure, many of the other parties are ill-prepared but with internal bickering in many cases, perhaps the sooner it is over, the better.

The cost of conducting an election campaign is now enormous, and premiers of other provinces in recent months have taken the "short route" in order to present the electors with the opportunities to express themselves at the polls.

Granted, the emergence of the Western Canada Council party has had some bearing on the premier's "fast moves."

Many will not agree with the WCC's philosophy for separatism from the federal system, but Gordon Kesler, the only WCC member of the Legislature and party leader, and his followers have won the ruling PC administration on the spot, sometimes to the point of embarrassment.

One bone of contention raised by the WCC was that the Tory leader had lost touch with the people. In recent months, Premier Lougheed has tried to rectify that mistake by appearing at many public gatherings (for instance, the Lougheed Village Municipal Building opening).

A downward economy and the resultant slump in the oil industry did much to lessen Peter's image in the eyes of Albertans, and several of his cabinet members, tired of the beleaguering, chose the easy way out.

The premier's September television appearance and mortgage interest rate handout now stands as just another election ploy.

While the NDP appeared best prepared of the opposition parties, the PC political machine is too well organized, but many things can happen in the space of 28 days.

Now that an election date has been set, you can be sure that the opposition parties not only have a definite goal in sight—ousting a Lougheed administration which has been in power more than three full terms, but they can actually see the end of the tunnel, in front of them.

Unlike as it seems, that's what politics are all about—their unpredictability—an upset isn't impossible.

Letters to the Editor

Our Lady of Fatima School
Box 277, Killam, Alberta
T0B 2L0

Dear Editor:

The past year has been a very busy one for our school, and being caught-up in all the activities of the school I have neglected to thank you for a job well done. The school appreciated the time that you have taken in the taking of pictures of the school as well as the various ones. Two and Three. The graduation banquet in June would not have been complete without your photographs being there. The picture of the graduates was excellent.

The Junior High students will be writing up a column as to the "Happening in Our Lady of Fatima School" and we hope there will be room for their news in the Community Press. This will be sent in about every two weeks.

Thanks again for everything.
Stromely, Principal

"I don't understand why mothers can't see the faults in their children," said Mrs. Jones.
"You don't see your children had any."

Wife - My husband never tells me anything. He might be in the Ministry of Information for all I can get out of him.

Bill - Would you object to a husband who smoked in the house?
Betina - Yes. But I intend to keep quiet until I get one.

Council meeting of the Village of Killam was held on Monday, October 3rd. The secretary informed the council that he sold lots 4, 5 and 6 for $40 and sale was approved by the council. Purchase of additional two acres for Killam Cemetery was discussed and agreed that the Mayor complete the agreement for sale with Mr. O'Connell.

A separator belonging to the Sabher brothers, who narrowly escaped being destroyed by fire on Friday afternoon. Just as the crew were ready to leave after finishing threshing on the Hogan farm, northeast of town, a straw pile caught fire and the machine was hurriedly abandoned.

A fire, which started from a straw pile behind the Strone farm, caused some excitement Sunday afternoon. The high wind had fanned the fire into a threatening blaze. Before any damage was done, a volunteer fire brigade had the fire under control.

Cutting and stooking are nearly finished. Threshing is well started. Neighbours are assisting one another as far as possible. Feed having been scarce, oats and barley are being threshed. The Strone farm has threshed 100 bushels to the acre. They are now threshing 100 bushels to the acre. Mr. John Hopkins had the machine to overturn his grain while on his way to the Alaska highway. A soft shower of the grade gave him trouble. The machine suffered a broken collarbone. Miss Margaret, who was driving the machine, suffered a broken collarbone. The machine suffered a broken collarbone. The machine suffered a broken collarbone.

Killam Indians and Viking in Beaver Hill fold

It's official now - Viking Game Kings have joined Killam Indians and members of the Beaver Hill Senior Hockey League.

Formed at the league will be eight teams and there will be a 25-game schedule beginning Saturday, November 6, announced Alvin Fredrick, president of the Indians and league representative, who attended a September 27 meeting in Edmonton.

The Killam entry had been accepted previously and the league executive voted to admit Viking to the circuit after a written submission had been made. Both teams were members of the Battle River League in the 1981-82 season.

While the league accepted two new teams, 1982 team's members, Viking and Waukegan, were refused re-entry.

Game nights for Killam will be Tuesday and Saturday nights for league play, and play-off contests taking place Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, with an 8:15 starting time. Semi-finals and finals will be best-of-seven affairs.

According to Mr. Fredrick, the Indians will also defend the Provincial Intermediate "C" Championship trophy they won last year.

Other members of the league are Tofield Satellites, Stettin, Waukegan, Nuggetts, Mundare Sabres, Holden Braves and Ryley Flyers.

The Indians will hold an open training camp on October 16 and 17 with two sessions daily. Any player of senior caliber in East Central Alberta is welcome to try out for the club.

Dallas Elbert will be a playing coach this year, with Darryl Gunderman as coach.

The Indians will get their first home game on Tuesday, October 26 when they tangle with the Camrose Lutheran College.

Vikings in an exhibition encounter.

A good performance would be a welcome addition as they step up to higher company in the Beaver Hill League.

Piggy's last tale

A little piggy went to market (well, abso-lutely).

It didn't like its surroundings and "rooted" its way to freedom, causing much consternation.

There was a country-wide search, but no luck.

You see, it had made a journey to Sedgewick to see the "bright lights."

It was the last of a piggy's tale came to an end—

It was discovered and now has gone to its last reward.

Strome School News

With the recent break in the harvest weather this past week, we held our annual parent's meeting, with approximately 35 in attendance.

A lively discussion followed on the problems in language arts, the purposes of education and how they are set up, and various aspects of government and school funding. Some points and activities were discussed.

We certainly appreciate those parents who made the effort to come and we trust that it was worthwhile communication. The elementary and junior high programs were presented.

Friday, October 1st was a highly successful initiation day. The grade 9 class is to be commended for excellent awards of costumes and Kangaroo Court cases. The grade 7 class were excellent actors through out. Many of the costumes had a "deep-south" style emphasis.

Meanwhile despite every effort by an impartial defense attorney, the eminently fair (I) court was only able to find one innocent defendant.

Mr. Blazear, attending her first Kangaroo Court was almost stirred for contempt of court as she had difficulty suppressing her laughter.

Judge Collette Delong issued out punishments ranging from singing a song, or feeding each other blindfolded, to find singers for a ridiculous position - she did manage to find seven. The grade 7 class will be officially welcomed into the Students Union next week when they sing the school song and repeating the school pledge with enthusiasm.

Judge Collette Delong issued out punishments ranging from singing a song, or feeding each other blindfolded, to find singers for a ridiculous position - she did manage to find seven. The grade 7 class will be officially welcomed into the Students Union next week when they sing the school song and repeating the school pledge with enthusiasm.

Mr. Blazear, attending her first Kangaroo Court was almost stirred for contempt of court as she had difficulty suppressing her laughter.

News Notes from Killam

Del Morgan, Master Corporal Don Foss of Cold Lake Base was a weekend visitor with parents, Mr. and Mrs. Allan Foss and family.

Dr. and Mrs. Annis and Plunka spent the weekend visiting Mr. and Mrs. S. Annis and family at Grande Prairie. The main attraction was Mr. and Mrs. S. Annis' baby boy after three daughters.

Mr. Vern Erickson went by plane to Calgary to bring Mr. Marvin Erickson home for a visit with mother Mrs. Judith Erickson, the Vern Erickson's, Bill Morgans and Glen Roggenbuck, Marvin had to return home by bus because of the weather.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Erickson and girls of Big Valley were weekend visitors with parents, Mr. and Mrs. Vern Erickson and family.

Winter hasn't even begun but there has been plenty of cold-weather if it's inside the Killam Arena. Public skating started for the first time on Friday and continued over the weekend. Ruth Friedrich knows what it's all about — she had to purchase mittens for children with cold hands at the Saturday morning skating session. Mrs. Friedrich puts mittens on Irene Wimmer and Charla Friedrich.

mother, Mrs. L. Coates and Mrs. Fred Sorken.

Visiting parents Mr. and Mrs. Bill Morgan on the weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Doug Morgan and family, Mr. Terry Dussup and Mrs. Linda Weisgerber and Cheryl of Edmonton. Lots of help and all hope the weather straightens up before long, so everyone can get their harvest done.

Deepest sympathy goes out to Mr. and Mrs. Willie Felstein in their loss of Irene's dad.

Mrs. Reg Ouellet and girls came by plane from Fort St. John, B.C. to visit parents, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Hart and Mo.

Information sought on Johnson/Bentley deaths

Killam Detachment of the RCMP reports that information is wanted regarding the widely-publicized Johnson/Bentley murders near Clearwater, B.C. in August of this year.

The Bentley vehicle, not recovered, apparently moved from the murder site by the assailants, is being sought.

It is a 1981 Ford, F250, Camper Special, silver grey in color with a red side panel, front mounted spare tire, beige Plymouth Caravelle, with luggage rack strapped on the roof, B.C. license No. H3A3604 was located in burned-out condition near Battle Mountain campsite in Wells Gray Park, near Clearwater.

WHAT IS WRONG WITH VARIABLE RATES?

If your branch line is expensive to the railways, shouldn't it be abandoned?

Why shouldn't Canadian grain producers set an example and forego subsidies?

Shouldn't producers accept an acreage payment rather than having government continue to pay the railways a transportation subsidy on export grain?

Why shouldn't producers take the risks and release government and railways from future increases?

Why shouldn't beef and pork feeders have the major say in shaping Canada's export grain industry?

These are the prospects if a pay the producer system emerges. If you would rather see your grain system evolve according to grain producers' needs and circumstances, tell Ottawa.

Watch for Salmonella in turkeys

Thanksgiving is just around the corner. And Salmonella can spoil it all. Salmonella is a bug that can cause nausea, abdominal pain, fever and vomiting. It can also cause death in the elderly and young.

Tainted poultry is the major source of Salmonella food poisoning; that is the reason for the warning flags before Thanksgiving.

In fact, one in three turkeys or chickens sold in Canada is said to be contaminated. Federal health officials are working together with industry to reduce this figure to five percent.

In the meantime, care in the handling and preparation of poultry is the responsibility of the individual.

Salmonella bacteria grows rapidly at room temperature. That is why the experts always recommend you defrost your turkey in the refrigerator, not on the counter. It takes longer, but a bit of planning is worth it in this case.

Heat destroys Salmonella bacteria so it is important that Thanksgiving birds be cooked well to assure that all bacteria have been destroyed.

Obviously if one in three birds sold has, in fact, got Salmonella bacteria, then most Canadians have been doing a good job of handling poultry for quite some time. Outbreaks of this bacteria related poisoning are not all that common. So, it isn't something to go into shock over; no, but it is something to be aware of, and a reminder just before Thanksgiving.

Thanksgiving's not just a holiday, it's a time to have a nice holiday, and not let the Pudding Mills, Consumer and Corporate Affairs, Canada.

Foster mother's story:

Remarkable things happen

given an extra every three days for many years because her bowels would not function on their own. We felt too much stress was being placed on her heart and that there had to be a better solution.

We decided to try changing her diet, and excluded all sugar and white flour products, making certain that she ate lots of fruits and juices. After being with us just two months her bowels were, and still are, functioning on their own.

Lora has many problems because of her heart and we visit the doctor's office an average of once a week. The doctor felt that attending a regular school would be too hard on her, so we have an aide who comes to our home each day to teach her. As well as she has a speech therapist; a physiotherapist to help with her walking as she doesn't walk on her own yet and a home care nurse who comes in to see her every two weeks. Lora functions at a two year level.

Many people have said if she's only going to live for a couple of years, why not leave her in the institution and save your family the bother. But Lora is precious to us. Even in we were to lose her tomorrow, leaving her and leaving her life, is something none of us would ever want to miss.

Lara was next; she is a sweetie! A sweet, smiling Downs baby with a congenital heart defect, she's five months now and will be having open heart surgery soon. We've been pleased that Lara came to us at one month of age.

She is our great thing, a family is the best place for special children. She is now able to hold her head, she looks, turns and smiles when she hears her name, and is beginning to accomplish most things other babies her age are doing.

She only weighs about ten and a half pounds, but we're sure she'll start growing once her heart has been repaired.

Marlene is sixteen; functioning at an eight-or-nine-year-old level. She suffered brain damage at birth and lived at home with her parents most of her life, coming to live with us when they were no longer able to care for her. Marlene hasn't gone through the remarkable changes that our other children have because she grew up in a secure family setting.

No, we're not trained professionals, and yes, we do have bad days like everyone else. But we have had some very remarkable things happen in our home.

We have the support of two super social workers who visit at least twice a month.

We have found a doctor who cares, and a school board who stands behind us, and we can cope with severe problems within a home.

I feel that foster parents can be a help to handicapped youngsters, and I pray that we will continue to have that opportunity.

If you are interested in more information on fostering, call Darrell or Gayle McClements at Loughheed, members of the East Parent Association.

Killam Library Report

Fall is here and its time to catch up on library happenings.

In June, our library presented two awards of merit in Killam. The awards are presented each year to the top reading students in grade six as chosen by the reading teacher at each school.

Winners this year were Chris Kueber from the Separate School and Susan Barker from the Public School. During the months of July and August, the library held a reading program. Of the 27 students in grades one to six who joined the program, 11 students received all three prizes, three students received two prizes and seven received one prize.

With school back in, we have again resumed our normal library hours and will be closed on statutory holidays.

If you find time to spend on reading occasionally, maybe read up some of the basic beauty facts and opinions in these books.

Color Me Beautiful, author, Carole Jackson. You have a unique skin tone, hair and eye colorings and with this book, Carole teaches you their uses to an advantage, when planning your wardrobe, hair color, make-up and accessories.

Being Beautiful by Carole Meyer. The story of cosmetics from ancient art to modern science.

The Natural Way to Super Beauty, author Mary Ann Crenshaw. Healthy eating and healthy living are the basics of achieving super beauty, believes Mary Ann.

Styling Your Face by Way Bundy. An illustrated guide to fifteen face designs for men and women.

Vogue Guide to Hair Care, by Polisty Clark, also Vogue Guide to Make-up. How to style and care for your hair and a guide to understanding your make-up. Also learn to apply it to look your best.

Hardisty council at full strength

For the first time in several months, the Town of Hardisty has a full complement of council members.

At a September 29th by-election, with three citizens contesting two available positions, Jim Huddleston headed the polls with 63 votes.

In the decidedly close balloting, Wayne Bitzer took the second seat with 75 votes.

Correction

Servold and Sons of Devon drilled three wells for the Town of Sedgewick's new water system. Green Construction Co. built the reservoir only, and the wells as reported.

Falling to be elected was Tommy Sato who received 65 votes.

Town Administrator Wes Pedlar said there was a turnout of about 40 percent of the eligible electors.

Other members of Hardisty council are Mayor

Cecil Rempel and Councilors Linda Driver, Belva Doodall, Don Campbell and Steve Matus.

The newly-elected members will remain in office until September 1983 when a general election will take place.

Enjoyed Sedgewick water, but . . .

Sedgewick has claimed that it has Alberta's finest water, but an enterprising businessman in the Town of Nanton has marketed bottled water in a successful commercial operation.

The sample was sent to Sedgewick Mayor Ernie Kneib by Betty Hamilton, a former school teacher in Sedgewick.

In her letter, she remarked: "your appreciation of Sedgewick drinking water is very good as we enjoyed it for five years during our enjoyable stay in your town."

"Just thought you might enjoy some of Canada's finest water," chides Mrs. Hamilton.

She concluded with the comment: "Thank you and all the workers for a spendable planned and enjoyable vacation."

"Good luck to Town Council."

Killam Library Report

Fall is here and its time to catch up on library happenings.

In June, our library presented two awards of merit in Killam. The awards are presented each year to the top reading students in grades six as chosen by the reading teacher at each school.

Winners this year were Chris Kueber from the Separate School and Susan Barker from the Public School.

During the months of July and August, the library held a reading program. Of the 27 students in grades one to six who joined the program, 11 students received all three prizes, three students received two prizes and seven received one prize.

With school back in, we have again resumed our normal library hours and will be closed on statutory holidays.

If you find time to spend on yourself occasionally, maybe read up some of the basic beauty facts and opinions in these books.

Color Me Beautiful, author, Carole Kueber. You have a unique skin tone, hair and eye color and with this book, Carole teaches you their uses to an advantage, when planning your wardrobe, hair color, make-up and accessories.

Being Beautiful by Carole Meyer. The story of cosmetics from ancient art to modern science.

The Natural Way to Super Beauty, author Mary Ann Orendash. Healthy eating and healthy living are the basics of achieving super beauty, believes Mary Ann.

Styling Your Face by Way Bundy. An illustrated guide to fifteen face designs for men and women.

Vogue Guide to Hair Care, by Felicity Clark, also Vogue. A guide to making-up your style and care for your hair and a guide to understanding your make-up. Also learn to apply it to look your best.

Hardisty council at full strength

For the first time in several months, the Town of Hardisty has a full complement of council members.

At a September 29th by-election, with three citizens contesting two available positions, Jim Waddell won the polls with 80 votes.

In the decidedly close balloting, Wayne Blitzer took the second seat with 75 votes.

Falling to be elected was Tommy Seto who received 65 votes.

Town Administrator Wes Pedlar said there was a turnout of about 40 percent of the eligible electors.

Other members of Hardisty council are Mayor

School bus safety emphasized

School Bus Safety Week is October 17th to 23rd. School authorities and bus operators will be involved in special safety programs.

The theme for 1982, proposed by the Canada Safety Council, is "Get Involved." The Council believes all Canadians can contribute to a safer environment for school children: teachers, school bus drivers, parents, the general public and the children themselves, should become involved.

Parents have a special role because many school bus drivers say lack of discipline is one problem that affects safety on and around the school bus.

When away from home, children learn from the example of their peers and older children they see daily, and what they learn may not

Do you want to drink it or drive it?

Alternative sources of fuel are receiving a great deal of attention these days. Alcohol is one suggested alternative to gasoline as a fuel. This article looks at some of the problems associated with putting alcohol in the tank and not behind the wheel.

There are two basic types of alcohol, methyl and ethyl. Methyl (wood alcohol) is used as a de-icing fluid, and if ingested, makes you go blind.

Ethyl alcohol is the first part of whiskey and gin. Both have about half the heating value of gasoline. If you filled your gasoline tank with whiskey at 100 proof and managed to get the engine running, it would have one-quarter the power it would have running on gasoline. The engine would not run for long either because the sugar in the whiskey would soon coat the pistons, but you would have quite a crowd sniffing the exhaust before it stopped. To blend alcohol with gas-

MEDICALLY SPEAKING with Dr. Bob Young

It has reached its epitome with specialty-trained emergency physicians and nurses in the hospitals and some well-trained ambulance attendants and paramedics.

These men and women provide life support, advanced first aid and protect the patient from the shock and injured, and have been responsible for saving many lives.

But should the average citizen know first aid? It may seem to be in the wrong order but it is probably more important to know what to do if someone is having a heart attack or is choking or hemorrhaging, than to know how to treat a broken bone.

The reason for this is that the former conditions are likely to be readily fatal if almost instant help is not available. Knowing what to do in these first few minutes, or even seconds, may be lifesaving.

People whose hearts have stopped or who have ceased breathing can be helped by C.P.R. (cardiopulmonary resuscitation). This cannot be effectively learned by reading about it; it must be practiced. Courses are given periodically in most communities and ideally, all adults should take the course at least once.

The Heimlich manoeuvre (named after the doctor who discovered it) is a method of clearing the air passages of a person who is choking on food. While this is a simpler procedure than C.P.R., it is still best learned if demonstrated by another person.

We should all know how to do the Heimlich manoeuvre because it can restore a dying man or woman back to normal in a matter of minutes.

Control of hemorrhage also may not wait for the ambulance to arrive. There is not much that can be done in the field for internal bleeding, but bleeding from a cut or other injury can usually be controlled by simple pressure or, occasionally, a tourniquet.

General first aid training is, of course, important. Even if you are not interested in a full course, you should become familiar with the above three lifesaving procedures.

Canada Council Killam prize is awarded

Mayor Moore, Chairman of the Canada Council, presented the 1982 Isaac Walton Killam Memorial Prize to Distinguished Professor William T. Pette of the University of Waterloo. The presentation was made October 8, at a dinner hosted by the University of Alberta Killam Scholarship Committee, held in conjunction with the 80th Annual Killam Conference and the 75th Anniversary of the University of Alberta.

The $50,000 Isaac Walton Killam Memorial Prize is the most prestigious of the Canada Council's Killam awards. It is financed through funds donated to the Council by Mrs. Dorothy J. Killam before her death.

The prize is intended to honour eminent Canadian scholars actively engaged in research, whether in the fields of industry, government agencies, or universities.

It is not restricted to a particular accomplishment, but is given in recognition of distinguished lifetime achievement and an outstanding contribution to the advancement of knowledge in any of the fields of the natural sciences, medicine or engineering.

Weekly newspapers get high readership

The results of a brand new Readership Survey are in, revealing that the weekly newspaper is a healthy dose of credibility in the eyes of advertisers, both national and local.

It's a welcome bit of good news in these tough economic times.

Made even more welcome by the fact that the survey results show weekly community newspapers (especially Alberta's Weekly Newspapers Association, or ANWA, newspapers) enjoy a high readership among subscribers, during a time when advertisers are sharpening their pencils and tightening their budgets.

Because times are getting tough, advertisers are seeking more detailed information than mere circulation figures provide, to help them arrive at the most "cost effective" media buy.

To the advertisers in this end, and to emphasize the true impact of a community weekly upon its trading district, the ANWA commissioned its 1982 Readership Survey, which was prepared by Opinion Research, an independent market research and public opinion polling company.

The survey results provide a wide range of readership statistics - figures which ANWA believes are more reliable than CPM's (unit cost to reach every 1000 subscribers) in the measurement of advertising cost effectiveness.

The weekly community newspaper shares a kinship with its readers that simply is not matched by any other media serving non-metro Alberta," says W.W. (Bill) Drayner, Association Secretary-Manager.

"The ANWA believes that community weeklies have stronger circulation, are and over, within the household.

The completed sample of 1,662 interviews represents a response rate of 94 per cent of the initial sample of 2,500.

A technical report, including a copy of the questionnaire and full details of the sample is on file at the Alberta Weekly Newspapers Association offices, 11 Fairway Drive, Suite 212, Edmonton, Alberta.

School bus safety emphasized

School Bus Safety Week is October 17th to 23rd. School authorities and bus operators will be involved in special safety programs.

The theme for 1982, proposed by the Canada Safety Council, is "Get Involved." The Council believes all Canadians can contribute to a safer environment for school children: teachers, school bus drivers, parents, the general public and the children themselves, should become involved.

Parents have a special role because many school bus drivers say lack of discipline is one problem that affects safety on and around the school bus.

When away from home, children learn from the example of their peers and older children they see daily, and what they learn may not always be desirable. Consequently, parents and teachers need to reinforce the rules of school bus safety.

The bus driver must keep full attention on the task of driving, and should not have to deal with discipline problems at the same time.

The Canada Safety Council says parents should take time to learn and understand how the school bus system operates, and should discuss with children the role of the driver, how to conduct peer pressure, while ensuring that each child understands the various safety rules.

What Canadian children learn now, as school bus passengers, will later be reflected in their attitudes as drivers, so the responsibilities of school bus safety go far beyond the appearance, down the street, of "big yellow."

MEDICALLY SPEAKING

with Dr. Bob Young

First aid used to be so simple. All you needed were triangular bandages, splints and knowledge about pressure points. Bleeding and breaks were the strong points of first aid. Some students might be taught about fainting and shock. For this 21st century, the provision of emergency care to the injured and ill has progressed a tremendous amount since your days as a Boy Scout.

It has reached its epitome with specialty-trained emergency physicians and nurses in the hospitals and some well-trained ambulance attendants and paramedics. These men and women provide life support, advanced first aid and proceed to transport to the sick and injured, and have been responsible for saving many lives. What should the average citizen know about first aid? It may seem to be in the wrong order but it is probably more important to know what to do if someone is having a heart attack or is choking or hemorrhaging, than to know how to treat a broken bone. The reason for this is that the former conditions are likely to be readily fatal if almost instant help is not available. Knowing what to do in these first few minutes, or even seconds, may be lifesaving.

Do you want to drink it or drive it?

Alternative sources of fuel are receiving a great deal of attention these days. Alcohol is one suggested alternative to gasoline as a fuel. This article looks at some of the problems associated with putting alcohol in the tank and not behind the wheel.

There are two basic types of alcohol, methyl and ethyl. Methyl (wood alcohol) is used as a de-icing fluid, and if ingested, makes you go blind.

Ethyl alcohol is the first part of whiskey and gin. Both have about half the heating value of gasoline. If you filled your gasoline tank with whiskey at 100 proof and managed to get the engine running, it would have one-quarter the power it would have running on gasoline. The engine would not run for long either because the sugar in the whiskey would soon coat the pistons, but you would have a crowd sniffing the exhaust before it stopped. To blend alcohol with gasoline (gasoline) the alcohol has to be very pure, 99 percent, or the water separates out. This purity is beyond the capacity of most farm stills.

Farm operations may be able to produce it at 90 to 95 percent with a lot of effort and this can be used directly in gasoline engines with few modifications.

Note, however, that the distillation process uses more energy than it produces.

At the moment, the most economical fuel for a gasoline engine is gasoline, or in some cases, propane. Therefore, alcohol should be used in the gin and not in the engine.

If you want to save money on fuel, there are easier ways than feeding your vehicle booze. For example, keep your vehicle well-tuned with clean plugs and air filters and check the timing. Use radial tires and keep them inflated to maximum pressure. Use a light foot on the throttle.

Natural gas exports could boost petroleum industry

In the not too distant future, the National Energy Board will make a recommendation on whether additional volumes of Canadian natural gas shall be exported to the United States and other countries. The recommendation then goes to the Minister of Energy Mines and Resources who will discuss it with his cabinet colleagues as they weigh the political and economic implications of increased exports.

There are two separate and distinct schools of thought on the subject of exporting non-renewable energy. One school is opposed on the grounds that a depleting resource should be left in the ground to protect the energy needs of future generations of Canadians. The other school argues that resources have no value until they are sold and that sales from developed resources provide the funds to explore and develop new resources.

In balancing these arguments, the National Energy Board has arrived at a compromise position which provides protection for future generations and also allows for exports of natural gas governed by a formula. The formula demands that the natural gas industry prove that it has reserves in volumes which would equal 25 times current annual Canadian demand, as well as prove the existence of sufficient volumes to meet remaining export contracts.

If the industry can prove the existence of reserves in excess of those required to meet the conditions, it may apply for licence to export additional volumes.

The NEB also takes into account the industry's ability to deliver certain approved reserves, and considers such things as accessibility, proximity to a pipeline, cost of delivery and other factors.

It is for this reason, that export approvals may not always match precisely the volumes declared to be surplus.

At the moment, the board is considering applications to export more than 37 trillion cubic feet of natural gas, mainly through pipelines to the United States and some as liquefied natural gas to be shipped by tanker to Japan and Korea.

Approval of these licenses, coupled with indications that interest rates are declining, would provide a badly needed shot in the arm for the petroleum industry.

Opportunities for discovery and development of new reserves of natural gas exist in the Mackenzie Delta, the Beaufort Sea, the Arctic Islands, the East Coast of Labrador as well as the western basin, particularly the foothills of Alberta and northeastern British Columbia.

Ready recreation vehicles for winter and don't lose the key

With winter's inevitable first snow fall now far off, it's time to baiten the "caches" on your recreational equipment.

The Alberta Motor Association (AMA) suggests that if you own a boat, travel trailer, or motorhome, now is the time to take the necessary precautions and ensure that you aren't going to be unpleasantly surprised next spring.

The following precautions should be taken. Make certain all light fittings, windows, doors and vents are water tight. Drain all water and holding tanks and any connecting hoses or lines. Note: Since propane does not freeze, these tanks need not be emptied or stored.

Place all loose fittings, tools or accessories in marked containers for easy identification in the spring. Remove all canned and perishable foods from storage areas.

Use stabilizing jacks or other supports to prevent rocking and swaying in high winds. Longer tire life can be achieved by removing tires from campers and trailers and supporting the axles on blocks.

Brace ceilings and keep snow at a reasonable level on the roof. Check inside periodically. Protect outdoor motors from direct exposure to the weather.

Above all, remember where you put the key!

AT KILLAM AGRIplex

Schools of Flagstaff participated in the annual Cross Country running competition at Killam on Tuesday, October 12th. Mary Lynn Coates of Lougheed School finished first in the Junior High 1,600 metre event in a time of 6:44 and received a gold medal for her efforts. Max Lynn is at left with other team members Patty Grove, Tummy Skoberg, Marian Carter, Vera Borenson and Larry Nawel, coach.

The Junior High boys team from Lougheed School finished fourth in the annual Flagstaff Cross Country competition, held October 14th at Hardisty. Members in the 2,500 metre event were Nolan Lommes, Shane Grove, Jeff Kahler, Michael Tustan and Charlie Smith with Coach Larry Nawel.

Sedgewick Kindergarten visits Irma Hutterite Colony

The 1982-83 Sedgewick Kindergarten year is in full swing. With 33 children registered, it was necessary to divide the class into two groups. Half the children attend Tuesday and Thursday classes and the other half go Wednesday and Friday. This large class requires a full time teacher, Miss Sheren Nasko and an assistant, Miss Brenda Petrowski.

On September 24th, the children and some parents met by bus to the Holt Hutterite Colony near Irma. They saw several kinds of farm animals but the big attraction was the baby pigs.

The children were shown the kitchen with their large cooking appliances and the two eating areas used by the Hutterites. An exciting and interesting day was enjoyed by everyone. Shapes, colours and printing names are a few of the learning concepts being introduced to the children. In gym, "Moosemice" is the big thing. Exercising to Mickey Mouse can be a lot of fun.

October 7th and 8th were "Teddy Bear Days" as each child brought his or her favorite stuffed toy to show. Seems we're off to a busy and interesting year.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 29

Regular meeting of Hardisty Legion Auxiliary cancelled

As there were not enough members for a quorum at the October 4 meeting, of the Hardisty Legion Auxiliary, an executive meeting was held with necessary business.

The date for the school awards night was given as October 30. Members are asked to attend.

The secretary was instructed to order the usual wreath for November 11th. As the permit for the fall rally had not yet been applied for, it was decided to cancel the November 11 rally and have one early in the spring.

The annual donation to the Provincial Hospital Fund was ordered sent in. Meetings will be held at 1:30 in the afternoon for proved. Sadie Marlow gave the financial report which was also approved.

The possibility of a new furnace was discussed, and tabled until later.

The monthly meeting of the United Church Women was held in the afternoon of October 4, in the Christian Education Building. After the opening exercises, Gladys Siebrasse gave the devotional from John 15:1-11. This was an interesting talk on Social Services and Christian Evangelism.

The upcoming turkey supper was discussed at considerable length and also a shower was planned. The fall meeting of the Presbyterian United Church Women will be in the Oyen United Church, October 21. A discussion was held on music books for choir use.

The next meeting will be November 8, at 2 p.m. Recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Anderson were Mrs. Marie Gonzalez of Seattle, Washington; Dr. David Hatcher and fiancée of Edmonton and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hunt of the Mile House, B.C.

Last weekend, Marion Elm was visited by her two daughters, and their daughters. There from Saskatoon were Catherine Linden, her daughter Sherrie and three children and Claudi Williams and her daughter Jan, and two children from Leduc.

Congratulations to Sharon Creasy in the winning of the Heritage Scholarship for highest standing in her third year of nurses' training. We are pleased to see your efforts rewarded in this way. Sharon, and know your fiscal year of training will also be very successful.

Mr. and Mrs. James Nelson of Calgary spent Thanksgiving weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Carl Anderson.

Perhaps we can finally breathe easier over the possibility of having a new hospital built in Hardisty. The official and turning ceremony was held Friday afternoon at the site of the new building.

Best wishes to Maryon and Fred Drager on the celebrating of their 50th wedding anniversary. The opportunity in their honour was held at the Drop in Centre on Sunday and a good crowd of relatives and friends attended to wish them the best.

Alvin Swanson, Duncan

Chapman, and Bill Matthews drove to Red Deer, October 3, to attend the trap shooting event there for National Trap Shooting Day. Alvin won the long yardage handicap; Duncan won high single "A" class and doubles "A" class and Bill won high singles "C" class and doubles "C" class.

While in Red Deer, Bill Matthews visited his brother, Howard in the hospital and found him much improved.

Due to circumstances beyond our control, the installation of "When the Boiler Burns" originally scheduled for last week's printing was not available at the time. Now for a brief review.

As you remember, the school has been waiting impatiently for a boiler to be installed as they have been without heat since the beginning of the school term. A new boiler was dispatched to the factory, when both truck and boiler mysteriously disappeared. At the time of printing, a boiler was reported en route from Toronto to Edmonton. Here are the boiler bulletins posted in the past two weeks.

Boiler to arrive in Edmonton, October 1.

Boiler to arrive in Edmonton, September 30.

Boiler to arrive in Edmonton, October 5, Hardisty, October 6.

By the use of a new and advanced technology in transportation and communication, apparently not available four weeks ago, we now have these astounding announcements.

October 7, Boiler has arrived.

October 8, Boiler being installed.

So by Tuesday, October 12, when the staff and students return to school they hope to touch those mysterious thermostats and say, "Let there be heat," and it shall be so.

Induction service held at Hardisty for Rev. Stephens

On Sunday evening, October 3, members of the Coronation Presbytery joined the congregations of St. Paul's United Church, Hardisty and Hughenden United Church, Arisaak-Hughenden area, for the induction service for Rev. Jack Stephens.

The service was conducted by Rev. Steve Shestak of the Provost-Macklin charge with his wife, Rev. Susan Shestak giving the sermon.

John Mitchell from the Hardisty congregation, read the scripture lesson and the Hardisty choir sang the anthem, "I Wish You Jesus."

George Hobbs, from the Hughenden congregation, escorted Rev. Jack Stephens and his wife, Ann to the front of the church, and presented them to Rev. Shestak to be formally inducted into the ministry of the Hardisty Pastoral Charge.

Rev. Stephens, members of the congregations and members of the Coronation Presbytery pledged to support and work together in the ministry of the communion.

At the close of the service, a delicious lunch was served in the Christian Education Building and a time of fellowship was enjoyed by all.

Jack received his call to the ministry while he was a member of the Whitehorse United Church.

After graduating from Queen's University, he was ordained in Edmonton in 1977. He served in Norman Wells for four months and also in Vancouver for four months.

Jack was minister of Bow Island Pastoral Charge and also served the Poola-Larger Parish. Last year Jack acted as the pulp minister for Riverhead United Church in Edmonton.

Prior to his call to the ministry, Jack worked as an aircraft mechanic and also has ten years experience working with the Canadian Penitentiary Service.

Jack and his wife, Ann moved to Hardisty in June and Jack began his ministry in the Hardisty Pastoral Charge in July of 1982.

A salute to small businesses

Just when Mainstreet Sedgewick businesses thought they had seen the last, another "shattering" experience has happened.

During the Wednesday evening hours of last week, another joy-ride spun his wheels at the Sedgewick Co-op corner.

The result? Another window has "bit the dust."

While most of the town's business section has a "hard" surface, there are exceptions, notably in front of the Co-op where the roadway had to be excavated (again), and loose stones were propelled through the glass entrance door.

The glass was reduced to thousands of fragments.

It has been pointed out to council on several occasions that vehicles are continually making "U" turns at this busy intersection.

The reply has been that until proper signs are erected, offenders cannot be prosecuted under provisions of the Highway Traffic Act.

Be that as it may, most motorists exhibit some form of restraint when committing these "illegal" acts. After an outbreak in early Spring when many business fronts in Sedgewick were pelted by loose gravel from vehicles (some purposely), the "fatality rate" for windows dropped considerably.

A concerted effort by citizens including the Chamber of Commerce, resulted in an investigation

Letters to the Editor

October 12, 1982

Dear Editor:

I can't for the life of me figure out how grain producers are supposed to benefit from the payment of a so-called "Crow Benefit" to either the railways, as the Wheat Pool are asking, or to producers as the Community Coalition is suggesting.

Also, they were hit in the pocket-book as many didn't have glass insurance when the outbreak began. Not only did they have to replace windows but they had to insure themselves at considerable expense, cutting into hard-earned profits.

Difficulties encountered in new watermain construction were mainly responsible for the Main Street surface being in a deplorable state for a considerable length of time, but the business people have held their "cool" extremely well.

We salute the long-suffering Sedgewick merchants especially, during Alberta Small Business Week, October 28-31.

They deserve your patronage as do other local businesses throughout The Community Press and Enterprise coverage areas, not only during this special week, but throughout the year.

In these changing times when the spacious malls of Camrose or Edmonton beckon, don't forget your local business operators.

They contribute to the community in many ways, but paying taxes, providing employment, and just being "good citizens."

What is the government doing to pay the railways, that the amount of money every year, why not just take them over completely? Instead of operating them for a big fat profit, they should be used to benefit development in our area. Farmers could come on paying the Crow rate.

If the government doesn't want some or all of that money to farmers, I know I am going to have to pay more than the amount of the Crow benefit. I'm supposed to get back, because some of them want some of that benefit paid to them!

Rev. H.A. Boyd, once pastor of Knox Church, Kilham and St. Andrews Parsonage from 1925 to 1928 was injured badly in one of the worst car accidents of the season. Rev. Boyd is in the Vermilion Hospital receiving treatment for serious internal injuries. The result was 44 for and 32 against. Both bylaws failed to gain the needed two-thirds majority.

The Sedgewick District Board of Trade held their regular meeting on Monday. The member declared that the "Hardtop Holder" is on October 31. The progress on the Recreational Centre is good. Excavation has commenced. Due to lack of petroleum, the shows for the time being must be discontinued. Another item on the agenda was night policing of the town.

Details were completed last week, whereby Mr. and Mrs. Harry Abbott, popular young couple of Sedgewick, purchased the Gennel Group business and property on Main Street in Sedgewick. Harry Abbott, at present, manages the Gas Station and Mrs. Abbott is employed at the Dairy Pool.

Mr. P.C. Flanagan will be in charge of the Co-operative to handle the cleaning plant in the Village of Sedgewick. A large attendance is earnestly requested.

Longhough had his first trial of the fire siren on Sunday, when fire was discovered in the old buildings and get them destroyed before they get to be too many and they do damage like last spring.

There are four contestants in the Battle River. Mr. Vin-wood is the P.C. candidate and Doug Murray of Sedgewick is representing the democratic party. Camrose lawyer, Lloyd Kesteven, is nominated to carry the Liberal banner; Harry Knut of Camrose is the Conservative candidate and Doug Murray of Sedgewick is representing the democratic party. Alliance Viewpoint

The weather. Merry Christmas no further comment!

Last Tuesday, a meeting on farm water improvements was held at the community hall. Mayor Smith (representative of the community) and councillor (Mayor Fankhoush) were on hand to relay information on the options available to the townspeople in improving the quality and quantity of our water. An underground storage system has been proposed to retire our antiquated tower, including the proposals were given updating techniques, giving a greater capacity to the town's water supply, so that a shortage felt in 1981 would not be repeated.

The entire system is much more complex than I can explain in a few lines. Possibly the most interesting feature is the fact that the government is footing a greater portion of the bill. I likely shouldn't do this to the town fathers and mothers but more information is readily available from the village office or town council.

As I've already mentioned the basement for our new tank has been dug, and the narrowly escaped tragedy at the site one day last week when one of the sand-bags broke was discussed and it covers you. The pickups on main street along the hole. After seeing no one injured, Wayne Cameron casually declared that the bank has received the first deposit.

I was very pleased to hear that the County of Flagstaff has taken in over $18,000 in cancer donations in the year's time. A great vote of thanks to all the people who so willingly collect all year and during the cancer drive month as well.

Dale has been nooning around the country again and tells me Bill and Karen Stoner's lovely new log-cabin is looking great. It's one thing to be proud of your new house, Bill, but aren't you getting a little "over-zealous"? Bill tried to nail his head to the domain with a spike.

Art Peacock journeyed to San Francisco for a regular eye check up. We sincerely hope the results are as good again as they were last time, Art.

It looks as though the services may not be necessary this year, but keep it in mind for the next harvest. Peter Spady is not one to trust fancy new-fangled gadgets, so rather than argue with the grain dryer dealer, he merely perches himself in the middle of his field and goes observing. Do you suppose he's been working with his cattle too long?

Jack Bateman's cousin from Bowden was visiting the Bateman's last week enroute to Saskatoon. The cousin is the Bowden rancher and has ever-so-many interesting stories to tell about his field and goes observing. Do you suppose he's been working with his cattle too long?

Curious conditions inside our prisons. He feels the reason behind the poverty that's beeping up a double fence around the Drumheller Institute is not to keep the prisoners in but to keep them out.

Congratulations to Ken and Penny Steadman, who became newweds in Sedgewick on Friday May 19th. The marriage be filled with love and laughter.

Comie Allen of Edmonton was home for a week visiting her parents, Stan and Denise Smith while busy by Perry was away working in Fort McMurray. Once a small town girl always a small town girl. Come see the following article written by Jack Tennant and published in the Edmonton Sun, and everyone from a small town can identify with the banker and his wife, Denise Arner. Nothing like the spot on loan transactions?

Affectionate visitors in Irene Baird one day last week were Peter and Mary Lindblade Sedgewick and Elizabeth Shipton of Red Deer. I trust that uncle Peter and his "mama" journey home!

Welcome to Lloyd and Ruth Pearson, who have now taken up residence in the former Otto Johnson-Cum-noddy home. It's high time you people know where you belonged. Betty Nelson is being the housewife in the Connorside family while they are awaiting taking up residence in Camrose.

Dot Morgan
Visiting mother Mrs. Gert Peltier and family of Calgary.

We got our second taste of the weather today. It's here to stay. Hope most people got used with their harvesting. Some I know did not. It was a real bad snowstorm, for those that had to be out in it. I know it took some time to get back to Edmonston. The main thing was to get safely back.

Visiting parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Morgan on the weekend were Mrs. Doug Morgan, Mrs. Linda Weisgerber, and Tammy and Mr. Terry Dunlap. Doug Morgan came down during the week and managed to finish up his harvest. The weather was so great last week Doug and Fern on Sunday helped Mrs. Rene Brausen of Heiler move to her new home in Edmonston.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Herman Erickson and family was Betty's mom, Mrs. Webster of Vancouver, B.C.

Congratulations to Mr. Dennis Rasterah and Miss Val Schuster who recently became engaged. What a nice birthday gift, Val, so congratulations and happy birthday Val.

Mr. Wayne Fossen and Mr. Brian Tisdale of Edmonston spent the weekend with parents Mr. and Mrs. Mel Fossen and Mr. and Mrs. Dave Frencha and girls.

Congratulations to Mr. Kevin Kinner and Miss Chris Grant who recently became engaged.

Master Corporal Don Fossen of Cold Lake Base spent the weekend with parents Mr. and Mrs. Allen Fossen and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Len Walker of Edmonston were visitors with dad, Mr. Syd Walker and Mr. and Mrs. Craig Lawson. Mr. and Mrs. Craig Lawson's 15th birthday party was held on October 15th. Happy birthday Syd, and many more.

The president of Rebechak Assembly of Alberta, Mrs. Edith Whipple of Pincher Creek visited the Killam Rebechak Lodge and was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Lawson.

Mr. and Mrs. Brian Kozicki and boys of Edmonston were weekend visitors with mother, Mrs. Jean Bonar and family.

Misses Pat and Teresa Kueber of Edmonston were visitors with parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eric Kueber and family.

Mrs. Jean Hardy of Montrose, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Hagen of Calgary, and Mr. and Mrs. Marla Fossen of Russell, some 1000 visitors with Mrs. Judith Erickson of the Sedgewick Lodge.

Thanksgiving visitors with parents, Mr. and Mrs. Laurent Basterah and family were Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Basterah, Mr. Gary Basterah, Mr. Dennis Basterah and Miss Val Schuster of Edmonston and Mr. and Mrs. Jacques Basterah and daughter of Sedgewick.

I notice one of the little Co-op store cashiers sporting a new diamond. Congratulations to Mr. Rick Fossen and Miss Kathy Bredie who recently became engaged.

Mr. Bill Lawson of Edmonston was a recent visitor with parents, Mr. and Mrs. Craig Lawson. Bill was helping parents celebrate their birthdays. They're both 39 and holding.

Mr. and Mrs. Vern Erickson, Cindy Erickson, and Mrs. Margaret Gibb, Mrs. Helen Gibb, and Mrs. Judith Erickson spent Thanksgiving with Mr. and Mrs. Greg Clark at Lougheed.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Ramona of Calgary who spent two weeks in Las Vegas. Mr. and Mrs. David Bonar of Port St. John, B.C. were recent visitors with parents, Jean Bonar and family and Mr. and Mrs. George Spiller and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Rule of Hinton were recent visitors with friends and relatives.

Mr. Len Larson of Hinton is visiting his family the Bruce Gairs, Doug Bowles and Greg Fredericks.

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Camp of Uppar Fraser returned home on Sunday. They and children spent a week before giving a hand at harvest. Ivy also had the misfortune of spraining her ankle. The whole family of Bob McGowan came home and gave a hand trying to keep their father from doing too much, after having surgery in an Edmonston hospital.

Visitors to the Seiferman home were Betty and Joe Penders and their daughter, Diane from Goodfellow, Sask. Also Mrs. Mary Gargl and Roxanne Seiferman from Edmonston.

The Bob McGowan's have not only an excellent crop of Russian potatoes, a potato shaped like a rhinoceros weighed five pounds, one potato was shaped like a duck.

Laura Cullen, Mrs. Margaret Silzman has returned home after visiting her children in Calgary, Hinton and Grande Cache for seven weeks.

We had a Dr. Frank Corvill of Camdoun billed at our home this past week. He attended the Creative Writers Workshop and thoroughly enjoyed our town.

Ed Hampshire, Doug Foster, Ed Borth and Jim Baker of Sedgewick attended Men's Conference at Banff last weekend.

Ethel DeMaure of Granum has spent a few days with her sister-in-law, Adele Young.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Wainwright of Edmonston called at the Bill George home last Friday afternoon.

Monday night supper guests with Eddie and Joan Borth were Jack and Mary Bateman on their way home from Carleton Place.

Visitors at the Clarence Peterson home this past week were Clarence's brother and his wife, the Glen Peterson's of Summerland, and Helen's brother and wife Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dart of Glaston, Sask. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cogan from Windsor, Ontario and Mr. and Mrs. Talmage of Camrose.

Visiting with John and Dorothy Falcate were John's mother, Mrs. Jean Ward and her husband from Rochester, also John's sister and husband, Marge and Jim McPherson from Melfort.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Maier and Mrs. C. Maier of Ashley, North Dakota, cousins of the Wegmanas are visiting the relatives in Killam and Forestburg area.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Bateman of Bowden were overnight guests with John and Ed Borth on Sunday.

Mrs. Jean Haight of St. Albert visited her mother, Roger Manning, Elaine and Randy Fox of Edmonston in the Salmon run at Adams Lake this past weekend.

Robert and Janet Borth Lodge.

visited Judy and John Perdue and family at McLaughlin on Saturday.

Mrs. Jean Haight of St. Albert visited her mother, Roger Manning, Elaine and Randy Fox of Edmonston in the Salmon run at Adams Lake this past weekend.

Robert and Janet Borth Lodge.

Roger and Shirley and Sheila Erickson, and Charlie the dog, of Edmonston visited Mrs. Wendy St. Moore, Ron Fee, David Duncan, Mark Huckle, Bill Knudsen, and Wendy St. Moore on Saturday. The girls went to Devon for a tournament. The girls lost to the north-Idaho to Camrose while the boys won three of their eight games.

On Friday night, Mr. Brenneke and several students held a volleyball workshop for the Sedgewick Public Junior High. This session was very well attended.

Seven of the nine runners have advanced to the provincial competition on Saturday, October 23.

Of special note are the second place finish of Bonnie Bagdan, and the third place finish of David Duncan. We wish these runners

At the end of this week, cross-country students receive their first set of report cards. Tuesday, October 26 has been set as Parent-Teacher Interview Day. All parents are invited to visit the teachers to discuss their child's progress. It is important to our students that parents and teachers work together toward the common goal of educational success.

Since last week's column we have received a NAIT enrolment print-out listing Central students enrolled in NAIT programs. These are last year's graduates are enrolled in NAIT programs, but in total, eighteen former Central students, are enrolled in NAIT for the 1982-83 term. It is indeed true that many students continue their education several years after high school graduation.

This past week also received a list of Central graduates who will receive Alexander Halliday Scholarship from the Heritage Trust fund. Eleven Central graduates will receive a total of $7,000.00 of educational success. Wheat Kings taste defeat

Killam Junior "B" Wheat Kings got their first taste of competition at Hobbema on Friday night and came out on the losing end of a 4-1 score.

A club spokesman said however that Hobbema had been skating since August and that the Killam effort was credited under these circumstances.

The roster is now down to about 27 players from the 75 who turned up at training camp on October 8 and 9.

First home game for the Killam team in the Central Alberta League is on Sunday afternoon, October 31.

Rebekah's meet at Lougheed

Amical happy faces and a jovial atmosphere surrounded Rebekah Lodge opened in form Wednesday evening, October 13. There were four team members present, N.G. Sis. Derrah was in the chair.

Members were sorry to learn that Sis. Kneeland was hospitalized, but were pleased to know that Mr. Butler and Mr. Hiet were progressing favourably.

It was decided to order Rebekah crests. The members moved to send the required sum to support the Pilgrimage for Youth.

As many members as possible will attend the District Meeting to be held in Killam Post D.D.P. Sis. Ida Mae Black installed Sis. Carol Butcher as conductor.

After Penny Drill it was the member's pleasure to serve Sis. Black for having passed another milestone.

Lodge closed in harmony, followed by a delicious lunch prepared by Sisters Beaton and Denham. There will be a tea and bazaar on November 6, but even before that comes the next meeting on October 27.

Mrs. Margaret Denham has been quite busy with the Thanksgiving weekend with visitors. Betty and Joe Tridler of Dauphin and Jean and Alf Blumhagen of Galt were visiting their mother.

Mrs. Agnes Wright had her daughter, Joan home from Edmonton also Jim was taking a little rest from harvest. Also Andy and Olive Grievie's home was a busy place too, with all the relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Angus Grievie have returned home to Swift Current, after visiting with all these relatives. By all reports, they all had a wonderful visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Barker of Edson were here on the weekend visiting with Vivian's mother, Mrs. Essie Drager and brother, Robert, and Shirley Drager and family, also other relatives.

On Saturday, October 15, the "Fan Van" went to Fort Saskatchewan for the first league game of the Red Deer Midjet. Chiefs. Red Deer came out on top 7-4. Lorne and Barb Cox of Killam, Randy and Diane Johnson and family, Gary and Kay and Lisa Cox of Lougheed, all went to the game where they met up with Mrs. Margaret Cox and Mary Jane of Evergreen Noble Park. Mr. and Mrs. Bill Peters were busy on Thanksgiving weekend. Mattie's son, Tony and his bride, Alana Pelan from Edmonton, then Bill's sister, Helen and husband, George Vanley of Abbotsford, B.C. were there. They also visited with Mr. and Mrs. Abe Peters in Sedgewick.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Probst had all their families here for Thanksgiving. Bob and Valda Piro and son, Shaun, Margaret Ann and David from Silverwood Park, Gary, Sharon and daughter, Erica also Gary's brother, David of Whitecourt, and Doug, Janet, Kreshka, Vanessa and Jason, also Molly Feneough.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Beaton, Kelly and Mark of Carleton were home for the Thanksgiving weekend at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Garry Bessie.

Mrs. Minnie Johnson and Mr. Bill Whitehead of Armstrong, B.C. visited Mrs. Essie Drager on Wednesday. It was not possible for Essie to get dinner because she was in the middle of cleaning of her home, so the three went to Bill's Cafe for dinner. After their dinner, they went for a drive to visit the Drager's at Hardisty. Upon their return in late afternoon, they came home to find Mrs. Kari Eide, Mrs. Dolly Parker of Pt. St. John, B.C., Mrs. Brita Birchill and Molly Feneough also Edna, Tindall sitting in Essie's kitchen enjoying a cup of tea. What a surprise!

Plans made for Gretna Club 60th anniversary

Gretna Goodwill Club met at Mary Albrecht's on October 13 with 11 members present.

The president welcomed all to the meeting and Helen O'Reilly gave a reading about Thanksgiving.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. The Club's 60th Anniversary is to be held at Bellahall on Sunday, July 17, 1983 at 2 p.m.

The annual appeal from U.S.C. was read and after a lengthy discussion, it was decided to drop this project and we will donate $10 to the Bethany Children's Home at Gwynne, instead.

Correspondence was read and it consisted of thank you cards from Marlene Simpson, Christine Armstrong, and Helen O'Reilly. There was also a lovely letter from the Eddie Powell's telling of their golden wedding anniversary, which they celebrated last June. A bake sale was planned for Saturday, October 30.

In the Sedgewick Coop Store, Mary Norbough tried to make a cake, which will be raffled at the same time.

Helen Sutherland gave an interesting reading entitled "The First Service".

Hetty Cameron won the hostess prize and Melba Cameron won the "lucky tea cup" prize.

A good visit was had over the coffee cups and Rita Jones invited everyone to her house for the next meeting on Tuesday, November

9. The roll call is "Bring a friend along".

International Credit Union Day..

..a World of Ideas at Your Credit Union.

International Credit Union Day—a day when the credit union family can look beyond day-to-day business of delivering financial services to reflect on a proud history and a promising future.

Credit Unions are not ordinary commercial institutions, operating for private gain. Since more than a century ago to meet urgent needs, credit unions have spread around the world because of the principle of people pooling their resources to share in the benefits.

On International Credit Union Day, October 21st, you can join more than eighty-three million members of the credit union family in celebrating a world of ideas at your credit union.

News from the Sedgewick Council

At the October 14th meeting of Sedgewick Council, Pat Cameron, was appointed as the new town-wide representative on the Sedgewick Library Board. Pat fills the vacancy left by the passing of Lucette Hebert.

There is a book drop now in the Town Office so that library books may be returned when the library is closed.

The resignation of C.B. Robertson, was accepted for the position of Sedgewick representative on the Flagstaff-Hughenden Hospital Board and Flagstaff Auxiliary Hospital No. 20 Board. Mr. Wendell Badry has been appointed to fill the vacancy.

There have been a number of water hook-ups done and improved water pressure seems to be the main concern by the users.

The storm sewer project has been completed and the ensuing street paving should be done soon.

We wish to thank the people of Sedgewick for being so patient during the street repaving. We'll reap the reward in the Spring!

The annual organizational meeting of Sedgewick Town Council was held following the regular council meeting with the following appointments resulting:

Labour, streets and sidewalks, Mayor Koehl, Cr. Jeanvieve.
Fire, welfare, sanitation, and ambulance, Cr. Hebert, Cr. Strobel.
Recreation, parks and playgrounds, Cr. Poyser, Cr. MacGregor.
Battle River Regional Planning Commission, Mayor Koehl, Alternate Cr. MacGregor.

Battle River Tourist Association, W.J. Badry; alternate, Cr. Offord.

Kilam-Sedgewick Airport, Mayor Koehl and Cr. MacGregor.
Sedgewick-Kilam natural gas system - Mayor Koehl and Cr. Hebert, Cr. Strobel.

Flagstaff-Hughenden Hospital Board, and Flagstaff Auxiliary Hospital No. 20 Board, W.J. Badry.

Sedgewick and District Library Board, Cr. MacGregor, alternate, Cr. Offord.

Solid Waste Management, Mayor Koehl.

Meeting dates for council meetings will remain as the second and fourth Thursdays at 7:30 p.m.

Talk to someone close to you

Over the years we've been growing throughout Alberta and we've been growing with Alberta. And that means you'll not only find a Treasury Branch agency close to you, but you'll find the kind of friendly, personal attention and the wide range of financial services that keeps you growing.

And when you think about it, that's a pretty good reason to come in and talk to us. We're Treasury Branches. We're close to you.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Sparrow, son Perry and Kevin Martin along with Mr. and Mrs. Ed Nordstrom of Prince George, B.C., visited Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sparrow in Edmonton on Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Jim Roddie and Murray visited at the home of Mrs. Eva Aitcheon last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Metz and Darren moved on the weekend to their new home which overlooks the Golf Course in the new subdivision. Daughter Shelley (Mrs. Werle) of Edmonton spent the weekend with them in the move.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Harwood and infant daughter of Mission, B.C. were weekend visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Jewery. Mrs. Harwood is George's niece.

Mrs. Madge Davison returned from Newfoundland through the Maritimes to Toronto. She was accompanied on the trip by Mrs. Mary Dempsey of Weymouth. Mrs. Davison's weekend afternoon Carley party was not held last week, respect to the memory of Mr. and Mrs. Martha McBride.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Anderson and Kerry accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Claude Piche and children to Edmonton for the day on Saturday.

The sympathy of the community is expressed to Mr. John McBride and family on the death last week of Mrs. Martha McBride. Martha had been in ill health for some time and was in Dayland Hospital where she was waiting to go to Edmonton for surgery when she passed away. The funeral was conducted by the Rev. Canon Richard Conrad at the Anglican Church at 3 p.m. on Saturday, October 16th. Interment was in the Sedgewick Cemetery. Friends and relatives gathered at the home of Mrs. Lily McBride for the lunch and fellowship afterwards. Martha was a familiar figure at the home of Mrs. Eva Aitcheon last week.

There were five tables of Norwegian Wild players at the Senior Citizens Drop in Centre on Friday evening. Mrs. Ruth Eriksson and Mr. Ludvik Arntsen won prizes for the highest scores.

Consolation awards were presented to Mrs. Gunda Storabakken, who was tied with Mrs. Ida Black but won on a tie of the cards.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Kloss, Brett, and most of them are staying there. Our very best wishes for a complete recovery go to Brett.

Get well wishes to Mrs. Stina Knudsen, who is still a patient in Kilham Hospital. And to all our local folks who are in hospital.

Since I've just found out that my phone is not working, I guess that'll be all the news for this week as I'm not wandering out to find anyone in this weather. Snow and mud will get along too well.

Sedgewick Minor Hockey organizes

Sedgewick Minor Hockey held an organizational meeting, on October 14, with about a dozen parents in attendance.

The 1983-84 executive is as follows: president, Brian Bernard, Secretary, Fran Anderson; treasurer, Ken Baird.

To date there is only one full team which is the 8 coffee shop and she will be coached by Brian Bernard as assistant coach.

The following teams desperately need players, coaches and assistant coaches, in Centre and under 12 and under 14 and under: if you are 16 and under, contact Roy Roddie. He is looking into forming a mid-level team, plus a coach is needed.

All minor hockey registration fees are $5.00 per player and must be paid by December 1st, 1983 to the players coach.

On October 29, in the evening, there will be a league and management seminar at Sedgewick Rec Centre at no charge. All coaches and managers affiliated with hockey are asked to attend and Jim Tindall is in charge.

On November 13, the A.A.H.A. is sponsoring a Coaching Clinic at Hardisty at no charge. This clinic is for coaches and goalkeepers of 16 and under. Contact Roy Roddie for more information and a swap and sell sale. Everyone is urged to bring their own attire.

Sedgewick Chamber told:

Small Business - 'Backbone of Country'

The Federal Business Development Bank is pleased to work with Sedgewick Chamber of Commerce, particularly in the promotion of small business which remains the backbone of this country, Gordon Petersen, said Tuesday evening in an address to members of Sedgewick Chamber.

Speaking in promotion of Small Business Week, October 25th, Mr. Petersen, assistant manager of the Edmonton branch, outlined the history of the FBDB and offered to provide a seminar in Sedgewick at a later date.

He emphasized that the lending institution is not in competition with the private sector, and in response to a question by Leif Osbak said operating funds are not government money, but are borrowed on the open market the same as charter banks and the going rate is set. Guidelines, however, are set by the federal ministry of industry, trade and commerce.

Because the FBDB "usually takes more of a chance," losses are higher and it has to affect our rates," explained Mr. Petersen.

He admitted that because of deteriorating economic conditions the lending institution had "a dismount" last three years.

He related statistics showing that 55 percent of loans are less than $10,000 and are made to the wholesale and retail sector, while 22 percent of loans are made to tourist-oriented businesses.

There is no maximum or minimum to loans, Mr. Petersen said, stating that a prime example of one of the larger ventures is Wardair Airlines. Sometimes loans of $2,000 can be made if the funds aren't available elsewhere.

The speaker said the FBDB formed in 1975, is the successor to the Industrial Development Bank formed in 1944 as a subsidiary of the Bank of Canada, and that there had been many changes since that time.

Explaining guidelines for loans, he pointed out that owner's investment in a business "has to be reasonable," FBDB security is basically in the capability of management, and that the bank has the capability to guarantee loans or accept equity if it is a unique type of business.

Since the FBDB isn't in competition with any other lenders, he said rates are usually higher. The lending institution isn't involved with financing for houses or apartments.

Through its management services program the FBDB provides counselling, assists in setting up businesses and businesses in difficulty can be operated as efficiently as possible.

Bookkeeping systems can also be set up for owners and operators of a single business.

Twenty different seminars are available, Mr. Petersen said.

A business management program designed to improve management skills - a Turn back your clock

Our days have been becoming considerably "shorter" as far as daylight is concerned, and this Sunday, we will "lose" another hour.

For those of us who haven't been consumed by apathy, we are requested to turn our clocks back one hour after midnight as we return to Daylight Standard Time from Daylight Saving Time.

Remember-Spring Forward, Fall Back.

Dale Erickson, Superintendent of Education for Flagstaff County Board of Education has resigned his position, effective the end of January. He will be an executive assistant with the Alberta School Trustees Association.

A native of Killam, Mr. Erickson has served the Flagstaff jurisdiction for nearly 19 years. He taught at Strome and Dayland and came to the Flagstaff county office as a reading consultant.

He was Deputy Superintendent, then Acting Superintendent for one year, being appointed Superintendent in 1980, replacing Al Cleveland.

Mr. Erickson and wife, Pat have two children, daughter, Stephanie and son, Chris.

He took an active part in promoting minor hockey in Sedgewick.

At Strome

Want municipal building as a Historic site

Council of the Village of Strome can live with the fact that the quiet building which has served as a municipal building since 1911 has had its day, but it is perturbed that the provincial government hasn't seen fit to declare it a historical site.

The present small quarters which have served as an administrator's office, council chamber and Treasury Branch will be closed in about a month's time, to be replaced by a double-wide which will be located across the Main Street, next to the Memorial Hall.

Mayor Jim Cranman said council has been unable to secure government funding to preserve it as a historical site, although a government historical committee had visited the site and at the time indicated the municipal building was a "prime candidate" for such a designation.

"We were supposed to get an answer by the end of July but it was the end of August when we received our reply, stating the building didn't qualify" stated an embittered Mayor Cranman.

In its time, the building also served as a fire hall and it still contains the original fire cells.

As he looked over plans for the new building, Mayor Cranman said the structure needed renovating, it had no water or sewer, it is small also hard to heat.

Another deficiency was a sinking floor, remarked the mayor, pointing to a sinking floor in one corner.

About two months ago a safe was taken from the Treasury Branch portion of the building in a night robbery, changing the front of the building.

Contained in the new double-wide will be the Village of Strome office, a Treasury Branch sub-office operated by Pat Leach "and two other offices."

Swans are a beautiful sight to see but they have a habit of landing in areas where they cannot be easily observed by those who appreciate nature. This picture was taken on Thursday, near Sedgewick, where the swans had been stopped for a few days on their way South. Then we had snow on Sunday. Birds and animals are sometimes smarter than humans.

Only good can come from Alberta election

While party leaders in the upcoming November 2nd Alberta election are putting on a "show" for the electorate, we get the impression down here at the grassroots level, that people aren't that excited.

Perhaps it's because Premier Lougheed has such a smooth election machine (the PCs are even approving projects in-between times), that the majority of Albertans have conceded him another term in office before the fact.

The Heritage Fund has proven to be quite a plank in the arsenal of all parties, but perhaps the electors are sophisticated enough that they don't believe everything they see or hear.

The Community Press and Enterprise coverage are being primarily rural, it is highly probable that farmers in the three ridings haven't even had time to think about anything except completing their harvest.

And even if the farmers have all the grain in their bins, the long-shoremen's strike in British Columbia poses quite a worry. They need cash in their pockets and Russia and Japan need the grain.

At the moment, perhaps settlement of this strike is a priority in many electors' minds. Thousands of others, notably railway workers have been served lay-off notices, and also affected.

Hardly anyone was impressed by Prime Minister Pierre's three-part speech on television, which offered no solutions to our economic woes.

But besides being a "whipping boy" the federal government does come in handy. Premiers Bennett and Lougheed are among those in the front row, urging the Liberals to legislate the B.C. grain handlers back to work, and there is a strong possibility this legislation will be enacted soon after Parliament convenes October 27th.

Then the farmers are worried about the possibility that Agriculture Minister Whelan will "force" the bill through, implementing CANAGREX as the all-encompassing agency for the marketing of farm commodities. Others say that if this new federal agency was in place, the present serious situation in B.C. wouldn't have happened.

Times are tough in Alberta - no denying that. Economists say recovery from this recession will be a slow process.

Premier Lougheed's decision to call a fall election instead of waiting until Spring appears to be a wise political move - because this winter may be devastating to many businesses and family units.

At least there have been enough political plumes dangled in front of us so that only good can come as a result of this election.

Don't forget to vote, each individual is a large part of our democratic process.

Work experience program emphasized by Chamber

As part of its endorsement of Alberta Small Business Week, October 25-31, Sedgewick Chamber of Commerce has come out emphatically in support of the Student Work Experience Program which is offered at Central High School in Sedgewick, and at Foreburg and Dryden high schools.

President Phillips states that this year the emphasis is on the participation of women in the work force, and on the opportunities available to youth in the community.

The Sedgewick Chamber president reports that in essence, Alberta Small Business Week is a first in Canada as well as the first time that government, business organizations, Chambers and consultants have worked together in a positive and constructive way on a project of this kind.

In an interview with teaching personnel at Central High, Jack Sparrow, joint work experience coordinator with Dennis Chalk, complimented businesses that have been approached for their "super co-operation."

Sparrow pointed out that the prime purpose of the program which has been in existence at Central High for at least ten years, is to provide participants with work experience they normally don't receive, and the opportunity to see if they like or dislike the situation. Principal McIntyre just remarked that "quite a few get a full-time job as a result of their work experience."

Strome news

The community was shocked to hear of the sudden death of Tuesday, October 19 at 10 a.m. at his home.

The funeral was held on Friday afternoon at 2 p.m. at the Elks Hall with burial in the Daysland Cemetery. The hall was stayed over with friends to pay their last respects to him. Our sympathy goes to his wife, Hilda and Ernie and to the rest of the family.

A large crowd from near and far attended the St. Paul's United Church turkey supper, catered by the U.C.W. on Sunday afternoon.

Congratulations to the newlyweds, Jerome Hill of Hender and Wanda Bell of Strome who were married on Saturday, October 23 in the Catholic Church.

Strom visitors at the Tuxedo Blake home were Mrs. Strome, Mrs. Mel and Ann Johnson returned home on Friday after spending three weeks at the home of their daughter, Sharon and Nancy. Gail came over from the island to spend Thanksgiving day with them.

Anglican Church news

speaking of Halloween, the pastor would like to know by phone, letter, carrier pigeon or whatever, just what you think of Halloween in general and Halloween on a Sunday evening in particular.

Ladies' Aid will be holding a coffee social on Sunday, October 31, at 2 p.m. at the parish hall in Sedgewick.

Greg and Margaret Martin were recent visitors to Sedgewick to repair Greg's broken glasses and get Margaret's hair styled.

Best wishes go out to Ned Butler and to Mr. and Mrs. Ben Weber in Kilham.

St. John's A.C.W. met on October 5 in Sedgewick Parish Hall with Pat Zwick hostess. Among topics discussed were the Church's position on abortion and education and the undesirability of showing previews of restricted adult films at family movies.

The date for the annual A.C.W. tea, bazaar and bake sale at the Parish Hall in Sedgewick was set.

News from Killam

LAURA COTTON
Congratulations to Kathy and Doug Fee of Innisfail on their chosen son, Russell Charles, weighing 7 pounds, 9 ounces on October 8. A brother for Bill, Proud grandparents are Edna and Edward Fee.

Fuzzy and Irene Posen spent the weekend in Hinton with Jack, Marg, Shirley and Dale Cotton families.

Myron and Monique Cranton and family were visitors with the Dave Cramons.

Clarence and Jessie Hayes of Lacombe visited with Marguerite Gibb this past weekend.

Seven of our senior citizens were offered a bus ride from Alliance Senior Citizens to Edmonton to view the Muttart Conservatory but at Camrose the bus broke down. How lucky had a real good time anyway.

Ruth and Wayne Fritchard are home again after visiting Miss Alice Cook at Kelowna, B.C.

The Dave Cramons spent Sunday in Edmonton with relatives.

Harold and Laura Cotton were in Regina with their daughter, Marilyn and husband, Alan Gill for several days lately.

Lucy Gebbick and Joan Schell spent Saturday in Wainwright visiting Joan's sister who teaches there.

Elaine and Claude visited with Honey Curtis of Strathcona last Wednesday afternoon.

Mildred Trico is home again after visiting with her parents, the Brownings at Provost for a few days.

Congratulations to Linda and Rick Kay (nee Sorken) on the arrival of a son on October 15, weighing 8 pounds, 11 ounces in Calgary. They will name him

Russell James, a brother for Elana and Steven.

The Nickerson's of Daysland and the Cramons ordered to Lacombe last Thursday.

Ken and Louise Grant were out to Williams Lake to see their son, Blair, who plays hockey there.

Killam Indians entry in the senior Beaver Hill Hockey League will consist of a combination of local players supplemented by players with experience in higher hockey ranks. The trio of Jim Crosson, Barry Briggley and netminder Tim Thomlinson shown with team president Alan Frederick, along with homebodies such as Mike Kuebler, Kim Friedrich, Wayne Grant and Joe Spiller give playing coach Dallas Ellsby the size and mobility that he is seeking. The Indians hosted Camrose College on Tuesday night and their home opener in the Beaver Hill League is on Tuesday, November 8th.

Killam ACW Bibles sent to India

The October meeting of St. George's A.C.W. was held at the home of Dorothy Bricker.

A letter was read, informing us, that our Bibles for October were sent to India. Part of the A.C.W. newsletter was read, to its length it was decided to let members read it at home.

Plans were made to hold a shower in the Legion Hall on November 19 for Cathy Lemay.

The members decided to cater to the Legion banquet again this year, and the menu was discussed and planned.

Dorothy Pelgate was appointed to buy a gift and present it to Cathy Lemay for the baby's christening.

The meeting closed with prayer. A delicious lunch was served by the hostess.

Sedgewick may get satellite TV by Christmas

If RSTV licence is approved by the end of November, the Town of Sedgewick could have satellite television on the test basis "before Christmas," so stated President George Quilty at the October 18 Chamber of Commerce meeting.

New Quilty reported that Russell Sedgewick also hopes to have a 30 to 40 foot antenna by that time and potential subscribers would receive free service for a one to two month trial period so that equipment purchased in the United States could be tested under Alberta winter conditions.

Past President Vic Albert added that RSTV hopes to obtain approval from the CRTC for American channels "by the end of October."

In a previous report, Mayor Ernie Koehl said the storm was on 4th Street, west of Main Street is working satisfactorily.

Further Education
Carol McDermott
Residents of the County of Playfair have responded to the Further Education courses being offered this fall.

Bertha Randa has some great things going on in Alliance: the Color It Four Life course has mushroomed into three.

Jo McCarroll at Daysland, needs more students in Intermediate Ceramics, and also in Oil Painting for Pleasure. Please register with Jo now. Practical bookkeeping will be offered in Forestburg starting in early November. This will include ledgers and trial balance, double entry system, financial statements, payroll, inventory, accounts receivable, etc. Please contact Fran or Margaret immediately.

Knitting and crocheting has started in Galahad, and the joys of Color Decorating will be starting in November.

The Piano for Adults course being offered in Killam and Loughheed are both in need of more students. If these cannot be filled locally, the two courses will have to be combined and offered in Sedgewick. So if you are interested in a novel and fun way of learning to play piano, get in touch with June or Vernon as soon as possible.

The sewing class in Hardisty had to be cancelled due to lack of registrations. If you have ideas for courses for the winter season, please get in touch with Dorothy Vainkiste.

Sedgewick courses are "alive and well." Ideas for the winter brochure are beginning to trickle in to my office. Please get your course requests to your contact persons before November 15th, as the brochure will be coming out in December.

During that thoroughfare would have been complete if there had been three more days of good weather. He said, however, that this work will be done when the weather clears up.

The mayor reported that 33 people are now hooked up to the new water system and that they are "satisfied with the water pressure" which allows them to turn on all the water faucets in a house without losing water pressure.

An other well water system deteriorate, they can be hooked up, explained the mayor. "We have a home," stated President Quilty, taking Chamber members that of these require it.

Flagstaff Cancer Society year is success

The Canadian Cancer Society Flagstaff Unit No. 18 held its annual meeting on October 14.

Fred Griffin from Edmonton office attended and conveyed greetings and congratulations from District on a successful year.

President, L.J. MacPherson received the committee annual reports.

Barbara Kunt gave the treasurer's report. It was a very successful year surpassing objectives in both memorials and campaign donations. Donations to the Terry Fox campaign were received and forwarded to headquarters.

Shirley Swanson reported from the education committee. Shirley is endeavouring to get information kits into all the schools. L.J. MacPherson and Shirley Swanson are attending the Education Seminar in Edmonton on November 5th and 6th.

Campaign Chairperson, Jean Johnson gave a detailed report on the canvass from each town and expressed sincere thanks to the area captains in each town.

Midge Jervoy reported memorial donations were up this year over last.

Evelyn Meer reported on patient services. Mrs. Meer is the contact person for cancerous and patient services.

President - L.J. MacPherson reported that Campaign Chairperson, Jean Johnson; Director Gerry Hansen and President L.J. MacPherson attended the annual meeting and campaign conference in Calgary in February.

The Information Seminar for the April campaign was held in Hardisty, March 5th. This meeting was very well attended. L.J. thanked the executive, directors, campaign and memorial canvassers.

Killam Separate School News

What do you know? The camera didn't break last Wednesday when the school pictures were taken.

Just before the photographer arrived, the students had a film and a small talk about Multiple Sclerosis by Miss Loder from Edmonton. Almost all of the students then joined in the fund-raising read-a-thon.

94 to 35 - that was the score of the football game on the 18th. Our Junior High had challenged the Public School Junior High to a game after school. Public school won after a great game. Good try, guys.

I would like to remind all the parents of our children on the 29th at the school. The students will provide entertainment after the dinner. The purpose of this dinner is to provide a link between the school, church, home and community.

Last week, meals were filled with curiosity when a large bus arrived at the school. Later we saw that it was an "apple computer." There is now a possibility that after Christmas, a computer course will be available to the junior high students.

CANADA SAVINGS BONDS

12%
FIRST YEAR

THE NEW SERIES

New Canada Savings Bonds earn 12% interest the first year. And after the first year, bondholders are guaranteed a minimum rate of at least 8 1/4% for each of the next six years. Even if interest rates drop, you will never receive less than this minimum return on your Bonds.

Canada Savings Bonds not only guarantee a worthwhile return on your money, but they also provide other benefits that help make them one of the most convenient and effective investments you can find.

MAKE SAVING EASIER

You can purchase Canada Savings Bonds with a simple cash payment or through installments. And if you have the Payroll Savings Plan where you work, the Bonds are available through convenient deductions from each paycheck. Canada Savings Bonds are available in amounts as low as $100, up to the purchase limit of $35,000.

SECURE AND FLEXIBLE

Canada Savings Bonds are a secure investment, and they also give you flexibility where it counts most. Should the need arise, your new Canada Savings Bonds can be cashed anytime. Prior to December 31, 1982, you will receive the full face value of your Bonds. After that date, you will receive full face value, as well as all interest earned from November 1, 1982.

2 WAYS TO EARN INTEREST

Canada Savings Bonds offer you a choice of Regular Interest Bonds, which pay interest annually, and Compound Interest Bonds, which earn interest on your interest automatically.

ON SALE OCTOBER 25

New Canada Savings Bonds go on sale Monday, October 25. Up to and including November 8, 1982, you can purchase your Bonds without having to pay accrued interest. They can be purchased from any authorized sales agent, including banks, investment dealers, stock brokers, trust companies and credit unions.

But don't wait too long. Please remember that the sale of this year's Series may be discontinued at any time.

CONTINUE TO EARN WITH THE BONDS YOU HAVE NOW

The Canada Savings Bonds you already own are still worth holding on to. For the year beginning November 1, 1982, the rate on all unmaturing Bonds has been increased to 12% from the 10 1/4% minimum promised last year. The minimum rate for each subsequent year until maturity remains at 10 1/4%.

Bonds issued from 1977 on benefit from this increase automatically; holders of unmaturing Bonds issued before 1977 receive the higher return through an increase in the cash bonus payable at maturity.

Barbara Kunst gave the treasurer's report. It was a very successful year surpassing objectives in both memorials and campaign donations. Donations to the Terry Fox campaign were received and forwarded to headquarters.

Shirley Swanson reported from the education committee. Shirley is endeavouring to get information kits into all the schools. L.J. MacPherson and Shirley Swanson are attending the Education Seminar in Edmonton on November 5th and 6th.

Campaign Chairperson, Jean Johnson gave a detailed report on the canvass from each town and expressed sincere thanks to the area captains in each town.

Madge Jenvey reported memorial donations were up this year over last.

Dwain Meer reported on patient services. Mrs. Meer is the contact person for Cancer-must and patient services.

President - L.J. MacPherson reported that Campaign Chairperson, Jean Johnson; Director Gerry Hansen and President, L.J. MacPherson attended the annual meeting and campaign conference in Calgary in February.

The Information Seminar for the April campaign was held in Hardisty, March 5th. This meeting was very well attended. L.J. thanked the executive, directors, campaign and memorial canvassers.

Election of officers was held with the following elected: Past President, Rosemary Jack; President, L.J. MacPherson; Vice President, Joy Arnold; Treasurer, Barb Kunst; Secretary, Jan House; Campaign, Rosemary Jack; Memorial, Madge Jenvey; Patient Services, Ev Meer; Education, Shirley Swanson; Publicity, Jean Djon; Directors: Yvonne Cookson, Louheed; Doreen

French, Sedgewick; Jeanette Harris, Sedgewick; Carol Culbert, Sedgewick; Kinette; Mela Lindseth, Killam; Dorothy Findlay, Alton; Betty Hols, Forestburg; Pearl Hinkley, Hardisty; and Mrs. Hamrah, Drydenland.

Delegates to the annual meeting will be announced in a later date. To conclude the evening Fred Griffiths showed an interesting film.

Submitted by L.J. MacPherson.

HALLOWEEN DANCE

Killam Separate School News

What do you know? The camera didn't break last Wednesday when the school pictures were taken.

Just before the photographer arrived, the students had a film and a small talk about Multiple Sclerosis by Miss Leder from Edmonton. Almost all of the students then joined in the food-raising run-which.

54 to 35 - that was the score of the football game on the 18th. Our Junior High had challenged the Public School Junior High to a game after school. Public school won after a great game. Good try, guys.

I would like to remind all the parents of our ethnic dinner on the 5th at the school. The students will provide entertainment after the dinner. The purpose of this dinner is to provide a link between the school, church, home and community.

Last week, meals were filled with curiosity when a large box arrived at the school. Later we saw that it was an "apple computer." There is now a possibility that after Christmas, a computer course will be available to the junior high students.

While Oct. 17's snowstorm interrupted harvest and caused many vehicle accidents, the snow was put to good use. Three-year-old Jillian Andersen of Sedgewick, Jillian didn't cruise this snowman by herself (she was assisted by a relative). It is complete with hat, buttons and carrot nose. We wonder how long it will last.

Get out and vote

It's election day in Alberta on Tuesday, Nov. 2, and electors of the three ridings in The Community Press and Enterprise coverage area are urged to cast their ballots at the polls which are open between 8 a.m. and 6 p.m.

In the Vermilion-Viking riding, incumbent Tom Lyness, PC is opposed by Richard Van Ee, WCC and Grant Berman, NDP.

Gordon Stromberg, PC sitting member in Camrose constituency will be opposed by Gerry Oberg of Forestburg, NDP and lawyer Keith Schindler, WCC.

An all-new slate is presented to electors in the Wainwright constituency, with Robert "Butch" McLean, PC, standing for re-election. The PC standard bearer, replacing retiring Charles Stewart, sitting member. Bill Vetter, WCC candidate, was previously the WCC candidate. Wes Connolly represents the NDP and Joe Vermette is the Liberal entry.

CANADA SAVINGS BONDS

12%
FIRST YEAR

THE NEW SERIES

New Canada Savings Bonds earn 12% interest the first year. And after the first year, bondholders are guaranteed a minimum rate of at least 8 1/2% (or each of the next six years). Even if interest rates drop, you will never receive less than this minimum return on your bonds.

Canada Savings Bonds not only guarantee a worthwhile return on your money, but they also provide other benefits that help make them one of the most convenient and effective investments you can find.

MAKE SAVING EASIER

You can purchase Canada Savings Bonds with a simple cash payment or through instalments. And if you have the Payroll Savings Plan where you work, the Bonds are available through convenient deductions from each pay cheque. Canada Savings Bonds are available in amounts as low as $100, up to the purchase limit of $35,000.

SECURE AND FLEXIBLE

Canada Savings Bonds are a secure investment, and they also give you flexibility where it counts most. Should the need arise, your new Canada Savings Bonds can be cashed anytime. Prior to December 31, 1982, you will receive the full face value of your Bonds. After that date, you will receive full face value, as well as all interest earned from November 1, 1982.

2 WAYS TO EARN INTEREST

Canada Savings Bonds offer you a choice of Regular Interest Bonds, which pay interest annually, and Compound Interest Bonds, which earn interest on your interest automatically.

ON SALE OCTOBER 25

New Canada Savings Bonds go on sale Monday, October 25. Up to and including November 8, 1982, you can purchase your Bonds without having to pay accrued interest. They can be purchased from any authorized sales agent, including banks, investment dealers, stock brokers, trust companies and credit unions.

But don't wait too long. Please remember that the sale of this year's Series may be discontinued at any time.

CONTINUE TO EARN WITH THE BONDS YOU HAVE NOW

The Canada Savings Bonds you already own are still worth holding on to. For the year beginning November 1, 1982, the rate on all unmatured Bonds has been increased to 12% from the 10 1/2% minimum promised last year. The minimum rate for each subsequent year until maturity remains at 10 1/2%.

Bonds issued from 1977 on benefit from this increase automatically; holders of unmatured Bonds issued before 1977 receive the higher return through an increase in the cash bonus payable at maturity.

YOUR BOND WITH THE FUTURE.

TOWN OF HARDISTY

Lougheed news

Molly Forseyhough. The snowstorm was on Sunday, October 17 was a very wet one with lots of snow around yet. Quite a number of farmers did not get their harvest finished. It will have to get a lot better weather than we are getting right now to complete the harvest that has to be done.

A number of friends had a birthday party at the house of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Pope in Sedgewick on October 18 to help Mr. Ron Frewing (Pope) celebrate her 94th birthday. Mrs. Frewing is still active, making quilts and enjoys getting out to visit. She stays in the Lodge in Sedgewick.

On October 18, Mr. Don Good left for Ottawa, Ontario where he will be working for the Salvation Army as a Rehabilitation Counsellor for Alcoholics. His wife Evelyn will be going to join him after Christmas.

Also the Good's had Bill White and Darlene of Calgary visiting them.

Mrs. Angie Richardson of Whitehorse, Yukon, recently visited her sister, Vest and Ernie Cookson, also Debbie Richardson, came down from the U. of A. in Edmonton to visit her mother while she was here. Angie had been to the Eastern Star Lodge Annual Grand General Session in Toronto, Ontario. While there, Angie was made Grand Representative of Ontario, B.C. and the Yukon. From there she went down to Newark, Ohio, U.S.A. to visit her brother, Mahlon Coughlin.

Rev. and Mrs. Don Lewis of Whitehorse sent greetings down by Angie Richardson to all the good friends there when they lived in Sedgewick. Don was the United Church Minister here a few years ago.

Don't forget that on Sunday morning, 2 a.m., October 31, to put your clocks back an hour or you will be too early going to Church or out for dinner, or whatever the day will bring.

It is also Halloween this weekend, too. Don't know whether the goblins and spooks will be out Saturday night or Sunday night. Anyway, drive slow and be more cautious as there will be a lot of small children out with costumes on which makes it a little difficult getting around. Let's avoid accidents anytime, please.

Mrs. Louise Madine and Mrs. Hannah Garthaus, also Mrs. Arthur Garthaus, and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Garthaus of Saskatchewan have been visiting their brother, Mr. Gunderson in the Lodge at Sedgewick. They are, too, and all enjoyed going out to dinner on Friday at Jimmy's Kitchen in Sedgewick.

Vivian Hart and Roberta Fudock are home after a 2-week visit to Vancouver and area. They visited and stayed with Byron Smith and family. Edna Singleton (Rombough) formerly of Lougheed.

They were glad to arrive home without incident as they chose Sunday, the day of the snowstorm, to start driving for home and had to spend the night in Rocky Mountain House as the roads were closed, due to the heavy snowfall.

They said there is more snow here at home than anywhere on the trip, including through the mountains.

Discuss ways to sell Sedgewick history book

The regular monthly meeting of the Sedgewick Historical Society was held at the Senior Citizens Centre on October 13.

The Culture Department have been contacted and have promised that the grant for the Sedgewick Sentinel will be paid in October.

A donation of $500.00 has been offered by Kentucky Fried Chicken of Canmore and a representative has been chosen to accept the cheque.

Methods of promoting sales were discussed. One suggestion was to encourage purchases of the Sedgewick Sentinel as Christmas gifts. It was also considered that it may be necessary to advance the price after the first of year somewhat, to cover carrying costs.

The only small sled feature is the price.

CITATION 3500 G-4500

Why sacrifice performance and big sled features for price?

Ski-Doo gives you a choice of two economical snowmobiles with the big sled power of Rotax engines, the big sled sled of adjustable torsion flexion axle suspension, plus the big sled features of CDI ignition and oil injection.

Just because our Citation models are designed for rugged dependability and easy maintenance, you and your family can count on everyplace snowmobiling on or off the trail—wherever you choose the lightweight, manoeuvrable 3500 or the easy handling, two passenger 4500—with or without electric starter.

If you want big sled features at a price, there's no sacrifice. Citation 3500 and 4500 are the sleds for you. Only from Ski-Doo.

PC's get larger mandate now for results

This week, November 1 to 7 has been designated as Career Week in Canada, but one thing about it—the Progressive Conservative members of the last Alberta Legislature don't have to go job-seeking.

Wan't that a "devastating" election? Not only were Premier Peter Lougheed and his conferees swept back into office by an overwhelming margin for a fourth consecutive term, the PC's gained one seat and have 75 members in the 79-seat House.

And don't be too sure that it may finally end up at 76 when there is an official recount in the Edmonton Norwood riding where Ray Martin of the NDP supposedly won by a small margin over his PC opponent.

Gordon Keeler, the lone WCC member, found out that he wasn't even wanted in his home riding of Highwood. Not being very gracious in defeat, Keeler lambasted Albertans for "being beaten with their own dollars" in the Heritage Trust Fund, which he termed a "government treasure."

Keeler also lashed out at the media charging it with "manipulating the voters," and with using his "bad press" to sell newspapers.

From the standpoint of news copy, Keeler was colorful, and will be missed, but the major point was the WCC's avowed policy of separation from Canada, which was watered down considerably during the election campaign. The rest of Canada was watching.

It never is healthy with one party holding such an advantage, however Albertans chose to stay with the PC's perhaps because of their credibility. And in these trying times, to many it is comforting to hold onto something "solid."

Liberal leader Nick Taylor went down to defeat; so did Tom Sindlinger and his Alberta Reform Movement.

Again it's up to the "corporate guard" of two independents, Ray Speaker and Walter Buck, plus NDP Leader Grant Noddy and possibly NDP-Per Ray Martin to provide the opposition. We don't envy them their tasks, against insurmountable odds.

Closer to home, the PC candidates repeated in all three ridings quite comfortably—Tom Lyons in Vermilion-Viking, Gordon Stromberg in Camrose, and Robert "Butch" Fischer in Wainwright.

It was expected that the Wainwright contest would be closer.

Someone complained to Borden Kaminsky, Returning Officer, that the polls at Sedgewick Community Hall had closed at 7:00 p.m., which was a complete falsehood. There are some more losers, aren't there?

Letters to the Editor

Dr. Humble Hal E. A. Medicine Hat, Alta. October 27, 1982

Dear Editor: In September, my mother, Ruby Stathopou, gave me a subscription to The Community Press.

I enjoy the paper and to be able to know about activities at home but I fail to understand why I have just to stand the price of the September 29 issue.

There should be faster mail service than 30 days from Sedgewick to Medicine Hat.

The previous issues were quite delayed also.

I look forward to the paper coming but 30 day service is ridiculous.

Please check into this matter and see if service can be speeded up. I'd really like to know where all the October issues are.

Sincerely,

Dianne Rust, Editor: Note: The Community Press is mailed each Wednesday. After that, your guess is as good as ours.

Lougheed

Rebekahs meet Eighteen members of Lougheed Rebekah Lodge met on Wednesday evening, October 28, N.G. St. Der-rough was in the chair.

Two members were reported indisposed. Members were sorry to hear of Edna Duffield's illness and of Lorne Co's accident. Vidua had been made to hospital.

Several members had attended the District Meeting in Killam on October 28. "Hans were finalized for the tea, bazaar and bake sale on Saturday, November 6.

After Penny Dill it was the members' pleasure to sing "Happy Birthday" to St. Wanda Price.

Lodge closed in harmony, after which the Halloween theme added to the always pleasurable luncheon hour. Ines Sather and St. M. Rogan-ness were responsible.

"Water attracts electricity." "Here you made tears to prove it."

"Yes, everyone I'm in the bathtub, the telephone bell rings."

40 Years Ago I would suppose most farmers are done combining. Some were out trying to finish up. Although cold, it isn't too bad as yet.

Never heard of any vandalism around town on Halloween night. It was a quiet night to see the little ones out in their costumes. At least in small towns, parents shouldn't have to worry about what is in their treats.

They could be sure of one word for those who do and that is "ick."

Our Lady of Fatima Separate School held a very successful "Ethnic Dinner" on Friday evening.

Get well wishes to Mrs. Freda Erickson who is in Killam Hospital. Also to Mrs. Hardwick who is in hospital in Edmonton, having the manure to break her hip.

We hope you are both on the real soon.

Congratulations to Mrs. Helen Nilfalk and Mrs. Margaret Weithuhn who will play the Llama Baseball Blues.

40 Years Ago At Hardisty Motors, a 1958 Pontiac Sedan, all equipped in A1 shape, was selling for only $1250.00; three 1952 Pontiacs were $100 each; a 1952 GMC half ton with good motor was a low $290.00.

At Oldland Steel Metal in Killam, a new "Rain Drop" water seeder was priced at $110.00; used storage tanks were only $30.00 each.

40 Years Ago Improvements are constantly being planned at the Court Valley Ski Club. This season, they will have electricity, Alberta Power and a septic tank so restrooms will be installed this winter. Another out of variance is to be put on the inside of the chalet and working on downhill and cross country ski equipment for rental.

40 Years Ago Dr. G.R. Murray, who has been in the Dentistry business in Alberta for 35 years, is now comfortably established in his new modern offices on Hardisty's main street. Situated just across the street from the new office is brightly and newly decorated with large reception room and a well lighted and modern operating room. Dr. Murray recently attended a refresher course in the city.

40 Years Ago Eighteen members of the Irons Club together with their sponsor, Mr. Stewart and some parents, visited from Creek Herford Farm, owned by Mr. and Mrs. S.G. Walker. They spent most of their time looking over the cattle and getting feeding information. They also toured the C. Gibb farm, the Gould farm at Rosalind, also to Camrose and Wainwright.

40 Years Ago Harmon Brown, was selling a 1940 Willys Sedan, motor two years old. Good heater, new battery, antifreeze, license, transmission, new and used tires, good tires, making only $300.00.

With winter just around the corner, you'll find the coldness (as well as the sun and wind) can cause dry, chapped lips because very moisture on the lips tends to evaporate. Your lips should be protected with lipstick, lip gloss, lip balm or ointment. If you're going to be outdoors for any length of time, you should use one containing a sunscreen or sunblock. If your lips are dry, a good idea would be to use vasoline at night and during the day, use a lip balm of ointment under your lipstick.

Managing Alberta's Energy

When the lights go out

Power failures are annoying and can be dangerous. But at Alberta Power we have crews and equipment to restore electricity to you as quickly as possible. We also have regular maintenance schedules to make sure everything is in good shape and working properly. But despite our efforts, power failures still sometimes occur. Cars can run into power poles, kites can get caught in overhead wires and construction crews can sever underground cables. Even nature plays a part. Weather or slicks in our province can do a lot of damage to the lines that bring electricity to your home. Whatever the cause, you can be prepared and make things easier for yourself. Store emergency supplies together in an emergency cupboard. Items like a flashlight, matches, candles and a portable battery lamp can help you find your way around during a power failure. You should also think about keeping a fire extinguisher or portable camping stove and some fuel in the cupboard. A transistor radio will enable you to get up-to-date news of developments. Remember to ensure that the batteries in your radio and flashlight are working. The first thing to do if your power goes off, is to determine if the outage affects your home only, or all the homes in the area. If the rest of your neighbours still have their lights on, then check your circuit breaker panel or fuse box. If everyone in your area is without electricity, then call your Alberta Power office. We will turn the people and equipment to repair the problem as quickly as possible. A transistor radio will enable you to get up-to-date news of developments. While you're waiting, there are some points to remember: Turn off the small appliances, stove elements and even in use at the time of the power outage. Disconnect your portable dishwasher from the tap and turn it off. Don't open the refrigerator or freezer doors. Refrigerated foods will usually keep for 24 hours, although special care must be taken with dairy products. Freezer food will usually be fine for 13 to 48 hours, depending on the type of food and how full your freezer is. Once the power is on again, make sure the refrigerator and freezer are operating. Turn on only the most essential appliances, then wait 15 to 30 minutes before reconnecting the others. Grants available for upgrading insulation

Five hundred dollars could help you upgrade the insulation of your home. And you may be eligible to obtain that amount as a grant through the Canadian Home Insulation Program (CHIP). Administered by the Canada Mortgage and Housing Corporation (CMHC), the CHIP program is intended to help cover the cost of materials and labour involved in insulating single-family homes, semi-detached or row house units, apartment buildings and non-profit houses. Alberta dwellings eligible for a CHIP grant are principal residences of three storeys or less built before January 1, 1971. Only one CHIP grant per unit is allowed. The full cost of materials up to $350 and one third of labour costs to a maximum of $150 give a total possible grant of $500 for detached, semi-detached or row house units. A CHIP grant is taxable as income. Every modern home deserves proper insulation. When insulation meets modern requirements, you save energy - an important and very necessary consideration. For further information on CHIP grants (and cold calls) to the regional CHIP office (403) 429-2459. Or write: CHIP, P.O. Box 156, Edmonton, Alberta, T5J 2G8.

Energuide labels help consumers

Consumers can look beyond the initial price tag to assess the cost of a new appliance. Over a period of time the electrical energy consumed by the appliance in accordance with Canadian Standard Association requirements. It does pay to shop around. There can be a difference of 150 kilowatt-hours per month in the amount of energy consumed by different makes and models of a refrigerator. A 50 A.W.H. per month variation can mean a difference of $300 in electricity costs over 18 years at an average cost of five cents per kilowatt-hour. To assist the consumer in choosing the most energy-efficient appliance, the federal government has developed the Energuide Program. This information program requires labels on major appliances to clearly indicate monthly electrical consumption, when tested in accordance with Canadian Standard Association requirements. Major household appliances now carry the Energuide label. Consideration of Energuide information before purchasing can save both energy and money. Energy consumption figures are provided in the Energuide Directories, available free from regional and district offices of Consumer and Corporate Affairs Canada. And Save.

If your home seems to simply "gobble up" energy, chances are you're not practising wise energy management. You're probably wasting energy by using it when you don't really need to, or by using it inefficiently. And wasted energy means wasted money.

That's why TransAlta Utilities would like to show you how to cut your home's energy consumption. Our Home Energy Management Kit is packed full of tips on keeping your residential energy systems trim and lean, and reducing waste to a minimum.

This winter, don't let a power-hungry home eat into your budget!

Energy management and electric rates

Like everything else today, power bills are going up.

The truth of the matter is that we are fortunate to enjoy one of the lowest cost, most reliable electric power services in Canada, thanks to an abundant supply of low-marginal coal.

Still, during the current economic downturn, consumers are watching their spending closely and making do, or doing without. They are demanding — and they deserve — an explanation for any price increases they cannot avoid.

Such an electric power toll increases.

Well, why are power bills going up, then?

The answer is two-fold. First, the cost of supplying the power is rising. Many of the costs that TransAlta incur in building new generating facilities to meet increased demand are rising faster than the general inflation rate, for example, construction materials and labour costs.

The company must, in fact, borrow a good deal of money to pay for these new facilities, so "interest" forms a substantial portion of those costs, too. TransAlta must also pay its share of taxes.

Other expenditures, such as environmental control equipment, do not increase the cost of power, but are added to the company's total cost.

Electric rates can be expected to jump particularly when new generating facilities are started up.

The company must, in fact, borrow a good deal of money to pay for these new facilities, so "interest" forms a substantial portion of those costs, too. TransAlta must also pay its share of taxes.

The company has always operated in the most cost-efficient manner, and in these times of economic hardship, is continuing to tighten its belt.

The second factor in why power bills are rising is increased consumption. Electricity is playing an expanded role in all our lives. At work, electricity is taking over many applications which previously used more expensive or more scarce energy forms, such as electric drives for machinery.

At home, electricity is being used not only for lighting, but for cooking, washing, cleaning and entertainment. It has been an essential ingredient in reducing tedious household chores, increasing productivity and improving our standard of living.

Certainly none of us wants to lower our standard of living, but when it comes to rising power bills, as consumers we do have some control over the final amount we will pay. Through energy management practices, we can help to moderate the effect of rate increases.

possible. TransAlta representatives are available, free of charge, to do an "energy audit" of your business or industry. Such an audit will show you the different uses of electricity and help you to determine whether or not these uses provide value for the money paid.

Also available from Energy Management are various booklets which outline ways to keep your power bill as low as possible. For example, these are booklets which describe the electrical consumption of various appliances and offer buying tips to purchasers.

Energy Management also promotes techniques to reduce electrical consumption, such as the Power Saver, a temperature-sensitive device which controls the amount of the electricity used by the block heater of a furnace.

With methods such as these, an aware consumer can reduce electrical consumption without any change in lifestyle.

Certainly, electricity is one of the great bargains in this world. Let us use it wisely.

Residential humidity control

Every Albertan has usually experienced it once. You walk across a room, touch an innocent looking object and immediately get stung with static electricity.

These harmless but annoying static electric shocks are just one of the problems caused by inadequate humidity levels in our homes during cold winter months.

Dry heated air can create health problems, including stuffy noses, parched throats and dry skin. It can even contribute to the deterioration of furniture and carpets by robbing them of moisture.

Low humidity levels can also cause us to feel statically charged — even at temperature settings of 24 degrees Celsius or 75 degrees Fahrenheit.

The opposite condition — a humidity level that is too high — creates its own set of problems: steamed windows and when excessive — mildew, water staining and even structural damage.

Inadequate or excessive humidity levels plague many Alberta homes especially in the winter.

Relative Humidity Should Be About 30 Percent

Like a sponge, air can only hold a certain amount of water. However, unlike a sponge, the water holding capacity of air fluctuates with temperature. The higher the temperature, the more water vapour the air can contain.

Relative humidity is a measure of the moisture content in the air. A relative humidity of 50 percent means that the air contains 50 percent of the water it is capable of holding at that particular temperature.

This level, 50 percent, is an ideal average year round level of relative humidity inside our homes. A lower level results in those familiar "dry air" problems, static electricity build-up, object and breathe, etc. Higher levels cause condensation and its related problems.

Correcting Low Humidity

Although washing, cooking, people and plants do change moisture into the air, sometimes an additional source of water vapour is needed to boost the humidity level to 50 percent. In our cold climate, and especially in older homes, mechanical or electrical humidifiers may be required.

Available in a number of models, humidifiers are devices which evaporate water and thereby increase the relative humidity level.

ensuring that roof coverings, chimney and eave flashings, vent stacks, dormer and wall flashings, gutters and drain-spouts are all water tight.

Controlling Condensation

Excess condensation within a home can be controlled by insulation, ventilation elimination or a combination of these building structure or insulation.

Moisture in a home comes from three main sources. Inside moisture sources include activities like cooking, washing and bathing.

This water vapour condenses on the coldest surface, usually windows. One solution is to increase the inside temperature of the window panes, by adding storm or triple glazed windows or by maintaining constant air circulation over the window panes.

Damp basements, porous foundation walls, floors and crawl spaces are also sources of moisture. Preventive and corrective measures include installing vapour barriers, waterproofing, drainpipes or drainage tile and ventilation systems.

Moisture sources outside the house can be corrected by repairing leaky roofs and

When humidity is too high

While low humidity is a common problem in older homes, the situation is often reversed in modern "air tight" homes. Water vapour is unable to escape and condenses inside the home on windows, walls and other surfaces. When this occurs in areas such as attics or crawl spaces, the result can be damage to the building structure or insulation.

Minor hockey problems discussed

Problems dealing with minor hockey were thoroughly examined on Friday evening at a minor hockey coaches seminar in Sedgewick attended by delegates from Hughenden, Provost, Killam and Sedgewick.

Sitting on the panel were Orest Korbutt, Alberta Amateur Hockey Association president; Vernon Paul, Minor Hockey Council chairman, both of Edmonton, and Jim Tindall of Sedgewick, Zone 7 chairman.

"We want to see every boy registered," stated Mr. Korbutt, pointing out that players are required to be registered before they play their first league game.

The president added that the executive is in the process of "drawing up some pretty stringent residence qualifications."

The topic of "legal guard" was discussed at some length, with Mr. Korbutt mentioning that one team has five players in this classification. He would like to see legal procedures permitted, thus tightened up considerably.

A player must play closest to his residence, however the question of Sedgewick and Killam middle teams placed this rule in a different light.

It was stated that since Sedgewick didn't have a middle team last year, players from that town playing with Killam had been "unconditionally released" by Sedgewick, and were Killam property.

Mr. Korbutt told questioner Tom Sparrow of Sedgewick that the will be parents should be the deciding factor.

Using one of the new grades or metal fireplace li-

Is your fireplace working?

The fireplace may warm your heart, but will it warm your home?

Studies show that using some fireplaces each night in winter may raise the monthly heating bill by close to 10 percent.

Even when the fire is out and the damper is closed, a considerable amount of heat escapes up the chimney. Once the damper is opened, the heat loss multiplies.

As the fire goes in the hearth, large amounts of furnace-heated room air are pulled up the chimney, making the furnace work "over."

Meanwhile, colder air from the outside is being sucked in through the cracks around doors and windows. The colder the outside air, the greater the heat loss.

There are ways to reduce the heat loss, however: using fireplace covers, installing glass doors or an insulated fire-resistant plug that you can make yourself. These can be closed when the fireplace is not in use.

Using one of the new grades or metal fireplace liness, which increase the efficiency of fires.

Partially closing the base of the fire is steadily burning and well backed. Note: Keep the opening large enough to allow all smoke to escape up the chimney. If sufficient air is not available (as in a "well-closed" home), air can be pulled down the furnace chimney with fatal results. Be sure to open a small window when the fireplace is in use, or bring in fresh air some other way to the general area of the fireplace.

Sealing off an unused fireplace

Checking out new designs using glass doors, heat exchangers and fresh air intakes, which help add heat to the house.

If you risk your wood you burn to contribute to heating your home, you should consider an air-tight, controlled-combustion wood stove fitted to the existing chimney.

Costumes excellent at Killam Halloween Ball

"Nite Life," an excellent band from Edmonton, provided the great entertainment for the Halloween Ball at the Killam Arriples on Friday, Oct. 29. The crowd was not as large as the Arriples had hoped for, but the costumes of those who did attend were excellent.

Our capable judges, Josie Barth and Laura Cotton selected three categories for the prizes.

Killam Wheat Kings are learning fast-how to lose. But the executive of the founding entry in the established Central Alberta Junior "B" Hockey League has to be satisfied with the club's first two outings.

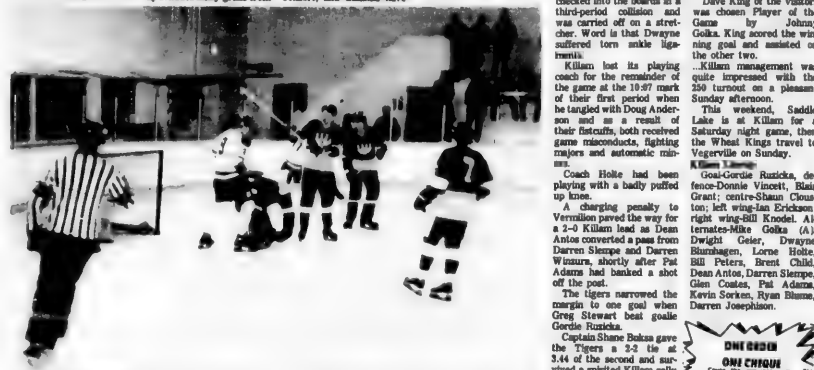

Playing back-to-back games on Saturday and Sunday, the Wheat Kings lost 3-4 in a 10 minute overtime session at Bonnyville, then before 250 home fans on Sunday were edged 3-2 by Vermilion Tigers.

Counting an 8-4 exhibition loss to Robbinston "B"s in Killam on Wednesday, the week was a heartbreaker for the Kings, whose lineup includes many grade from

Homework and play

Can be energy efficient

Activities around the home can be made more energy efficient by following the following tips with your appliances.

REFRIG. Cook whole meals in the oven at one time, choosing main dishes, vegetables, and desserts requiring the same temperature and length of time. Double recipes; freeze portions for later use.

Don't preheat the oven when not necessary. Most meals, casseroles and similar foods require no preheating. Use the oven to heat the kitchen waste energy; so open the door, not the oven, when not necessary.

Keep both the oven and refrigerator/freezer in cool locations, away from heat sources such as heating vents, the range, and direct sunlight. Allow for proper air circulation over and around condenser coils and make sure the appliances are level.

When cooking a roast, turn the oven 30 degrees before completion. The oven will retain sufficient heat to complete the cooking.

Use the self-cleaning feature while oven is already hot. Use flat-bottomed cooking utensils that fit surface element size, and make sure lids fit tightly.

Use the lowest element setting needed to cook a particular dish. Do use a high heat setting to bring liquids to a boil; then reduce the temperature. The food will cook as quickly.

Use a minimum amount of water for cooking vegetables. Both energy and nutritional values will be saved.

Refrigerator/Freezer: Keep both the oven and refrigerator/freezer in cool locations, away from heat sources such as heating vents, the range, and direct sunlight. Allow for proper air circulation over and around condenser coils and make sure the appliances are level.

When buying a refrigerator or freezer, compare monthly kilowatt-hour

(kWh) consumption; check the EnergyGuide label. Be sure doors seal tightly. Defrost refrigerators and freezers regularly. Check the manufacturer's instructions for recommended cleaning and temperature settings.

Maintain door openings and overcooling. Proper air circulation will assist efficient operation. Before extended absences, empty and clean these appliances, disconnect from power sources and prep door open.

Hot Water: The correct water heater setting for kitchen and laundry use is 60 degrees Celsius to 65 degrees Celsius (140 degrees to 148 degrees Fahrenheit). The water temperature may be set lower if there is no dishwasher. Long hot-water pipelines are wasteful. Locate the water heater close to the point of use and wrap pipes with insulation. Check leaking taps; one drip per second could waste a tankful of water in one week.

Dishwasher: Since some 80 per cent of the electricity used by a dishwasher is for heating the water, purchase the model that uses the least amount of hot water.

Wash only full loads and use the shortest practical cycle for the cleaning job. The "energy saver" cycle of some models provides no-heat drying. If your machine does not have this feature, turn the dishwasher off at the end of the rinse cycle and open the door; the dishes will air dry.

Laundry Equipment: Check the manufacturer's instructions for the correct wash, rinse and dry temperatures. Use water level and cycle suitable to each load; wash full loads for the most efficient use of energy. Use throwaway balls to allow adjustment of light levels; use lower wattage bulbs in over-crowded areas like halls and closets. Always keep bulbs and fixtures clean. Remember that fluorescent tubes provide more light for less energy than incandescent bulbs. Paint walls and walls in light colors to maximize light reflection.

A "saver" feature also saves water and heat. Dry clothes outside when possible. If using the dryer, dry clothes only as long as necessary, cleaning lint filters after each use.

Food Waste Disposal: Use cold water only.

Vacuum Cleaners and Floor Polishes: Check the manufacturer's instructions for correct use and maintenance. The correct way to use any electrical equipment is also the most efficient.

Lighting: Switch off all lights when not in use. Use throwaway balls to allow adjustment of light levels; use lower wattage bulbs in over-crowded areas like halls and closets. Always keep bulbs and fixtures clean. Remember that fluorescent tubes provide more light for less energy than incandescent bulbs. Paint walls and walls in light colors to maximize light reflection.

Entertainment: Turn off stereos, televisions and radios when not in use. Use a portable radio instead of a stereo radio. When buying a television, remember, colour sets use more electricity than black and white sets; the larger the set, the more energy it uses; "solid state construction" sets use about one-third less energy than conventional sets. "Instant-On" sets use energy even when not turned on. Unplug this type of set if you will not be using it for a few days.

THE EXCEL POWER SAVER

The POWER SAVER is a thermostatically controlled cord that delays the operation of your block heater until your engine cools down enough to require heating. Energy savings are gained in two ways. Firstly, during the cool down period, which may be several hours. Secondly, by monitoring the heater hose, the POWER SAVER turns on and off (at -1°C, +20°F) to maintain the right engine temperature for quick, easy starts.

PLUG INTO POWER SAVINGS THIS WINTER!

The POWER SAVER is available at your local TransAlta Utilities office or by completing this coupon:

Energy Issues

John Gervin
For the Canadian Petroleum Association

In the early days of Canada's oil industry, an oil discovery created a great flurry of activity among oil men anxious to acquire the property adjacent to the discovery lease.

In fact, that particular aspect of the business continues to create excitement and, however, a discovery is made there is less competition for the surrounding leases.

It was in June of 1938 that Turner Valley Royalties No. 1 blew in a 1,400 barrel per day crude oil producer at the south end of the Turner Valley field.

The discovery was near a camp town then known as Little Chicago and rates in historic importance with Leduc, Redwater and Fort St. John in the chronicle of the Canadian oil industry.

Frank McMahon, founder and then president of the Leduc Petroleum Ltd., discovered that a lease covering a drilling site approximately a mile from the Royalties discovery was held by a man named Shure who was the C.P.R. agent at Alton, B.C.

McMahon, a wiry, six-foot veteran oilfield hand and drill, set off on a marathon drive across the Rockies to Alton where he contacted Mr. Shure and hammered out a deal.

It was the beginning of Pacific Petroleum, in its time one of the largest and most successful firms in the Canadian oil patch.

The name is now, just a part of history, though, since the company is now part of Petro Canada.

Drilling began August 19, 1937, but a few days later wells on either side proved disappointing and the stock market began to plummet.

McMahon ran out of money before he reached target depth, but he was able to make arrangements with the Royalties Oil Company to complete the well.

Flowing 3,500 barrels of oil per day it well came in on April 1, 1938 as one of the largest wells in the field.

Hardisty Hospital Auxiliary Bingo is successful

On the evening of October 25th, at the Elks Hall, a large crowd gathered to play bingo. President Jeanette Crose welcomed everyone in a few very fitting words.

She also thanked our faithful caller, Ed Watkins.

Ed Watkins started the numbers rolling explaining the usual details of winning games and line breakers. It is hoped the smokers all in the designated areas, so that the smoke doesn't make it uncomfortable for those who cannot tolerate smoke and can enjoy the evening's entertainment.

The winner of the first game of the evening was appropriately won by Dr. O. Cahill, played by a proxy card.

All was silent for a lengthy time, when suddenly there were five bingos called. The top winner of the five was Mrs. Timbols for the second game. The winner of the third game was Doris Watkins. Fourth game had two winners, Sam Moore and Alice Davis of Hugubden. Five the fifth game, George Matthews won home $15.00 richer.

The winner of game 6 was Mrs. Longman. Game 7 was won by Helen Fludy of Sedgewick. The halcyon information held the suspense of who would go home with the "traditionally decorated Halloween cake donated by Marie Peachon of Ainslie. Diana Hoyle was the lucky person to take the cake home.

The winner of the door prize on advance tickets sold was Vera Hendricks. Jeanette Crose announced the Auxiliary was going to order more hospital necessities and it is hoped to have them by Christmas.

Bingo No. 8 must have been the Jackpot, for winners as six people called "bingo." The top winner was Tenny Hoyle.

The ninth game winner was Mabel Firth of Hardisty. Alice Davis of Hugubden, second time winner won the 10th game. Mrs. McOle was the winner of the eleventh bingo game. Number 11 winner was Harvie Puaie.

Lucky 13 was lucky for Darren Baumgartner. Game 14 had three ladies call "bingo" Paulette Manning, Marguerite Timbols and Annie Collins from Hugubden.

The blackout winner of $100.00 was Melaine Quast. It was gratifying to see many persons from surrounding communities supporting the efforts of the Auxiliary.

Weekend visitors at the

Hardisty Happenings

Best wishes to Shelby Dion and Gary Brantley who were married Saturday, October 23 in the Catholic Church in Hardisty.

The United Church Women served their turkey supper to the public on October 25. It was certainly well attended, with many persons from out of town. Nice to see Bert and Freda Jackson back renewing acquaintances. It was certainly the place to be to see a lot of people.

Lynn Kells has moved to Calgary where she began a course at DeVry Institute of Technology, November 1. The course is for Computer Data and Processing Systems Analyst.

Weekend visitors at the home of Helen and Carl Anderson were Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Smith of Calgary and Sgt. Bert Truett and son, Paul of Edmonton.

How about this for coincidence? Last Friday, October 29th, ninety-year-old Adam Freeman of Devron, completed a small nation collection with his name, address and phone number, asking the finder to phone him at 5-10 where it had been found. On Saturday, October 30, one day later, it was found on a wire fence by Ken Alderdice on the Henry Hays farm, south of Hardisty. Of course, Ken phoned Adam, and in the course of the conversation, found out that Adam was Marion Elm's great-grandfather.

It is really strange that the balloon should have been picked up only a couple of miles from the location of the farm where Adam's great-grandparents, Clarence and Marion Elm, lived and farmed for years, and where Euro-Elm lives.

Talk about speed too! Maybe we should have our letters sent that way.

Eight tables of whist players enjoyed the Wednesday afternoon Card Party at the Senior Citizens Club in Centra. Prizes for the highest scores were won by Mrs. Mary Usselman and Mr. G. Erikson. Mrs. Helga Williams and Mr. Gunnar Heg received consolation awards. At the 7:15 evening Norwegian whist there were five tables of players. Mrs. Gunda Storken and Mr. David Black won prizes for the highest scores. Consolation awards were presented to Mrs. Edna Taylor and Mrs. Gunda Erikson.

Larry and Marie Truss welcomed their first grandson. He was born on Saturday, October 30 to Rick and Mary, and weighed 8 lbs., 1 oz.

Donk Truss left by plane for Australia on Friday of last week. He plans to stay for a year.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Gould were in Dewberry on Saturday where they attended the 45th anniversary of the C.C.I.L. county, Mr. and Mrs. Bill McMillan of Vermilion.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Meckler of Alliance were on Sunday to attend the christening of their grandson Bryce Sparrow. They then enjoyed dinner with daughter Donna and family, the Hal Sparrows.

I hear that the Sedgewick Club has started play for the winter.

On Tuesday Mr. Don Macdonald drove to Hana and brought his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rod Macdonald home. They had spent ten days in Calgary with daughter Peggy and family, the Gerry Millers and a few days in Hana with Hana's sister, Mrs. Agnes Cook.

Our thoughts go out to the two little folk from our town who are both very ill at the University Hospital in Edmonton. Brett Mayne and Janelle DeLoach. And to their parents, who suffer along with them. We are always hoping for good news.

Mr. and Mrs. Cyle Van Derk of Leduc were weekend guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Paterson. They also visited daughter Linda and family at Loughdale.

Mr. Joe Lee spent a week at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Brian Lee, after a summer in B.C. He is now residing in Edmonton.

Happy to hear that Mrs. Helen O'Reilly came home on Saturday after a week in the Kilham Hospital.

We only had about a dozen little Halloweeners on Sunday evening but I understand that on the other side of town there were lots of them. Several old fashioned characters called on us.

Three sister Ladies have been invited to attend our next regular meeting on November 18th. "Waggy Birthday" was sung for P.H.R.L. Ruth Moor.

All thirteen ladies present were presented with special attendance pins, with program P.H.R.L. Krosser making the presentations. Lodge closed in harmony, followed by delicious refreshments provided by Lady Olive Skelton and Lady Shirley Campbell.

Several ladies had attended the 40th-anniversary ceremony for the new hospital on October 18th.

Lady D. Krosser reported having made the annual scholarship awards presentation on October 20.

The two students receiving the awards were Suzanne Campbell, first with David Duncan, second. Congratulations to these high achievers.

The ladies voted to accept two catering projects for November.

"HARDESTY DOG CATCHER" told to pick up dogs

The Town of Hardisty held its monthly council meeting on Thursday, November 4. All members were present along with a few interested electors. The minutes of the previous meeting were passed.

Highway 81 was discussed. The purchase of land needed for the overpass and access roads was looked into. John Golla's request for land separation from the Town of Hardisty was rejected.

A motion made by the M.D. of Provost council meeting regarding the Hospital Extended Care was turned down.

There has been only one application for the position of Town Administrator to date. A committee was appointed to interview all possible applicants to find a successor for W.S. Pedlar, who is retiring.

The Nuisance Grounds are now locked, with signs posted. Town residents may acquire a key from the Town Foreman or Town Office.

Two building permits were issued as well as one business licence.

The dog catcher has been requested to stop issuing warnings and to pick up any dog running loose, as most Town residents should now be aware there is a dog catcher.

Golla had two goals and one assist. Goals registered one goal and added to two others, with Blume and Brent Child contributing singles.

Kilham had two goals and one assist. Goals registered one goal and added to two others, with Blume and Brent Child contributing singles.

Kilham has the opportunity to average a 3-2 loss to Vermilion tonight (Wednesday) when they travel to the northern town, and Vermilion returns to Kilham for a Friday night encounter.

Saturday of this week, Kilham journeys to Grand Centre.

Playing coach Lorne Helle is expected to return to the Kilham line-up for the week's action, following inactivity due to a knee injury.

Happenings Around Strome

Connie Hahn
Mrs. Francis Allers returned from a weekend visit on Sunday afternoon after spending the week in Edmonton.

Small week goes to Paul Williams who is a patient in the Dayland Hospital. Hope you are home soon, Paul.

Spending the week with her mother, Mrs. Hahn Erickson was her daughter, Janet of Edmonton, while her father, Harry Erickson was a patient in the Dayland Hospital.

Frank and Mable McGuire of Edmonton dropped in for a short visit, with Eddie and Connie Hahn, also Mrs. Dorothy Mikkelsen, enroute home to Edmonton on Saturday afternoon.

On behalf of the community we wish to send our deepest sympathy to Willie and Ruth Davidson of Killam in the sudden passing of Ruth's daughter, Carol in the Strome home.

On Sunday evening, I was pleased to see that we finally got much needed lights on the highway where the bus stops for passengers. I am sure all those who use the bus will appreciate them, especially in the winter.

Stan and Louise Johnson, and daughter spent the weekend with his dad, Sig Johnson.

Mrs. Valma McDowell (Gordon) of Calgary, came from Edmonton and Janet Gordon spent the weekend with her parents, the Clint Sprague's.

Mrs. Dorothy Sprague accompanied Shirley McDougall who had been home for the weekend, with her parents, the Keith McDougalls to Edmonton on Sunday afternoon for a visit with other relatives.

For the winter months I would like to hear your news by Sunday evening, so please phone me at 376-3841.

The reality achieved by sharing in some of these pictures amazed me.

Strome School News

The first school term is rapidly drawing to a close with report cards given out on Friday, November 12th and Parent Teacher Interviews scheduled for Wednesday, November 17th.

Already planning has started toward the Christmas Concert, to be held the evening of Thursday, December 16th. The music, drama and art classes particularly have been honing skills to use at the concert.

This year, the elementary music classes are being team-taught by Mrs. Brakland, the travelling music specialist, and the home-room teacher.

The Silver Burdett Music Program being used, emphasizes development of a wide variety of skills. Students may be doing exercises in bells to learn pitch, using actions to represent rhythm patterns, playing a recorder for fingerings and note recognition, doing breathing or scale exercises for singing.

These are only a few of the activities being used in an excellent music program.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Sipe's Art Room is - "blaze of color" with the elementary art display - vivid, contrasting colors in bold patterns express the vitality of these young artists.

The Junior high contribution is equally impressive black and white drawings showing shadow and perspective.

The reality achieved by sharing in some of these pictures amazed me.

Tuesday blaze destroys motorhome

A noon hour explosion at Killam on Tuesday destroyed a motorhome owned by John Forster.

At first, townspeople believed the blaze was in the McDougall's shop, immediately to the north of the Forster residence, where the motorhome was parked.

Heavy smoke billowed forth as fire consumed the vehicle and contents, leaving only charred remains.

No one was near the motorhome when the fire occurred.

Mr. Forster said the 1978 Model motorhome hadn't been used for more than two weeks.

If you're in the market for a new cologne, I would like to mention a few facts about fragrances.

All fragrances change slightly when applied to the skin because of your body chemistry. They change again after having had time to dry.

The intensity of your fragrance can be altered by the weather. In cold weather, the scent won't last as long. Dry skin also doesn't hold fragrance as well as oily skin.

To test a fragrance, never just take a whiff from a bottle, but rather apply it to your wrist or back of hand, wait about 18 minutes before you decide if you really like it.

For more staying-power in a fragrance, it's a good idea to use products in the same scent together, such as bath oil, soap, dusting powder and cologne.

News from the Nazarene Church

Congratulations to Tim and Sharon Kirby on the birth of their third son, born November 4 in Killam General Hospital.

Elsie Delbeck is spending her days at the University Hospital with Janina, with Richard and Matthew joining them for weekends. They do appreciate the prayers and visits if you can stop by.

Thursday evening, the church board met for supper with Rev. and Mrs. Andrew Canada West District Superintendent.

Monday, November 15, Rev. Mel Tucker will be our guest, representing Canadian Nazarene College.

Several ladies met at the home of Ethel McCracken of Alliance to make a quilt for Rev. Dennis Rieger, missionary appointee to Mozambique in Minas, Africa. November 24 has been set for a "ladies' day out" when they will meet at the church for more quilt-making and bring articles for a shower for the church kitchen.

Jodi Smolksi has assumed her duties as janitor for the church.

"I wish them luck," stated Mr. Glasgow, referring to the Indians. He added however, that with an apparent surplus of players at Killam, perhaps some of them could be regulars at Forestburg, and assist the hockey picture in that town.

Teams wishing to participate in the Battle River League had been contacted well in advance of a league meeting called for last night (Tuesday) and were told to have their plans formulated so that business could be accomplished quickly with a late November start as the goal.

Despite problems encountered by the league last season, Mr. Glasgow said he is a firm believer in team play, and coming from a 30 mile radius.

He referred to the current situation at Killam where he said local players were forced to sit on the sidelines while "outsiders" received the playing time, and pay, to the detriment of local taxpayers who keep arenas operational.

Players are constantly on the keys and the weekly schedule to use and the computer is always full.

Sedgewick's Main Street has seen many activities, not too many of them recreational as happened in this friendly game of football recently. Vernon Hill, Zane Schmitt, Bob MacGregor, Leonard Rawcliffe and Kevin Schaegey were strictly playing for the fun of it—no contract dispute as in the National Football League.

Battle River Hockey League Readies for another hockey season

The Battle River Senior Hockey League may be off to a "fast start" if the wishes of President Albert Glasgow are fulfilled.

Despite the loss of Killam Indians and Viking Gas Kings, Mr. Glasgow anticipates at least seven teams will compete this year, and possibly nine.

Indications are that Hughenden, Hardisty, Irma, Lougheed, Sedgewick, Dayland and Rosalind will be back in the fold.

There is a possibility that Forestburg will return after an absence of one year, and also Wainwright is seeking entry.

Fifteen good reasons to feel confident about Alberta's future

The fifteen young people you see above share a very strong, common bond. Through their individual initiative and sense of responsibility, they have each been accorded the honour of...Junior Citizen of the Year.

It's an award of which to be proud. And one that inspires confidence in the future of our province, our country.

Through their unselfish contributions, each of these young people has made a vital contribution to his/her community. A contribution that has been recognized and appropriately rewarded. The Alberta Junior Citizen of the Year Awards are co-sponsored by TransAlta Utilities, which is proud to have had the opportunity to salute the courage and determination of our young people for twenty-one years.

Legislature Report

Day Care services much improved

Alberta's day-care services have improved dramatically during the past two years, according to a consultant's study commissioned by the provincial government.

Alberta has more day-care spaces relative to the child population than other provinces. With 81 spaces for every 1,000 children, the province is well ahead of its nearest rival, Manitoba which has 68 spaces for every 1,000 children.

Alberta also spends more per capita on day-care than any other province. At $96.34 a year for every pre-school age child, it is well ahead of second-place Ontario where the government spends $85.81.

The figures are contained in a Price Waterhouse study that shows the government's role in day care has increased significantly since 1980 when the same consultant found Alberta had one of the poorest day care systems in Canada.

The Price Waterhouse study notes that the government increased its day care funding by 117 percent over two years. And day-care centres, understaffed two years ago, now are forced to have staff complements that are roughly equivalent to those across the country.

The provincial government will spend $22.8 million on day care this year. Licensed day care centres are required to have a minimum of one staff member for every three infants, a ratio that gradually decreases to 1:40 for five year olds.

Although Alberta is in the forefront of the provinces in most day care indicators, it does not lead them all. Parents are asked to bear a larger portion of day care costs here than in British Columbia, Saskatchewan, Manitoba or Quebec. Alberta pays 44.81 percent of the costs of day care, a figure only slightly ahead of the national average of 41.66 percent. The B.C. government covers 64.34 percent of day care costs.

As these figures would indicate, Alberta's subsidy programs are not as generous as in the four provinces that lead it in public funding.

The apparent contradiction between Alberta's leadership in per capita funding and its fifth place spot in the percentage funding is explained by the much larger number of day care spaces to which Alberta's funds must be distributed.

Day care appears to be either more popular or more accessible in Alberta than in any other province. Social services officials pleased with the accomplishments of the last two years, say there are still many challenges to meet.

Among these they list increased training and qualifications of staff, more efficient use of public funds, work site day care and efforts to integrate handicapped children into standard day care centres.

Flagstaff District 4-H council reorganizes

The president, Mrs. Lorraine Haring, opened the first Flagstaff District 4-H council meeting held on November 10, in Sedgewick Community Office.

Mr. Doug Norman, 4-H Regional Specialist, was in attendance as well as other 4-H leaders from Flagstaff District.

Various 4-H summer activities were discussed by Council. Much discussion took place on the S.G. Walker Scholarship night held on June 28.

Council decided that because there were extra accumulated funds available in 1982, a fourth $500 scholarship would be awarded to a 4-H member who participated at this function. The winner of this award will be announced at a later date.

Mr. Warren Henderson, president of the Council that Flagstaff 4-H members participate in debating in the coming 4-H year. At the end of the competition, the winning 4-H team, of two members would receive $200.00 which would come from the S.G. Walker 4-H Fund. A motion on this suggestion was passed favorably by Council members.

Find-a-Friend weekend and Alumni held last summer was discussed. Mr. Norman reported that approximately 400 people attended this function which was very well organized by the Flagstaff Council.

The first planned event for the coming will be the Flagstaff District 4-H Executive (Continued on Page 9)

Remembrance Day services are held

Included in a series of Remembrance Day services across Canada, were services conducted throughout Flagstaff at Hardisty, Loughed, Sedgewick, Kilham, Dayland and Alliance.

The major part of services were held indoors, with wreath-laying taking place at Cenotaphs, in freezing temperatures. This was followed by dinners, and in the case of Alliance, an evening dance.

At Sedgewick, the Community Hall was filled to capacity for services arranged by Royal Canadian Legion Branch No. 55.

In his address, Pastor Nolan Haring said that, Inland we have a great heritage, pointing out that 2,000 years ago, a man gave of his life so that we might be free from the bondage of sin and the bondage of tyranny.

Also many Canadians were willing to sacrifice their lives so that we might enjoy freedom, he said.

Pastor Haring called to all to live up to the utmost of their capabilities, stating that it is a responsibility. The service was in charge of Legion President Brian Lee, with the Scripture lesson delivered by Sedgewick Mayor Ernie Koehl.

Brownies, Cubs and Guides were in attendance as well as young and old of the community.

Comrade Jack Sparrow presented a Canadian flag to Joy Vanderweide for submitting the best poem in a contest which will be entered in further competition. Posters prepared by school children were also on display.

Afterwards, members of the Sedgewick Legion Colour Party including Pipe and Eric Beddoes toured the Kilham Hospital and Auxiliary Hospital entertaining residents for a brief period, as is done traditionally each year.

There are risks in any sport

Despite the advances in sports equipment, is there room for still further advancement?

The answer seems to be "yes" in light of recent incidents.

Hockey shouldn't be considered a dangerous sport, but over the years, the record shows that there have been several fatalities, mostly at the amateur level — but notably one in the NHL — the late Bill Masterton.

This season in the NHL, there have been several stick-swinging incidents, with sticks being used as "weapons" to wack the noggins of opposing players. Luckily, most players wear helmets.

Even the puck itself can be a "weapon" as one player found out, as it knocked him senseless. One of his own players had unleashed the lethal missile, no less, from an equally-dangerous curved stick.

But the style of hockey nowadays wherein one of the objectives is to block the goaltender's view, is conducive to injury.

Thank goodness there are facemasks and other protective facial gear for goaltenders which prevent many scars and concussions, as well as saving teeth.

Some NHL teams are using the one-piece uniform which allows more mobility, while providing maximum protection, but these could also, provide false security.

Most of all, improvements in hockey equipment have benefitted younger children and those who play hockey for the fun of it.

However where the style of play is "rough," then there is bound to be injuries, no matter what type of equipment is worn.

Similarly in football, players wear the latest in protective gear, but the human body can absorb only so much punishment.

Sports such as motorcross have "built-in" dangers, no matter how much "improvement" there is in vehicle construction.

The same can be said for mountain climbing — there is always risk of injury or death involved. But the most obvious "sport" requiring improvements in equipment is boxing.

While there have been changes for the better in gloves, their wearers can still wreck havoc on an out-clasped opponent.

The age-old argument still rages, with many supporting the wearing of headgear in the ring (it is worn in training sessions). Purists apparently have won out since boxers still put their brains on the line.

Sugar Ray Leonard was smart to retire with his $40 million.

But there are others such as the South Korean boxer who was knocked senseless on the weekend, who will pay with their lives.

While many are engaged in sports for recreation only, there are more and more who have the "big leagues" as their goal, with their fame and fortune.

Our advice to those who don't want to "take a chance" is to take your sports via television.

What to do with pre-schoolers when both parents work

If you have ever been a working parent of a pre-schooler, you will certainly know what I mean when I say that searching for good, high-quality care for your child can be a nightmare beyond belief.

For working parents is a fact of life today. There is simply no use arguing about it. Most women who work these days, do so because they have to, not because they want a bit of pocket money.

So they resort to daycares, the number one dilemma of a working parent and must often the responsibility of the female working partner and a great source of stress.

The first consideration is always, commercial daycare or other types of care. The choices are wide: private home daycare, nursery schools, play groups, baby-sitting services, and nannies and loving grandmothers.

Laurea Johnson, co-author of The Daycare Crisis in Canada writes that, "because good child care is so difficult to find and afford, most working parents rely on family daycare for their children."

However, although most parents have concerns about placing a very young child in a group environment like a daycare centre, one study done in Toronto pointed out that most supervised private homes were only providing custodial care.

Interviews in the study found problems such as poor nutrition, spanking of children without parental consent and a general lack of stimulation.

They rated one-quarter of the care givers as very good, about one-third acceptable and eleven percent as very poor.

Next week, the question of daycare centres.

Remembrance Day services were held at the K.P. Hall in Sedgewick with Comrade E. Lash, president of the Sedgewick Legion Branch and Rev. MacLean and Rev. Vahby as the speakers. The order of service was carried out according to the printed program. Many hymns were sung and addresses were made which brought out the atrocity of war. A very large crowd attended this important service.

A meeting of the Council of the Town of Dayland was held in the Council chambers on Monday, November 7th with the Mayor and Councillors present.

Councillors Block and Carbone moved that the town pay to Mrs. Helwig $22.50 a month until arrangements can be made for the care of the Amell children. Also that the town release 100 bushels of wheat and 1 dry cow held under seizure of Churchill and the remainder of the chattels remain under seizure.

At Bay's Cash Store in Sedgewick, men's mackinaw pants, were regular $5.50 but on sale for a low $3.99; ladies' 4-buckle overshoes were regular $2.75 but on sale for $1.25.

The third Victory Loan Campaign has closed successfully for this Unit. On a quota of $46,000.00 we have now reported $46,750. raised in Dayland, Strome, Benell and Roseland.

The cattle sale held in Sedgewick on November 15th was very well attended and Mr. Arthur Muirhead expressed pleasure at the result. Top cow brought $185.00 and top steer was 9 cents per pound.

Some threatening was done last week but it looks as if such operations are definitely over for the season since rain and snow on Sunday and blizzard on Monday. The blizzard was as severe as any for some time and now drifts are piled four and five feet high.

Miss Madge Voorhes, Alameda, who attended at the Lougheed, for a number of years, was a member of the executive committee of the RCAF (WD) from Rockville which put on a display in Edmonton, on Sunday, Miss Kathleen Grixoux of Pictou, Ontario, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Grixoux, formerly of Kilian was also a member of the squad.

A meeting of those interested in senior hockey at Sedgewick was held last Saturday evening. An executive was elected with A. Carmichael as president. A coach is to be selected later. The manager of the team is Jimmy Walsh, secretary-treasurer is Terry Gacyotte and the transportation committee is L. Williams, R. Cooper, directors are Bill Rose and Larry Williams. The vice president of the executive is Art Eastly.

The Strome Junior Grain Club held their Achievement Day at the Strome Town Hall on November 16th.

The open mixed bonspiel results were as follows: first event, R. Cooper's rink of G. Eriksson, H. Bailey and R. Eriksson defeated the

A. Baple rink. Third and fourth went to A. Bradley and I. Tait. Second event G. Cherran rink. 2nd, L. Rombough and F. Johnson of Lougheed and R. Stenbak of taking third and fourth respectively. The first eight club was held on Monday, November 15 with the Dobry rink of Viking defeating C. Bealrino in the first event. Norm Rose won over J. Golka in the consolation.

Judging by the number of red caps and coats and overalls in town this past week it would appear that Nikita was moving his missile bases to Alberta. But it's only the local yokels chasing the Queen's coyotes, commonly known as bears. According to reports there will be quite a quantity of secret missiles in the district this winter.

At Revelstoke Building Materials in Lougheed, 2x Spruce was on special for $65.00 M. Heavy Red Fir was $10.00 per board foot. 2x Spruce was $3.50 and $3.85. Rock Wool insulation, 2 inch $5.58 per 100 sq. foot; and 5/16 popular sheathing, water proof glue, $2.25 per sheet.

Eric Beddoes, well known Dayland man placed eighth in the Herford Steer Class, at the 50th Annual Royal Agricultural Winter Fair currently being held in Toronto.

Miss Judy Danielson of Sedgewick is one of fourteen 4-H club members from Alberta spending a week in Toronto and Ottawa at the annual National 4-H Club Conference. They will be touring Ontario, including Government House and the Parliament Buildings where they will be presented with Certificates of Canadian Citizenship. Then follows a bus trip to Niagara Falls and three days in Toronto. A hockey game at the Ontario Science Centre and the Royal Winter Fair will be among the highlights of the trip for the young 4-H'ers.

After 24 years of faithful service with N.A.D.P., Mr. James Walsh was honored at a retirement supper party at the Sedgewick Snack Bar Banquet room. Mr. Scott Jack presented Jan with a lovely china clock wishing him many happy years of retirement.

Growing Participation in Energy Development

Alberta Energy Company Ltd.

Established to provide you with a special opportunity to participate directly in ownership of energy and natural resource related projects.

The Company

Alberta Energy Company Ltd. is a wholly Canadian owned company with investments totalling over one billion dollars.

A principal objective of AEC is to operate at a profit in the best interests of all its shareholders.

The Company is owned 50% by residents or citizens of Canada and 50% by the Province of Alberta — the Province participates in ownership, but not in management of AEC.

AEC is taxable on the same basis as other Canadian companies and is not a crown corporation.

The Company has steadily growing investments in energy and natural resource related developments.

The Projects

The Company is currently involved in a number of major projects, including:

• natural gas development and production and heavy oil production, on the 1000-square mile Sulfurfield Block — AEC is among the top ten natural gas producers in Canada of those companies whose shares are available for purchase by the public.

• ownership of the petroleum and natural gas rights to the 2000-square mile Primrose Block where AEC owns heavy oil reserves in place of 17 billion barrels and a pilot plant for heavy oil production underway.

• an active oil and gas exploration program, whereby AEC is currently developing opportunities in other ventures, including petrochemicals, additional pipeline projects and participation in a natural gas liquids extraction plant.

majority ownership of a highly successful oil and gas exploration company

• a 10% interest in the Synchro oil sands project

• a 25% joint venture participation in the Coal Valley coal mine located south of Edson, Alberta

• 100% ownership of both Alberta Oil Sands Pipeline, which transports synthetic crude from Syncrude, and the Cold Lake Bitumen Blend Pipeline, and one-third ownership of an ethane gathering system.

In addition to investments in other activities such as forestry, AEC is currently developing opportunities in other ventures, including petrochemicals, additional pipeline projects and participation in a natural gas liquids extraction plant.

Report from Central High

The Central Rams Volleyball team advanced to the zone competition in Devon on November 10 as a result of their regional victory in Castor last Saturday.

After splitting games with Castor, Consort and Coronation, in the round-robin, the Rams defeated Consort in a sudden-death game to determine the team which would challenge the first place finisher and defending champion team from Coronation.

The Rams rallied from a 1-4 deficit in the first game against Coronation to win in electrifying fashion 16-14. The Rams easily won the second game against a demoralized Coronation squad.

We wish the girls success in Devon so that they may continue to provide the Central Rams also participated in the regional against the south line teams but with the loss of several key players to hockey and extremely keen competition, were eliminated from further play this year. Mr. Bennett is to be congratulated for the tremendous progress of both teams this season.

With the Alberta School Trustees Convention over, the question of comprehensive exams was in the news almost daily last week. The ASTA, according to the Edmonton Journal, has asked that comprehensive be postponed and wants the government to explain the purpose of the optional four day academic exams before showing them in public schools. However, school boards have decided not to boycott the exams.

The Alberta Teachers' Association meanwhile, has asked its members to oppose the comprehensive exams. Editorials have generally been in favor of comprehensive exams. David King, the Minister of Education, blames the ATA for using students as a weapon in the disagreement.

I would suggest that teachers and students are in this controversial situation together and that nothing can be gained for teachers or students at Central if students are discouraged from writing comprehensive exams.

Since students are not compelled to write, the decision to write comprehensive exams will rest on their own choice to write or not to be hindered in any way at Central High School.

I am personally opposed to the present proposal but am not opposed to some form of province-wide testing.

Manfred Jeanwein, Principal.

Merna 4-H reorganizes and plans for rodeo

On October 25th, old and new members met at Bell's hall school for the reorganization of the Merna 4-H Riding and Driving Club.

This year we have about 17 members in total. Officers for the new year were elected and are as follows:
 President - Sharon Burr, Vice President - Marty Bownes, Secretary - Scott Alderidge, Treasurer - Jane Leslie, Club Reporter - Paul Alderidge, Photographer and Historian - Deb Leslie and Joan Oliver.

The club decided to go to the Canadian Finals Rodeo on November 14. Club dues were set at $2.00 per member. The Award Banquet is on November 28 at Bell's Hall School. The first yearly meeting was held on November 8 at Bell's Hall. Plans for the Awards Banquet were finalized along with the plans to go to the rodeo.

Names for Christmas gifts were also drawn from a hat.

We would like to welcome our new members to our club. Jane Leslie, Deb Leslie, Margaret Ward and Trish Fossom.

Our club would like to congratulate Sharon Burr for her being the first runner up in the L.R.A. Showdown 92 queen contest which was held from October 20-23 in Camrose.

Our next meeting will be on December 13 at Bell's Hall School.

Report from Central High From Around Loughheed

Molly Penneybeugh
The Remembrance Day service was well attended this year. Bill lots of seeds were empty, so come out and fill these places next year. The Rev. Canon Richard and Conrad of the Anglican Church always presents a very touching ceremony any time he speaks. Persons such as those he seems to want to see in this 11th of November services do give you something to think about, not only for the hour, but days to come.

Blair Cookson is at SATT in Calgary where he is taking a refrigeration mechanic's course. He was home last weekend, along his cousin, Debbie Richardson, of the U. of A. in Edmonton. They both were staying with Blair's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Cookson. The high light was the christening of Tony and Linda's son, Warren George Cookson at the Anglican Church in Loughheed, Sunday, November 7th.

Mr. Vesta Cookson has returned home after visiting his mother in Vancouver. Mrs. Ina Coughlin had her 80th birthday, October 11. Mrs. Kim Newman (Lila) had a party for her mother at her home with friends and neighbours, also daughters Vesta from Alberta; Angie, Whitehorse; Ina, New Mexico and Eva, whom Mrs. Coughlin stays with. Besides there were a lot of nieces and nephews, and several grandchildren. On October 30th, she had a first great-granddaughter. She already has two great-grandsons. Congratulations from all your friends around Loughheed, Mrs. Ina Coughlin.

Merna 4-H reorganizes and plans for rodeo

On October 25th, old and new members met at Bell's Hill school for the reorganization of the Merna 4-H Riding and Driving Club.

This year we have about 17 members in total. Officers for the new year were elected and are as follows: President - Sharon Burr, Vice President - Mary Bowens, Secretary - Scott Alderick, Treasurer - Jane Leslie, Club Reporter - Jerry Aldericks, Photographer and Historian - Deb Leslie and Joan Oliver.

The club decided to go to the Canadian Finals Rodeo on November 14. Club dues were set at $2.00 per member. The Award Banquet is on November 28 at Bell's Hill School. The first year meeting was held on November 8 at Bell's Hill. Plans for the Awards Banquet were finalized along with the plans to go to the rodeo.

Names for Christmas gifts were also drawn from a hat. We would like to welcome our new members to our club. Jane Leslie, Deb Leslie, Margaret Ward and Trish Forsum.

Our next meeting will be on December 13 at Bell's Hill School.

Betty Walsh, Irene and Oliver Schmitt of Edmonton were weekend guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Erickson last night in the shower for Dawn Erickson.

We were very pleased to hear that Janine DeBock was able to spend from Saturday to Tuesday evening at home here. Her mother, who has been in Edmonton with her at the hospital, tells me that she is to start new treatment when she returns to the hospital. We're sure the change from the hospital must have been enjoyable for the whole family and hope Janine will soon be able to spend more time here.

Mr. and Mrs. Tommie O'Neill of Red Deer were visiting her parents and other relatives and friends over the weekend.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Jim Baker who on Friday, November 12th reached another milestone, their 35th wedding anniversary. They had celebrated the event in October with an overnight trip to Edmonton where they saw a play in company with some of their family. May they enjoy many more happy anniversaries Jim and Aline.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Walsh were supper guests at the home of daughter Beth and family, the Grant Bakers at Heister on Thursday. Friends and relatives gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Don Anderson on Saturday evening for a bridal shower in honour of Miss Dawn Erickson. Miss Cindy Douglas was master of ceremonies for a short programme of games after which Dawn opened her gifts. Lunch and conversation was then enjoyed.

Japanese Doctor worked at Hardisty

The Barney Matthews of Hardisty had a visit on Wednesday from a delightful young couple from Japan, accompanied by Mr. George Nakamura of Edmonton.

Mr. and Mrs. Susuki Makoto came from Japan to gather information about a Dr. Kurimoto, who had come to Hardisty during the depression years to work in the roundhouse as a worker. He and two other Japanese students were working for money to help them through University.

Mr. Bernard Matthews and his wife, Barbara were able to recall a few anecdotes about the three young Japanese University students, as Barney worked in the roundhouse at that time. Dr. Kurimoto, after graduating from the U. of A. started some commercial training schools in Japan, and at the time of his death last year was president of one of the largest commercial universities in Japan at Nagoya.

Mr. and Mrs. Makoto are gathering information for a book on the doctor's life.

Flagstaff schools lose superintendent, deputy

The County of Flagstaff board of education is losing its two top executive officers.

Already announced, has been the resignation of Superintendent Dale Erickson which becomes effective the end of January. He has served in the Flagstaff school system for nearly 19 years.

Mr. Erickson will become an executive assistant with the Alberta School Trustees Association.

Also departing is Deputy Superintendent, Terry Tiffin, who has 17 years experience in Flagstaff.

Mr. Tiffin will become principal of Wainwright elementary school, effective February 1st.

Superintendent's duties for County of Flagstaff schools will be taken over by Walter Curtis, presently chief deputy superintendent for County of Ponoka schools.

Flagstaff board of education will make a decision as to the deputy superintendent's position at its December meeting.

Sedgewick Agricultural Society

Hires Jerry Ash as manager

The new secretary-manager of the Sedgewick and District Agricultural Society has a wealth of experience which will be most beneficial in his new duties.

Originally from Lockwood, Saskatchewan, 90 miles north of Regina, Jerry Ash at one time was in the livestock business, and has served as a director and fieldman of various Angus groups.

It isn't surprising then, that one of his main aims is to boost the summer fair and of course promotion of the Angus breed will be high on the list.

Mr. Ash is currently a resident of Carleton Place, Ontario, where he has been associated for five years with the Carleton Agricultural Society, however he will be moving to Sedgewick with his family when suitable accommodation is obtained.

Also included in his duties is the management of the Race Centre.

Although Mr. Ash just recently took over his new position, he also has some thoughts pertaining to maximum use of recreation facilities including availability of the upstairs hall.

The possibility of holding a County of Flagstaff Senior Games has been discussed with local officials and should result due to health reasons.

Under provisions of its land use bylaw, the County of Flagstaff has granted permission to Swanton Engineering Ltd. to construct an addition to the existing gas plant at the site north of Sedgewick.

Mr. Wayne said that while Flagstaff's Development Appeal Board could make a ruling, the powers of the Alberta Energy Resources Conservation Board are superior.

The possibility of holding a County of Flagstaff Senior Games has been discussed with local officials and should be materialized then the Games could be held in late May or early June.

Mr. Ash states that besides the tennis courts and bowling lanes, other facilities could be altered to provide for activities such as darts and checkers.

Mr. Le Slasch who had previously been accepted for the position, was forced to resign due to health reasons.

Sour gas proposal heard at Killam

At least two objections to a proposal to process sour gas at a compressor station north of Sedgewick were stated to be heard at a hearing in Killam this (Wednesday) morning.

In its application to the Alberta Energy Resources Conservation Board, Voyager Petroleum Ltd. stipulated that it intends to process about 704,333 thousand cubic metres per day of raw gas from which 704,333 thousand cubic metres of sales gas would be recovered.

The Voyager firm states that about 39 kilograms per day of sulphur would be removed from the gas by an iron sponge sweetening process.

It is contended that "under normal operating conditions, no sulphur or sulphur compounds would be emitted to the atmosphere."

Mrs. Larry Bricker who lives in the vicinity of the proposed plant, is one who is uncertain about the contention, but is pessimistic about chances that the application will be turned down.

Under provisions of its land use bylaw, the County of Flagstaff has granted permission to Swanton Engineering Ltd. to construct an addition to the existing gas plant at the site north of Sedgewick.

E.L. Mayne, County of Flagstaff Development Officer, said that two objections had been received.

Mr. Mayne said that while Flagstaff's Development Appeal Board could make a ruling, the powers of the Alberta Energy Resources Conservation Board are superior.

What If?

The air above my head is thick with visible and not so visible pollutants. There are particles from pesticides, weed sprays on farms, county crews spray road-side, oil companies and flare pits, forest fire and brush fire smoke, just to name a few.

Why should we be asked to invite still another more potentially dangerous source of chemical pollution into our well populated farming community?

Our local Sanitary Land Fill site already receives industrial wastes from places as far away as Ainslie.

Are there no other dumps available, or is it because the Sanitary Land Fill site in our area cannot be used because of a Secure Land Fill?

It is, however, not only the dumping that is our concern.

What happens to a family living within the shadowed radius of one mile from the proposed sour gas sweetening process, if there should be yet another sour gas accident?

All the promises that the rotten egg smell spewing up from the Lodepole accident will not cause lasting damage to health have not prevented many people from suffering nausea, cramps and various other complaints.

Many of those who suffered "lasting damage" are unavailable for comment. Just ask the families of seventeen H2S victims in the last eight years in Alberta. We are told as long as we can smell the gas it is not dangerous. What happens when the concentration of the gas interferes with the olfactory nerve? By that time it is too late.

H2S can be smelled with concentrations as low as ten parts per billion; causes eye and lung irritation at 1000 ppb; and we are told, does not become dangerous until it reaches levels of 100,000 ppb.

At the immediate site of a blowout like Lodepole, concentrations can be as high as 250 million ppb. This concentration can kill in as little as two minutes by paralyzing the central nervous system.

H2S levels monitored at Lodepole, twelve miles from the well site accident, were 1200 ppb.

How strong would the concentrations be within one mile of the proposed plant, should there be a sour gas accident?

Lactamen company men and the lake have tried to point out those who oppose the plant in question, by painting out all sorts of safety features. That all well and good, but what if?

All the equipment available to the Nabors Drilling crew, Amoco and the powers that be, did not prevent the Lodepole accident.

All the expertise of well-fighter Joe Bowden, the death of one worker and near fatal injuries to 15 others, has not shut the wild well in.

It continues it's seven week rampage.

In an interview in the November 1, 1982 issue of Alberta Report, Mr. Bowden is quoted as saying sour gas accidents are especially dangerous "but they'll kill the hell out of you."

From his position, he should know!

How long will it be, with more and more sweetening plants in populated areas, before we do have an accident?

Is the day coming when we'll all wear the latest fashion in hydrogen sulfide detectors and have gum masks in colors to complement every wardrobe?

I, for one, have no desire to spend even a few of my days, shallow breathing around the pungent odor of rotten eggs!

Myrna Mackey, Box 333, Killam, Alta.

Editor's Note: The writer is referring to a proposal to process sour gas at a location north of Sedgewick. The application was to be heard at Killam, November 24. Some quotes are taken from an Alberta Report article "A Sinking Ship" by Shawn McCarthy and Ric Dolphin.

Community causes in Killam and district will now have the opportunity to travel on this 30-passenger bus recently purchased by Russell Grant and Earl Westhaver. The Junior "B" Wheat Kings hockey team were the first to travel in the bus, but which is in excellent condition. Players Glen Cootes and Kevin Sorken stay the exterior.

Killam Wheat Kings of the Central Alberta Junior "B" League were denied a chance on Sunday to improve their record at Vegreville were "no show".

The Kings only victory by a 6-1 score took place at Vegreville.

The Vegreville management apparently planned there was a schedule map, however the fact that Edmonton's Eskimos and Winnipeg Blue Bombers were competing for the WFL championship that afternoon could have had some bearing.

If this was the reason, then the league executive should take appropriate action against the Vegreville team.

The Wheat Kings played well at Wainwright against the Bruins on Friday night but wound up on the short end of a 6-2 score.

Kevin Sorken assisted by Bill Knodel and Devin Slempe from Bill Peters and Dean Antos were the only Killam players

Blair McNaabb chipped in one after the first period and Wainwright led 2-1 after two frames.

Kevin Busch bagged three goals for the Bruins. Glen Martin added a pair and

Last week, students only had 3 1/2 days of school. Wednesday was parent teacher interview and Friday afternoon we had off due to a four hour computer outage the teachers were taking.

A visitor to our school on November 12 was Marie Anderson. Marie goes to a school in Edmonton for the deaf.

Maureen Pleck brought Marie in and through Maureen we communicated with Marie, using sign language. We really appreciated her visit, because it showed us that we can communicate with others, without the use of words.

For all Mystery Sleuths, the M.S. read-a-thon, ended on November 19. The slips must be sent away before December 4, so get busy seeing your sponsors.

The teams were tied at one after the first period and Wainwright led 2-0 after two frames.

Kevin Busch bagged three goals for the Bruins, Glen Martin added a pair and Blair McNabb chipped in with one goal. Wainwright is at Killam on Wednesday, December 1.

The Wheat Kings played well at Wainwright against the Bruins on Friday night but wound up on the short end of a 6-2 score.

Kevin Sorken assisted by Edmoren, Ekamu's and Winnipeg Blue Bombers were competing for the WFL championship this afternoon.

Community causes in Killam and district will now have the opportunity to travel on this 39-passenger bus recently purchased by Russell Grant and Earl Westhale. The Junior "B" Wheat Kings hockey team were the first to travel in the used bus, which is an excellent condition. Players Glen Coates and Kevin Sorken view the exterior.

Killam Wheat Kings of the Central Alberta Junior "B" League were denied a chance on Sunday to improve their record as Vegreville were "too strong".

The Kings only victory by a 6-1 score took place at Vegreville.

The Vegreville management apparently claimed there was a schedule map, however the fact that Edmonton, Ekamu's and Winnipeg Blue Bombers were competing for the WFL championship this afternoon.

Kinette Korner

The general meeting of the Sedgewick Kinettes was held November 17, 1982. We received reports from the K.I.B. Canvas, total collected was $520.00.

Ten were presented to the new Brownies by the Kinettes on November 18, 1982.

Please take note that this Kinette will not be holding their annual card Festival, but will be putting their efforts into the exciting new project that has been introduced to the Community being the "Sedgewick 1st Annual Community Christmas" Community support will be needed to make this a successful event, so we will still be asking volunteers to help sing, etc. we all want this to be a super event!!

Keep watching The Community Press for more information. Kinmen $100.00 A Month Raffle winner for October was E. Heister from Linden, Alberta.

FLAGSTAFF FURTHER EDUCATION COUNCIL

Carol McDermott

wants to Put a little "class" in your life to the January meeting.

Ten members of the Flagstaff Further Education Council enjoyed a noon luncheon at the Tasty MUI in Killam on Thursday, November 18th.

We moved to the Agriples and were given a tour of the building. Killam should be very proud to have such a facility in their community.

Donna Martin, our chairman, called the meeting to order. Some of the highlights of our meeting were as follows:

We are looking into the costs of teleconferencing, and the various courses that are offered through this method of communication. Reports are to be brought to the January meeting. It was decided that the minimum age limit for courses be 16 years of age. These students will be allowed to register only after the required number of adults have registered, and must have council approval. The Nominating Committee for a new executive was named.

The usual time for course requests to be into my office, is November 18th, as I must get the brochure to the printer by the first of December.

Our Christmas luncheon will be held in Sedgewick on December 6th. The meeting adjourned at 3:45 p.m.

Central High Report

Three Central students - Debbie Tiffen, Suzie Lee, and Kathryn Schifield represented our school at the "U.N. Plogging for Youth" speaking competition in Ripley on Sunday.

Although they didn't win the competition, they are to be commended for their preparation work and their presentations. Their sponsoring Rebekah and Oddfellows lodges are very proud of these young ladies.

The Girls' volleyball team travelled to Devon on November 20 to compete against Vikings, Tolled and Devon for the right to represent this Zone in the provincials. The girls defeated Vikings, but were unable to mount strong attacks against the other teams. Therefore extend their quest to reach provincial playoffs. The girls and their coach, Mr. Brun-neis are to be commended for their successful season. This week the afternoon curling begins. Mr. Sparrow has arranged for high school curling on Wednesday afternoons and junior high curling for Killam and Sedgewick on Tuesdays.

Manfred Jessiman, Principal.

ZERO PLUS NUMBER DIALING

IS COMING TO SEDGEWICK

... giving you three fast ways to dial your own Long Distance calls!

- A new way to dial Long Distance
- 1. ZERO PLUS NUMBER DIALING
Faster than conventional operator-assisted calls! Your call goes through much faster because you save time for a busy operator by dialing these types of calls yourself:
 - Collect
 - Person-to-person
 - Calls billed to another number
 - Long Distance Card
 - Calls requiring time and charges
 - Here's how:
To dial to a point inside Alberta
 - Dial "0"
 - Then, within 4 seconds, dial the Area Code of the number you want to reach
 - Dial the number.

Because Zero Plus Number Dialing calls require operator assistance, operator-assisted rates remain in effect.

- Continue to use
- 2. DIRECT DISTANCE DIALING
for all your station-to-station calls when you don't need operator assistance
DIAL "0" FOR OPERATOR
 - If you reach a wrong number.
 - If you require operator assistance
 - If you require additional help
 - 3. DIALING OVERSEAS
Here's how:
 - See the Information Service Pages of your telephone directory
 - Ask for detailed information available from your AG1 Business Office
- Zero Plus Number calls and DDD calls can be dialed from coin telephones. Please check the instruction card in the booth from which you are calling

Who will write comprehensive exams trustees ask

School trustees directed newly-elected officers of their provincial association to make "strong, immediate representation" to both the Premier and the Minister of Education in an attempt to defer the introduction of comprehensive student examinations until trustee concerns have been addressed.

Newly-elected president of the Alberta School Trustees' Association, Mrs. Ina Evans, Chairman of the Strathcona County Board of Education, is trying to arrange a meeting with Premier Lougheed and Mr. King in an attempt to convey the many concerns which her colleagues have concerning both the nature of the examinations and the manner in which they are being implemented.

The first vice-president, Mr. Don Ware of the Calgary Board of Education, and second vice-president, Mr. John Ellingson, of the Red Deer County Board of Education, both of whom were elected at the recent trustee convention, pointed out that not only are they concerned about the quality of the examinations, but they are particularly concerned with the lack of information necessary to advise students as to whether to write the examinations or not.

Mrs. Philippe Gibson, past president of the Association and a member of the Edmonton Catholic School Board, points out that these examinations are intended only for the top students, when public opinion and trustee sentiment require a set of examinations which will establish standards for all grade twelve students.

To date, these Association representatives have conveyed the resolutions, in writing, to the appropriate representatives of the provincial government and anxiously await an immediate call or meeting with the Premier and the Minister of Education.

Meanwhile, informal word from the provincial department of education is that even in the face of legitimate trustee concerns, examinations are scheduled to be administered this January.

The question on everybody's mind is: who will write them, according to the trustees association.

Area receives zero plus dialing

of 114,000 provides the latest in telephone technology to 618,000 AGT customers whose number begins with 384.

Killam receives this service on November 25 at a cost of $100,000.

In addition, however, private line customers in Killam will no longer hear an operator asking for a telephone number when placing long distance calls.

The number called will be automatically registered by new automatic number identification equipment in the Killam phone exchange.

As of October 30th, there were 628,000 main station customers in the 385 calling area.

Lougheed received Zero-Plus dialing similar to K01-iam on November 16th at a cost of $47,000.

There are 382 main line customers in the 386 exchange.

Hardly received Zero-Plus dialing on November 23 at a cost of $100,000. There are 513 customers in the 888 exchange.

Forestry received the new service on November 18 at a cost of $58,000. There are 585 customers in the 582 calling area.

Alliance is scheduled to receive Zero-Plus dialing on December 2nd at a cost of $63,000. There are 338 customers in the 879 area.

Galahad is expected to receive the new service in early December.

Centres such as Dayland, Strone, Heider and Camrose were part of a $16.5 million program to inaugurate Zero-Plus dialing in October. All operators are located in Camrose.

Why wait for Spring?!

Make your major farm purchases in 1982 and save on time, trouble and taxes!

There are a lot of good, sound reasons why you should buy the fertilizer, herbicides and farm equipment you need before the end of 1982. They all add up to big savings for you!

Examine Co-op's checklist and see how many ways you can save:

- ☒ You may benefit from Co-op's special year-end clearance prices on many items
- ☒ You beat inflation by avoiding the higher prices you'll pay in 1983
- ☒ You save time and trouble by taking care of your Spring needs now — before the Spring rush
- ☒ You can take advantage of significant savings on your 1982 taxes through
 - ☒ operational expense write-offs
 - ☒ depreciation write-offs
 - ☒ capital cost allowances
 - ☒ investment tax credits

See your Co-op Agro Centre Manager

Discuss your fertilizer, farm equipment and herbicide needs with him. He can help you plan your year-end purchases and that will save you money and free up next Spring's crowded timetable. Start making your Spring savings plans now at Co-op. Good people and good services working for you.

Farm vacations group meet

"Country Bed and Breakfast" said John Thompson, author of the popular "Country Bed and Breakfast Places in Canada."

He was speaking to the delegates and guests attending the annual meeting of the C.C.V.A., held in Camrose, October 27 and 28.

Delegates from across Canada were presented with the listing of all Farm Vacations hosts across Canada which has been compiled by the Canadian Government Office of Tourism, and they considered ways of best using and distributing this information.

A presentation by Noel McNaughton of Wetaskinaw on "Taking the Best Advantage of the Media" was of great value to those attending.

The meeting was hosted by the Alberta Country Vacations Association (C.C.V.A.), who held their annual meeting at the same location on October 28. It was attended, too, by a number of people interested in becoming Farm Vacation hosts.

Members of the board of directors are as follows: Alice Thompson, President; Gille Mittelstadt, Leanne Mable, Gwynne; Wilks and Tom Lynch, Treasurers; and Robert Phillips, Linda; and Rick Milligan, Glibson, who is the new secretary-treasurer.

ALBERTA FARM FUEL DISTRIBUTION ALLOWANCE

Have you filed your declaration for Alberta Purple?

Will you be eligible to continue to receive the Allowance benefit after November 30, 1982?

Every Alberta farmer who files a declaration is entitled to a 3% fuel discount on public gas and diesel fuel purchased for farm equipment and farm trucks use.

Act now to be sure that you continue to receive the Alberta Farm Fuel Distribution Allowance benefit.

• Fill in the new Alberta Farmer Declaration form (recently sent to you) and take it to your local dealer.

Your new declaration is to be filed by November 30, 1982.

• If you have not received a declaration form from your dealer, obtain one and take it with you to your dealer.

Always check your fuel invoices to be sure that you have been credited with the AFDDA discount for all marked gasoline and diesel fuel purchased for farm equipment and farm trucks use.

Fill now and fill ahead with Alberta Purple! An average Alberta farmer will save approximately $1500 a year in fuel costs.

Well here we are into the season of fun and games, and I guess I should say trouble as well.

As you are aware of, our main pool box which operates the ice plant, kind of turned up. After came right down to fix it, but decided to take it back to Edmonton. Crest Gould could not get it on Tuesday, and the unit should have been here on Friday. Maybe we should all say a small prayer.

Everyone seems to be getting excited but never the less the crew have managed to build up an ice base. So when the plant comes on, away we go.

The schedule looks to be a bit tight, but I am sure all will have their time and maybe gain a bit here and there.

The bowlers are really into it now. Some real good averages are appearing. So far the high average goes to Vernon Simpson with Danny Adamson a close second.

The Series are doing well. Kris Meen has 209 for his average. We expect to see the start of Junior Bowling. I would like to see a good turnout here.

We have an excellent bowling shoe in stock now. Ideal for that special surprise.

The Rec. Centre concession is now open. Drop in and say "Hi" to Cathy and Janet.

Secondly, by monitoring the heater hose, the POWER SAVER turns on and off (at -7°C, +20°F) to maintain the right engine temperature for quick, easy starts.

Evening honours couple at 25th wedding anniversary

Frank Hamper, who flew from Vancouver, just for the anniversary sang two lovely numbers, "I Love You Truly" and "The Anniversary Waltz" accompanied on the piano by Helen O'Reilly.

Susan Drager read a very touching piece about "Sunshine and Faith in Tomorrow." Brian Rawluk on behalf of St. Andrew's United Church Congregation presented David and Ida May with tea plates.

Arthur Black on behalf of the community and guests, presented the happy couple with a money tree, laden with paper money of various denominations.

Elbert Peterson read the "unknown how" David met and even his Ida May. Pat MacInnon showed slides of David and Ida May's wedding of 25 years ago. They were much enjoyed and brought back fond memories.

Robert Drager was master of ceremonies and carried out all his duties with "grace." The grace, "Be present at our table Lord" was sung by all, led by Orpha Smith. Orpha sang two lovely numbers, and was accompanied on the piano by her daughter, Barbara Stratford.

Bill Puhala gave the toast to the bride. He spoke of all the good times he and his aunt had back in Nova Scotia, gathering May flowers, fishing, picking gum from spruce trees, while looking for the cows "come milkin' time," and many more memorable events.

In many words "off the cuff," David answered the toast to his bride, of 25 years. It all "boiled down" that he appreciated and was happy with his choice.

Kelly Drager and Karen Rawluk, accompanied on the piano by Shirley Drager, sang a couple of lovely songs, much to the delight of the people.

On behalf of the Loughheed Agricultural Society, Lloyd Cameron brought best wishes and congratulations to David and Ida May. David was secretary-treasurer of the Coors Creek and later Loughheed Fair for about 30 years.

Hardisty Happenings

Word has recently been received of the passing on November 1 of Mrs. Mabel Perkins at the age of 88 years. Mrs. Perkins was a resident of a senior citizens lodge in Victoria, B.C. She and her husband, Harry lived in Hardisty some years ago and moved to Victoria after Harry's retirement from the C.P.R. Harry passed away a few years ago.

Their daughter, Gwyneth House grew up here and worked in some of the business places in town and presently resides in Victoria.

Eva Cookson has informed me that her aunt, Dorothy Foden, has recently moved into Cameron Lodge in Lacombe.

The hospital here has been busy as a result of the flu bug floating around. About many children have been contacting the mumps. May be this cold weather will slow down the bugs. Should be good for something. I wonder how many football fans from here, were brave enough to go to the Western Finals on Sunday. It just might have been exciting enough to keep them warm. Hopefully the weather will be better in Toronto next week for the Grey Cup.

Sincerely hope Terry and Dana Henderson's young son has improved in the Carmichael Hospital.

Frank Matthews of Calgary spent a few days last week with his parents, the Barney Matthews, and his brother, Bill. Congratulations to Bessie and Paul Maure on the celebration of their 40th wedding anniversary.

Also congratulations to Leslie and Carl Baker who celebrated their 40th anniversary in Edmonton on the weekend. The Bakers lived south of Hardisty in the Bow River area before returning to Edmonton.

Anglican Church News

Dennis C. Martin
A special service of dedication of a new parsonal candle holder and sanctuary lamp will take place at 7:30 p.m., Sunday, November 28 at St. John's, Sedgewick.
The Sunday School concert has been scheduled for December 19th. The rector is already mulling over his breath about a jolly old man in a red suit who insists upon visiting the Sunday school every year.
By the way, if you'd like to get in touch with the jolly old man, his address is North Pole and his postal code is H0 H0 H0. Congratulations to Kathy Brodie and Rick Posen who were married Saturday, at St. George's Killam.

Clay Clark, Ella Clouston and Jack Butcher are hospital patients this week and we hope to see them soon.
Carol Parquharson was an Edmonton visitor with relatives and friends last week. Dorcas Central has been having quite a bout of illness and we hope she is better

Veronica Probst again heads Loughheed W.I.

The Loughheed Women's Institute met November 9 at the Welcome Centre with president Veronica Probst in the chair. She welcomed members and visitors alike. All were pleased to have Mrs. Verda Wallace as a visitor.
The meeting opened with members repeating the creed. The minutes were read and adopted.
Discussion was held on the W.I. award. This will be presented to the best all round Grade nine student who graduates from Loughheed.
Members also debated whether it would be feasible to reprint the Verdant Valley History Book. It was decided to have a booth at the fair where orders would be taken. This would give the members an opportunity to know if it could be financially possible.
There was to be a mini-workshop held at the library. Information was to be given to students at the library who work there.
Program conveners' annual reports were distributed.
Letters were read from the offices of the prime minister, and premier, acknowledging resolutions sent in from the Alberta Women's Institute Convention.
The annual meeting was held. New officers are President, Mrs. Veronica Probst and first vice president is Mrs. Lorraine Frost; second vice president is Hazel Shogren; secretary, Mrs. Dolores Coates.
The treasurer was Janet Nilsson.
A hearty vote of thanks was given to these officers. From all reports read, the members have been busy and active in the community.
A directors meeting was to be held November 23 at Mrs. Veronica Probst's home.
Members decided to have a garage sale November 28 and ask the community to give generously of their belongings they no longer

WELCOME BACK TO LOUGHEED

On Wednesday, November 3 a group of volunteers gathered at the Welcome Centre to address invitations to be sent out for the LOUGHEED WELCOME. "Thank you" to those who volunteered their time! It is hard to land to those addresses that have been requested and any other names and addresses as well.

Our WELCOME meetings are held the 3rd Monday of every month at the Legion. It would be encouraging for the committee to have a larger turnout of interested people at these meetings. (No meeting in December). Due to the high cost of postage, local invitations will not be mailed, but will be available in Loughheed for those who wish to pick one up. Anyone in the surrounding area who has not received an invitation is most welcome to attend as long as you are pre-registered.

We sincerely hope this homecoming will have many happy memories as you recall and relive the past with friends and family. We wish all of you a enjoyable weekend.

Following is the list of events we have scheduled for your enjoyment:
REGISTRATION - The Legion Hut (Main Street)
Friday, August 12 - 2:00 p.m. to 10:00 p.m.

Happenings Around Loughheed

Molly Ferryhough
A Loughheed Homecoming meeting was held on Monday night. The Homecoming preparations have started coming in. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Swanson being the first and since then thirteen more have been received. Also names and addresses are coming in. Keep them coming!

Mrs. Isabel Johnson, Ellen Anderson, Margaret Denham and Molly Ferryhough also others, attended the Viking Nursing Home. We are surprised to see so much snow up there. We enjoyed the afternoon very much.

Mr. Darrel Bish of Hinton drove his mother, Verda Bish of Hinton and his son, Gerry Krause of Swan Hills to Kilkenny to visit Granny Harlick in the Flapjack Auxiliary Hospital. They then came to Loughheed to visit their mother's relatives. Mr. Harold Erickson is in the Dayland Hospital. Get Marge Krause of Sedgewick received a pleasant surprise when this Easter Lily decided to bloom in November. This type of Lily traditionally blooms at Easter, hence the name. The Lily was placed in the Krause greenhouse during the summer and brought into the house at the end of September. Unfortunately the bloom lasted only three or four days.

Talk to someone close to you

Over the years we've been growing throughout Alberta and we're growing with Alberta. And that means you'll not only find a Treasury Branch agency close to you, but you'll find the kind of friendly, personal attention and the wide range of financial services that keeps you growing.

And when you think about it, that's a pretty good reason to come in and talk to us. We're Treasury Branches. We're close to you.

Sedgewick - Hardisty Midgets lose one, win one

The first game in the 5M Midget Hockey League, the Sedgewick-Hardisty Falcons was played at Hardisty on Friday, November 19 against the Hughten Flyers.

This was a well-played game with Hughten going ahead 2 to 0 in the first period. The second period proved to be the Falcons' period getting six goals and Hughten three.

In the third period Hughten outscored the Falcons by three goals to one, giving Hughten an 8 to 7 victory.

Penalties were shared equally with 12 penalties for each team, one of them being a 5 minute slashing penalty to the Falcons.

The team was very pleased with the support of many fans for the first game of the season.

In goal for this game was Darren Lewis.

On Sunday, November 21, the Sedgewick-Hardisty Falcons were to play at Holden but due to Holden not having the game was played in Hardisty. The first period saw the Falcons leading Holden 7 to 1 in the second period the Falcons outscored Holden 8 to 1, and in the third period the Falcons again outscored Holden 4 to 2.

Scorer Ken Beaulieu played a super game with eight goals. Perry Sperry got three goals while Pat Krause and Dale Fisher each notched two goals. Scoring once were Kevin Martin, Gordie Lawrence and Brad McKenzie. John Gibson picked up and John Hallman, while the travelling prizes stayed with Jean Hewitson and John Hallman. See you all again on December 2.

Old Man Winter really did give us a taste of winter. At least we hope the wind doesn't blow or we will have some snowbanks. Good weather for outside winter sports now.

KILLAM ELKS COMMUNITY HALL

News from Killam District

Deepest sympathy of the community goes out to Mr. Andrew Sorenson, Ray, Ralph, Esther, Amy and Ruth and Harley and to all their families, to all relations, and friends in their loss of Mrs. Mary Sorenson who passed away on November 30 at the age of 89 years. Funeral services were held on Wednesday, December 1st.

Killam Seniors have many activities

There was a good attendance of Senior Citizens at the November meeting. President E. Borth called on Roy Manning for Thanks giving.

After the usual routine of business, reports were and friends in their loss of Jim Kueber who passed away suddenly on November 27th at the age of 63. Funeral services were held on Wednesday, December 1st. Jim was born and raised in Porsburg, and Donada around the Battle River. There are 45 miles of trails. It should be very interesting.

Mr. and Mrs. Brian Knutich and boys of Edmonton and Mr. and Mrs. Doug Bonar and family of Calgary were weekend visitors with mother, Mrs. Jean Bonar and family.

Mrs. Ted Erickson who is in St. Mary's Hospital in Edmonton has had numerous visitors from here. Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Erickson of Edmonton have been visiting. It sure helps to pass the time while in hospital. She will be in for another week in Camrose.

Mrs. Bill Peters of Loughheed and Tracy Baster were lucky winners of the Lions Blackout Bonanza bingo on Wednesday night, splitting around $160.00.

On Saturday morning, December 11th, at 9 a.m.

the bonus, bake sale and tea was a very successful effort.

A draw for the Halloween cake was won by Christine Forster. Visits to the sick were recorded and well cards sent. "Happy Birthday" was sung for several members. There were two cardos of Killam seniors in attendance at the card party at Dayland's new centre, which was very enjoyable.

The chicken dinner for the bus people provided also was appreciated. The films of upcoming trips were being discussed.

Any Robinson is presently taking names for a trip to Edmonton for the "Singing Christmas Tree".

Plans for the potluck Christmas party on December 9 were made.

The ladies just finished another quilt for Mrs. Crumlin.

Anyone interested in making quilts either tied or quilted for the Red Cross, phone 385-3531. Quilt blocks will be supplied also turned for crocheting articles to sell for Red Cross supplies.

Members already have sent six quilts and two table-covers.

There will not be a meeting or card party in December.

Players of the Sedgewick Sabres and Irma Aces leave the ice after Irma had thumped the Sabres 12-3 in the Sedgewick team's home opener last Wednesday. Although the game had plenty of bodychecking, the players were on "speaking terms" at the finish. The Sabres rebounded on Saturday night, however to hand Loughheed a similar 13-3 pasting. — Community Press Photo.

Sedgewick Sabres Show flashes . . . but need to improve

Sorry to say but Sedgewick Sabres 1982-83 debut in the Battle River Hockey League didn't start out with a bang.

Perhaps an indicator of things to come in the club's home opener was the first shot on net for Irma - it was a goal.

And a long night it was for the players and the small group of spectators who braved sub-zero temperatures.

Pre-game chatter was that the Sabres are a youthful, fast aggregation - but lacking muscle.

That proved to be true as the heavier Irma Aces pulled away to win 13-3, after the Sabres were down only 3-1 after one period.

Missing are such veterans as Graham Anderson, Tom Watkins, and goalie George Lepard and coach Vern Bertram.

But thanks to Killam Indians entering a higher calibre of hockey in the Beaver Hill League, several Killam and area players have joined the Sabres, thus giving credibility to the old saw that Killam and Sedgewick don't get along.

Several times last season the Sabres lineup was scanty in numbers due to injury and plain lack of players.

so it was with open arms that Dave Bonnet, Darren Grant, Greg Kueber and goaltender, Jeff Collins were made welcome.

Add to that Doug Blumhagen from Galahad way and Bob McNaughton from Sitoune - and it adds up to the Sabres being a truly "area" team. (All living within the stipulated 50 mile radius, we might add.)

Despite being outplayed by a wide territorial margin, against Irma, the Sabres showed flashes of better things to come.

For instance, gangly Greg Kueber missed a golden opportunity to tie the game after Len Parsons shot Irma into a fast lead, but he is bound to improve.

He broke in alone on Aces netminder Ivan Bacon, but outsmarted himself as he hit the outside of the post.

Sedgewick's Ron Caruth, a star with last year's Killam's Midgets, didn't stay when he converted an unsuit-fish pass from Kevin McConnell moments later. Greg Sparrow also drew an assist.

Caruth combined with Kevin McConnell and Kevin Andersen to keep the Sabres within shooting distance at 6-4 midway through the second period, on the first rush, after goaltender Jeff Collins was injured.

Calvin Hogg replaced Collins at this point but he was to see seven more Irma goals dent the twins, five of them in the third period.

Kevin Andersen from Greg Sparrow and Sheldon Tindall cut the Aces lead to 8-3 early in the third but from that point on, the Aces had the scoring all to themselves.

While he didn't figure in the scoring, Bill Rose made his presence felt on the Sabres' blue-line, lagging or shooting the puck out of danger on several occasions.

Dale Nilsson had the last trick for Irma, with Kevin

Marie's Birthday
Marie Martin's home again after a month's holiday visiting with her relatives in Vancouver, B.C. She enjoyed very much being with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Pushe of Sedgewick and Mrs. Mary Wurtz of Saskatoon, Sask. were dinner guests at the home of Marie's daughter, one day last week.

The bridge party at the Welcome Centre on Thursday evening had 4 tables plus 1 playing. High scores went to Marie Martin and Don Cameron. Low scores went to Christie Armstrong and Frances Johnson. An enjoyable evening was

Christmas in the air at Lougheed Rebekahs

Eaglet members at Lougheed Rebekah Lodge met for their regular meeting on November 14, with W.G. St. Jerry Johnson in the chair.

Members were indeed sorry to hear of illness falling to St. Jerry's mother and St. Roger's mother. Our thoughts and concerns goes out to all community members who are ill or in hospital.

St. Quast and St. Wright reported having attended a catering workshop. It had been made to local hospitals. It was agreed to forward a sum to the Salvation Army.

Leslie Cookson won the blackout and Rosemary Kampen won the door prize.

A white drive was held at Goose Creek on Friday evening with 8 tables playing. Winners were: first, Wanda Price, Fred Henderson; sweep, Margaret Simpson, Harvey Simpson, Mylary, Edythe Eckstrand and Arlie Adamson; travelling, Molly Anderson, and Fred Henderson, consolation Michelle Stiel and Lawrence Kneeland.

There are still a lot of people sick with flu and colds. Some are in hospitals and others are doctoring at home. Wish you all speedy recoveries.

Sympathy is extended to the families of Mrs. Dolly Bovenkamp of Sedgewick who passed away this week. Dolly was Robert Bovenkamp's mother. Her husband is in the Auxiliary Hospital in Killarney.

The "Fan Yan" went to Lethbridge on the weekend to watch Red Deer Optimist Midget "A" Chiefs play in a 3-day tournament. Miss Donna MacPherson of Sedgewick, Mrs. Jean Lakens of Galahad, Gary, Kay and Lisa Cox of Lougheed saw the Chiefs win Friday night 3-1 against Fort Saskatchewan, Lisa and Donna, Gary and Kay went to watch Lehigh Bridge Broncos game against Brandon Manitoba. Broncos won 8-6. On Saturday morning, the Chiefs won 5-3 over Vernon, B.C. and later beat Lethbridge 5-2.

On Sunday afternoon, everybody was at Dale Lakens place to watch the Grey Cup. The weather was nice practically all the money gone. With good luck charms, a scarf banner saying "Go Team Go" and Lloydie the Leprachon with much cheering and visiting at 4 p.m. The Dale Lakens family, Anna Blumhagen, Gail and Bill Simpson and family joined us and watched a super final game. Canadian Pacific had a winter travel bargain on. To the Pacific Coast, (Victoria, Vancouver, and New Westminster) from Sedgewick was $43.50 return. To Eastern Canada, it cost $49.50 return, and to Central U.S. Points, (St. Paul, Minneapolis, Des Moines, Chicago) it cost $52.75 to $71.40 return.

The chinook last week proved disastrous to the rink in Rawlby by turning it into a veritable swimming pool. The temperature dropped Wednesday evening and the ice was flooded again last Thursday morning. Sunday found most of the population on the ice.

The annual slaughter of surplus buffalo in Winthrop National Park, where the quartered last remaining large herd of buffalo on the continent, and in the whole world, has been underway. More than 1200 buffalo are being killed off. A large quantity of the meat is shipped to eastern markets. Some of the meat is being made into pemmican for the Indians and Eskimos in the north.

The December meeting of the Sedgewick Village Council was held on December 4th in Secretary Hansen's office. Council approved the purchase of one hundred and twenty five acres Ash and Maple Trees to be delivered next spring for street planting. A six year plan was to be followed with about a hundred trees to be planted each year.

The chairman of the building committee for the new Hardisty Arena, reports that work is coming along nicely on the new structure, with the large crew working every day under the favorable weather conditions. Insulations are being started on the large standard surface 200 x 85 feet will be started by Christmas.

The best liked person these days is the Weatherman. Nobody can find a thing to complain about and everyone is enjoying these fine sparkling days. Hope this doesn't bring on an old-fashioned blizzard. But if we don't soon get cold weather, everyone will have to find sports other than skating and curling.

NATIONAL ANTHEM '82

Editorially

How large will our part of history be?

A remark made by Art Bunney at the Awards Dinner of Hastings Coulee 4-H Beef Club couldn't have been more appropriate in these trying times.

The second leader in the club's existence, Mr. Bunney exhorted to those in attendance that "in times of today, it is time to reflect and to dig a little deeper so that we can keep our country—and our community together."

In his remarks, Mr. Bunney added: "there's no better time than now to start."

How appropriate.

He called, the 4-H members "all winners," a statement with which we heartily agree.

This country of ours needs some stability, and where do you think is a good place to start—with our youth, and the time is now.

Although Hastings Coulee as a community only has a community hall as a visible reminder of its past, it certainly lives in many hearts.

One of the guests (and also a former leader) Gordon Henderson remarked to us that he resides on the family farm which is over 80 years old.

How's that for perseverance? There are probably other farms that have remained in the same family for generations, and to the descendants, we salute you.

Then at the Dayland history book unveiling on Sunday, Mayor Ron Dambarger also paid tribute to our pioneers.

"Without people challenging frontiers, we wouldn't have a history," stated the mayor.

If only the dedication to purpose, and stability of these early settlers could rub off on many more of us, then we might not be in the troubled times that we are.

Even though we don't realize it, we are becoming a part of history ourselves.

Are we going to accomplish anything that is worthwhile recording in the history books?

Killam & District Library News

On November 13, a successful tea and open house was held in the library. Door prize winner was Kelly Miller from Reddick, Alberta.

A "Favorite Book" poster contest was sponsored by the library for students in grades one to six. We had a very good response with many very interesting entries.

Winners were as follows: Grade one, Penny Forbes, Karl Mackay; Grade two, Jennifer Kueber, Chad Mackay; Grade three, Andrea Spronitz, Tyla Rempel; Grade four, Melissa Smith, Lorraine Boutin; Grade five, Jennifer O'Connor, Lisa Bonnell; Grade six, Susan Kueber and Shawn Slavik.

At our November 17 meeting, an operational agreement between the County of Playfair Library Board and the Killam and District Public Library Board was accepted by those members present.

Through the signing of this agreement comes more money from County level with operation and management of the library still delegated to the local library board.

To all residents of Killam and district we remind you that this is your library and your interest and support is appreciated.

Many new books have been received in the past few months from varied publishers. Remember, if we don't have what you are looking for, it's very likely we can order it.

With Christmas on the way please keep in mind our library hours will be shortened. Effective January 3, 1983 we will be reducing our normal hours again.

Also with Christmas in mind, remember we have many do-it-yourself and craft ideas books available for those of you that may wish to make your own gifts.

Investiture for 1st Killam Venturers was held at the Sedgewick United Church last Thursday evening, with District Commissioner Gerald Wadley, Viking and Assistant District Commissioner Curly Crawford of Killam in charge. Allan Rancner, Mike Wintner and Bill Staunberg are shown with Harvey Olson, adviser.

Killam Wheat Kings find winning ways

Manager Ken Grant is confident that Killam Wheat Kings are "on track" as they continue their quest for recognition in the northern division of the Central Alberta Junior "B" Hockey League.

The Kings had a very profitable weekend as they won twice in less than 24 hours, the first one being a 4-1 victory over the regular league games.

Prior to weekend action, the Kings had only two wins, both at the expense of Vegreville, but the club turned it around on Saturday at Grand Centre and on Sunday at Saddle Lake.

The youthful Wheat Kings took the measure of Grand Centre (4-1), then turned around and took Saddle Lake by a 3-0 margin.

These wins are at Vermilion tonight (Wednesday), will win against Vegreville on Friday and journey to Vegreville on Saturday.

Mr. Grant suggests that Killam could take at least two of these games, even going as far as to predict that league champion Wainwright could be a victim.

Four wins in a five-game road trip isn't too shabby, and should this occur, the Kings could be a team to be contended with before the season is over.

While official statistics aren't available from the weekend action, Captain's Garnet Klasek Coach Lorne Holtz and Viking's Dean Anjos were among the outstanding performers at Grand Centre.

Sunday at Saddle Lake, Hardisty's Mike Golla, Hughenden's Rick Manning, Delwin Slempe, Donnie Vincent, Bill Peters and Erickson once more, starred the Kings.

Knocking off Wainwright Blons is no mean feat as the club rolled in at 1:40 p.m. - loss record before falling to Vermilion.

The Kings couldn't do it on November 26 at home, being downed by the reigning champs, 6-3.

The Kings will play four one period and three 3-4 after two periods but the Blons settled the issue with four unanswered goals in the final 20 minutes.

Dean Anjos was selected as the game's most valuable player, but his contribution of one goal and one assist went for naught.

Blair Grant and Ian Erickson also scored in a losing cause, with Erickson also drawing one assist. Blair Gault, Pat Adams and Rick Manning also drew assists from the Kings.

The Kings showed that they can find the net, even though it was an exhibition game. It was an exhibition game on 16 goals and 15 assists, followed by Bill McKay of St. Paul with 13 points, and Dwight McKay of Wainwright with 21 points.

Killam's Glenn Kinney with ten points was tied with five others for 27th spot in the scoring.

Gordon Rustick, Killam netminder had 7.88 goals-against average and 14 shutouts. Killam's Glenn Kinney with ten points was tied with five others for 27th spot in the scoring.

Although Grand Centre was leading the league in penalty minutes they had only five wins and five losses to show for their last season.

Killam was fourth in this department with 281 penalty minutes, compared to 293 for league-leader Wainwright.

Our school was fortunate on December 8 to have as a guest in our English classes, Mr. Warren Graves. Mr. Graves is the author of The Mamberly Inheritance, and Mory Dracula, the last two plays performed by the Play-staff Players.

Mr. Graves outlined for the English 10, 30, 30 and English 13 classes, his vast knowledge of stage craft, play writing and theatre production. He then performed in his own one-man play, The Crazie that Hides the Rock.

Mr. Martin and Mr. Patterson and their English 10 and English 13 classes travelled to Edmonton on Wednesday, December 8, to see the Citadel's performance of The Three Musketeers.

Various student groups are in the midst of preparation for the annual Christmas Lit which will be held in the afternoon of December 17.

Central's basketball season is well underway with games completed in Daysland, Vining and a girls' tournament in Bashaw. This week both teams play league games in Trifid.

This week Central students receive their second set of report cards and marks. Parents are asked to contact the school if they have any questions about their child's progress.

Lougheed upgrades fire equipment

The chief also mentioned that Sherwood Park at one time had a ladies' fire department.

While the Lougheed Fire Department hasn't been overly busy combating fires (the last call was to a grass fire), the brigade is preparing.

It's not all work and no play, either for the fire brigade.

The firemen's hall is a social highlight.

Charles and Linda Mole and children of Consort. They all spent Monday in the city. Mrs. Mole's children spent the weekend in Camrose at the home of Lloyd and Barbara Stevenson.

The 500 Ladies Birthday group had their Christmas party on Tuesday evening, November 30 at the home of Honey Curtis.

Ole and Mrs. Johnson and son of Calgary were visiting with Ken and Mona Johnson, also Sig Johnson and the week.

Shelley and Kevin Makarovski and a friend of Drayton Valley were supper guests with their grandmother, Mrs. Peggy Richmond on Saturday after which they took in the Gabrick-Schulte wedding dance in Daysland.

I see our town is getting to look a little more like Christmas with the lights on the Main Street, also the homes are starting to be decorated.

Mr. and Mrs. Klesal of Forestburg spent Saturday afternoon visiting Mrs. Bernice Morgan.

Hughie Morgan went by bus to Edmonton on Saturday to visit his sister, Judy Hara.

Recent visitors at Ruth Auburn's were Ruth's brothers, Leo Carter and his two sons, Brian and Danny of Hayer, and Jim Carter and Pat of Hugen-den and Mrs. Jim Finnman and daughter, Lorrene of High River, and Mr. and Mrs. Gil Burkart, Andrea and Bradley of Wetaskiwin.

In midweek, Ruth attended the Christmas Party of the Past Matrons, Order of the Eastern Star, at Camrose staying overnight with Mabel Hastings.

Town Foreman Hughie Derruagh, Gary Smith, Harold Hart, Chief Larry Smith inspect Lougheed fire vehicles.

Killam Separate School

Students are busily active working on our Christmas program.

We will be performing three times. 1. At Killam Auxiliary Hospital on December 10th. 2. At Killam Manitou Manor on December 10th. 3. At Killam Catholic Church basement on December 12th after the parish service.

The grades 7, 8, & 9 will be doing the play called "To You is Born". The grades 4, 5, & 6, are doing the play "Charlie Brown Christmas", and the grades 1, 2, 3 will be doing some poetry.

The Junior High Students attended the funeral for Mr. Jan Kueber on November 30th.

Christmas parties are being planned. Junior High students are spending the afternoon of December 17th at the old ski hill, for a to-bean party. Afterwards, we will be going out to Dr. Dea's house for pizza.

School Reporters,
Chris Kueber and Joanne Williams.

Killam Hospital Auxiliary members review years activities

By Laura Curran

On December 2nd, we held our final meeting for 1982 with fourteen members reciting in union the Hospital Auxiliary Prayer. Sister Rose Ellen was in Calgary attending the Hospital convention.

Emma George read the minutes of the previous meeting and Freda gave the financial picture showing we had taken in $1327.50 for the hospital fee in November.

There had been 89 sick and shut-in visits made and 700 bags folded and handed in.

On the canteen cart for January is Marguerite Gibb and Margaret Ward will help with bingo on January 8.

The congregation of the Church of the Nazarene will also help with both these projects.

The younger members helping with bingo on Saturdays. Also they will help with hospital visitations.

We decided on a monetary gift for the Sisters for Christmas and also decided to discontinue the birthday gifts to Auxiliary patients.

Emma George gave the annual statement. We held nine meetings with an average attendance of 11 from a membership of 39.

There had been 1,350 visits to the sick and shut-ins, and 8245 bags handed in.

We want the Canteen cart every Wednesday afternoon during the year and also helped with bingo on Saturdays and the annual Hospital tea on November 5.

Four of the members attended the Regional meeting at Hanna in May, taking some of the crafts made by our Auxiliary patients.

Helmi Kizer brought in the new slate of officers for 1983: President, Mildred Trico; Treasurer, Theresa Spiller; Vice President, Helen Kizer.

Mildred thanked the ladies for their confidence in her in choosing her as their new president.

The meeting closed with Bertha Rott and Margaret Ward serving tea and bread muffins supplied by the kitchen staff.

The Elmer Bruden's of Edmonton were guests of Margaret Gibb, a couple of days last week.

Aburton and Walter Norton of Ryley visited at the Cranston home last Friday. Congratulations to Norma Dean Moser and Barry Bienen who were married in St. Joseph's Church on Saturday. Some of the out-of-town guests were Barry's mother, Nettie Bienen and sisters, Lorraine, Sharon and Carol and brother, Pat. The sisters are from Lethbridge, Edmonton, Calgary and Spokane, and from Victoria, B.C., Calgary and Lacrosse.

The open house and dance was very well attended. Music supplied by the Hokey Tonks of Calgary.

Myron Cranston and Lloyd Rosolier of Edmonton called at the Cranston home on Saturday.

Mary Uselman has been visiting her daughter, Burgeth Woolf and a niece at Rocky Mountain House.

The Moser's motored to Edmonton Airport on Monday morning for Sister's plane to catch the plane for Spokane.

Last Friday, the West end turnpike club held their yearly birthday dinner at the Rusty Mill and exchanged small gifts.

Seniors' Home Improvement Program

Senior Citizen Homeowners may now qualify for a NEW home repair and improvement grant of up to $3,000.

If you are 65 years of age or over, or a widow/widower aged 55 to 64 years, and you own your home, you may qualify for the new Alberta Seniors' Home Improvement grant.

All senior citizen homeowners who earn up to $20,000 per year are eligible, including those who participated in the Alberta Pioneers' Repair Program.

Commencing December 1, 1982, the new Seniors' Home Improvement Program provides a grant of up to $3,000 to assist senior homeowners in repairing or improving their own homes, to improve the value, appearance, livability and energy efficiency of their homes.

Brochures which outline complete details of this new program, as well as application forms, are now available at Alberta Treasury Branches, Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce, Bank of Montreal, the Bank of Nova Scotia, Royal Bank of Canada, Toronto-Dominion Bank, Bank of British Columbia, participating Credit Unions and other financial institutions.

Happenings Around Hardisty

Grace Kells
Mr. and Mrs. Ed Fenske from Crozier, Manitoba were recent visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Carl Anderson and family.
A new business will be opening in Hardisty on January 1, located on main street in the building next to West Pedlar Agencies.
This is the Taster's Shop, presently situated in Sedgewick and under the ownership of Tim and Sharon Kirby. Dwight Lefsen, who is also a taster, will be employed in the business as well. We hope this will be a successful undertaking for all of you.
George and Dorothy Kraemer are in Provost, November 27, to attend the wedding of their niece, Alison Jickling to David Betz of Vermilion. Dorothy was the organist at the service that took place at the United Church with Rev. Susan O'Connell officiating. The open house was held in the Cadogan Hall.

Alison and David will reside in Vermilion where Alison has been employed as a Certified Nurse Aid.
There were some successes in the curling field over the weekend. The George Lawrence rink, consisting of Gina Lawrence and Don and Shirley Campbell won the first trunk in the curling bonspiel held in Czar. In the second event, the winners were the Bill Blue rink with Laura Blue, and Lee and Bonnie Whidden. This was a week-end long curling bonspiel.

The regular meeting of the Hardisty Order of the Royal Purple was held November 14th with thirteen members present. The Lodge accepted two catering offers for the month of December.
The Lodge decided to hold their annual Christmas party, December 12th. Gifts are to be sent to five disabled persons for Christmas.
A donation was made to the Flanagan Music Festival Association. Ladies Mary Goodrich, Oliver Stoke, Brigitte Davidson, Mary Duncan and Shirley Campbell celebrated birthdays.

Silver Link Rebekahs had busy month

Silver Link Rebekahs were busy in November. The United Nations' speech were held with three local people involved: D. Telfen, S. Lee, K. Skoffield.

The winner was Lynn Wislocki from Vermilion over many taking part in this zone competition held at Ryley.

The Rebekahs received their share of tickets sales on the card the Old Fellows raffled in November. This money was divided between Killam Auxiliary, Flanagan Lodge, World Eye Bank, and WIN House.

Wishes of good health were extended to sick members.

Notes from Loughheed

Molly Ferneyhough
Christmas lights and decorations are going up all over now. This means we are getting closer to the Christmas season. Some organizations and so on are having their Christmas suppers and programs, too.

Harold Haugen and his mother, Mrs. Inge Haugen of Sedgewick and Mrs. Essie Drager were in Edmonton on Friday and they went to see Mr. John Black in the University Hospital. John will be in there a few days yet, but is feeling better than he was.

Mrs. Jack Stoodley and son, Bobby of B.C. were here for a few days visiting with their families.

Mr. Graham Beaton and Mr. Harold Erickson are home from the hospital now. There are still some in hospitals and those that are not

IPL at Hardisty upgrading facilities

All that the eye can visibly see now is a graded expanse to the north of the Interprovincial Pipeline Line transfer station at Hardisty but come Spring it will be the site of a 160,000 barrel capacity tank. Station Chief George Lawrence explained that actually the base for the actual construction is complete.

It's all part of an ongoing process to update the IPL system which runs from Edmonton to Montreal in three lines.

Construction of the tank will allow a bigger line to be completed to Husky and Gibson tank facilities just across the road.

Although operators will still have to provide additive, the manual tank gauge system will become a fully automatic computerized system in about three months time.

Basically the IPL system consists of three main lines - a 30 inch which pumps propane and products and is topped with a 34 inch, a 24 inch for heavy oil and a 24 inch which transmits the remainder of the crude.

Mr. Lawrence stated that the 24 inch - 48 inch line near the plant could pump up to 45,000 barrels, at any one time up to a maximum daily capacity of 1,500,000 barrels a day on three lines.

While IPL's plans have had to be altered over the last five or six years due to economic conditions, the future plans call for reorganization of the lines' capabilities.

On December 3, there were eight tables of what played at the Hardisty. The winners were first, Marjorie Adamson, John Baker; daily capacity of 1,500,000 barrels a day on three lines.

News from the Anglican Church

Donna C. Martin Sunday evening's Prelude to Christmas reminded us all that the great day is fast approaching. The Prelude was well attended and much enjoyed by all.

Another very pleasant event of the past week was the turkey supper, sponsored by the Sedgewick United Church ladies. An excellent meal.

If you're still thinking about Christmas gifts, don't forget the toy bins in St. John's Parish Hall, December 13th, sponsored by the newly formed Young Christian Couples group. No admission will be charged and donations will go to charity.

Ned Butcher, Clary Clark, and Ella Clouston are still in hospital. We hope to see them home soon. Mr. Donald Archer of Killam is also in hospital.

Visitors to Sedgewick include: Douglas Ketch, an employee of the Bank of Montreal. He comes to town from the Olds-Didsbury area, and will be joined shortly by his wife.

Plans for the annual 11:30 p.m. candlelight Christmas Eve service at St. John's Sedgewick are well underway. We will again be joined by Pastor George Qualley and by the Anderson Family, who will raise their voices in song to herald Christmas Day.

And there's the Sunday school concert and social hour at 7:30 on December 19th. The children are busily preparing for that special occasion. The record made no comment this week about the stranger in the red suit and donations will go to charity.

The Christmas Eve service in Hardisty will be at St. Mark's at 7 p.m.

The curiers of Sedgewick face quite a challenge this year. The clergy, it seems, have formed a rink and are ready to challenge one and all for sweeping supremacy. Wardens and their spouses can look forward to a special supper at 8 p.m., December 21 at Sedgewick Parish Hall, prepared and served by Canon and Mrs. Conrad.

The aforementioned Mrs.

Conrad now assures us that she has recovered from her long bout with flu.

The Anglicans in Mission rally in Wainwright last Thursday evening was well attended. Our good Bishop and the Diocesan Director, Mrs. Eather Rankin were present. The program appears to be coming along nice on the national level and in this diocese.

Sorry there was no column last week. I thought it kinder not to remind our pastor rector of his folly in supporting the Toronto Argonauts. It is to be hoped that by now he has seen the error of his ways and will do better next year.

The sympathy of the community is expressed to the family of Mrs. Pegibor who passed away peacefully in Viking on Thursday, December 2nd. The funeral took place at the Pentecostal Church in Killam on Monday December 6th at 2 p.m. In-laws were in the Sedgewick Cemetery. Mrs. Pegibor had resided at Flagstaff Lodge for some years and she always had a cheery word for me. She will be sadly missed.

We were happy to hear from Tess Kwany that her father, Mr. C. (Robbie) Robertson, is coming along well in hospital in Edmonton. His wife, Grace, who is in Edmonton, hopes he'll be able to come home with her this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Clare Findlay were in Edmonton over the weekend where their daughters had an open house in honour of the Findlay's 75th wedding anniversary. Friends from as far south as High River and as far north as Lac La Biche were in attendance. It was held at the hall in Pleasantview United Church which the Findlay's attended while living in Edmonton. The community extended its best wishes to Clare and Irene and wishes them many more years together.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Baker visited daughter Mrs. Betty Bessie and their new grandson in Camrose on Monday.

We welcome to Sedgewick Mr. and Mrs. (Jim and Cindy) Huddleston who have just moved into the house formerly occupied by the Lyle Metz family.

The Legion Hall and Turkey Bings held at the Community Hall on Monday evening was a huge success with some folk playing their cards out in the kitchen. Edgewick, Killam, Daysland and Viking were all represented in the list of prize winners.

News seems almost nonexistent this week. Please let me know, someone is interested in you. Ring 384-3576. Thanks.

Mr. and Mrs. Irving Bergum spent the weekend in Fort Saskatchewan and Edmonton.

Scott, Carol, Megan and Chelsey Trust of Calgary spent the weekend for the wedding of Carol's cousin and funeral of Carol's grandmother and Mrs. Albert Van-Heck of Fort Saskatchewan were overnight guests on Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Peterson.

On Sunday they all attended the baptism of their grandson, Ryan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Peterson of Loughheed, which took place in Hardisty.

Irene and Clive Schmitt of Edmonton were weekend visitors at the Dick Erickson home.

The "Prelude to Christmas" has outgrown the Lutheran Church where it has been held for many years so on Sunday evening it took place in the Community Hall. A varied program was received with much appreciation by the large crowd. This annual project is a benefit which brings folk of all denominations together.

Mrs. Allen Klebanowski, (nee Dawn Erickson) returned to her home in Edmonton on Sunday after spending a few days at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Erickson, and her husband was away at work. Eight tables of eight players enjoyed the Wednesday afternoon Card Party at the Senior Citizens Day Centre. Winning prizes for the highest scores were: Minnie Djan and Mr. Wilfred Pyle. Congratulations were awarded to Mrs. Glenroy Hope and Mrs. Mary Storbakken who was tied with Mr. Peter Lindblad last week on a cut of the cards. We welcome back to Sedgewick Mr. and Mrs. John Fryer who have moved into their new house in the subdivision. The Fryers lived here for about three years a little while back.

The Turkey supper held at the United Church on Wednesday evening was a huge success. I know when we arrived there at about 5:30 p.m. there was already a good crowd enjoying supper and I understood that the way it continued.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Walsh were at the Grand Banquet home at Heiler for lunch last Thursday. Jim stayed there while Beth, Trida and Betty went on a shopping expedition to Camrose. Think lots of folk from Sedgewick and Heiler had the same idea as we saw many familiar faces.

Congratulations and best wishes to Barb Yuen and Darrell Holmstrom who were married on Saturday, December 4th in the Killam Pentecostal Church. A well attended reception and open house was held in Sedgewick.

Flashes from the Sedgewick Rec Centre

The past week has been a bit hectic. We have seen some good hockey. The passing of the puck by the Midget players is something to see.

Our Sabres are coming along. A good attendance to these games would surely, some even better "hockey."

Diane and her crew have some really good skaters coming along. I am sure we will see the results of their long hours of practice in February.

There is one subject I must touch on and that is skating dues. These dues are a necessity to offset the plant costs. When you see the kids paying their dues, it makes you wonder where the rest are.

In regards to the ice equipment, we would appreciate it if the operation of arena could be left to those who are responsible for the equipment.

Those interested in Mens and Tots bowling please drop in and have your name at the centre office.

Records are piling up. Janet Hale has gained the status of HI Single and Triple. I wonder who's going to beat her. Should be interesting. And the man aren't laying back either. Vernon Simpson had six strikes and the games would surely, some even better "hockey."

The Kinsmenspiel seems to be a success, some real good draw shots being made and excellent curling.

I went to a Recreation meeting at Stellar on Thursday. It was quite enlightening from many areas. It would appear we are pretty well on the low side so far as fees are concerned where ice plants are in operation. Sixty dollars for a skate ticket is quite means.

The annual meeting of the Sedgewick Agricultural Society is set for Monday, December 13 at 6:30 upstairs at the centre. Drop by the office for your dinner ticket. Dine at 6:30 p.m. to follow.

Have a good week, be a leisure bug. Jerry Ash.

ZERO PLUS NUMBER DIALING

IS NOW IN SEDGEWICK

... giving you three fast ways to dial your own Long Distance calls!

A new way to dial Long Distance

1. ZERO PLUS NUMBER DIALING

Faster than conventional operator-assisted calls! Your call goes through much faster because you save time for a busy operator by dialing these types of calls yourself:

- Collect
- Person-to-person
- Calls billed to another number

Here's how:
To dial to a point inside Alberta

- Dial "0"
- Then, within 4 seconds, dial the distant number you want to reach

- Long Distance Card
- Calls requiring time and charges

To dial to a point outside Alberta

- Dial "0"
- Then, within 4 seconds, dial the Area Code of the number you want to reach
- Dial the number

Because Zero Plus Number Dialing calls require operator assistance, operator-assisted rates remain in effect.

2. DIRECT DISTANCE DIALING

for all your station-to-station calls when you don't need operator assistance.

DIAL "0" FOR OPERATOR

- If you reach a wrong number
- If you require operator assistance
- If you require additional help

For all types of calls

3. DIALING OVERSEAS

Here's how:

- See the Information Service Pages of your telephone directory
 - Ask for detailed information available from your AGT Business Office
- Zero Plus Number calls and DDD calls can be dialed from coin telephones. Please check the instruction card in the booth from which you are calling.

Hardisty petition

Opposes purchase of building

Citizens of the Town of Hardisty may be required to cast ballots on two widely-diversified issues. This coming Wednesday, December 22nd, in the morning, nominations will be received for one councillor to replace Jim Huddleston, who has moved to Sedgewick.

Also, a sufficiently-signed petition of proprietary electors objecting to the proposed purchase of the building for the purpose of converting it to a municipal building, was received by council.

Under terms of this provision of The Municipal Government Act, council is required to hold a plebiscite, and it will be held Wednesday, January 19.

Council is seeking to purchase a Main Street property which with improvements to the building would cost an estimated $102,000.

The Hardisty and District Public Library board proposes to contribute $17,000 to the project since a portion of the building would be used for library purposes.

Head on mishap hospitalizes one

A Saturday morning head-on collision on Highway 13, just east of the Highway 36 junction resulted in one of the drivers being sent to University Hospital in Edmonton.

A vehicle driven by Edna Palmer of Killam, with Ina Baume, also of Killam, as passenger was proceeding west about 10:15 p.m. when it collided with a vehicle driven by Bruce Paulgaard, whose address was not immediately known.

Paulgaard was taken to Edmonton with badly lacerated hand and cuts to the face.

Investigating Killam RCMP report that charges are pending.

Mr. Paulgaard intends to continue with his insurance and Treasury Branch Agency business.

When at its full strength, Hardisty council consists of seven members.

However since the resignation of Rick Sjunnes from the mayor's chair, a series of events has occurred which has seen less than seven sitting members most of the time.

Mr. Sjunnes was mayor of the Hardisty Branch at the time of his resignation and was transferred to Drumheller.

Cecil Rempel is the present mayor.

Term of the present council expires in October 1983. Should an election be necessary, for the council position, it will probably be held the same day as the plebiscite.

Library Board agreements signed

The County of Flagstaff Municipal Library Board is pleased to announce that joint operating agreements have been signed with the eight existing public libraries in the county. A copy of each of the agreements has now been sent to the Minister of Culture, Hon. Mary McMeur, showing the county has fulfilled its agreement with the province.

The eight public libraries in the county are located in Alliance, Dayland, Forestburg, Galahad, Hardisty, Killam, Lougheed, and Sedgewick. A grant of no less than two dollars per capita, based on the recreation area populations, will be given to each of these libraries.

The only stipulation is that the library must remain open a minimum of seven hours a week and that a telephone be installed.

Local libraries will be applying to the County Library Board for additional funds for special projects they have planned. This first application must be sent to the County Board by January 31, 1983.

The County of Flagstaff Library Board will be retaining funds to use for county-wide projects. Since there are no libraries in Strome or Heister, the board will also be looking for projects which will benefit these two areas.

The annual meeting will be held Monday, January 17, in the County Council chambers. Local library members and members of the public are welcome.

Input from the public is always welcome. The County Library Board will gladly consider your ideas.

Bonnie Prechtich,
Secretary.

Dick Matthews installed as Legion president

The regular December meeting of the Sedgewick Legion was held at the Hat on December 6th.

Zone Commander Arnold Gilroy of Bawli was guest and installed the new officers for the coming year. Comrade Dick Matthews will replace Brian Lee as the new Branch President while most of the remaining executive remains the same.

Before retiring from the chair, President Lee outlined some of the accomplishments and activities of the past year.

These included donations to the C.N.R., the Terry Fox Youth Centre, Minor Hockey, Central High Scholarship fund, Telemar, the Salvation Army, and the Cancer Society. ($1000.00).

As well, the Branch acquired attractive benches for placement around the town, provided security for the Homecoming, helped veterans dependents through the Poppy fund, was instrumental in the acquisition of a new wheelchair, and spent many hours and dollars on maintaining and upgrading the cemetery.

The Branch is very proud of its Remembrance Day Service and successfully ran a school Remembrance Day contest.

Everyone looks forward to the annual New Year's dance at the Community Hall.

Sedgewick was represented at the Zone, District, and Provincial Mixed Legion Curling Playoffs.

And while acknowledging all this, the Branch has received title to the lots adjacent to the Cenotaph upon which it is someday hoped to build a new hall.

Upon taking the chair, Com. Matthews thanked the membership for the confidence shown in him by electing him president. He asked for the fullest cooperation from all members in all endeavours in the coming year.

He stressed that we must strive to increase the involvement of the younger members.

Before closing the meeting, Zone Commander Gilroy presented member Earl McGowan with a pin for 35 years of continuous service to the Legion.

J. Sparrow,
Public Chairman.

Editorial

News source need not be identified

Tuesday at The Community Press is always a busy time as the staff scurries to put the pages together in order to meet Wednesday's publication date.

But this past Tuesday was "out of the ordinary" for the editor—he was in court, by request in a Small Claims case, as a third party.

Getting down to brass tacks, the case involved a claim for damages by a Sedgewick businessman who was claiming damages against a youthful driver who had earlier been convicted in Criminal Court.

The trial was precipitated by events of Fall 1981 when many Main Street stores incurred broken or cracked windows as a result of erratic driving on the gravel-surfaced roadway.

Trial Judge Alex Murray very patiently listened to the evidence as presented by legal advisors for the plaintiff and defendant—two hours worth of it before rendering his verdict, in favour of the plaintiff.

A witness for the plaintiff told him he had observed the accused operating his vehicle in such a way that the loose gravel was propelled against the glass windows.

The defendant said he wasn't really aware of the damage that his driving had inflicted.

Believing that his case was slipping away from him, the defence lawyer called on The Community Press editor, supposedly as a "last resort" (the final witness).

Earlier he had asked the editor to reveal the source of a story, published the Wednesday following the early November 14th, 1981 escape.

Yours truly (Mel Barrett) refused to do this, believing that if a news source is factual, then that source should be protected.

Judge Murray after some deliberation, informed the editor that he could reveal his source if he so wished, but on the other hand stated the choice was entirely the editor's.

The judge added that since it was a Small Claims Court matter, he did not wish to compel the newspaper editor to reveal his news source, although it could have far-reaching ramifications.

The editor chose not to do so. Later the lawyer for the defence informed the editor that he is under no legal obligation to reveal his news source under the new Charter of Rights.

While this is comforting, it also points out the reality that the editor of a newspaper has a large responsibility to the community.

It is a newspaper's policy to serve for the betterment of the community, taking into account all viewpoints.

It's nice to know that a reporter has this "assistance," otherwise many stories would never be printed.

We would go further and say that it is a privilege which will greatly enhance the integrity of the media, and all should benefit.

Citizens of Dayland were again awakened by the ringing of the fire bell at 3:45 Monday morning. The scene of the conflagration was at the rear of P.J. Slavia's place of business, which was burned to the ground. The efforts of the firemen prevented the flames from destroying the adjacent building.

Charles Mulock, the Boston case proprietor of the Boston Cafe in the village, was in place last week and will leave for the Orient in the near future. Charley has conducted the cafe since 1919 and has many friends in Dayland. He expects to leave Tuesday morning for Edmonton enroute China.

A double leader curling game was played at the Sedgewick rink on Tuesday night when two rinks came down from Viking to play for the Atlas Lumber curl and two Storm rinks came down for the Whyte and Orr cup. Sedgewick won both events.

Strone's donation in recollection to the Empire's call has passed the mark of $100,000. Local recruiting officers, J.A. Lyall and L. McCulloch, said this number is a record for a starter.

One striking feature of the work is the type of crime committed. The crimes are almost here and there, and who wants to be reminded of that? With a crime on the ground it looks like Santa will have to hitch up old Dobbin and travel in a wagon with barrel-bred horses.

Teachers say we expect too much from them, and that we are not responsible students.

Who gives them the right to say this?

Teachers are supposedly worried about your future, but really do not bother about encouraging the student in class.

I have been "threatened" during class in front of friends and fellow students from a teacher who said: "I'll do everything in my power to see that you do not pass this course."

Although my ego was damaged slightly, I thought it was quite reasonable. A teacher is supposed to encourage the student, not discourage the student.

Also I think it's not very nice how some teachers have been rude to specific students. They bother you when you finally lose your temper with them when you do lose your temper, they say, "don't be lippy," "do you see you are getting picked on?" or they snub you from school, and this may result in a failing mark.

I really feel it unfair when you try to tell your work of the matter and they don't allow you to fight for what I believe in, so why should I do so?

Thank God I'll be gone in less than a year, I dread going to school, having to take all of that "Elmore People's."

I pity the students of the future and do hope they fight for what they believe.

A Concerned Student.

Indians beat Mundare in Beaver Hill League

Minus superstar Barry Briley, the Killam Indians still are the crown of the crown in the Beaver Hill Hockey League. A draw with Mundare is the only blot on an otherwise perfect record.

At Holden last Tuesday, the talented Indians beat the talented Mundare team by a 16-5 win, a victory already-inflicted goal-scoring statistics.

Goofed with hockey sense to spare, Briley has joined Calgary Canucks of the Tier two Alberta Junior League.

Gerry Foley who worked well with Briley when he graduated the Indian league has assumed the team leadership, so it appears.

The Wainwright area resident pumped in six goals against the hapless Holden crew and followed that up with a three-goal effort on Saturday at Killam as the Indians played an exhibition game in Edmonton against a team of Selects on Thursday and won 10-3.

A Hamilton, and Peter Driscoll, former NHLers, were among the opposition.

Lamont played at Killam (last night) Tuesday. Killam was the only team to have a goal in the last 10 minutes of the game.

The next slated Beaver Hill game has Killam at Viking this Saturday night with Tofted at Killam next Tuesday.

It is rumored that the Viking Gas Kings are suffering from a shortage of players, and may be forced to withdraw from the league in the near future for this reason.

Their demise would mean the second Beaver Hill team has folded, since Andrew withdrew recently.

Indians won over Mundare 5-3.

Shifty Steven Snake gave the last trick against Holden.

The Mundare game was made up as possibly one of the best of the season and fans weren't disappointed, as the two sides stood to hockey in the closely-played contest.

After their previous encounter at Mundare, Killam came from behind to settle for a 7-1 win.

Greg Fischer from Irma Leam left with Foley and scored the remaining two goals, and may be forced to withdraw from the league in the near future for this reason.

Three assists in the Mundare affair, while Jim Cronin, Kim Prud'homme and Grant Sim drew one assist each.

Anglican Church News

Donna Martin
Donna Martin will be spending the afternoon of Christmas Eve at the Anglican Church, 11:00 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Killam Auxiliary.

Perhaps you'd like to join them for a sing-song and lots of Christmas conversation.

Ab and Bev Martin and Keith and Virdia Pirku have returned from a visit to Las Vegas. I guess they are hoping to earn money for their Christmas shopping, but I haven't heard they were very successful. They went to the Village of Pine near Las Vegas, and they encountered their first flash flood on the desert. It was an awe-some experience.

Ray and Brenda Snodden are back after a cruise off the Florida coast which touched Nassau and a number of other beautiful islands which made most of us envious. With the weather pouring the time, Doreen serving her delicious food.

The ladies of the Sedgewick A.C.W. gathered for their annual Christmas party at the rectory last Tuesday evening. With the weather pouring the time, Doreen serving her delicious food.

John Shaw is in the Killam Hospital.

Theresa masterminding the entertainment, it was quite an evening.

Don't forget the traditional Christmas Eve service in Sedgewick, on December 24 at 11:30 p.m. Pastor George Quayley will preach, and the wonderful Anderson family will be with us once again.

The Warden Supper at 6 p.m. December 21 is something for our hard working wardens to look forward to. The Sunday School program is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Sunday, December 19.

Daughter Margaret Scholer of Edmonton is a patient in the Royal Alexandra Hospital. She is sure to be with us once again.

Bob and Terry Bostwick of Edmonton visited Terry's parents, the Connors, on the weekend.

Bruno Bismar's father in Saskatchewan is seriously ill.

Wheat Kings 'coming of age' in hockey league

Killam Wheat Kings are beginning to find their bearings in the Central Alberta Junior "B" Hockey League, and now have raised their record to a respectable 10-3-1.

It may be remembered that Killam is a superior skater team to Wainwright, but the Wheat Kings need to show more intensity.

The crowning point in the season was the game with the Wheat Kings came on Friday night at Wainwright as the Wheat Kings defeated the Wheat Kings 6-4 in what one supporter referred to as "the best game of the year."

Congratulations are extended this week to Don and Ruth Ball on the birth of their 6th child, baby girl, named Ruth Ball. Amber was born in the Camrose Hospital.

Tiffany arrived a bit earlier than expected. The Ball and her Food Science 10 class had prepared a delicious luncheon for the staff on Thursday. Mrs. Ball's classes will be taught this week by Mrs. Tweedy and after Christmas we will welcome Mrs. Terry Rombough to our staff for the remainder of the school term to fill the home economics position.

On Friday evening the basketball team travelled to Tofted for league basketball games. The boys won their first game by a score of 38-30 while the girls came in second. Mrs. Meier coached the boys because Mrs. Ackersville, the boys' coach, was ill. The teams travelled to Tofted on December 16 for their last games before Christmas. After the year our teams will play some home games so our fans can enjoy some exciting high school basketball.

Central students received their report cards on December 10.

Our annual Christmas 1st will be held on the afternoon of December 18. Since this will be the last of the year, it is a special occasion for everyone. A Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year on December 18th. We hope to be with family and friends. Maureen Jewsevin.

Tought Wednesday they host St. Paul. Grand Centre is at Killam on Friday, and then to Tofted on Saturday. Wainwright is at Killam at 2 p.m. which should be a treat to watch.

Next weekend, December 23, Wainwright is at Killam in the last home game, until January 8th when the Saddle Lake are the visitors.

The Kings are at St. Paul on December 28 at Wainwright on December 29.

Wainwright are the league champions no less, and have defeated Killam in two earlier meetings, however the margin of defeat was respectable.

Manager Ken Grant suggested that Killam is a superior skater team to Wainwright, but the Wheat Kings need to show more intensity.

Evidence that the Wheat Kings are working hard to show in the scoring statistics for the game, with Gaudin leading the Blades 6-4 in what one supporter referred to as "the best game of the year."

Canada can achieve oil self-sufficiency

by John Gorman
for the Canadian Petroleum Association

Among the industrialized nations of the world, Canada possesses a unique opportunity. That is the opportunity to secure from its own resources enough crude oil to meet its needs.

It is a fact of life that the United States, Western Europe and Japan are not able to produce enough oil to meet their actual crude oil needs. They are dependent on OPEC, the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries.

To add a further complexity to the worldwide oil picture is the fact that many developing nations are also dependent on OPEC for oil.

Almost alone among the industrial nations, Canada has the physical and technical resources along with the resource base to achieve oil self-sufficiency between now and the end of this century.

For reasons uniquely Canadian, this country is involved in a series of regional and federal-provincial differences of political opinion and as a nation has been unable to focus its energy policy on the goal of self-sufficiency. The nations are frequently spoken but not really listened to.

As long as Canada imports crude oil from foreign sources, it is vulnerable to the whims of OPEC and other exporters.

Canada spends billions of dollars annually for imported crude oil. The achievement of self-sufficiency can be justified in terms of the relief it would offer to the balance of payments problem alone. For a country with the ability to achieve self-sufficiency, crude oil, to remain dependent on foreign sources is to subscribe to a long range national policy of exporting not only dollars, but also jobs and opportunities.

We must be wary of current indications of an oil glut and lowering prices. It is but a blip on the long term chart of increasing prices and diminishing supply.

Hardisty Public Library

The people of Hardisty and area were treated to a rare opportunity on November 23 and 24, when the sale of children's books was held at the school. This was an annual promotion of the Hardisty Public Library. Chairman of the board, Judy Routledge and her husband, John, travelled to Edmonton and brought back 3500 books from three book stores and they were sold here for the price they would be in the city.

Books ranged from those suitable to 6 month old children up to those in junior high, with fiction and non fiction included. Records and tapes were also available. Judy is so well informed on books popular with children that the selection was excellent.

Persons were present from Provost, Irma, Alliance, Forestburg, Galahad, Killam and of course Hardisty, and sales were made to schools, libraries, kindergartens, playshops, as well as to many individuals.

This sale was most successful and an event that should certainly be included when you plan your Christmas shopping next year.

Sedgewick - Hardisty
Falcons tie and lose one

On Friday, December 10, Sedgewick-Hardisty played at Consort. First period ended at 14 for Consort. Second period saw Sedgewick picking up 3 goals and Consort 2 with each team getting 1 goal in the third period ending in a 4-4 tie. Penalties were all of minor infractions with Sedgewick getting 6 and Consort 6. This was a well played game with both teams playing good sportsmanship.

Next game will be played here in Sedgewick on Sunday, December 19 against Irma.

Suspension for Hardisty player

As the result of a refereeing incident in last Wednesday's Battle River Hockey action against Dayland, Terry Hendricks of Hardisty Stampeders has been "temporarily suspended."

League president Albert Glasgow said that the degree of intent hasn't been determined and further study of the matter is being carried out.

While league statistics aren't available at present, Mr. Glasgow reported that Irma Aces are atop the standings, having lost only one game. Loughheed Roadrunners are reportedly at the bottom of the points standing.

Children from Sedgewick Kindergarten sang carols for their parents in a presentation at the school last Wednesday evening. The teachers had their hands full in the preparation, but their efforts were highly appreciated.

From the appearance of the above, Santa should have lots of help Christmas Eve but it probably won't turn out that way.

Rebekahs expect busy '83 at Loughheed

Certainly the Rebekahs are "alive and well in Loughheed" for 25 members turned out for the regular meeting on Wednesday, December 8. N.G. Sla. Derrah was in the chair.

Reports were given of members and community friends who were not well. Best wishes are extended to each.

Visits had been made to local hospitals as well as Edmonton and Camrose Hospitals.

It looks as though 1983 will be a busy year, for several items of business, were set aside to be dealt with after the New Year.

A receipt was received from the Salvation Army.

After Penny Drill, the birthday girls were serenaded.

Plans are to be set in motion to build a new member. Lodge closed in harmony and then the hilarity began. The picture gallery of beautiful children had to be matched with the members.

Years seem to change them. Never mind, faces may change but voices improve.

The carol singing was made worthy of the season. Added to that, members blew up balloons and then sat on them, so they could find the little piece of paper inside.

Our sister presented an "easy" contest. If that was the difficult one would be like.

Santa and helper found the Rebekahs. They were bearing only bags and gifts with an 1982 bonus, a real live honest to goodness man.

We are very happy to report that Janina DeHock has returned home from hospital.

The Christmas program is scheduled for Sunday, December 19. You'll want to be there for this highlight of the church year. Participants, remember the practice on Saturday.

Youth banquet on Friday evening was served by Judy

Lunch, too was extra special. You may be sure that each member went home with a smile and the goodwill of the season.

Businessmen of Sedgewick sponsored a visit from Santa Claus with treats, and a carol presentation at the Anglican Church Hall on Saturday afternoon. The hall was filled with youngsters (young and old).

Plans set for first Community Christmas

Promoters of Sedgewick's first annual Community Christmas are optimistic the first venture will be a success and that it will be a guide to future endeavours.

The idea, conceived by the Kinnam Club, has been overwhelmingly endorsed by other organizations in town, including the Chamber of Commerce, Town Council, the Legion and Playgait Lodge.

To be held this Saturday evening, December 18th next to the Cenotaph near the Main Street, the Community Christmas will include a giant bonfire, lots of carolling, old-fashioned sleigh rides, instrumental numbers, hot chocolate to warm up numb limbs, and of course, participation from all sectors of the town and area including the United Church Choir, Brownies, Cubs, Beavers, Scouts, and C.G.I.T. of the United Church, also kindergarten children will participate.

Activities are scheduled to commence about 7 p.m. and even St. Nick himself has promised to take time out from a busy round of activities to be present about 8:30 p.m., so that the youngsters won't have to wait too long.

Dick Matthews, Legion president, will be M.C., Mayor Keshel will welcome all, and Pastor Nolan Harig of the Church of the Nazarene will extend a blessing.

Other participants will include the Johnson children, Joannette Harris, Ruth Foster, Glennis Rott, Rolf and Inga Jacobsen, plus other last minute additions.

Flashes from the Sedgewick Rec Centre

The Kinnam 'spiel' ended, with some really close games and some not so close. Nice to see the Backen family on top.

Then followed the curling school, a very good attendance. We missed the hockey this week, but the Sabres are back with us on the 18th.

A lot of events are winding down for Christmas parties here and there.

For a bit of excitement between Christmas and New Year, there will be a turkey roll off. A turkey will be given for all average, men's, ladies, kids, hidden number and low average. Should be some fun there.

The curlers are having their Boxing Day Spil on the 27th of December.

There are several skating parties this coming week. Well, we finally got moved. We are living in the Scott house, so it is going to be nice, not having that long drive morning and night.

Have a good week. Together in Fun.

Three tables played cribbage at the Welcome Centre on December 9. Prize winners were Helen Sutherland and Arnold Marlow, for high score, while the consolation prizes went to Mr. and Mrs. Randy Dean. No more cribbage till January 6th, 1983.

On December 9th, at 8 p.m. in the Community Hall, the turkey bingo was held. The winners were Mrs. Bill Baker, Mrs. Hani Kelly, Sharon Larson, Hardisty; Garry Smith, Thelma Harris and Connie Stoddard, Leroy Kelly, Kendall Quast, Kim Martin, Lisa Quast, Bess Ferguson Sedgewick, Florence Roth, Carrose; Mrs. Lillie Kilgarn, David Davidson, Sedgewick. Door prize, Randy Larson, Hardisty.

Christmas is just around the corner, especially for a couple of nice girls. Lisa Quast is sporting a diamond ring, the first special first. Also Kendall Quast gave his bride-to-be a sparkler. Their wedding is in January. Robert Wright and Gina Wilson are also getting married on December 18th. Congratulations to you all.

The Lougheed and District Lions Club bottle drive last Saturday was a huge success. Collecting over $700.00. The proceeds of the project go towards buying much needed hockey equipment for our minor hockey teams. Both donors and workers must be commended upon their successful efforts.

Remember to put your name on the Lions Club Community Christmas Card at Ann's Hardware. Hockey earned will go towards purchasing candy bags for the children at the community Christmas Concert. Ben Kilgarn had his second cousin from Fairbanks Alaska visiting. Sympathy is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Garry Jeffery (Sharon Probst) and family of Whitecourt on the sudden passing of Gary's father, den at Genes, Salt Spring Island, B.C. on Friday morning, December 10.

A huge drive was held at Goose Creek on Friday with the tables playing. Winners were first, Emma McKinnis, Leonard Wolf, Sweep, Wanda Price, Carl Edwards, mystery, Christie Armstrong, Arlene Adamson, travelling, Vera Swainson, George Anderson, consolation, Esther Cameron, Arlene Adamson.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Brian Denham, Sedgewick, on the birth of two daughters, born Friday. Congratulations to the grandparents, also to great-grandma Margaret Denham.

Hardisty Happenings

Green Kells
Eva Cookson was in Provo recently and was speaking to Ida Timmins there. Ida operated a dry cleaning business in Hardisty some years ago and wished to be remembered to everyone in Hardisty.

The farmers market here on Thursday was reportedly a big success. Glad to hear there were many things for sale and that Santa could make it too.

Lorne and Charlene Alderidge were most unfortunate on December 8 to have lost their hardware store at Elford due to fire. This apparently started in an adjoining restaurant and spread to the hardware and another business destroying them all. A loss like this is not only a disaster, to the business persons involved but a severe blow to a small town business section.

Hardisty Social Club

The Hardisty Social Club met at the Drop in Centre on Tuesday afternoon with 12 members present.

Following the reading of the minutes, the treasurer made a very satisfactory report. The History Book Committee reported all expenses paid, with a balance in the bank and books selling steadily. This is kept in a separate account until all have been sold. The Homecoming had shown a good profit, though this was not the purpose of the project.

Some discussion followed on the insurance, which has been renewed but some thought will be given to raising the amount.

The Christmas Party is to be held on December 18th taking the form of a turkey supper, followed by a Welcome also to another new arrival, in the Hardisty Hospital, November 18. Born to Judy and Jim Green, a baby boy, 7 lbs., 1 oz. known as Jeffrey Wayne. Jeffrey is the newest branch on the Green family tree having brothers Jimmy and Jason and a sister Jeanine.

The Afghan and two cushions raffled by St. Mark's Anglican Church were won by 11 year old Corinne Johnston of Elford. These will be personally delivered to an excited Corinne by her grandmother, Nettie Johnston during the Christmas holidays.

The farmers market here on Thursday was reportedly a big success. Glad to hear there were many things for sale and that Santa could make it too.

Congratulations to Judy Kells for obtaining her certificate in the field of Lab and X-Ray. Judy took her schooling at N.A.I.T. and has been working in Verulam for her practical training. Good news Judy, and we hope that exciting first job will soon be yours.

The Sunshine Club met at the home of Mildred Pransky December 16. The meeting was fairly short since it entertainment and gift exchange.

A newsletter was received from Pensioners Concerned, reporting the work done during the past year. It was voted to donate $50 to this group.

The floor of the Centre is prepared for tiling. It was decided to discontinue Friday evenings. Anyone interested in tiling, there any Friday.

Starting on Monday, December 13, the Centre will be open daily from 10 to 11:30 a.m. and from 2 to 5 p.m.

Coffee will be served, and it is hoped that more use will be made of the pool tables, shuffleboard, etc. Sundays and holidays excepted.

Following adjournment, coffee and cake were served.

Hardisty Farmers Market, held last Thursday at the Elks Hall offered a variety of items for Christmas, and the afternoon was topped off with a visit from Santa Claus himself. Susan Jackson, shown here with Santa, doesn't seem to mind, although she is a bit shy.

Get well wishes to Mr. Red Culbert who is a patient in the Casuarne Hospital. And to all of our local folk who are ill.

Mr. Robbie Robertson came home on Friday from a few weeks in the University Hospital. We're happy to see you back Robbie and hope you'll soon be out and about.

Mrs. Judith Erickson, who recently underwent surgery in the Casuarne Hospital is now in the Killam. Also present at the Killam are Mr. Jack Shaw, Mr. Ted Butler, Mrs. Emma Berger, Mrs. Clara Clark and Mrs. Gwyn Gibbs.

If you missed a family face at the Town Office it's because Mr. George Arnott is a patient in the Gahad Hospital. Mr. Brian Lee and Mr. Jim Walsh visited him on Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Eunice Pike was in Edmonton for a couple of days visiting her granddaughters. Husband Lawrence is up north fishing with his son.

Mr. and Mrs. Matt Kobas went to Edmonton on Tuesday where Matt will receive medical attention.

Five tables of Norwegian Wild players were at the Senior Citizens Drop In Centre on Friday evening for the Card Party. Mrs. Gudrun Storkbaken and Mr. Ab Nordstrom won prizes for the highest scores. Mrs. Hazel Shaw and Mr. Ludvik Arnott received consolation awards.

Mrs. and Mr. Gudrun Erickson spent last weekend at the visiting lodge. Mrs. John and Madeline Kornak and family. Madeline is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Craig. The Kornaks lived here for awhile a few years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Pederson arrived home on Sunday December 13th after two week visit at Richmond, B.C. with son Buster, his wife Susan and their daughter Mrs. Gladys Caruth and Mrs. Margaret Pederson visited Gladys' mother, Mrs. Kjelland, in the Viking Hospital last Friday.

It's always nice to report good news so we're very happy to learn that Janina DeBock is home from quite a lengthy stay in the University Hospital. She has to go to Edmonton each week for medical treatment, but the family is all together again.

At the Legion Meeting on Tuesday, December 14th, the following officers were elected for 1983: President Dick Matthews; first vice-president, Brian Lee (past president); Sergeant at Arms, Fred Moffie; secretary-treasurer, George Arnott; service officer, Jim Walsh; executive committee Delmar Bergum, Ted Holt, Joan McHardy, Robert Rasmussen, Mrs. Helen Nilsen, Mrs. Margaret Kobas, Jack Spence, Mr. and Mrs. Clare Findlay, Mr. and Mrs. David Black, Mrs. Molly MacLean, Mrs. Doris Llanes, Mrs. Leah Petter, Mrs. E. Kertgaard, Mrs. Pat Cameron and Mrs. Lorraine Beasiro joined Senior Citizens on Killam on a bus trip to Edmonton where they attended the Saturday evening performance of "The Singing Christmas Tree". It's told that it was very beautiful and well worth attending.

Following are the results of the Legion Bingo held in the Community Hall, on Monday, December 13th.

Mr. Ed Sarasin, Sedgewick.

The door prize was won by Walter Stubbart of Viking. There were 173 people playing and in addition 30 Proxy players. The proxy players had 351 cards to handle.

The John Larsson at Lougheed outdid themselves this Christmas and this re-creation of Santa's Workshop was just part of their creative effort.

Sedgewick has another setback for satellite TV

Due to the tardiness of the Canadian Radio and Television Commission, television-entertained viewers in Sedgewick probably won't have their satellite reception until February 1, at the latest. Officials of the town's Chamber of Commerce report that Rural Satellite Television of Saskatoon has purchased the equipment necessary to bring in the new channels (including American networks). But the CRTC has apparently been buying itself with problems pertaining to pay television, and has deferred its decision on the provision of satellite service to lesser served areas of the country, including Sedgewick.

A decoding device will be installed on the back of the television receiver to unscramble the signal relayed by the satellite dish.

In the meantime, Sedgewick residents will have to be satisfied with the spotty reception they now receive from Channel 7 Lougheed, and on occasion, Channel 18 Coronation and Channel 13 Edmonton.

The Chamber urges Sedgewick residents desirous of receiving improved television reception to contact Arnold Malone, M.P. for Crowfoot.

Premier Lougheed's Christmas Message 1982

As the Christmas Season approaches, we recognize that it is a difficult time this year for many Canadians due to our current economic downturn.

However, most in Alberta are more fortunate than those in other parts of Canada and we should therefore be thankful for our many blessings.

To my wife, Jeanne and me, Christmas is a time when our family is reunited. We spend the time with family and friends. It is also a time of year when people everywhere put forth extra effort to further peace and understanding.

We in Canada are very fortunate, for we enjoy freedom that many countries of the world do not. Let us not forget those who suffer poverty, hunger, repression, and persecution and pray that they will one day enjoy the same quality of life, that we sometimes take for granted.

Albertans are possessed with a particular spirit of goodwill and generosity towards others, so reach out and help a friend or neighbour who is less fortunate or whose family is not near at hand.

On behalf of all my colleagues at the Alberta Legislature, my wife Jeanne and my family, I sincerely welcome this opportunity to wish each and everyone of you a Christmas filled with joy and friendship.

As is the custom, officers of The Community Press will be closed during the Holiday Season.

This year the plant will be closed starting Friday, December 24 and will re-open on Monday, January 3, 1983.

There will be no issue of The Community Press or Enterprise on December 29.

Advertising for the January 5 publication - including display advertising will be accepted on Monday, January 3.

A reminder that regular deadlines for advertising are 5 p.m. on the Friday before publication for display advertising and 5 p.m. Monday for classified for insertion in that week's issue.

Hardisty hires new administrator

J. Curt Svendsen, formerly administrator for the Town of High Level, has been hired as Municipal Administrator for the Town of Hardisty.

Mr. Svendsen will take over the post on a three-month trial basis, with assistance from Wesley S. Pedlar, who is retiring after having served as Municipal Administrator for Hardisty since March 1981.

A total of ten applications from as far away as Prince Edward Island, Quebec and Ontario as well as Alberta were considered by council.

Mr. Svendsen served 16 years in the RCMP, specializing in accounting.

He is presently operating a store at Diamondville.

The Svendsens have six children, most of whom are grown up.

Residents of Flagstaff Lodge at Sedgewick have been entertained by many groups during the Holiday Season. Last Thursday afternoon, the very entertaining King's Country Come-Backs from Westsask, featuring Jim R. Germain, on the fiddle, Roll and Inga Jacobson, singing, drums, and Santa Claus himself put in an appearance. A turkey dinner followed, capped a happy time.

Letters to the Editor

December 13, 1982

Dear Sir:

As Hardisty Library Board chair and coordinator of our Library's children's programming, I am most concerned about the upcoming plebiscite in the town of Hardisty concerning the possible purchase of a Library/Town office facility.

Our Library began six years ago in a space most generously provided by the Hardisty Social Club. Up until two years ago the room provided was adequate to store our collection of materials but with a marked increase in children's programs and library memberships we simply are no longer able to operate efficiently in such a small area.

We fall far below the figure used by the Department of Culture in regard to adequate floor space for libraries: 0.2 square feet per capita is the figure given as adequate to house a library's collection of materials. This figure does not include space in which to run programs.

We have been denied an opportunity to obtain a more spacious facility for our books and materials and at the same time free the present library space for the use of the rural residents of the Hardisty Social Club.

In 1981 a County Library Board was formed and for the first time our local board was receiving equal per capita support from the county for the rural residents of the Hardisty area.

The year 1982 has been a time of downturns—we don't need to dwell on the inadequacies of our economy.

With these additional funds we are in a better position financially to operate independently.

There also is $19,700.60 available in the cultural portion of the M.C.R. Grant which could be used by the Library for the purchase of a new facility.

However, these funds will only be available until 1984. This is the case if we are to make use of this grant.

We have plans in mind to raise the amount of money to qualify for the grant and could conceivably afford a building to a maximum of $40,000.00.

This would more than cover the Library's portion of a shared facility with the town office.

I would like to impress on your readers that the cost of the library portion of this facility would not be passed on to the Hardisty taxpayer.

The Library has become an integral part of the Hardisty community, offering services and programs 12 months of the year, I might add.

It is time that Hardisty Town Council recognized it as such and appreciated the variety of services offered by the Library.

I trust that the people of Hardisty will support us they have in the past and assist us to take advantage of this tremendous opportunity to obtain a suitable facility at a reasonable cost.

I hope that the voters will attend the public meeting in January to ask questions and obtain all the facts on which to base their decision at voting time.

July Routledge, Board Chair, Hardisty Public Library.

The Sedgewick Concert Party was presenting a sacred concert in the K.F. Hall in Town commencing at 8:30 p.m. on December 28th. The programme will consist of solos, quartettes, choruses and recitations. The admission fee is 25 cents for adults and 10 cents for children.

Pairs and competitions were held recently by Junior Grain and Alfalfa Club members at Dayland, Sedgewick Alliance and Royalty. Laird Tanton won the judging and awards competition. Leonard Dutton won 1 Bush Reward Wheat and the Alfalfa seeds, also the reward for Reward Wheat; and Edward Bremson won for the Alfalfa Club Champion.

The Dayland Hockey team came to Strome last Friday night and were defeated by the Strome aggregation 2-1. On Monday night a return game was played at Dayland when Strome boys lost to the tune of 3-0.

40 Years Ago

The files for this year are not available.

30 Years Ago

A capacity crowd attended the public school concert in Strome last night. The program was of a high calibre and the teachers are to be congratulated on training their pupils. Santa Claus distributed treats for all the kids.

Many Eskits of Sedgewick were selling a seven room house in Strome last night. It had a full basement, hot and cold running water, furnace and two acres of land. All he was asking was $4500.00.

A host of friends gathered in the Community Hall on the night of December 23rd to bid farewell and goodnight to Rev. Norman Grainger and family in the near future. Mr. Will Reed presented the honored guests with a purse of money and also gave them on behalf of the community. Miss Laval Reed presented Lorne Reed a beautiful photograph album containing photos and autographs of the community.

Mr. Grainger will be moving to Montana.

20 Years Ago

The evening of December 10th, was a happy and wonderful fellowship gathering for members, ladies and the friends of the Loughheed Explorer Group of St. Andrew's Church. Fourteen members were initiated and received their first red star. They were Mary Lou Black, Barbara Barton, Rosanne Burden, Diane Couturier, and Mary Ann Kistman. Tasty refreshments were served by the CGT girls.

First leader, Mrs. Bessie Sax.

Turkeys were distributed over the hills in the past on Friday evening when the hockey club sponsored a very successful bingo. The big one, for the black out, was won by Cyril Dwyer, while Jimmy Watkins got the door prize.

A new crop will be introduced to Alberta in January if plans of the birds are it is used almost exclusively as feed for caged birds. Canary seed can be grown in most parts of Alberta because it is an annual which matures quite early. The plant makes an ample supply of moisture but requires good drainage, as it cannot tolerate flooding conditions.

A public meeting was held in the Kilham Catholic Church basement with an attendance of about 150. The required letter from the town, giving their approval of the proposed Recreational and Agricultural Complex was received. The town, also, offered to lease the land, on which this proposed complex is to be built, to the Agricultural Society on a 99 year basis. A motion was carried unanimously.

A come and go Tea to honor the Strome school departure from Hardisty was held in the Catholic church hall on behalf of their present and other friends. George Matthews presented the Sisters with a check for $100.00. The tea was a success as well as a source of money and expressed the hope that they would enjoy these gifts in their cottage at the lake.

Doan scored one and assisted on two others. Single goals came off the sticks of Mike Kuber and Mortley Scott, with each also garnering an assist.

Wayne Grant, who came in with three assists, while Kim Fredrick and Joe Spiller each set up one goal.

Last Tuesday before the Kilham fans, Lamont were full value for a 9-3 win. Only Brian Cassidy, Gerry Foley and Brant Sim to find the scoring range.

The winners' margin was only 5-3 after the second period but four unanswered goals in the final 20 minutes decisively settled the game.

Brant Sim had one goal and four assists, and Bernie

Stewart and Alma Seward accompanied them. All were very enjoyable.

Barb and Lloyd Stevenson visited at her mother's on Sunday this week. Mom had babysat for them Saturday night while they were at the staff party.

Perhaps even the loss of life.

When the sale of Natural Gas has been at a minimum the last few years, it is really necessary to have these types of plants expanding in our area.

There is going to have to be stringent rules laid down to these oil and gas companies by all levels of Government to deal with our gas, whether in the drilling operation or in the handling of the gas. There will have to be zero emission if our agriculture and the health of the people is not affected.

We cannot contend with blow-out wells like the one in the Loughheed field. Emissions from our gas come back in Acid Rain, which destroys our lakes and effects all living things.

So we strongly urge the Minister of Environment to use caution when allowing these proposed projects and others which might want to expand their present operations.

We remain, Yours truly, Irene Vele, Secretary-Treasurer, Iron Creek Pipeline and Anti-Gas Association.

Philosophy for the Birds

Attitudes make the difference

An interesting article encouraging gifts of great thought means to vary their attitude to arrive at their offices to avoid the inevitable holiday.

I would think this to be a difficult exercise as most of these types of people are of a disciplined nature and time is used to its greatest advantage.

I said all this to say that by the activities of most people and by the sound in the air, we can without doubt say that Christmas is here again.

This year my thoughts change direction from the giving of gifts, to the receiving of gifts.

The Bible philosophy states that it is more blessed to give than to receive, and my concern is whether we receive from those giving the gifts with the proper attitude.

I believe that the attitude in which we receive puts the value true value in the gift.

Many do not find real joy at this season because they have not come to a realization of the true value of the gift of Christmas.

Attitudes reveal the value of gifts.

This Christmas acquire the right attitude of genuine humility towards God and receive once again, in renewed emphasis, the gift of Jesus Christ, the answer to a lost world.

May God bless you an give you a blessed time with your families.

Killam Indians drub Viking

Even though they had only ten players dressed, Killam Indians had little trouble in shelling Viking in the 1962-63 season.

The winners' margin was only 5-3 after the second period but four unanswered goals in the final 20 minutes decisively settled the game.

Ray Anderson and Jim Cronan each had two assists with Wayne Grant and Foley each drawing one assist.

Playing Coach Dallas Eberly who sat out the last five league games as the result of a sparing infection, has left for an Arizona vacation and missed last night's game against Tofield.

Joe Spiller also was among the absentees, having gone to Florida with other family.

We survived '82

... let's thrive in '83

Father Time is about to close another chapter in his scrapbook, and it's time for us to review the past year in retrospect.

For many the year 1982 hasn't exactly been rosy, especially from a financial standpoint. Because of the economic squeeze, many people were forced to accept lower paying jobs, or didn't have a job to go to at all.

In circumstances such as this, it is difficult for many to be thankful, however there are some stories of couples who have been brought closer together because of adversity.

About the time when we are writing off the human race as a lost cause, events occur to demonstrate that most of us really do have a heart.

We have all read or heard how the public has rallied around the family of the spinal fiddle child in Edmonton.

Then there is the heart-gripping tale from Toronto of "Holly," the hours-old child abandoned underneath a truck in cold temperatures. Canadians across the country have expressed their anxiety.

Just as Charles Dickens wrote of Tiny Tim nearly 150 years ago, there are stories such as these that embrace our hearts, even in times of duress which many are experiencing at this very moment.

Perhaps even those individuals who stole one-half million dollars from an Edmonton department store will see it in their hearts to assist the needy in the manner of Robin Hood.

Alas, our modern day laws from on this type of giving.

The year 1982 has been a time of downturns—we don't need to dwell on the inadequacies of our economy.

With these additional funds we are in a better position financially to operate independently.

There also is $19,700.60 available in the cultural portion of the M.C.R. Grant which could be used by the Library for the purchase of a new facility.

However, these funds will only be available until 1984. This is the case if we are to make use of this grant.

A Christmas Message

Rev. Christine Bunde
United Church, Killam
St. Paul's United, Strome

Season's Greetings!
I want to share with you the message that has just come to some folk from the President of the United Church's Alberta Conference, the Rev. Norman T. Quigley.

"Recently, I came across an interesting story written by Soren Kierkegaard. The story was about a person who desired to marry a lovely maiden, one who would eventually be queen. He had seen the object of his heart's desire while riding through a poor section of a large city and was irresistibly drawn to that section in search of her. Very much in love, he faced a problem. How would he procure her? As a prince, numerous avenues were possible. As a man, it was his desire to marry because of mutual love.

"Various approaches were considered including that of masquerading as a peasant. After gaining her interest, and following the proposal, he could remove his mask. But he discarded this as inappropriate. Finally, real resolution presented itself to the mind of the prince. He would give his lady love and move to her neighborhood. There, he would take up his work as, say, a carpenter. During his work in the day and during his time off, he would get acquainted with the people, begin to share their interests and concerns, begin to talk their language. In due time, should fortune be with him, he would make her acquaintance in a natural way. And should she come to love him, as he had already come to love her, then he would propose. This he did. And when she did come to love him, he told her who he really was.

"I believe in Advent and Christmas. This story can come alive. God wishes to join our lives in a living, loving relationship, so that we might experience new life. God could have ordered us to love and obey, but we would not have been able to. God could have ordered us to love and obey, but we would not have been able to. God could have ordered us to love and obey, but we would not have been able to.

wants our love, loving relationship.

"As disciples today, we have the privilege of not only responding to God's love, but of sharing that love in the various ways in which we live. It is our privilege to share it within our intimate family circles and with our personal friends. We are called also to share it within the larger family which we call the church, and together to share God's life and love with a hurt and hurting world.

May this blessed Christmas season be a time when we are able to once again accept the babe of Bethlehem, Love in a manger, and so find our lives transformed as we return to our world, as did the shepherds, glorifying and praising God for all we have heard and seen.

Wishing you all God's blessings at Christmas and for our new year.

Shalom,
Rev. Christine Bunde,

News from Strome School

The County Gymnastics displays were held on Thursday, December 16th in our school. A record 70 gymnasts from Strome, Sedgewick and Dayland schools presented over 100 displays. Displays included floor exercises, trampolines, rings, balance beams, over bars, uneven bars, and vaulting horse.

Each gymnast received a trophy for his or her participation.

In Strome School gymnastics competition, the medal winners were: Elementary Boys, Greg Hamm, gold; Dennis Zimmel, silver; Danny Wieschorski, bronze.

Elementary Girls, Karen Mohler, gold; Rochelle Jarrett, silver; Susan Munro, bronze; Dawn Makarowski, honorable mention.

Junior High boys, Brad Mohler, gold; Roger Martin, silver; Ron Haelepp, bronze.

Junior high girls, Roxanne Makarowski, gold; Collette Daleau, 74, Darren Wieschorski, defeated David Mitchell 83, and Tom Pettem won over Dennis Riese.

The hallways were cluttered.

Killam Separate School News

December 7th, was the last day at school for Chad Mack. There was a school gathering at 3:30 that day in Mr. Stang's room to present him with a going away present. Chad has moved to Stettler, his always cheery smile will be missed.

Gingerbread men and popcorn cake were all over the school on December 3rd, when Grandma Prichard came to the school. The grades 1, 2, and 3, had a good time decorating the gingerbread men. They really enjoyed it. Thanks for coming Grandma Prichard.

First confession was held for the Grades 2 and 3s on Friday night, December 10th. Lunch was served downstairs afterwards in McCarthy Hall.

Our Christmas plays are finally over with. Well! Our last performance was at the parish supper December 12.

Patty Spiller should be down on the beaches in Florida soaking up the sunshine. She left with her family on December 21st. Same Christmas present.

School begins again on January 3rd. Merry Christmas!

One of the more powerful Christmas displays at Killam was in evidence at the Lloyd Young residence - with lights and more lights, combined with replicas of the Festive Season.

Consort on Saturday, with Jesse getting one of the six goals.

Merle and Marilyn Baird of Drayton visited over the weekend and Mom returned home with them. Joining all of us Saturday for a pre-Christmas get-together were Irene Towers, Bill Blah, Art Baird and the Dennis Towers family.

If Denny should ask "if you've heard the one about... say yes and walk away how crude can a person get, Denny!"

I think we'll go away for Christmas more often. Everyone is so glad to be rid of us that we'll be enjoying supper at Dale Bide-man's Sunday night and Rob Wolf's Monday night.

Now that the editor's have given me my nice cheque and thoughtful Christmas present, I will try out our new deal. The following are the upcoming ski times: December 23-10 p.m., then December 26, 27, 28, 29, and 30, 12-4 p.m.

The various curling schedules are in under way. I presume the entire schedule was drawn up without a meeting as no one notified me as to any dates, times or contact people.

Before you go racing out of town to buy those hard-to-find last minute Christmas gifts, check with our local merchants first. Their stores are packed with all sorts of neat gift ideas.

Robert and Glen McDermott of Fort St. John stayed with Gordon and Betty Stombough over the weekend and visited with their Mom, Grace.

Scott, and Rita Peacock, Robert Keichiger, Grant McMahon and Jim Findlay were spending a few days skiing in Banff. Cora Keichiger spent the time in Calgary visiting her sister, Annie and her husband, Chris.

Both Pete McPherson and Mary Vanheck are in Galahad Hospital. Hope you're home and feeling fit by Christmas.

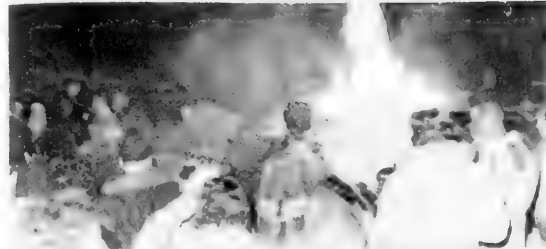

Bill and Phyllis Alcorn had several guests in for a pre-Christmas dinner Sunday. If anyone is running short of food, I have extra ham, Phyllis has extra bean salad and Lou Bide-man has lots of jellied salad - all courses we forgot to put on for our guests over the weekend.

Larry Towers and son of Edmonston were down on the weekend and spent Sunday night with his parents, Tom and Hazel. The United Church choir presentation was to be held Wednesday, the 22nd. The tape sounded beautiful. Hope most of you were able to attend.

At a time when unemployment is rampant, the dollar nearly non-existent and a land where police and firemen are cut back and considered to be an excess luxury, demanding a Merry Christmas for each of you seems silly.

On the other hand in a country of freedom and peace and so many luxuries, we consider them necessities.

Perhaps it is appropriate to wish each of you a very happy Christmas and peace and contentment in the New Year.

Segedwick's first annual Community Christmas, held on Saturday evening, was an unqualified success, with sleigh and cutter rides, wagon rides, carol singing, musical numbers - welcome hot chocolate - and of course, a visit from Santa Claus, who handed out treats.

Crown Corporations:
The Unavoidables

The Auditor General's Report, tabled in the House of Commons highlights not only the present government's inability to manage the economy but also underscores their failure to control the spending of the Crown Corporations they created.

There is little reason for confidence in the government's ability to manage the public purse.

The report cites a whirlwind increase in the number of Crown Corporations. To date more than 400 Crown Corporations live like parasites off the people of Canada but remain immune from being accountable to Parliament.

Government owned or controlled corporations now employ more than 263,000 people. This, excluding the military and the RCMP, is more than the number of people employed by all of the federal government.

With a budget of over $30 billion a year, these corporations should not be allowed to run free-spending taxpayers' money without accountability.

Last year Crown Corporations spent $17 billion more than they generated. That amount plus interest must be paid by the taxpayer.

C.M. Marine has used $325 million in public funds since 1979 yet they cling to the opinion that they have no obligation to divulge financial information to the Department of Transportation, the Parliament of Canada or to the citizens of this great country.

While pensioners and other taxpayers are being asked to cut back and expect less in these troubled economic times, the government continues with its corporate bail-outs.

According to the Auditor General's Report, the federal government handed over $17 million to a company only days before it went bankrupt.

And in 1981-82 the government gave the Cape Breton Development Corporation $27 million more than the company actually spent to acquire capital assets.

There is no excuse for this mismanagement of public funds by the trustee of the people - the Government of Canada.

The need for legislation to bring Crown Corporations under tighter control and force accountability is obvious. At present, existing legislation is not sufficient and Bill C-125 introduced by the present government in 1977 does little to rectify the situation.

That bill, states the Auditor General unequivocally, "advances no provisions dealing with the audit of Crown-owned corporations."

More acceptable, was Bill C-27 introduced by the Clark government in November, 1979.

According to the Auditor General, his bill is quoted as being "a major step towards a comprehensive and effective framework for the control, direction and accountability of Crown-owned corporations."

If appropriate legislation is not enacted quickly, the current trend of mismanagement and mispending will persist at the taxpayer's expense.

It is obvious the present government has lost control of the ability to direct the money it allows government owned companies and the ability to take action against questionable financial practices carried out by these companies.

Keeping in touch with our nation's finances is a task not restricted only to government departments.

It must also be expanded to give due consideration to the staggering number of Crown Corporations that government has created.

Bear in mind that the amount spent by our Crown Corporations is larger than the total government budgets of many European countries.

Many of the homes decorated for the Christmas Season were magnificent and especially from a distance, the Gary and Karen Smith cottage at Lougheed was a real eye-catcher.

Joined together by the glory and pageantry of this sacred season
we reverently pray that whatever is meaningful, whatever is beautiful, whatever brings happiness to you and your dear ones will be yours forever more.

A Christmas Message

Pastor Nolan Haring
Church of the Nazarene
Sedgewick, Alta.

"And the Word was made flesh, and dwelt among us," (John 1:14) "That which we have seen with our eyes, which we have looked upon, and our hands have handled, of the Word of life... (1 John 1:1)

Excitement must have reigned through the heart of John when he realized who this man really was, Jesus, born as a man in Bethlehem.

It filled John's heart and mind with unceasing wonder to realize that this man Jesus was God. When John listened to the words of Jesus, he realized that he was watching the actions of God. And when John reached out and touched Jesus, he realized that he was reaching out to touch the eternal, almighty God. What a thrilling and yet what a serious moment.

To see Jesus, was to see God. To believe Jesus, was to believe God. To know Jesus, was to know God. To receive Jesus, was to receive God.

We may tend to feel envious of John and the other disciples. What a privilege they had. Yet, by faith, we enjoy the same privilege. By faith, through the recorded Word of God, the Holy Bible, we also can see and touch Jesus. We also can believe and know Jesus, and receive Him in all of His fulness as God.

True is the Christmas message. God became man in Christ Jesus, so that we might know God through faith in Christ. The Christ of Christmas is the Christ who came to redeem us from our sin which had separated us from God. He is the Christ who offers resurrection and eternal life to all who will believe. By personally receiving Jesus Christ into our lives, by faith, and trusting Him to forgive us our sins, we enter into a personal relationship with Him.

In personal relationship with Christ, we come into personal relationship with the eternal God. What a glorious privilege is ours by faith.

"He came unto his own, and his own received him not."

But as many as received him, to them gave he power (authority) to become the sons of God, even to them that believe on his name."

(John 1:11, 12)

My prayer this Christmas season is that you will find opportunity for a deeper knowledge and understanding of Christ, whom to know is life eternal.

Killam Kings lose to Wainwright

In hockey, it has been proven that a team can never rest on its laurels.

Perhaps that is the reason why Killam Wheat Kings were last night outclassed at home on Sunday afternoon, as Wainwright Elks, reigning champs, blasted the Kings 12-1.

Just over a week before, Killam had edged Wainwright 6-5 right in the Blueson lair.

Blair Gaurme accounted for the only Killam goal. On Friday, also at home, the Wheat Kings feasted on Grand Centre to the tune of 10-4, and may have outdone themselves in preparation for Wainwright.

Leading the way against Grand Centre was Mike Gola with a four goal contribution while Dean Anjos chipped in with a pair.

Contributing single goals were Rick Manning, Donnie

Vincent, Ian Erickson and Klumson.

Leading the assist parade was Glen Costes with three and Blair Grant had two. Killam hotted St. Paul last Wednesday but came out on the short end of a 4-4 score.

Blair Gaurme scored twice for the Wheat Kings, while Shane Clouston and Donnie Vincent connected once.

Tomorrow (Thursday) Vegreville is at Killam and the Wheat Kings visit Wainwright on December 29 before returning to the home front against Saddle Lake on January 9.

Ron and Maria Danielson returned home on December 12th, after spending six weeks in Australia, visiting Wade and Sandy Borge. The weather was beautiful, people very friendly and the country most interesting, making it a superb holiday. They also spent enjoyable times with Ron, Deb and Christine Thompson. Cheryl Danielson is in Australia visiting her sister Sandy and brother-in-law, Wade. She plans to spend several weeks "down under" providing work is available. Unemployment in Australia is much like in Canada, very widespread. The Danielsons also enjoyed good times with Doris Truss and Chuck Gabruch, who are also employed in Australia. Both "blokes" are tanned and happy and said to say hello to everyone back home. Both the Thompson family, the Borge's, and the Cheryl and her friends in Canada.

Stop! Look! Listen!

The Hardisty Library is really quite snug And they knew the new building the children would love:
The books packed to move and all in pairs We'd been too busy to hang up our axes.

We thought OF St. Nick was arriving that day To tell us the town folk were willing to pay,
For two weeks the notice had been in the paper This was the last day, so what could be safer?

BUT, Two weeks before Christmas And in our small town Two creatures were stirring Took a petition around.
Please, support the new building, our town is a joke.

They told the poor people their taxes would rise But we had been planning a super surprise The Library Board is very ambitious We would raise our share if it meant washing dishes.

We do need a place for our council to meet And a three-day building, for so small a need. But what to our wondering eyes did appear? But that negative paper, we sure did not cheer.

And out on the lawn There arose a much chatter, There will be a meeting to discuss the matter; And then, Council says, "We will take a vote." Please, support the new building, our town is a joke.

An interested Bystander!

Hardisty Happenings

Grade 10
The school and kindergarten held their annual Christmas concert last Tuesday night and as usual it was very well attended. The teachers and students had put in a lot of time and effort to produce their program and they were enjoyed by the parents.
At intermission, Lloyd Stuart, representing the Hardisty Branch of the Canadian Legion presented cheques to the winners of their Remembrance Day poster and poem contest. Cindy Link, Evelyn Macdermott, and Shelley Johnson were the winners of the poster awards and Heather Tillman won the poem award.

The Junior High also made the draws for their raffle with the winner of the afternoon, Jim Powell and the late recorder won by Pam Drever. Hope all teachers and students enjoy their holiday break with their families.

The last week was a busy one for the kindergarten. On Wednesday, December 15, they held their annual Fathers Night in the classroom. The fathers were shown all their projects in the classroom and then the students did their "Little Drummer Boy" presentation for them. The fathers really enjoyed the evening. Thursday, they took part in the school concert and then on December 17 they paid a visit to the Seniors in the Manor, taking them cards that they had made. Then they returned to their classroom for the party and were I stuck with your through happy to devour a large gingerbread house made

December 20
Sunday evening's Sunday School Christmas concert at the St. John's Anglican Church proved to be another successful triumph. The teachers and their helpers are to be commended for managing so well such an abundance of children, many of them pre-schoolers.
Following his program, the large crowd moved to the Parish Hall for lunch and the much anticipated visit from Santa Claus.
The holy gentlemen arrived so loaded, with gifts, of course, this year, that he departed this year without his belt, much to the chagrin of the children, who dashed after him to make sure that he was properly clothed.
At the conclusion of the Sunday School program, a presentation was made to Mr. Paul Hodge, who has served St. Edmund's Parish for four months as a student priest. Paul has now returned to Saskatoon to prepare for the resumption of his college studies in January.
We wish him every success in his future plans. Paul was accompanied by his friend, Ted, who was helping him to pack and close the apartment which has been Paul's home since September.
Christmas Eve is fast approaching. St. Mark's has laid low by the flu. What else could keep him out.

The rector is planning a special New Year's Eve candlelight service at St. John's at 7:30 p.m., December 31. Everyone is most welcome to take time out from getting ready to greet 1983 and come and join us.

The Sedgewick Scene

Betty Walsh
Mr. John Black who spent three and a half weeks in hospital in Edmonton arrived at the David Black home on Saturday and will be spending awhile there. Good to have you around again John.

A very large crowd was at the school on Friday evening for the Public School Christmas Concert. Much time and effort had obviously gone into the programme and the youngsters did very well. I just wish we could have heard them as well as we saw them as with few exceptions, it was impossible to hear these little voices. But I enjoyed it anyway.

A fairly good crowd was at the United Church at 8 p.m. on Sunday evening to take in the C.G.I.T. Vesper Service. This service always has special meaning for me as an old long time C.G.I.T. former leader and I've missed it when there was no C.G.I.T. The girls and their leaders, Mrs. Laurie Forster and Mrs. Deb Howel presented the service very well and are to be commended.

No more card parties at the Senior Citizens Drop In Centre until January 30th, 1983.

Sherry Coderre of Edmonton visited with Glenda Brandingen at the John Brandingen home over the weekend.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Norman MacPherson for supper on Sunday were their daughter and her husband, Fay and Leroy Campbell of Hester.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Dietrich and son Christopher of East Coulee were weekend guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Don Anderson.

A correction on an article in last weeks news. Mrs. Murray Landis came from Edmonton, not Saskatoon.

There were three tables of Norwegian Whist players at the Senior Citizens Drop In Centre on Friday evening. Mrs. Minnie Djos and Mr. Rod MacKinnon who was tied with Mr. Ab Nordstrom but won one out of the cards won prizes for the highest scores. Mrs. Hedrun Nordstrom and Mr. Ed Sarasin received consolation awards.

A good crowd enjoyed the bonfire, carol singing and sleigh and hayrack rides on Saturday evening. With good weather, hot chocolate and good fellowship it was a really enjoyable evening. I hope this becomes an annual event, everyone loves a bonfire!

At the home of Rev. and Mrs. Alex MacLellan for the weekend were daughter Bev and husband, Frank Hummel of Thorby, daughter Lynn and husband Larry Loralee of Edmonton, son Brian with wife Gietle and their three children from St. Paul and son Keith who is a student at the Camrose Lutheran College. A good family gathering.

I did hear that our Ida May was tripping the light fantastic in Kilam the other night. Square dancing is fun isn't it Ida!

Around sixty members of the Senior Citizens Club met at their Drop In Centre at noon on Wednesday for their Christmas Party. A bounteous turkey dinner was enjoyed by all after which Mrs. Helen O'Reilly played the piano for some carol singing while the dishes were washed. A short programme outlining the life of the Sedgewick Senior Citizens Club from it's beginning was then presented with Mrs. Ida Black giving the commentary and some of the members helping the story along with song. Mrs. O'Reilly again was the accompanist. Following this Santa the wasn't wearing his red suit but he was sporting a red vest! presented the gifts and everyone visited while they were unwrapped and showed around. Some of the group then played scrabble, others shuffleboard, checkers and dominos. There was a table of crib players while eight tables of whist players enjoyed the usual Wednesday afternoon games. Mrs. Minnie Djos and "The Star" (alias Stroky Joe, alias Joe Bush, alias Jim Walsh) won prizes for the highest scores. Mrs. Margaret Pederson and Mr. Porter O'Reilly received consolation awards. After lunching on the remains of dinner members left for their homes after a really happy time together.

Alvin Monk of Kilam was the winner of the draw for a thirty five dollar voucher at Lorne's Pharmacy.

December 22, 1981
Tribute to the late Tina Blakeney was read last Wednesday when a plaque was dedicated in her honour at the Sedgewick Senior Citizens Centre. The plaque was purchased by Dale and Pat Erickson and George and Belle Cramton.

January 5, 1982
Members of the Battle River Regional Planning Commission at their December 16th meeting, awarded a plaque to Mr. Rick Sundness, who has represented the Town of Hardisty on the Commission from October 1977 to June 1981. Mr. Sundness was transferred to Drumheller by his employer, a bank.

January 11, 1982
The Village of Loughheed just recently opened a brand new spacious town office and library. The building consists of a reception area for village business, administrative office, storage vault, and a general reception office in addition to the council chambers. At the rear of the building is an area for a library and a special feature for film screening.

January 28, 1982
Flagstaff County took itself out of contention as the possible location of a hazardous waste plant when council unanimously approved a motion by Councillor Jim Crawford at its January 14th meeting that council oppose the siting of a hazardous waste plant within the boundaries of the county.

January 17, 1982
A five year old Heister girl has just had the thrill of her young life. As a kick-off to National Non-Smoking Week, Alecia Curtis, entered a drawing contest, and won in her age group, being the youngest winner. Her prize was a trip to Ottawa for two days leaving on January 24th and returning on the 26th.

February 2, 1982
Pat Miller of Strome defeated Al Edwards of St. Albert by a 5-0 count on Monday night to advance to the "C" finals of the provincial curling championships in Medicine Hat, February 10-15. The Miller rink was the 16th of sixteen rinks competing in the Northern Alberta Curling Association championships at Camrose from January 28 to February 1.

Check your hot water tank

Your water heater which provides hot water for laundry, dishwashing and bathing is one of the biggest energy users in the home. Inspect the hot water tank and if necessary drain any sediment. The tank and the pipes leading to faucets should be well insulated. Also check the temperature setting on the thermostat. In many homes, the water temperature is set around 50 to 60 degrees C, but can often be lowered and still provide sufficient hot water for normal use.

During the winter months, the demand for electricity is highest during the "peak" hours of between 5 and 7 p.m. Avoid using your dishwasher, clothes washer, or doing other activities which require electricity during these hours.

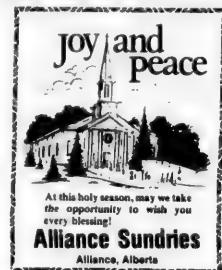

Here's hoping that you and your family will have every happiness of the Season.

Computerized shopping Prices on or prices off?

A law which went into effect August 1971 will make Quebec the first province in Canada to force supermarkets to retain item prices to retain item prices.

This, of course, delights the Consumers Association of Canada. They have been working hard in every province to have laws enacted to force prices marking of food items sold in computerized stores.

The real advantage to supermarkets, they say, is a more docile consumer. Without item pricing, shoppers won't realize they're paying more.

The stores argue that prices in computerized stores will be on the shelf, accessible to any consumer who wishes to check prices. CAC argues this is an unacceptable alternative.

CAC says that item pricing is preferable because they allow shoppers to compare prices as they move through the store like company canned peas to frozen peas to fresh peas. All located miles from each other in most major supermarkets.

Also, there is an advantage to those consumers who want to be sure the price by the cashier is accurate. They do make mistakes and so do the computers. We all know that.

CAC also argues that item pricing allows the consumer to more readily spot price increases when replacing an old package with a new one. This is especially true on items not purchased weekly.

Buckle up children for every trip

A Question for all parents: "Where should infants ride when travelling in a motor vehicle?"

The Canada Safety Council recommends that very young infants should be placed in rear-facing infant restraints that are anchored by adult lap belts.

As children grow, they should progress to Transport Canada approved child restraints.

Whether using child restraints, booster seats, or regular lap/shoulder belts, children should always ride in the rear seat.

Safety restraint systems are important for two reasons: they save lives and injuries and are the most cost-effective safety feature available for use in today's automobiles.

The protection of our children is of great importance and it is your responsibility as an adult to ensure the safety of child passengers.

Get into the habit of ensuring children "Buckle Up" for every trip.

It's our favorite time of year - when we have the opportunity to wish all our good friends a very Merry Christmas!

May 12, 1982

The annual Forestburg fireman's banquet was hosted by the village council when a presentation was made to Al Gartner of Heister by Corporal Doug Honeyman. The presentation was a honorary testimonial for "heroism and presence of mind in saving the life of a man who had fallen asleep at the wheel at a vehicle which had stalled on the railway tracks with a train approaching" on March 15, 1982 at Hay Lakes.

May 19, 1982

Street signs for the Town of Sedgewick will arrive next week and should be in place shortly thereafter, president Vic Albertini, of the sponsoring Chamber of Commerce has announced. Also, as part of the town beautification program, ten tree planters have been placed along Sedgewick's main street.

May 24, 1982

Through the efforts of its Flag Society, the Town of Hardisty has gained the reputation of "Flag Capital of the World" and deservedly so. Flags from many provinces and nations are treasured possessions and attract many visitors to the town. The scene at the end of the town's main street, perhaps is the most familiar.

June 2, 1982

Because of the quick thinking and astute performance of Heward, Betty Eshdale, Lee Hetherington, six years of age, was pulled from the pool in convulsions and completely inert. Mrs. Eshdale saved the child with CPR and she was conscious when a doctor arrived. We now realize how important it is to have CPR knowledge.

Finding and maintaining Christmas trees

It is a rare Albertan that has the opportunity to select a tree in a forest and take it home for their Christmas tree.

For those of us who must choose a tree from many others stacked up for a sale on a tree lot, an Olds College Plant Science instructor offers these tips on finding and maintaining your Christmas tree.

Edith Morris, a floriculturist and horticulture instructor, suggests choosing a tree that is the correct height and looks bushy and full.

Then you should gently stroke the needles. They should bend rather than break, and they will not drop off a fresh tree.

"Look at the ground, if it is strewn with green needles you probably should reject the tree," she said.

"As a final test, you should lift the tree about a foot and bring the butt down firmly on the ground. If a good many of the needles fall off, the tree is not fresh."

When you get the tree home, it should be kept outdoors with the butt in a pool of water or in the snow.

Before bringing it inside, you should saw at least one notch off the butt at an angle before putting the tree in the stand, which should have a water receptacle. "The notch will help the tree absorb enough water to stay fresh and fragrant. It is important to replenish the water often, like said.

You can also add sugar, sugar-water, or a lemon-lime soft drink (such as 7-Up or Sprite) to the water to ensure the tree stays fresh for as long as possible.

Holds in the Town of Sedgewick should soon receive a permanent surface from the storm sewer work is completed. The project on 48th street, one block west of main street, is designed to take away surplus water which is much in evidence during heavy storms. The town's new water system, the major cause for digging up roads, should soon be operational.

September 22, 1982
Construction has started on the new 25-bed Hardisty Hospital with Kaban Construction of Edmonton, the successful bidder for the project at a cost of $6.6 million. A completion date of January, 1984 has been set but it is anticipated that the hospital will be completed several months earlier if a sufficient head start is made this fall with concrete work.

September 29, 1982
Hopes that Sedgewick would have satellite television reception this fall were dashed when it was revealed at the September 21 meeting of the Chamber of Commerce that a CRTC hearing into a RSTV application will not be heard until November.

October 4, 1982
A familiar face has returned to the County of Plagstaff offices in the person of C.B. Robby Robertson, who has been appointed to the position of secretary-treasurer, effective October 1st. He replaces Orville Libness who remains on staff in another capacity.

October 13, 1982
The new Hardisty Hospital project is underway as the sod turning ceremony was held last Friday, Mr. Stewart, retiring member of the Legislature for Wainwright Constituency and Mr. Kroegeer jointly used the silver spade to unearth the ceremonial first sod. The hospital is scheduled to be completed by October, 1984.

October 20, 1982
The Town of Hardisty held its regular meeting on October 14th, 1982. The resignation of the secretary-treasurer, Mr. Wes Pedlar was respectfully accepted and taken effect December 31, 1982.

The area residents were shocked by Sunday's snowstorm when about eight inches caused many accidents and brought this year's harvest to a halt.

October 27, 1982
Dale Erickson, Superintendent of Education for Plagstaff County Board of Education, has resigned his position, effective the end of January. He will be an executive assistant with the Alberta School Trustees Association.

November 3, 1982
It was strictly "no contest" across the province and particularly in East Central Alberta as the Progressive Conservatives were swept back into power for a fourth term in Tuesday's election. Tom Lyons was an easy winner in Vermilion-Viking with 4,254 votes.

November 10, 1982
Foreburg RCMP are investigating an incident in the town which appeared to be Halloween related. A tale of straw was thrown into an upstairs window at the residence of Terry Falls in Foreburg. It is assumed that the tale caught fire from a nearby heat register. Extensive damage was caused to the interior of the residence.

November 17, 1982
Motorists on Highway 13 can't help but know they are entering the Town of Daysland, since attractive signs have recently been erected at the eastern and western entrances to the town. A competition was held to design the original logo, with Jill Breaker and Barb Turney the major contributors.

November 24, 1982
Zero-plus dialing will be provided to Sedgewick area customers by A&T by 12 noon on Tuesday, November 30 in line with company policy. Customers will be able to dial all long distance phone calls including person to person, collect, calls billed to another number, credit card calls and calls requiring time and charges.

December 1, 1982
Anxiety over possible effects of hydrogen sulphide was expressed at a hearing in Killam last Wednesday morning, pertaining to an application by Voyager Petroleum Ltd. to process sour gas from four existing wells at its existing compression plant, eight kilometres north of Sedgewick.

December 8, 1982
Long noted for his service with hospital and hospital board in this area, Mr. Edward Fee, of Killam was honored with a Life Membership Award at the Alberta Hospitals Association Convention held last Thursday at Calgary.

December 15, 1982
Citizens of the Town of Hardisty may be required to cast ballots on two widely-diversified issues. Firstly, a councilor is needed to replace Jim Huddestone. Secondly, a petition of proprietary electors objecting to the proposed purchase of the building for the purpose of converting it to a municipal building, and library, was received by council.

Watch out for ice and children when driving

Motorists should be aware that the Christmas recess for the province begins on December 17 and runs through until January 3.

The Alberta Motor Association (AMA) says good driving habits are probably more important during this time of year, than at any other.

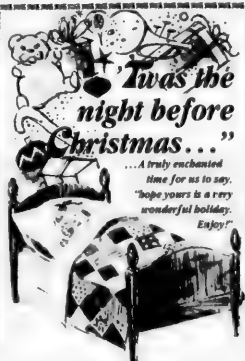

AMA Public Relations Manager Art Price, says icy roads, heavy holiday traffic and children excited about the Christmas season, often combine to result in serious injuries or fatalities.

Price points out that motorists should exercise extreme caution near parks, playgrounds, and other recreational areas where children playing with sleds or toboggans often shoot out across a roadway without warning.

Youngsters may also foolishly try to outdo in the often fatal exercise of hitchhiking rides on the rear bumpers of cars and driving off the icy roads.

Motorists should take it upon themselves to notify the proper authorities if they encounter such incidents in an effort to prevent possible fatalities, says Price.

December 1, 1982
Hemmer, it takes nearly 10 tonnes as far to stop on ice as it does on dry pavement," Price says.

when she did come to life, he told her who he really was.
"I believe in Advent and Christmas. This story can come alive. God wishes to join our lives in a living, loving relationship, so that we might experience new life. God could have ordered us to love and obey, but wanted our voluntary devotion and service. God could have come in regal story, but chose the way of living our life. God loves us and wants our free, loving response.

"As disciples today, we have the privilege of not only responding to God's love, but of sharing that love in the various worlds in which we live. It is our privilege to share it within our intimate family circle and with our personal friends.

We are called also to share it within the larger family which we call the church, and together to share God's life and love with a hurt and hurting world.

"May this Advent Christmas season be a time when we are able to reaffirm our love with the One who came as the Holy One of Bethlehem."

How Christmas came to be

Canon R. Conrad

The date assigned to the birth of Jesus is December 25th. That date is probably the best known date in all of the Christian world and beyond. What may not be so well known however, is the fact that there is no shred of historical evidence to support the date. The New Testament is completely silent about it, and for several centuries the documents of early church history contain no reference to a celebration of the birth of the Lord. At least the birth of the Lord is not certain even about the season.

When the church first began to celebrate the birth of Christ, the date was connected with the winter solstice, in somewhat the same way that the date of Easter was connected with the Spring equinox. At the Winter Solstice, the sun - in the northern hemisphere - reaches its southernmost point in the sky. The days are shortest. The sun seems to have died. Therefore it turns north. Days begin to get longer. One might say, with a poetic flourish, that the light has been born. To be sure, the winter lies ahead. Cold will increase. But the principle of the return of life in the Spring has been asserted, in spite of all appearances. "If winter comes, can Spring be far behind?" By some such reasoning as this, there came to be in many parts of the Mediterranean world a fertility celebration at the time of the winter solstice. In Egypt, at the beginning of the Christian era, astrological calculations were so out of phase with the actual performance of the sun that the festival fell on January 6. In Rome, the Julian Calendar was somewhat more accurate. There it fell on December 25. But even the Julian Calendar had to be corrected in the eighteenth century. According to our present, Gregorian Calendar, the Winter Solstice falls on December 21. These other dates aim at the same event.

Thus Christmas celebrates the winter Solstice and the counterpart of pagan festivals having to do with the birth of light. They were not so much developments of the pagan observance as theological corrections to it. Easter was a development of the Jewish Passover, as well as a correction. We have called it a three-layered festival. Christmas, on the other hand, constitutes a theological and polemical thrust against surrounding pagan culture. Christians celebrate not the birth of light, the sun but rather the birth of the Son of God, the light of the world.

May the radiance of the Star of the Nativity, no matter its origin, be a reminder of the Christ in our lives, not only in December but all year long. The fact that our God, cared enough for us, to redeem us, through His self-sacrifice is enough reason to celebrate twelve months a year.

To all of you who read this message, a message of certainty. Christ came, Christ died for you, Christ arose, Christ is coming again. Go to Church, the light that radiates into the darkness of a sin filled world. The only true peace we share ever know is the peace of Christ. May that peace be yours, today and always.

See you all Christmas Eve at 11:30 p.m. That would be the "gift" you cannot wrap and the greatest gift you could give me. I love you all. May God Bless each and every one of you may 1983 be all light, a lamp unto your feet. Happy Christmas. Canon R. Conrad.

The store of precious things

Pastor Robert Cummings

Killam Baptist Church

At this Christmas season we are again reminded of the birth of Jesus. The birth of a human being is a marvelous thing. When I look at a little baby I sometimes wonder as I think of the tremendous potential that is wrapped up in that little life.

But the birth of Jesus is far, far more wonderful. To think that God and man are united in Him. The angel said to Joseph. "The virgin will give birth to a son, and they will call him Immanuel" - which means "God with us." Matthew 1:23.

Let us respond to this great fact by giving our hearts to Him.

The other day, someone gave me the following story to read. I thought I would share it with you.

A boy dreamed he was standing in a store. He dreamed that he was looking for a present for Jesus, whose birthday was coming soon.

"Have you given Him your heart?" asked the clerk.

"O yes!" said the boy.

"Well, then," said the clerk, "What about this?" He lifted from the shelf a golden box with a jeweled lid. It was called a Willingness box.

"What is in it?" asked the boy.

"Oh, Willingness to obey your parents, willingness to share your things, willingness to be still and not boast, and willingness to allow other people to take credit for what you've done."

"That is very costly," said the boy. "What else do you have?"

"I have a fine jar of humility," said the clerk as he lifted down a rose-colored jar with a crystal top. It glimmered softly.

"What is in the jar?" asked the boy.

"It contains little ways in which we can prefer others to ourselves. It really contains knowledge of others and forgetfulness of ourselves."

"That is very costly, too," said the boy. "Don't you have something else?"

"I have this alabaster box of Loving Sacrifice," said the clerk.

"What is it?" asked the boy.

"In it," said the clerk, "is the gift of all that you have and all that you are. In it is the gift of all that you want and desire, not counting its sacrifice because of the joy of giving it to Jesus."

"That is the most expensive gift of all," said the boy. "I only deal in precious things," said the clerk. "Tell me, shall I wrap these things so that you may give them to Jesus?"

The boy thought and thought. The decision was hard to make for the gift would cost all that he had to give. At last, after much struggle in his heart, he said, "Yes, wrap up the gifts. I must have them to give to Jesus."

The clerk began wrapping the gifts and as he was tying the string, the boy noticed the man had call-blisters in the palms of his hands.

"Oh," cried the boy, "I never recognized you until now!" As he looked at the shining face of One Who stood by him, the boy remembered a bit of a verse which said, "I counsel thee to buy of Me gold tried in the fire..."

The boy awoke...but the golden things of this world never meant a great deal to him because he had given the Lord more costly things.

As you enter 1983 may God's blessing rest upon you.

Cheerful lights of Christmas bring a special warmth to the holiday season, but may also cause fires or electrical accidents if care is not taken.

Use this as a safety checklist:

- Test twigs and needles of a live tree to see that they are not dried out and brittle—use only CSA certified lighting sets and non-flammable decorations.
- Turn off the tree lights at bedtime or when leaving the house.

Buying, cooking and carving your turkey

K.E. Dankel
Turkey is nutritious, versatile, and when cooked right is moist and tasty. Turkey is a good buy at anytime. The meat is low in fat and high in protein. Iron and B vitamins are provided in turkey meat.

Fresh or frozen, precooked or ready for the oven, turkey is available in a variety of forms. The Grade A bird is a best buy for the holiday season.

The B and utility grade can be a good buy for the experienced housewife. Buy $\frac{1}{2}$ to 1 pound of whole turkey per serving. For cut-up turkey allow $\frac{1}{2}$ to 1 pound depending on amount of bone.

Thaw frozen turkey at room temperature in the bag or wrap. Allow 1 1/2 hours per pound thawing time. Allow 5 hours per pound if thawed in refrigerator.

Truss the bird under cold water and wipe dry inside and out.

If stuffing is desired, sprinkle neck and body cavity with salt and pack loosely with dressing. Add other seasonings after the bird is cooked.

do not allow tree to block access to windows or doors in the event of fire.

Set up a tree away from drapes and sources of heat such as fireplaces, TV sets and radiators.

Bernice Olson, D.H.E., at Wetaskiwin suggests a new method for cooking your Christmas Turkey.

Turkey Time
Just about everyone enjoys turkey for large family gatherings. Here are a few tips on preparing the bird, and a cooking method proven to be superior to the old standby at 325 degrees F.

Thaw the turkey completely. Leave it in its original plastic bag and either: 1. place on a tray in the refrigerator for 24 days or 2. place the bird in cold water (changing the water frequently) and allow to thaw for 30 minutes per pound.

Stuffing is optional. A turkey should be stuffed just before it is cooked; never stuff the day before, because of bacteria growth. Fill the bird only three-fourths full, as the dressing will expand.

Fasten legs down by tying or tucking under skin band, and tuck wing tips under back of turkey. Brush with melted fat if desired.

One of the popular methods of cooking turkey is to slow, even heat at 325 degrees F. It was thought to result in less meat shrinkage.

It's been proven now that slow even heat roasting does not reduce shrinkage. Here is a high-heat method that gives a superior flavor. Wrap totally defrosted bird in heavy duty aluminum foil. Lay turkey on its back in the middle of foil. (Put extra pieces of foil on legs and wings to prevent puncturing. Also, if the bird is large, two 18" pieces of foil may need to be spliced and securely folded together).

Should be coals, furs, jewelry, handbags, china, glassware, home furnishings and small appliances, bedding and towels, toys and books.

Stuffed birds need an extra 3 minutes per pound cooking time.

A meat thermometer should register 170 degrees F. in the thigh or breast meat, or 165 degrees F. in the stuffing.

Plan to finish cooking 30 minutes before carving. The "rest" in warm place makes the bird easier to carve.

A 16-page booklet, "Turkey Time" contains many interesting suggestions and recipes for preparing the festive bird. It can be obtained by writing to the Research Station.

The Christmas Message

Reverend Robert Bidwell
Forestburg Protestant Church

What is the message of Christmas? Ponder the question in your hearts and minds for a few moments.

If you were to walk the streets of our towns, or through the countryside of our country, making this Jesus, many people would say; the message of Christmas is brotherly love, charity and good will that there would be others who say peace toward me, in the message of Christmas for that is what the angels announced the first Christmas to the shepherds.

All of these are good answers, but only partial answers to the question. True brotherly love, charity, good will and peace are at best results of the real message of Christmas: "And the Word was made flesh, and dwelt among us" (St. John 1:14). Jesus Christ is the message.

If we were able to transport ourselves back to the manger on that first Christmas we would see God in the face of the baby Jesus. Infinite God became finite man. Likewise as the shepherds did we would see and worship the King. The angel proclaimed that same evening, "For unto you is born this day, a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord" (St. Luke's message to man).

St. John records in chapter fourteen and verse nine of his gospel, that Jesus said, "He that hath seen me hath seen the Father." God spoke to the Followers through the prophets of old: Isaiah, Micah, Jeremiah, Ezekiel among others. Yet on that first Christmas, and from then on, He has spoken to us in the Son. Through the prophets, but in the Son.

History tells us that in 1629, the Pilgrim Fathers declared that December 29th would be their day of thanksgiving. They were not alone in celebrating Christmas. The Pilgrim Fathers had no prejudice against happiness and joy. They were simply trying to make a point. Namely, that a spiritual season is an interior affair of the heart. This was a rather staunch way to prove a point, but we must agree they had the right motives. To the Christian, Christmas is an everyday experience.

We should not take the Pilgrims example and observe Christmas. Our aspiration when the big day is over on Saturday, the presents unwrapped, the turkey carcasses picked clean, and the relatives gone home is to spread the joy throughout the remaining 364 days of the year. That is why Jesus Christ is the real message of Christmas. The message which carries on throughout the year. The message of redemption for hell bound man.

Our Christmas prayer should be: Lord, help us to never wrap up our relationship with you, and stow it away with the other Christmas decorations after the holidays are over. May we be willing to share the good news and tidings of great joy every day.

AGT prepares for busy holiday time

Traditionally, December 25 is one of the busiest telephone calling days. This Christmas AGT expects to surpass last year's record total of 394,000 long distance calls.

During past years, the number of Christmas Day calls has grown about 10 percent annually.

To handle the large volume of Christmas Day calls, 550 AGT operators will be working across the province.

Nationally, the TransCanada Telephone System estimates Canadians will place more than six million long distance calls on Christmas Day.

Reduced rates will be in effect on Christmas Day and New Year's Day from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m. for long distance calls in Alberta, across Canada, and the United States including Hawaii.

The lower rates will also apply on calls to Alaska from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m. and Mexico from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. on both days.

While there are no rate changes for overseas calls

Tasty stuffings for the turkey

The holiday turkey isn't complete without a tasty stuffing to finish it off.

A turkey without all the holiday trimmings is still terrific eating... but the festive season means festive turkey and that includes the stuffing.

Stuffings can be made in hundreds of ways and everyone has their own favorite. The basic is the ever-popular bread stuffing—a savory blend of bread cubes, onion, celery and scallions. If you're looking for a change this year, consider adding chopped apple or dried fruits, sausage, mushrooms or nuts.

Stuffing doesn't keep well, and if it is chilled before cooking, will take too long to reach 74°C (165°F). The temperature needed to kill food spoilage bacteria.

If you are concerned with saving time, prepare the ingredients ahead of time and combine them just before stuffing the bird and roasting. Or, cook the stuffing outside the turkey in a covered casserole for 30 to 60 minutes.

Most often, stuffing is prepared in a large bowl. Place one-third of the stuffing in the body cavity and the remaining third in the neck cavity. Pack the stuffing loosely, leaving space for air to circulate during cooking.

Temperatures thought to be prepared and stuff the necks ahead of time, it wouldn't be done for several reasons. Moisture

Consider using timers

Timers are an effective way to manage energy consumption during the winter. Consider installing a timer for Christmas lights to ensure that they are not used during peak load hours or left burning longer than necessary.

Father: Isn't it time you were entertaining the prospect of matrimony?
Daughter: Not quite, dad. He won't be here until 8 o'clock.

Guest: Two eggs please. Don't fry a second after the white is cooked. Don't turn them over; not too much grease; just a pinch of salt on each; no pepper - well, what are you waiting for?
Waiter: The hen's name is Betty - she is a white feathered bird. Is that all right, sir?

Timers are also an excellent idea for yard and security lighting. You can also save on energy by using a timer to turn on your car's block heater in the morning an hour before using your car.

A 'timer' for Christmas

Can save energy and money

Still puzzled about a gift for someone on your Christmas List?

Something that will be useful? Even something that will save money for the receiver, and won't be too hard on your pocketbook?

If so, you may want to think about buying an automatic timer. No, it's not used to make sure your eggs are cooked properly. It's a device that can help you manage your energy usage more efficiently and help you save money on your electric bill.

An automatic timer can turn on the lights when no one is home, make sure the block heater on your car starts 24 hours before you want to use your car, regulate your Christmas lighting, or even your electric coffee percolator.

Most automatic timers contain a clock mechanism that operates a dial. The dial allows you to set the hour, or sometimes even the day - you want a light or appliance to turn on or off.

The energy management team at Alberta Power thinks that automatic timers make a lot of sense for our modern way of life, and have some tips if you're thinking of purchasing a timer.

Make sure you get a timer that will do the job you have in mind. If you're looking for a timer to operate the block heater of your car, make sure you buy an outdoor model.

Outdoor timers have a protective weatherproof case and a grounded three pronged plug. They are safe to operate even in the coldest weather.

Using a timer to operate your block heater, you will save money on your electric bill. You can set the timer so the block heater will begin to work three to four hours before you need the car. This is the maximum length of time you really need the block heater on, and it will certainly be a saving over plugging the block heater in as soon as you get home from work.

It also assists in lowering the "peak load" demand on the electric utility in the winter. The peak load occurs between 5 p.m. and 7 p.m. when electrical consumption is at its highest.

Inside, automatic timers can give your home a "live-in look" while you're away. They can turn on lights or radios and make it appear as if someone is always home.

Timers are recommended by many police agencies as a means of deterring burglars.

There are two types of indoor timers which are available - portable timers and permanent timers - each has a variety of models.

Portable timers can be interchanged in outlets throughout the house. Some portable timers have no cord, plugging directly into an outlet.

Other table-top models are more decorative - making them a perfect choice for the living or dining room. These table-top models have a plug which is inserted into the outlet.

With either model, it is a simple matter of plugging the light or appliance into the timer.

Automatic timers come with a variety of features. The variable timer turns appliances on at a time each day within 15 or 30 minutes of the time set on the dial.

For example, a lamp which is plugged into a timer with a set time of 8:30 p.m. may come on at any time between 8:15 p.m. and 8:45 p.m. You can also purchase multi-timers, which operate two different pieces of electrical equipment independently. A multi-timer can replace two standard timers.

If you want to get extravagant, you can purchase an electronic timer - the newest type on the market. Modules for appliances, lights and wall switches come with this timer.

The master unit regulates each module separately with a choice of several programs and controls all the modules in the house.

Permanent timers are installed into the electrical system and become an integral part of the circuitry.

They are often used for controlling outdoor lighting, sauna heaters, air conditioners or thermostats of heaters.

You can purchase in-wall timers, which are installed directly into a new or existing wall switch.

Or you can buy a spring-wound timer, in which you wind the dial to the desired number of minutes you want the light or appliance to remain in operation. This type of timer, which uses no electricity, is most often used to control bathroom heat lamps, exhaust fans or closet lighting.

When you purchase a timer, make sure you know what you want it to do. The name plate on the timer will tell you the maximum load the timer can handle, so make sure the total wattage of the appliances connected into the timer does not exceed the maximum.

For example, an average car block heater has a rating of 600 watts, while an incandescent light bulb is 75 watts. If both are plugged into a timer, the unit must be able to handle 1400 watts.

MERRY CHRISTMAS AND A HAPPY NEW YEAR FROM THE TOWN OF SEDGEWICK

Creating and care of evergreen decorations

During Christmas, Canadians often try to brighten their homes and festive meals with seasonal evergreens and traditional plants, therefore an Olds College floriculture expert offers tips for their care.

Edith Morris, the Commercial Floriculture instructor has hints on how you at home can ensure that your Christmas wreaths and decorations are as lovely as possible for as long as possible.

Evergreen boughs make beautiful wreaths, centrepieces and door decorations. Evergreens do best when they are kept cool but away from drafts. Frequent misting is important to keep needles from drying out. (It is not necessary to keep them in water). Do not store them near cut flowers, as they give off an ethylene gas which affects cut flowers.

Before putting the boughs in an arrangement, the stem ends should be freshly cut and about one inch of needles should be removed from the stem bottoms so that they can easily be put in floral foam.

Your florist will have some foam and the preservatives to keep the boughs from turning yellow, or you can sugar water.

Cut boughs kept outside in warmer climates will not last more than two weeks, especially if they are exposed to sunlight. No matter what you do, the boughs will last only a week or a little more indoors.

For a kissing bundle of mistletoe, you should keep the fresh mistletoe, which is an evergreen, dry, but not too dry or the berries will fall off. Too much humidity will also make the berries fall. The berries and foliage of the mistletoe are poisonous, so it is important to wash your hands after touching it.

Holly, a traditional Christmas green, can best be preserved by dry storage. Once cut, always store holly in the refrigerator, and if needed in a box until you're ready to make the arrangement.

Before using it, scrape two inches of outside bark off the stem ends. Place in a preservative-treated water. Keep the arrangements in a very cool place at night and mist them regularly.

If holly freezes accidentally, the foliage will darken and the berries will fall off, but the leaves will stay intact.

Holly can be preserved or air-dried. To preserve holly, cut the branches so they are no longer than 18 inches and crush the stem ends. Then make a solution of one part glycerine (available in drugstores) to two parts water. Place the holly in the solution so the branches can absorb it. The foliage will become pliable then turn a deep greenish-black color. You can touch it up with floral paint. You can also just air-dry from holly.

Ivy is holly's partner and they are often used together in decorations. Make sure the ivy you purchase is mature and does not show new growth at the tips. Immerse the ivy briefly and completely in water to wash off any dust and to keep the foliage crisp.

Cut ivy will last a long time in an arrangement, and you can transplant it into pots. Potted ivy requires adequate sun and the soil must be kept moist.

For a kissing bundle of mistletoe, you should keep the fresh mistletoe, which is an evergreen, dry, but not too dry or the berries will fall off. Too much humidity will also make the berries fall. The berries and foliage of the mistletoe are poisonous, so it is important to wash your hands after touching it.

Santa (and wife) visit Lougheed W.I.

On December 14, the Lougheed Women's Institute met at the home of Miss Molly Fernyhough with 16 members and five visitors. The president, Mrs. V. Probst, opened the meeting with the creed being repeated by everyone.

The minutes were read and approved. Sadie Marlow read information on the reprinting of the Lougheed History Book, "Verdant Valleys." Members were about to give this considerable thought and report their ideas next meeting.

A donation was made to the Salvation Army. A poster is to be made by a member and sent to our sister province, New Brunswick.

Articles are to be made by members to send to Vancouver for the A.C.W.W. Conference next year. On November 23, nine members attended a directors meeting held at the home of President Veronica.

The members approved their new program. January 12th, the second Wednesday, will be the next meeting date. At this meeting a gift will be brought for the silent sister, members thought they had.

This meeting will be held at Mrs. V. Probst's. Members decided to make a cookbook in preparation for the Lougheed Homecoming. At the conclusion of the business meeting, who should put in an appearance but Santa and his wife, much to the delight of children and adults alike.

After the excitement of the gifts being opened, the members sat down to a tastefully decorated table groaning with lovely Christmas goodies. We were sorry that two of our members couldn't be present.

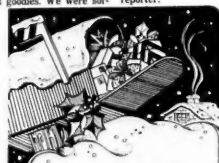

To all members, and our executive who worked so hard, a Merry Christmas and Happy New Year from your reporter.

Merry Christmas
The staff of Alberta Agriculture's Sedgewick office would like to wish you a Merry Christmas and Happy New Year.

1982 will not go down as the greatest year for Western Canadian farmers. Early spring drought, excess rain, hail and frost each took their toll. However, we still live in one of the most prosperous places on earth. Poland, Yemen and Ethiopia quickly remind us of the desperate plight of many people.

Despite the gloomy year and coming predictions, many farmers are still cheerful.

The ability to survive and even thrive in the complex world of agriculture is an outstanding tribute to our farmers.

Never stuff your turkey the night before

Are you aware that the only difference between a Canada Grade A Christmas turkey and a Utility turkey is that the latter has a small defect like a piece of torn skin, piece of missing wing, a crooked breast-bone, etc.

Since the quality of the meat is the same in both categories of birds, the utility bird is the best buy because it is normally about 4.5 per kg. less than a grade A bird.

Grade A turkeys are often packed with such options as a butter-basting or a "pop-up" indicator that shows that the bird is cooked. Remember, however, you will pay quite a lot extra for these options.

Linda St. Onge, Alberta Agriculture's assistant food and nutrition specialist, suggests allowing approximately 0.2 to 0.3 kg. (½ to ¾ pound) per person when choosing a turkey.

Hence, if you are expecting 15 people for your Christmas dinner, you would need a bird that weighs between 2.7 and 4 kg. For 20 people you would need a bird that weighs 4.5 and 6.8 kg.

If you plan on buying a fresh turkey, do not buy it more than two or three days before you intend to cook it, Ms. St. Onge says.

And you should allow 10 hours thawing time per kg. which means a 5 kg. turkey would take two days to thaw.

If you have to thaw your turkey at room temperature because of lack of space in the refrigerator, or a shortage of thawing time, be sure to either cook or refrigerate it as soon as it has thawed.

When thawing it at room temperature, allow three hours per kilogram.

Ms. St. Onge says you will get a more even thaw if you wrap the turkey in newspaper (leave the plastic wrap on as well), and then put it in a paper bag.

She also says you should either stuff your turkey just before you cook it or else cook the stuffing separately.

And for safety's sake, never stuff your turkey the night before.

Merry Christmas
